IN MEMORIAM

MR. MICHAEL COADY

Michael Coady of North Wilshire, prominent farmer and one of the most outstanding citizens of the district, died at his old home on Tuesday, December 18th, in the seventy-fourth year of his age. For over a year he had been in failing health, suffering from an infection of the heart and arteries, but was able to be up around until a week previous to his demise, when he suddenly took a turn for the worse, and after being fortified by the last rites of Holy Mother Church, and perfectly resigned to God's Holy Will, he peacefully passed away on the above mentioned date.

In his native parish and throughout the surrounding districts, his passing brings a sense of personal loss to countless acquaintances to whom he was unfailingly a warm and loyal friend, and whose vigorous personality inspired and cheered all those with whom he came in contact. He was an acknowledged leader in every enterprise for progress and improvement, and has left behind him one of the most up-to-date homesteads on the island.

Mr. Coady was born on the farm where he died, and lived there all his life. He was a son of the late Michael Coady and his wife, Margaret Sullivan, who moved from Yarmouk River and settled in North Wilshire about eighty-five years ago.

The high esteem in which the deceased was held was evidenced by the large number of friends who gathered to view the remains, and by the numerous messages of sympathy, Mass Cards and spiritual and floral offerings.

A sorrowing wife, the former Miss Elizabeth McEimeel, two sons and four daughters, are left to mourn and venerate the memory of a kind husband and loving father. The sons are: Michael, on the C. P. R., East Coulee, Alberta, and William, on the homestead; the daughters are: Elster St. Benedict, Montreal; Mrs. James Hartin, Boston, Mass.; Anna, R.N., Boston, Mass.; Mamie at home. One son, Augustine, died in England while serving in the Great War. He also leaves two brothers, Tobias Coady, Brookville, P.E.I., and William Coady, North Wilshire, P. E. I.

The funeral was held on Monday morning, Dec. 24th, at St. Anne's Church and Cemetery. There was a large attendance of citizens to pay a last tribute of respect to one who had so worthily filled his place in the community for so many years. The remains were received at the church by Rev. Leo Herrell, P.P., who celebrated the Requiem High Mass and intoned the Libera-cion cemetery. The pall bearers were: Patrick Callaghan, Howard Balderson, Dan McLean, Anthony Clarkin, Michael Clarkin and George Godfrey—R.I.P. (Patriot please copy)

Perish From Exposure
The passengers were stranded. All collected on the deck and clung to the weather side as the vessel rocked. As the dark hours passed many perished from exposure and others were swept overboard one by one as they lost their holds.

Hope was revived at daylight when a dog with a rope tied to its swam through the boiling sea to shore. Securely attached to the cliff by early arrivals, the rope served to land scores of the passengers, but only a few could swing their hands over to safety above the heads of the mass of humanity below and a number dropped to death.

Solo—Margaret Lowry, (encored).
Recitation—"Closing Thanks", by Vivian MacEachern.
Closing Chorus—"Good Night Children", by School.
National Anthem.
The teacher is grateful to all those who kindly assisted at the Christmas Concert.

Dog Hero Of Historic Troop Transport Wreck

TREPASSEY, Nfld., Jan. 16.—(C. P.)—A dog which survived the roaring surf under the cliffs of St. Shotts while brave soldiers perished all around it is the hero of this old story, handed down from generation to generation and recalled here now by the mounting toll of ships and men on the Atlantic this winter.

Almost anybody hereabouts can tell about the wreck of the Harpooner, although it happened 118 years ago. The big military transport ran on the rocks not far from the mouth of Trepassay Bay while on her way from Quebec to England in November of 1816. Only a handful of seamen would have survived if the dog thrown overboard with a line around its neck had not reached shore. As it was, hundreds including whole detachments of troops who had served in the War of 1812 went to their deaths when the vessel was pounded to pieces by the breakers.

