McNeill's Legion Team Take Over City League Lead

The Legionaires took over the top rung in the City Baseball League yesterday as they slugged out a 16-6 triumph over the Rovers in a regular City League fixture at the Park diamond before a large crowd of spectators. It was the second straight victory for the McNeil-coached crew over the Rovers giving them two wins in two starts as their other scheduled game with the Anchors was rained out.

For the first four innings it was a closely fought ball game with the Rovers leading 4-2 as their southpaw starter Ernie Robins was holding the Legion squad down with four hits. The complexion of the game changed quickly in the last of the fifth when Robin was forced out with a sprained throwing arm and the Legionaires climbed aboard the offerings of Archie McFarlane, his successor, for four runs to take a lead they never relinquished. McIsaac who had been handling the hurling chores for the Legionaires also came to grief in the fifth when he loaded the bases after giving up a run and Spy ready was waved in to put out the fire. Young Ready, a fast left-hander put down the Rover uprising and finished out the game limiting the north end squad to two runs during the remainder of the game. He was in control during the four innings he worked striking out seven and only giving up four hits. He had one bad moment in the first of the ninth when he issued free tickets to Rice and McFarlane to fill the bases with two out but steadied down, getting Cecil Ward on a grounder for the third out.

The Legionaires packed their runs into three big innings getting four in the fifth on two walks, a passed ball, a single and a three-bagger by Art Perry. They were right back again in the sixth with five more on three successive hits, a walk and two singles combined with some loose fielding by the Rovers. The Vets concluded their scoring with a five-run outburst in the eighth when Ev McNeil led off with a boombing three-base hit to right center and crossed the plate on Mike Hennessey's double. A walk and three bingles accounted for three more runs before they were retired.

Red Sox Snap Losing Streak But Chicago Sweeps Series 3 To 1

By The Canadian Press

Boston Red Sox finally solved the Chicago jinx and slapped the White Sox 6-1 in their first game yesterday to snap a three-game losing streak, but the Sox came right back to take the second game 7-4 and sweep the series three games to one. It was the first series Boston has lost this season.

New York Yankees moved a bit closer to the Beantown boys in the American League parade meanwhile, taking both ends of a doubleheader from St. Louis Browns yesterday, 9-2 and 7-5 by dint of some husky slugging and some costly errors.

Meanwhile, Washington Senators were snapping a five-game Detroit winning streak by downing the Bengals 6-3, while Cleveland Indians took Philadelphia Athletics into camp 2-1 and 3-2

Bobby Feller twirled Indians to victory in the first game for his 11th win of the year and fifth in succession. He fanned nine to hike his season total to 145 in this department.

Red Sox made only eight hits in their first game off Thornton Lee and Ralph Hamner, but one of these was Bobby Doerr's ninth homer of the season with one on in the eighth inning. Doerr also homered in the first inning of the second game.

Tex Hughson went the distance in the first game with a six-hit performance for his fifth victory of the season.

The White Sox came from behind twice in the second game and won with a three-run eighth inning which drove Jain Bagby to cover. Earlier, the Chicago team had pounded Charlie Wagner from the mound in the fourth when they tied the score for the first time.

In the New York-St. Louis brawl there were seven homers in the two games. Joe Dimaggio and Johnny Lindell each hit one for the visitors and Chet Laabs one for the Browns in the first, while Charlie Keller hit his 14th in the second game in which Vern Stephens, Henry Helf and Laabs each slammed one for the losers.

The second game was decided in the 10th when, after Bill Johnson singled, Brown pitcher Tex Shirley fielded Lindell's third strike and threw into right field, Johnson scoring and Lindell going to third from where he scored on pinch-hitter Joe Gordon's fly

In the abbreviated nightcap at Cleveland the Indians notched all their runs in the third with Les Fleming's circuit blow being the feature. Red Embree was the winner although he had to have help from Pete Center when the A's shoved their two runs across in the sixth.

Washington pounded Freddie Hutchinson and Al Benton for 11 hits—six of them for extra bases—to down the Tigers.

Washington already had scored three runs in the eighth, two of them on Mickey Vernon's homer, and the Tigers had the bases loaded with one out when umpire Hal Weafer called time through the gathering darkness. A few minutes later the rain came and the score reverted to seven innings.

ST. LOUIS, June 16 — (AP) — The United States Davis Cup doubles team scored a 6-1, 6-3, 6-1 triumph over the Philippine Islands today to clinch a place in the North American zone tennis finals against Mexico.

The national doubles champions, Bill Talbert, of Wilmington, Del., and Gairdnar Mulloy, of Miami, Fla., scored the straight set victory over Filipinos Felicisimo Ampon and Cesar Carmona.

The Americans had won the opening day's singles matches of the three-out-of-five match tie in straight sets Friday. The remaining two singles matches consequently became a formality.

Rovers Practice

All players please be on hand at K. of C. Diamond tonight at 6.15 sharp for practice for Tuesday's game. Important every player be on hand.

