Fire Saturday afternoon caused approximately $500 damage to a warehouse at Northam, owned by the Northam Produce Company.

Believed to have originated around a charcoal burner, the blaze spread to bagged potatoes and burned about half the roof away before it was extinguished by Northam residents, assisted by fire fighting equipment from Tyne Valley, a short distance away. The building was said to be the smallest of four warehouses owned by the company. They are located close together.

About a half-car of potatoes was destroyed.

Mr. Ivan Vaughan is head of the Northam Produce Co.

FUNERAL YESTERDAY — The funeral of the late Ivan Watters, who lost his life at the Davis and Fraser fire Friday, was held yesterday afternoon from Trinity United Church. After two days and two nights off the north coast of the Province in an open boat, two brothers, Francis Doucette and Harold Doucette, brothers and fishermen of North Rustico, notified their parents and relatives yesterday afternoon of their safety. The brothers are in their thirties.

They had gone to Alberton last Thursday to take possession of a boat which they had purchased from Mr. Carrol Delaney of Summerside and which had been doing service off Tignish and Alberton as a fisheries patrol boat. Friday morning, about 8.30, they left Alberton for Rustico but had only gone a few miles when their engine developed motor trouble.

Just what time they arrived at Malpeque could not be learned last night but it is understood they heard broadcasts sometime yesterday morning notifying the public of their non-arrival in Rustico and asking that any knowledge of their whereabouts be forwarded to the R.C.M.P.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Teresa's Church by Rev. Basil Croken on Wednesday, November 6, 1946, of Margaret Helena McAree, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick McAree, St. Teresa's, and Reginald Joseph Kenny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel Kenny, Charlottetown.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and the wedding march was played by Miss Mamie Cameron.

The bride was attractively attired in a beautiful three quarter length suit of turquoise blue, trimmed with leopard fur with brown matching accessories. She wore a corsage of red Talisman roses with maiden hair fern.

REDMOND-McCARRON NUPTIALS—St. Joachim's Church Vernon River, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on October 2nd, when Esther Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Redmond was united in marriage to Mr. Joseph McCarron, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McCarron. The ceremony was performed and the nuptial Mass celebrated by Rt. Rev. Monsignor Maurice McDonald. During the Mass pleasing selections were rendered by Miss Mary Collins, organist, assisted by the childrens' choir. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was becomingly attired in a street length dress of shore blue crepe, with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations and maiden hair fern. She carried a crystal rosary, the gift of the groom. Miss Frances McCarron, sister of the groom was bridesmaid. She wore a street length dress of orient green with black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. The groom was ably supported by Ira Redmond, brother of the bride. In the afternoon the brothers and sisters of Mr. and Mrs. Hogg were guests and enjoyed a social afternoon and later a delicious dinner at which Mrs. Clarke was assisted in serving by her daughter, Miss Patricia. In the evening the younger generation came to the Clarke home to bestow the honor and affection on their parents which they so richly deserve Many beautiful gifts were received by Mr. and Mrs. Hogg who have been life-long residents of Wilmot Valley. Hosts of friends join with the relatives in wishing for this popular couple many years of life, good health and prosperity. —S.

The sixtieth anniversary of the dedication of the Kensington Presbyterian Church was observed on Sunday last when Rev. J. M. MacGowan was assisted in the services by Rev. T. W. Goodwill, guest speaker. A historical sketch was read by Mr. Thomas L. Ramsay.

Prior to the erection of this edifice, services were held at stated times by the ministers from Malpeque, but in 1895 preparations were begun toward the building of a church on land donated by William Glover, and a tea was held to raise funds. The building committee consisted of Andrew Bowness, Charles A. MacNutt, William S. Higg, William Walker and John Anderson.

The contractor was James MacKinnon and the painter, John Ramsay. On Saturday, December 28, 1896, the church was completed and the following day, December 29, dedicated by the following ministers: Rev. A. F. Carr, Rev. Alex Roulston and Rev. Mr. Hamilton. The first session comprised William Brown, Robert Humphrey and William Walker.

This place of worship, finished and furnished, was 50 feet by 32 feet and a 20 foot wall with a span roof. The entrance was on the end with a stairway on the left leading to the gallery, in which was seated the original choir led by William Walker, precentor. The organ was not purchased until 1901, due to the opposition of a musical instrument in church worship. The first organist was Miss Margaret Caseley and the present one is Mrs James Jardine.

FRIDAY

Approximately $2,000 damage was done to the Crystal Dairy located on East Street, Summerside by a fire which broke out about 7.30 Tuesday morning. The plant is owned by Mr. William Stordy and it only opened for business last July. Although the boiler room was destroyed and the upper part of the building used for living quarters was badly gutted the main plant was not damaged.

The investigation into the recent fire at Davis and Fraser's plant has been concluded and it was learned from reliable sources yesterday that the Fire Marshal's report, to be released today, will attribute the cause of the fire to too large a quantity of wood being burned in the smoke-house at one time.

The most successful Rotary Radio Auction held since its inception fourteen years ago was conducted last night in the City and although official figures were not obtainable, officials felt that the total amount realized would go well over the previous high mark.