When the Harpooner, in command of Captain Joseph L. J. J., left Quebec early in November, she carried 385 passengers besides a large crew. The passengers included the 4th Royal Veteran Battalion, commanded by Captain Prime and Lieut. Mylrea, and detachments of the Royal Artillery, Artillery Drivers 70th, 76th, 99th, 103rd, and DeWattville's and Glangery Pencibles under command of Captain Willock of 108th Regiment. Many of the soldiers had fought in Upper Canada from 1812 to 1814 and a number were still suffering from wounds.

Blinded by fog, the Harpooner was proceeding five knots on the night of Nov. 10 when she struck at St. Shotts. The captain called all hands forward and had the vessel swung around with her stern to the shore. Because of the surf it was impossible to land without a line or boat. Suddenly a howling gale blew up, carrying away the ship's masts and smashing the large boats. Some of the crew lowered a small boat and reached shore but they could not return because of the breakers.

The people of Kinkora parish were shocked and saddened on Christmas morning when they learned of the sad death of Mrs. Francis Greenan, who passed away at her home in Newton, fully aware of her Christmas eve. Death is sad at any time, but when it comes at this joyful season of the year, amidst all its festivities, it is doubly sad.

The late Mrs. Greenan was a woman of very pleasing personality. She possessed all the admirable qualities found in a true Christian wife and mother. She was, as sunshine in her home, ever busy, yet always present, mild and pleasant in the discharge of her household duties. Her most intimate friends never saw her frown or utter an unkind word. She had always a cheerful smile and welcome greeting for everyone, both young and old, who visited her hospitable home. A devout Catholic, faithful at all times, in the performance of her religious duties. The deceased, who was in her fifty-ninth year, died in the previous to her death, she was stricken with an attack of paralysis, from which she never recovered.

She was formerly Bridget Shrean, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Owen Shrean, Shamrock, and leaves to mourn, besides her respected and disconsolate husband, five sons and two daughters, namely: Eugene and Ethel at home, and Hallifax, N. S., besides one sister, Mrs. Joseph McCarville, Shamrock, and three brothers, John H., Kelly's Cross; Jerry, Roxbury, Mass., and James, Berlin, N.H.

Her funeral, which was very largely attended by friends and neighbors, took place on Wednesday morning, December 26th, at St. Malachi's Church, Kinkora, where Solemn Requiem Mass was sung by Rev. M. J. Smith. The body was then tenderly borne by her five sons, Adrian, Alden, John, Gerald, Eugene, and their cousin Vernon

She had always a cheerful smile and welcome greeting for everyone, both young and old, who visited her hospitable home. A devout Catholic, faithful at all times, in the performance of her religious duties. The deceased, who was in her fifty-ninth year, died in the previous to her death, she was stricken with an attack of paralysis, from which she never recovered.

She was formerly Bridget Shrean, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Owen Shrean, Shamrock, and leaves to mourn, besides her respected and disconsolate husband, five sons and two daughters, namely: Eugene and Ethel at home, and Hallifax, N. J. Smith. The body was then tenderly borne by her five sons, Adrian, Alden, John, Gerald, Eugene, and their cousin Vernon

The climax came at 11 o'clock in the morning, when those on shore saw the ship begin to break up. "Go forward!" they cried, but the warning was useless. The vessel crumbled, carrying the remaining passengers into the greedy sea.

War-scarred soldiers declared the tragic scene surpassed anything they had experienced on the battlefield, as children clung to parents whose struggles were unavailing. Lieut. Mylrea, aged 70, one of the oldest subalterns in His Majesty's service, lost his life after remaining on deck for 19 hours. His daughter was in his arms when he drowned.

On the following day, after spending the night on the rocky shore, the survivors found a house a mile away occupied by a fisherman who could furnish no relief except food and shelter for a few.

Captain Bryant and two other officers finally reached Trepassay and sent back packages of provisions. The vessel was a shaggy four-footed hero. They were the weary band of survivors started through a morass of 16 miles to the village.