A fight card featuring over thirty-six rounds of boxing and giving promise of being the best of the season is on tap for tomorrow night at the Sporting Club. Having scored comparatively easy victories over Moncton's amateur team in their two appearances here the local club fighters are looking for larger fields to conquer and in the Springhill team are tackling a band of experienced fighters with a widely known reputation for toughness.

Seven of the bouts are inter-city fixtures ranging from feather-weights to middleweights giving most of the fighters in the local stable a chance to show what they can do against opponents their own weight. The Sporting Club team will climb through the ropes in the best condition of their young careers, having reached the 'pink' by undergoing regular workouts supervised by Tommy McCloskey and are confident of giving the mining town scrappers a rugged evening.

♣ ♣ ♣ ♣

Most of the city sock squad are well known to the fight faithful as Kid Poulton, Beau Jack, Cobey McCloskey and Billy Pryor have all seen action in the inter-city bouts with Moncton. The last time they appeared in the squared circle Pryor and Kid Poulton put the chill on their opponents with K.O. punches when they fought on a card staged at Moncton in connection with the Maritime Boxers Convention. Two of the heavier boys, George Peterson well known for his slugging battles with Eddie Oatway, and Joey McLeod, billed as the North End Wildcat should provide plenty of action in a preliminary.

♣ ♣ ♣ ♣

In two more days we'll all know but at the present time most fighting men are agreed that the champion will have to get Conn early in their forthcoming bout or take a beating on points. That is the way most have figured it out, though there are others who don't even bother rating Louis' chances —early or otherwise—and latly predict Pittsburgh Billy will finish on top. The opinion that Conn was leading by a wide edge before being knocked out in the first is widely held. According to the judges' score card, Conn was in front, but not by anything like the margin some would have you believe.

♣ ♣ ♣ ♣

Johnny Burke, who trained Two-Ton Tony Galento and has followed the fight game for many years with a sharp eye agrees that Conn was holding a bit of the edge on points but claims that points don't tell the whole story. Here's Burke: "Conn was holding the edge on points, but they still weren't finished at the 12th and Louis proved that you can't tell about these things by belting him out. But Conn wasn't walking away with it. I watched them closely, and what a lot of people seem to overlook are those body punches. They were hurting Conn more and more as that bout went on.

♣ ♣ ♣ ♣

"Conn didn't show too much that they were hurting—not for a while. But you remember as the rounds went by those punches were starting to tell. Conn didn't fool me. His rear was shooting back a few feet as Louis kept driving them home. Those body punches aren't too spectacular, but they wear a man down.

"You know, no one stops to figure that Conn might have been goaded into stepping in and trying to finish it. They claim he just got fresh, but I've seen fighters do what Conn did—and not because they were fresh. They done it because they were running out of steam and figured they couldn't take much more of that belting downstairs. They got panicky and figured they were running out of gas. So they decided they better try and stop the guy who is hitting them there before he stops them. That could have happened to Billy. At any rate Louis was hurting him with those body punches. Don't let them kid you that he wasn't."

♣ ♣ ♣ ♣

The recent injuries to Detroit Tigers' outfielder Hoot Evers and second baseman Eddie Mayo received when they collided with one another chasing a fly ball and forcing them out of the lineup for over a month has caused a scribe to debate whether professional ball players are less durable than pro hockey players. It would seem so. There have been many hockey players who have suffered fractured and broken jaws and have been back in the lineup within a week to two weeks at the most.

♣ ♣ ♣ ♣

Defenceman Johnny Crawford of the Boston Bruins is a good example. Crawford suffered a fractured jaw shortly before the start of the Stanley Cup playoffs this past season. He missed only two games and was in action throughout the playoffs with a steel mask protecting his smashed jaw bones. If a hockey player doesn't have to miss more than two games because of a fractured jaw playing a sport with so much body contact then a ball player shouldn't have to in a sport where the chance of further injury isn't one-half as great.

Semi-Pro Squads Meet In Tourney

WICHITA, Kas., June 16 — (AP) —Semi-pro baseball's top-ranking teams in North and South America will meet the Cuban champions in a non-professional world series at Havana, Cuba, or at Caracas, Venezuela, in mid-September, the National Baseball Congress announced Saturday.

Congress President Ray Dumont said eventually 21 countries will be represented in the annual international play-offs.

Winners of the sanctioned national tournaments at London, Ont., and at Wichita will meet in a Canadian-American series to decide the North American title, playing a four-out-of-seven series beginning Sept. 5 at Wichita.

Betting Odds Against Conn Now At 11 To 5

(By Sid Feder)

NEW YORK, June 16— (AP)—Carried along on the greatest gold rush in sports history, a couple of boxers will keep a date Wednesday night that they made five years ago to fight it out for the heavyweight championship of the world.

At 9 p.m. E.S.T., in a ring set just over second base in the spacious reaches of Yankee Stadium, Joe Louis collides with Billy Conn over the customary "15 rounds or less."

As a result of training developments, the betting odds against Billy have dropped steadily in the past two weeks and now have hit a low of 11 to 5, compared to the 3 to 1 at which they opened.

The gate stands a good chance of hitting the $3,000,000 mark, and if it does Louis would get close to $1,000,000, plus a cut of the radio and motion picture take. Conn's end would be about $500,000 since they receive 40 per cent and 20 per cent shares of the net, respectively.

