

CAMORRA ADJURNED

VITERBRO, June 3—Owing to the illness of one of the jurors the sittings of the Camorra trial, it was announced by the President of the Court today, have been postponed until June 7th. The Camorrist prisoners were plainly dissatisfied at the interruption of the trial it being understood that the real reason for the delay was to give the court officials, jurors and lawyers an opportunity to go to Rome and witness the unveiling on June 6th of the monument to the late King Victor Emmanuel II.

PLAYS BEFORE QUEEN

LONDON, June 3—Ervin Nvi Rghai, the Hungarian boy pianist, aged eight, played at Buckingham Palace, yesterday, before Queen Mary, who was much impressed by his skill.

EDITH M. THOMSON

Miss Stewart, of Sackville, was appointed to reply to Miss Faulkner's letter.

Mrs. Chipman announced that Miss Florence Byrde had returned and been accepted as a missionary.

A resolution of appreciation of the work of Mrs. W. W. Andrews, organizer of Sackville Dist., regretting her departure for the west, etc., was then passed.

The Devotional Half Hour was led by Miss Henderson. Miss Baskin rendered very acceptably a solo, "We Wait Thy Benediction," and all joined in singing the hymn, "Blessed Be the Tie That Binds."

Mrs. Chipman dismissed the gathering with the benediction.

Many of the delegates left for their homes this afternoon.

SENSATION IN OTTAWA

OTTAWA, June 3—Geo. H. Mather, a well known young man, pleaded not guilty in the police Court yesterday, when charged with shooting at Francis Leamy, former street foreman of the city. According to the story told, Leamy found his wife Monday night, and started a row in which Mather fired a revolver shot at him. The parties are well known, and the affair has caused quite a sensation.

The death of Edward Byrne of the firm of Byrne Bros. City, which occurred at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. James H. Byrne, in this city yesterday morning at three o'clock, has occasioned regret which is widespread among the citizens generally, among whom the deceased was most widely known and universally respected. He had only been ill for a few days, but death ensued as a result of an attack of rheumatic fever some years ago which left his heart in a weakened condition. His demise at the comparatively early age of forty-eight years is considered untimely, especially when it removes a man from actual business life who was ever courteous and gentlemanly in all his dealings with his fellow citizens. He leaves to mourn one brother and one sister, John Byrne and his sister Miss Mary Byrne, besides a large number of other relatives and friends who will keenly feel the loss they have sustained. To all of these the Guardian tenders its sincere sympathy.
