Says it is Her Duty To Public

LEARNED O FTANLAC THROUGH OTHERS AND MUST NOW TELL OF OWN BENEFITS

"From a weak, nervous and sick woman to a well, strong and happy one is a long step but Tanlac enabled me to accomplish it in a few weeks", said Mrs. James A. Henry, a well known resident of Lingan Road, Sydney, Nova Scotia, in Turnbull's drug store recently. "It is not only a pleasure but I regard it as a duty to tell how much Tanlac has benefited me," she continued, "for it was by reading such statements from others that I was put on the right road to health.

"I contracted the influenza during the epidemic and it left me in such a terrible condition I could hardly keep on my feet and was really too run down and weak to do my housework. My stomach had never been strong but this attack left me in such bad condition I could not eat anything without distress from bloating and my appetite became so poor I did not care whether I ate at all or not. I was very nervous, too, and would roll and toss all night long and feel so tired out when I got up in the morning that I could hardly dress myself. Then my whole system seemed to give way and I lost so much weight and got so weak I thought I would have to give up entirely. My condition was really deplorable and I was much discouraged because nothing seemed to benefit me although I tried everything I could think of.

"I noticed some statements in the papers about what excellent results other people had gotten from Tanlac and I tried it, too. However, I was in such bad condition that I took the first two bottles without being able to tell that it was helping me. I was more discouraged than ever but I resolved to stick to it a while longer, and I tell you, that was the wisest decision I ever made in my life for the third bottle of Tanlac took right hold of me and in no time I was so much improved I hardly knew myself. I have taken five bottles in all and am enjoying better health than I have known in several years. My appetite is splendid and everything I eat agrees with me perfectly. Every bit of my old strength has returned. I sleep as sound as a child every night and when morning comes I feel so refreshed and strong my days work is a genuine pleasure. I feel years younger than I did.

"I think Tanlac is the finest health builder in the world and I am sure it will do for others what it has done for me if they, too, will give it a fair trial."

Tanlac is sold in Charlottetown by Reddin Bros., in Montague by H. J. Mabon, in Georgetown by Seymour C. Knight, in Souris by Jas. G. Ferguson, in Kensington by Kier & McFadgen and in Emerald Junction by P. F. Hughes.

ON TRIAL FOR STEALING FOXES

MONCTON, Dec. 9.—Bliss Powers, who was arrested this morning, and Coleman Bannister, who was arrested on Friday last, were arraigned in the Moncton police court, charged with the theft of sixteen silver black foxes valued at $8,000 from C. P. Munro's ranch at Petitcodiac on Tuesday night last. Until recently Powers is said to have resided in the Shediac road and it was there that ten furs were recovered by the police the other six, being recovered near the ranch. The court-room was crowded to capacity and interest was intense. Neither man had anything to say, and his honor sent them below to await court proceedings tomorrow morning, at Attorney-General Byrne is being communicated with. Austin A. Allen is appearing in the interests of Powers, while James C. Sherran appears for Bannister. The wives of the accused visited the court this morning and took some delicacies to the prisoners.

THE PRINCE'S RETURN

"MOTHER AND I ARE PROUD OF YOU" IS WELCOME BACK OF KING GEORGE TO PRINCE AT WELCOME HOME DINNER

LONDON, Dec 5.—Although the welcome home dinner to the Prince of Wales at Buckingham Palace Monday night was a private function, King George greeted his son in a set speech addressing him as "my dear son" and adding: "I wish you a most hearty welcome on your return home, safe and sound."

The King expressed his pleasure at the remarkably enthusiasm with which the Prince had been everywhere received and because he had forged a new link between Canada and the Motherland. In this connection, the King referred to a telegraph he had received from Prime Minister Borden, conveying his congratulations to the King and Queen on the remarkable success of the visit of the Prince and the wonderful impression the heir to the British throne had made upon the people by his untiring labors and irresistible charm of manner.

NEW YORK WELCOME

Extreme pleasure was expressed by King George that the Prince had been able to see President Wilson, and thankfulness to be able to hear that the President was progressing toward recovery. He also spoke in appreciation of the "cordial, and may I say affectionate, welcome you received from the Government and New York."

The King proceeded to say how it always had been his earnest wish for the closest and friendliest of relations with the United States, and that his trust was that the Prince's visit had assisted to that end.

"I wish to say," King George continued "how entirely satisfied I am with the way in which you carried out these two very important missions I entrusted to you. Although your staff has been of the greatest help, I feel that the success has been mostly due to yourself for you have played up from the beginning to the end. You have shown the highest sense of duty. Your speeches have been excellent. Your personal charm and your smile have won all hearts. Both your mother and I are very proud of you."

REPLY OF PRINCE

The Prince of Wales, replying to his father, began, "Your Majesty I feel very diffident in attempting to reply to this toast. When you bade me farewell, I felt very proud of the mission you have entrusted to me. I was following your footsteps, setting out to see the Empire for myself, and I meant to do my utmost to be worthy of your confidence.

