BRITAIN OPENS IMMENSE MART FOR LIVESTOCK

Great Benefit Seen For Maritime Farmers In Lifting Of Embargo.

HALIFAX, Nov. 3.—Splendid opportunities for Maritime Provinces farmers to enter an industry which long has lagged are seen as the result of the lifting of British restrictions on importations of live beef cattle from the Dominion. Thousands of acres of the finest hay lands in this country have been permitted to run down through lack of markets. With the opportunity to ship animals to Britain this should cease, in the opinion of agricultural leaders.

By lifting the embargo, it is believed that Britain has lifted the pressure on the domestic market in Canada. Western Cattle will find an outlet, particularly if the pound and the dollar approach a parity more closely. This will have a tendency to restore profitable prices in this part of the country.

Minister's View
Hon. O. P. Goucher, Nova Scotia, Minister of Agriculture, commenting on the changes yesterday said: "It is my belief that this lifting of the British embargo against Canadian cattle is of very great importance to the livestock industry of Canada in general and of the Maritime Provinces as well."

Added opportunities are provided in the British markets at the present time, it is pointed out by those who are familiar with the trade. Ireland for many years has been the chief source of Britain's fresh meat supply. Difficulties over land annuities resulted in Britain placing twenty per cent duties against all imports from the Free State. This has cut imports to a minimum and the figure, it is believed will be still further reduced on November 15, when British preferences, insofar as they are applicable to the Free State, expire. British emergency duties remain in force until such time as Dublin reaches agreement on Land Annuities and other issues.

GOODS MUST BE CONsigned FROM CANADA

Prime Minister Makes Statement Re Wheat Preference Under Canada-United Kingdom Trade Agreement.

OTTAWA, Nov. 3.—Prime Minister R. B. Bennett made the following statement in the House of Commons this afternoon on the signing of the Canada-United Kingdom trade agreement: "In reply to the question asked by the honorable member for Peace River yesterday, I have nothing to add to what I said on October 26, which is set forth on pages 622 and 623 of Hansard, except that I will now read the cable received from the High Commissioner's office, which was sent after consultation with the Dominion's office, it reads as follows: "The mere transit of Canadian goods through the United States would not be a barrier to grant of Imperial Preference provided that goods are definitely consigned from Canada to this country and that satisfactory evidence of through consignment is produced. Preference, however, would not be granted to such goods in this country if goods were sent from Canada to the United States and then reconsigned from there. As regards conditions which importers must fulfill in order to procure through consignment, we would refer you to paragraph 12 of customs notice to importers No. 27 A."

"It will be observed that the whole matter is one of administration, which is solely under the control of the British authorities. I am sending a further despatch to Great Britain to obtain, if possible, more detailed information."

Marchers Begin To Leave London

LONDON, Nov. 3.—After the first contingents of the 2,000 "hunger marchers" who swarmed into London last week from all parts of the United Kingdom were started homeward tonight, the mystery of what happened to their petition purportedly bearing 1,000,000 names was solved.

The petition demanding abolition of the means test, which limits its beneficiaries and which never reached the House of Commons as was intended, was confiscated by police when they learned it had been checked in the Charing Cross railway station.

Three men presented a check at the station for the bundle tonight and seemed angry when told it had been given to police. The men were informed they would have to make their protest to railway authorities.

When a deputation of the marchers' leaders—those left after several were jailed—found their way to the House of Commons blocked by police last night and by the worst of four disturbances since their arrival in the capital, they turned in the petition bundle at the station, just as if it were a coat or bag. They received an ordinary receipt in exchange for it.

The police, making inquiries at the station, discovered what had been done and secured the petition after making a request to railway authorities.

The only disturbance involving the marchers was one in which they denied all responsibility.

Twenty-seven men were arraigned in court today on charges of participation in the rioting last night on Whitehall and the Embankment near the Houses of Parliament and in the vicinity of Charing Cross. Two were sentenced to six months at hard labor, several others were fined and some of their cases were held over for a week.

House Approves Of Trade Treaty

Conservatives Roll Up Majority Of Forty-Eight In Vote On Anglo-Canadian Trade Agreement.

(Canadian Press)
OTTAWA, Nov. 3.—While Conservative cheers resounded through the corridors, the House of Commons tonight placed its stamp of approval on the Anglo-Canadian trade treaty, negotiated at the Imperial Economic Conference. Supported by one Liberal, J. L. Halsey, Hants-Kings, N. S., and six Progressives, Conservatives rolled up a majority of 48 as a climax to three weeks of bitter debate. Maintaining their opposition to the last, Liberals enlisted two Independents and four laborites in voting against the treaty. Scores of men and women were turned away from the galleries when Premier R. B. Bennett rose to close the debate. He pleaded for a fair and honest trial for the agreement, "which will give Canadian producers free entry into the markets of 40,000,000 people."

He accused the Liberals, particularly Rt. Hon. McKensie King of betraying and abandoning the time-honored party policy of fostering Empire trade through tariff preferences.