This will be the 22nd time Joe has put the championship on the line since he hammered Cinderella man Jim Braddock into unconsciousness nine years ago next Saturday to start the longest reign of any champion from the point of view of title defences.

He has been among the fight game's all-time top champions, took on all comers, met sluggers and boxers and "clowns" with peculiar styles and fought twice for charity for army and navy relief.

Only two of his 21 challengers went the full 15 rounds with him —Tommy Farr and Arturo Godoy— and he put the Chilean away in eight rounds in a return bout. He flattened four of them in less than a round—including Max Schmeling to avenge the only defeat in his entire career. Altogether he knocked out 13 of them in six rounds or less.

Yet old pop time and a four-year layoff since he went on Uncle Sam's payroll have left their mark on him. He still packs the punch of a blockbuster, but in his training he has been a slow-moving target thumped surprisingly freely—and often—by his sparmates.

Conn, on the other hand, appears even faster than he was five years ago. He has sparred 260 training rounds, compared to Joe's 140. He's what Louis, himself, calls a "full-grown" heavyweight now, at over 180 pounds, compared to the 174 he carried the last time. This added avoirdupois, most of it in his shoulders and neck, makes him a better puncher, although he has no intentions of trying for a knockout over Louis. Joe will weigh a solid 210.

L.P.U. Anchors Win At S'side

A record crowd of 18,000 saw Valdo beat out Jimmy Creed, driven by Henry Thomas, by half a length in 2.06 in the first heat and come back in the final to win again by a whisker.

Armando, the Mexican national singles champion, only needed 40 minutes to trim Don McDiarmid of Ottawa, 6-0, 6-0, 6-3, in the opening encounter before approximately 2,500 spectators. Rolando met stiffer opposition in what was the best match of the cup tie, in beating Henri Rochon of Montreal, 6-3, 8-6, 6-4.

American Girls Make Clean Sweep Of Tennis Series

By BILL MACKLIN

WIMBLEDON, England, June 16 —(AP) — Four good-looking American girls, hailed as the best-balanced United States team ever to take the court, completed a clean sweep of the Wightman Cup matches with Britain Saturday as the international series was resumed after a six-year wartime recess.

It was the first time since the inaugural year, 1923, that either side had been able to win all seven matches, five singles and two doubles. But this triumph was even more one-sided than that of the American team of 23 years ago, led by famed Helen Wills, for this 1946 combination won every match in straight sets, and allowed the Britons to carry only one of the 14 sets to deuce.

With powerful serves and smashing volleys the three Californians—Pauline Betz of Los Angeles, Margaret Osborne of San Francisco and Louise Brough of Beverley Hills — and the one Floridian—Doris Hart of Miami—completely overwhelmed the British girls, who started the two-day tourney admittedly rusty after years without an opportunity for big-time competition.

The honor of winning the deciding match on Wimbledon's centre court Saturday, after the United States had taken a 3-0 lead Friday, went to Miss Brough. She won at 8-6, 6-3 over Joan Curry, who thus earned the slim consolation of being the only British player to carry a set to deuce.

The other victories, as the Americans retained the cup that had been in United States possession since 1931, went to Miss Osborne, by 6-1, 6-4 over Mrs. Jean Nicoll Bostock; Miss Betz, by 6-4, 6-4 over Mrs. Kay Stammers Menzies, only player on either team who had played for the Wightman Cup before, and Miss Brough and Miss Osborne, U.S. doubles championships the last four years, who teamed to whip Mrs. Bostock and Mrs. Mary Whitmarsh Halford, 6-2, 6-1.

Assault Home First In $50,000 Stakes

NEW YORK, June 16 — (CP) — Irresistible Assault won the $50,000 Dwyer Stakes at packed Aqueduct Saturday and inscribed his name on racing's honor roll, but his almost routine triumph didn't take all the glory from the coal-black Canadian colt which chased him to the wire.

Responding to three light taps from jockey Warren Mehrtens, the triple-crown king of the three-year-olds bounded into command two furlongs from home and completed his 1 1-4-mile journey five lengths ahead of Windfields, Canadian-bred challenger owned by E. P. Taylor of Toronto. Another half-length behind came Maine Chance Farm's Lord Boswell, vanquished by Assault in the Derby, Preakness and Belmont.

The handy conquest, sixth in seven starts this season for the Texas terror from Robert Kleberg's King Ranch, made Assault the biggest single-season money winner in the history of the turf and boosted him to fifth place in lifetime earnings behind Whirlaway, Seabiscuit, First Fiddle and Sun Beau.

The $40,700 Assault gleaned in the 56th Dwyer—named for two brothers who paralayed a Brooklyn butcher shop into one of racing's greatest stables — ballooned his 1946 earnings to $339,720 compared with the previous one-season record of $308,275, amassed by Gallant Fox in 1930.

Assault's triumph, achieved in 2:06 4-5 over Aqueduct's slow strip, won wide favor from the 39,036 who backed him down to $2.80 for $2 straight tickets. Windfields, third choice at nearly 10-1, paid $4.10 and $2.60.
