A HINT THAT WAS TAKEN.

Why Lord Salisbury Wanted the Signboard Removed.
The chateau of Lord Salisbury was at Beaulieu, France, and that he might have peace and rest there he made a quaint request of the mayor of Villefranche. The house stood on high, well wooded ground and was approached by carriage from the old Corniche road. The inaccessibility of the position and consequent quiet and peace pleased the Premier greatly. The gardens were so large and the gate kept by a Cerberus so stern that the most enterprising tourist found little to repay his curiosity after his climb. When Lord Salisbury first took possession of La Bastide the mayor of Villefranche, M. Polonais, called upon him to bid him welcome and hospitably assured him that any wish his lordship might express would, if possible, be instantly gratified by himself and his councillors.
"Then I will take you at your word," replied the Premier. "I wish much that the new signboard you have put up on the road leading here marked 'Avenue Salisbury' be taken away."
"But we put it up," stammered the mayor, "in order to let people find their way to your villa."
"Ah," sighed Lord Salisbury, "I see so many people at home and should like most of them to lose their way to La Bastide!"
The hint was taken.

The Duke's Armored Train.

The Duke of Bedford has caused a good deal of amusement to the inhabitants of Woburn by his latest invention, a sort of miniature armored train, consisting of a truck, painted brown like the Duke's livery and drawn by a small steam motor. Both the motor and the truck are protected by high sides, so that the Duke can go in safely into the inclosure where he keeps the wilder animals of his wonderful zoo at Woburn. Some of these beasts are inclined to be reticent at times, and the Duke had a narrow escape from being damaged by a large specimen of deer which turned ferocious one day while the Duke and a somewhat stout friend were in the inclosure inspecting various newcomers. The inclosures are fenced round with very high palings, and the Duke, who is active and slim, was soon on the outside, but his friend had more difficulty and only escaped by a very narrow squeak; hence the new importation, and now the Duke and his friends can steam round the park in safety.—M. A. P.

PIMPLES, BLOTCHES AND SKIN ERUPTIONS.

How unsightly, sometimes even disgusting and certainly very mortifying to the sufferer. They are merely an evidence of impure, poisoned blood, and lowered vitality of the elementary organs, which can be quickly changed by taking Ferronine after meals. Ferronine cleanses the blood of all poisons and eruptions, makes it rich in red corpuscles that manifest themselves in a healthy ruddy complexion. To have a pure, soft skin and good complexion simply use Ferronine regularly. Price 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at Druggists, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont.

This remedy is no stranger in our home, having frequently been used before with the greatest success."

Mr. F. W. Bond, 20 Macdonald Street, Barrie, Ont., says: "Having tried your medicine, my faith is very high in its powers of curing cough and croup. My little girl has been subject to the croup for a long time, and I found nothing to cure it until I gave Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. I cannot speak too highly of it."

Mr. W. Stafford, 88 Brussels Street, St. John, N.B., states: "I have used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine for coughs and colds, and do not think there is a better remedy known than this. It seems to go directly to the diseased parts and brings relief at once.