The six Progressives who supported the treaty were: D. M. Kennedy, Peace River; Alfred Speakman, Red Deer; W. T. Lucas, Camrose; M. N. Campbell, Mackenzie; Michael Luchkovich, Vegreville and A. M. Carmichael, Kindersey. Robert Kardinier, leader of the United Farmers and the following members of the Ginger Group were not in the chamber: H. E. Spencer, Battle River; E. J. Garland, Bow River; Miss Agnes MacPhail, South-east Grey; George G. Cote, Macleod, and William Irvine, Westaskwin. The two Independents in the House A. W. Nell, Comox Alberni, and Henri Bourassa, Labelle, and the four Laborites, James S. Woodsworth, Winnipeg North; Angus MacInnis, Vancouver South and Humphrey Mitchell, Hamilton East joined the Liberals in opposing the treaty. The vote was 128 to 80.

Dressed in a grey-striped morning coat, his desk littered with books, clippings and notes, Premier Bennett kept his followers in almost continuous applause for an hour and a half. He lost no time in carrying the fight to the Liberals. He accused them of voting blindly and bitterly against the treaty and of following their leader who was motivated by "spite" and "wounded pride and vanity."

Quoting from official records, the Prime Minister accused Mr. King of opposing the very Empire trade plan he welcomed in 1923 at an Imperial Conference in London.

BILL GETS THIRD READING

(By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer)
LONDON, Nov. 3.—To the accompaniment of loud ministerial cheers, the House of Commons tonight gave third reading to the Government's Ottawa agreements bill with a heavy majority of 348. The vote was 416 to 68.

The bill was then sent to the House of Lords. Final hours of debate brought a renewed attack on the trade pacts between the United Kingdom and the Dominions, concluded at the Ottawa Economic Conference by Sir Herbert Samuel, leader of the free trade element of the Opposition. Sir Herbert said the Liberal free traders would have supported the agreements bill if the Ottawa Conference had carried out the policy enunciated at the opening of Stanley Baldwin, Lord President of the Council and leader of the British delegation, namely a policy of lowering tariff barriers. Mr. Chamberlain replied for the government that new Canadian duties, substituted by the Anglo-Canadian Pact for existing duties, could not be altered within the next five years except to a limited degree specified in the agreement.

Last Voyage Of The Season

Tax On Liquors To Be Reduced

(Canadian Press)
OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 3.—Hon. E. B. Ryckman, Minister of National Revenue, introduced a bill in the House of Commons today to reduce the excise tax on cigarettes and liquors. It would bring the excise tax into line with the tariff charges of the Anglo-Canadian trade treaty.

The bill reduces the excise tax on domestic spirits from nine dollars to seven dollars per proof spirit gallon.

The bill also provides for changing the excise tax on cigarettes weighing not more than three pounds per thousand from six dollars per thousand to four dollars per thousand.

The object of the amendment, it was explained, is to provide a compensating reduction in the rate of excise duty on domestic spirits by reason of reduction in customs duty under the new British preferential tariff. The same thing applies to cigarettes.

AGED WOMAN LOSES LIFE

(Canadian Press)
PICTOU, N. S., Nov. 3.—Burned to death when her clothing caught as she attempted to light a fire in the living room stove the body of Mrs. Mark Talbot, 88 years old, was found today in the house where she lived alone. The tragedy was discovered by Mrs. Simon Mackaracher, a neighbor, who was making her daily call on the old lady. Mrs. Mackaracher found the door unlocked as usual, and a trail of burned paper leading from the living room to the kitchen, where the body lay. It was apparent Mrs. Talbot had been attempting to light the fire with live coals from the kitchen stove. No inquest was considered necessary.

Another Canadian National vessel to bid adieu to the port of Montreal for the winter is the freighter "Cornwallis" which sails tomorrow, Friday, with a heavy cargo of Canadian goods for Halifax, Bermuda, Puerto Rico, Barbados, Trinidad and British Guiana as well as other Caribbean colonies. Only two more sailings on this service from Montreal remain this season, that of the "Chomedy", November 18th, and the "Colborne" November 26th. The "Colborne" will have the distinction of being the last ship to leave the St. Lawrence in the West Indies service before the close of navigation. On their next voyage all three vessels will sail from Halifax until the opening of the St. Lawrence in the spring.

52 MILLIONS SUBSCRIBED IN THREE DAYS

Good Response By Canadian Investors To Dominion Of Canada Loan — Statement By Sir Chas. Gordon.

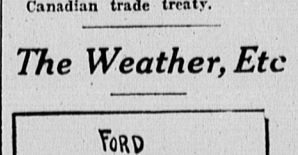

(Canadian Press)
MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 3.—The campaign for the Dominion of Canada loan enters upon its fifth day tomorrow with subscriptions for the first three days amounting to 66 per cent of the objective, $52,000,000 out of a total of $80,000,000. Subscriptions reported for Wednesday from all parts of Canada added $4,000,000 to the total of $23,000,000 subscribed for the long term bonds in the first two days, bringing this up to $27,000,000. This leaves $26,000,000 still to be met of the total of the long term issue of $55,000,000. The short term issue, $25,000,000 was oversubscribed on Monday.

Desirability that not only the loan be fully subscribed but that the total be raised promptly "as a renewed demonstration to the world at large, where Canada's credit has always stood high, of the ability of Canadians to meet their own financial problems and solve them in a resolute manner," was expressed in a message issued during the day by Sir Chas. Gordon, chairman of the management committee.

OTTAWA, Nov. 3.—(C. P.)—The Canadian Liberal party has turned its back on its traditional policy of fostering trade with Great Britain through tariff preferences, Premier R.B. Bennett declared in the House of Commons tonight. He was closing debate on the Anglo-Canadian trade treaty.