"It is still a prouder moment for me when I hear from your lips that you are pleased with the way in which I carried out my task, and I am deeply grateful for the far too kind words you have used about me. I have had a wonderful journey, a wonderful experience, and can never adequately express my gratitude for the universal kindness and hospitality shown me.

* * * * *

"But I am not conceited enough to suppose that all this was personal to myself. Wonderful welcomes were given me, as your son and heir, in one of your own Dominions, where the happiest memories of yours and the Queen's visit 18 years ago are deeply cherished today. I also greatly enjoyed my visit to the United States. I was received with the utmost cordiality, and am most grateful for the kindness of the public welcome, both in Washington and in New York.

"I had the honor of being received by the President, despite the illness which has afflicted him, and am happy to say that I found him steadily recovering."

The Prince concluded by paying tributes to his staff, and expressing an intensified desire to see more of the British Empire.

ROD AND GUN

Away down on the storm swept coast of Nova Scotia, lives Bonnycastle Dale the well-known naturalist who contributes interesting articles to ROD AND GUN IN CANADA. A few years ago he lived on the coast of the Pacific Ocean gathering specimens and photos of Canadian Wild Life. December issue of ROD AND GUN IN CANADA tells the interesting story of how he spent one Christmas Day amongst the harbor seals, sea urchins and varied water life of the Gulf of Georgia. Other interesting stories and articles included in this issue are: "The Keyholed Bullet," by the skilled writer of Nature stories—Geo Gilbert; "In the Basin," by H. C. Haddon; "Silver Tip—A Tale of The Far North," by Robert E. Hewes; "The Propagation of Brook Trout," by John W. Titcomb. In addition to these splendid features ROD AND GUN IN CANADA for December contains the usual high class Fishing, Guns and Trap Line Departments. W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Publisher.

LIVE STOCK NOTES

The following quotation is from a letter received from the Minister of Comerce, Labour and Reconstruction, Brussels, Belgium:

"As you state, there is at present an important trade in live stock between Canada and Belgium. It will be possible to maintain this trade, but, as you will understand, in smaller volume than at present, as Agriculture in Belgium will be able to fill the needs of the country more and more as reconstruction of the five stock industry progresses toward the state existing before the war; however, even when completely reconstructed, Belgian live stock will always be insufficient to satisfy the needs of the country.

Before the war, we were importing fat stock from Holland and also a small quantity from France, and it is probable that a portion, if not the whole, of the import requirements will be received from Canada, now that a commercial current has been created. Belgium, as you state, is also in need of horses, but not as much so as for cattle. A few importations have been made from the United States and Canada, but the prices asked were high and the quality of the animals was not always satisfactory to our breeders. I believe that it is necessary to be very careful in the organization of this particular trade. Horse raising in Belgium will be reconstructed very rapidly and the breeders are, at present, looking towards Germany where there is a possibility of recovering animals of the Belgian breeds taken away during the war and the origin of which, consequently, is not to be discussed."

Records at the Live Stock Branch show that during the past four years the average prices of all grades of butcher steers of good weights were $1.00 or more per hundred, higher on all Canadian markets during the months of January, February and March, than during October, November and December, the preceding three months. Market history does not always repeat; nevertheless, the world's markets are short of finished beef, the feed supply in many of the chief exporting countries is, as a whole, scarcely more than sufficient to carry stock on a maintenance diet through the winter months, and importing countries continue to show usually stable activities in the market for finished beef. Sufficient premises exist on which to base the opinion that weight and quality will be at a premium on the Spring Markets. We emphasize the words weight and quality.

YOUNG MAN FOUND DEAD IN BOX CAR

NEW GLASGOW, N. S., Dec. 7.—Horace Le Lacheur, a man about 40 years of age was found dead in a box car at the C. N. R. Railway Siding yesterday afternoon. It seems that Mr. J. D. McKay was assisting in the unloading of a car of hay yesterday afternoon. When he arrived at the car about 2.30 p. m. deceased and several other men were in the car and it looked as if they might have been drinking. While Mr. McKay was loading up the hay Le Lacheur, and the other men left the car but it is evident that they returned for when Mr. McKay came back for the second load he found the men there again. A few minutes after this all the other men except the deceased started to leave the car again and one of them suggested that Le Lacheur be left in the car as he was supposed to be pretty full. At this time the deceased was laying on his face on the floor of the car. He appeared to be sleeping. Some of the men placed him in a more comfortable position on a bale of hay and all left the car. When Mr. McKay returned a short time after he noticed Le Lacheur in a peculiar position and upon investigation found him dead although the body was still warm. He hurried to a telephone and soon Dr. M. R. McDonald was on the scene. He examined the body and pronounced the man dead. The relatives of the deceased were at once notified and the remains removed to Ross' Undertaking rooms.

The deceased was a man who was very popular and much respected. Shortly after the war broke out he enlisted in the west and his record at the front was an exceedingly good one. Last fall he and his mother came back from California where he had been for her health. He leaves to mourn a mother, one brother and one sister to whom his death in the prime of life and under such sad circumstances a severe blow and the sympathy of all will go out to the bereaved in their hour of sorrow.