NEW YORK POLICEMEN TO HAVE UNIFORMS
NEW YORK, Jan. 16—Lewis J. Valentine, New York's commissioner of police, who recently laid down the law to his patrolmen by ordering them to bring "in their men mused up," today turned his attention to the feminine division of the police force.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16—Dean Milo H. Gates told the Colonial Dames yesterday he did wish "the descendants of the Colonial Dames of Plymouth" had loved home and family as much as their ancestors.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16—(Special)—"I had terrible kidney trouble when I was forty-five," writes Mrs. J. Bosse, a resident of this place. "I started taking Dodd's Kidney Pills. After I had used nine boxes my trouble was gone. I have never had any trouble since, thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills. If it had not been for them I would be dead now, for I was not able to sleep and when I bent over to pick up something, I could not straighten up again. At sixty-three I am in very good health. I have recommended Dodd's Kidney Pills to a great many people and I cannot praise them enough, in view of what they did for me."

Assist the Kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills. They stimulate the kidneys and assist in removing the poisons of body waste.

and, instead of enjoying the usual boat trip, nearly 500 poor children were here guests at a movie. Each year Lady Hollis stands a "treat" for the children. Up until this year, it was a voyage to "The Islands." But this time it was a movie and a big Christmas tree from which gifts were plucked and handed to the youngsters.

CHILDREN from the Tacarigua Orphanage and the "Breakfast Shed" enjoyed the First Lady's hospitality.

BUTLER'S BALL TO BE FOR HOSPITAL BENEFIT

NEW YORK, Jan. 16—"Dinner served" will be announced with an added relief Wednesday evening in New York's toniest households, for then the Hawkinses, the Parkinsons and the Jeeveses can shift to their best formal clothes and sally forth—at a dignified pace—to the butler's ball.

The ball, now an annual event, will be for a hospital benefit, to which last year's "shindig" contributed more than $4,000.

One of the features of the affair will be an article written by Allan Kean, butler in the Philadelphia home of Meyer Davis, will take the baton from his employer and conduct the orchestra for an entire group of dance numbers.

Kean studied music in his youth.

CANADA ON THE MARCH

(Series 5—Message 2)

OUR Dominion Day message we quoted the Right Honourable R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister of Canada, as follows:

"There are great spiritual forces, and it is they, rather than the material, which will shape the course of events in the future, as they have in the past," and stated that Canada, by the inexorable march of world events, would soon be forced to choose the path leading to the establishment of Theocracy—i.e., return to the administration of the Divine moral and economic laws.

Our New Year's Day message this year was the proclamation of a mobilization call to the Canadian Nation to establish the Kingdom of God on earth.

The radio message of the Prime Minister, delivered January 2nd, gave utterance to the heart-felt convictions of many thousands of Canadians, and in that message, as one of the leaders of the Celtic-Saxon race (Irish), Mr. Bennett proclaimed the beginning of the march from economic bondage into the Promised Land—the Kingdom of God on Earth.

In order that the way may be cleared, it is necessary that all men and women of goodwill should sink party differences and prejudices and work for the common good, and thus bring into being a National Government which will further prepare the way for the establishment of the Theocratic state.

We repeat to the Prime Minister and all who are giving leadership the message which concluded our letter to him of January 24, 1934, two days prior to the opening of the Canadian Parliament, in the words of God to Joshua:

"Be strong, and of a good courage. Be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed; for the Lord thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest."

Tryon

A very enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon Clark on the evening of January 8th, when a few neighbors and friends gathered to celebrate Mr. Clark's birthday. The early part of the evening was spent in games and contests, after which the hostess served ice cream and cake. Everybody enjoyed themselves very much. We all wish Mr. Clark many more happy birthdays.

A recent visitor to Tryon was Miss Eleanor MacFadyen, the guest of her sister, Miss Isabel MacFadyen.

Miss Doris Lefurey has left Tryon to spend the winter in the City of Charlottetown.

What might have been a serious accident occurred at Tryon, when a car skidded and went over a bridge near Chisholm's Corner.

Miss Dorothy Crossman, of Springhill, N.S., is spending a few days in Tryon, the guest of Miss Marion Howatt.

Mr. Keith Thomas recently started a business in Tryon and everybody wishes him success.

Her friends are sorry to hear of the sad accident of Mrs. Howard Calbeck, Tryon, and hope she will soon recover from her illness.
