

Well Posted Men . . .

Know that Shorey Ready Tailored Clothing is the nearest approach to merchant tailoring that has ever been reached. They know that it looks best and lasts longest—that in fabric, fit and finish it rises far above ordinary ready-made.

Shorey's Boys' Clothing is made strictly according to the same ideas that govern the making of men's clothes. It is not made on the anything-is-good-enough-for-a-boy principle.

Spring styles of Shorey Clothing are now in. Money back if you want it.

THE CAPITAL OF THE WEST

Latest from Summerside and Prince County

If you have not done so already make definite plans today for the moonlight excursion on the Northumberland tomorrow night.

Mr. Fannie Brown, Moncton, came to Summerside Saturday evening to visit friends here, the guest of Mrs. George Sivert.

WILLIAM P. HUNT and Mrs. Hunt Parraloro N. S. arrive by the Northumberland Saturday night on a visit to friends in St. Eleanors and Summerside.

Miss Lilla Towdale, Boston arrived by Northumberland Saturday evening to be present at the funeral of her mother, Mrs. Joseph Towdale, Capaud.

THERE were twenty-six cattle, shipped by Mr. Keefe, and three horses among the shipments by the Northumberland on Saturday.

G. W. CARR of North St. Eleanors returned by the Northumberland on Friday evening from a four week's visit to his brother Judge Carr of Cassopolis Mich.

D. K. CURRIE, Mrs. Currie and little son, crossed by the Northumberland on Saturday for Campbellton, N. B. where Mrs. Currie and son will spend a few weeks visiting. Mr. Currie returns home to-night.

George Schurman, attorney, of New York, brother of Major Schurman of this town, accompanied by his nephew, Robert Schurman, son of President J. G. Schurman of Cornell, are visiting a few weeks in Summerside, Freeport and other parts of the province. They arrived here Friday night by the Northumberland.

The Indian Editor of The Patriot, Tom A Hawke, must surely have been inspired when he wrote the following in Saturday evening's issue:

"And when the Summerside yachtsmen gaze upon the Micmac, you may hear the rhythmic buzzing of their thought-works, as they mutter to themselves 'Look out Squaw-lls!'"

There is all truth in the above. Just as The Patriot came to hand Saturday evening the crew of the Micmac, four in all, were drying their clothes in a Summerside camp. They had been sailing in the harbor partaking of one of those pleasure breezes so enjoyable to Summerside yachtsmen when suddenly the boat capsized and all four were scrambling for the keel which was the only thing in sight. They clung to the bottom of the boat until rescued by men in four row boats which hastened to their assistance. The Micmac was subsequently turned right side up and anchored at a point near Holman's Island where during Saturday night she was visible from just above the deck to the masttop. A word to Tom A Hawke—Look out for Squaw-lls.

The annual convention of the W. M. S. of the Summerside District opened in the Methodist church, Summerside, Friday morning, quite a large number of delegates being present. Mrs. Job Tunnan led the devotional exercises after which Mrs. Trueman, District organizer took the chair and introduced Mrs. W. E. Ross, President of the Board of Managers, to the convention who received her by rising and giving the Oshantauqua salute. Mrs. Ross responded briefly. Mrs. J. Davidson, Bedeque, was then appointed Secretary, the roll was called and minutes of last convention read and adopted. Reports were read from seven Auxiliaries and the meeting closed with the doxology and benediction, when the ladies gathered in Epworth Hall for dinner.

The afternoon session opened at 1.30 p. m. Mrs. McLeod, Hunter River, led devotional exercises, after which Mrs. Trueman took the chair. Reports from the remaining Auxiliaries were read all of which were of an encouraging nature. Mission Band work was then taken up reports of which were also encouraging. Mrs. (Rev.) McLaughlin gave the address of welcome, responded to by Mrs. A. T. Wright, Bedeque, and Mrs. Ross. Mrs. Pickering read a paper of the Watch Tower which was very instructive. Mrs. Charles Strong asked questions from the report which were answered by the members. Mrs. Nell McLeod was then introduced to the convention and presented a greeting from the W. C. T. U., responded to by Mrs. Trueman. A paper on Mission Band work was read by Mrs. Hinton which was much enjoyed. Miss Milla Silliphant read a very interesting paper on Mission Band work. Mrs. Ross spoke on the importance of prayer and other phases of the work and was listened to with deep attention. A paper prepared by Mrs. (Rev.) Sellar on the Needs of Heavens Women was read by Mrs. D. T. Lowther. The question box was opened and the questions very satisfactorily answered by Mrs. Strong. Consecration service was led by Mrs. McLaughlin.

The evening session opened at 8 o'clock. Rev. Nell McLaughlin presiding. After opening exercises two little girls presented the district officers with beautiful bouquets. A solo was given by Miss Carrie Fridham, a recitation by Miss Mildred Silliphant, Miss Winnie Sobey gave a synopsis of the missionary work of the Methodist Church which was excellent and much appreciated by those present. A quartette was then given by Misses Silliphant and Fridham, Messrs. Leard and Fridham. Mrs. Ross then gave an eloquent address. No doubt the Methodist women of P. E. I. who have had the pleasure of hearing Mrs. Ross will become better workers than ever in the missionary cause. As the offering was taken the choir rendered a nice selection. The convention closed with the doxology and benediction by Rev. Mr. Chapman.
