—HIGH SCHOOL CONCERT—The pupils of the Summerside High School put on a splendid concert in the Capitol Theatre, Summerside, on Thursday evening before a full capacity house. The programme was an excellent one and showed careful training and marked ability in those taking part. The primary pupils were very winsome and delighted all with their pretty songs and drill. The juniors gave a charming drill representing the rainbow and a Red Cross exercise which was well carried out. "Red Wing", beautifully rendered by the intermediate pupils in costume, brought much applause. A splendidly carried out pageant entitled "The Making of Canada's Flag" was the main feature of the evening and reflected much credit on the pupils taking part. The full programme was as follows:—Opening Chorus—(The Cheery Song); The Sunbeam Drill—Primary Pupils; Recitation—Keith Jelly; The Rainbow Drill—Junior Pupils; Good Health Exercise—Junior Pupils; Recitation—Erlie McKay; Red Wing—Intermediate Pupils; Sale of Candy; The Making of Canada's Flag—Senior Pupils; Violin Selection (Braga)—Ethel Crockett; Flag Drill—Senior Pupils. the age of 85 years in Vancouver, B. C. on March 30th, as already reported in the Guardian. Mrs. Mellish, who was in the enjoyment of remarkably robust health, had attended the Good Friday services at St. Mary's Church, Vancouver, when shortly after returning home she took a weak spell but towards evening appeared to have fully recovered her usual good health. In the morning it was discovered, however, that she had passed peacefully away in her sleep. The deceased was well known in Charlottetown having lived there practically all her life and was loved for her many beautiful characteristics and devotion to her church. She was the last surviving granddaughter of the late Rev. Benjamin Chappell, who was a Primitive Methodist Minister in this Province and an associate and personal friend of John Wesley. The late Rev. Benjamin Chappell of Tokio, Japan, one-time pastor of the Summerside Methodist Church, was a brother. There are left to mourn the loss of a kind and devoted mother, three sons and two daughters namely:—Messrs. A. J. E. barrister, and John, merchant, and Mrs. (Rev.) C. Reed, all of Vancouver; Mr. Ernest Mellish, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, in Toronto, and Mrs. C. D. MacCallum, of Summerside. Two daughters, Annie and Francis, predeceased her a few years ago. The funeral service was held in St. Mary's Church, Vancouver. Canon Sovereign officiating. "Nearer My God To Thee" and "Peace Perfect Peace" were hymns sung at the service. The funeral was very largely attended and the floral tributes were numerous and very beautiful, including wreaths from each member of the family, from Nova Scotia Society and the No. 1 Legion of the Great War. The pallbearers were Colonel A. E. Ings, formerly of Charlottetown; Colonel Markham, formerly of St. John, N. B.; Professor Robinson, Mr. McEwen, Ex-Superintendent of the P. E. I. R.; Mr. Henry Smith, Registrar of Deeds, all of Charlottetown, and Mr. Robert Campbell of Vancouver. Interment was in Ocean View Cemetery, Vancouver—S

LEGISLATIVE

LePage either could not, or would not, answer). The Prohibition Act would not be repealed, he said, just because people were breaking the law. Conditions in Government Control provinces, he said, were "running wild" (sic.) Breweries in Ontario were going up every day. They built a peace bridge up in Ontario the other day, and a great big brewery went up at the Canadian end of it — to smuggle liquor over to that prohibition country. (He repeated certain figures re. liquor consumption per capita, which he had already given in a previous speech). Mr. LePage went on on the liquor question in general at great length, claiming that Breweries and distilleries were back of propaganda about liquor smuggling. He believed that, on the plebiscite there would be an overwhelming majority in favour of Prohibition.

He said further, that, if Government Control carried they would bring in a Government Control measure. And they would not hand over the reins of power to a party who wouldn't bring in a right measure of Government Control.

—THE SANITORIUM Mr. LePage combated the views of Dr. A. A. MacDonald, re. a Sanatorium. He believed a Sanatorium would be of great benefit in educating patients to take care of themselves. Such a speech as Dr. MacDonald's, he felt, was against the interests of public health in the province.

—AGRICULTURE Dealing with agriculture, Mr. LePage felt that a practical farmer made the best head of such a department. On Falconwood farm, particularly, a great improvement had been effected by Mr. Lea, who disposed of the scrub cattle there, and put in their place a fine herd of Holsteins. He had done the same with hogs. The farm is now an asset to the province, and this year it had added to the revenues of the provinces $5000.00.

He felt that the educational system in the province was wrong, and that the commission appointed to look into teachers' salaries must review the whole educational question.

—PUBLIC WORKS With regard to public works, through the efforts of himself and Mr. MacPhee, the Dominion Government had taken over the two wharves on the West River. It was proposed to widen and improve the Rustico Road this year, also the road to Borden through Churchill. He expected, also, to have a good deal of gravel put down in his district this year.

He thought the province was morally and financially better off for having elected the Saunders Government.

—MR. McLURE'S SPEECH Mr. W. Chester S. McLure (8th Queens) alluded to a story told by the member from Montague (Dr. Grant) about a calf which had died from eating a copy of The Guardian, or so it appeared on post mortem. The sequel was that it was found on further explanation, that the animal had died of a new disease called Hypocrititis caused because the paper contained Dr. Grant's speech on the virtues of Prohibition. Every house must have a jester, however, it would seem.

Referring to the triangular contest in Belfast, a wit had summed it up by saying it was a contest between the "dries", the "wets" and the "lanks".

There was a split between the prohibition and Liberal parties, when the Liberal party turned and bit the hand that fed them in 1928. He congratulated Mr. Callum Bruce on his election in that contest. Referring to Hon. Dr. Grant's appointment to the executive, he said it was a good thing two medical men were on it, as they had a sick bunch to look after. They could contribute to the oil of gladness some ninety scrips per month.

A wonderful market had been found for our potatoes in Ontario. But the government laughed at the idea of sending potatoes to the winter fair there, through their organ, the Liberal press. But one group of chain stores alone bought 152 car loads, and there was a good market for them there. He taxed the Premier with having been bluffed by Ottawa into not putting on a potato exhibit there, because the New Brunswick government was putting on one. How much better a market we would have had there, had we been represented.

Mr. McLure scored the attitude of the Provincial Government on the Australian treaty, which enabled New Zealand butter to compete with ours in our markets. If we were to have Agricultural prosperity, we could not have the Federal tariff and the Saunders government's attitude.

The fur farming industry had brought to this province in 1927 $4,750,000.00, and the government should in some way encourage the farmers to add this branch to their mixed farming. Soil and climate here are alike favourable to the production of the finest furs. Last year $6000.00 worth of Fox meat furs was imported, and our own farmers might get this from their more poorly finished carcasses.

The fur trade now stands in the sixth industry in the world, and Canada was the country to encourage it. The country to the south of us put a fifty per cent duty on our furs. But we found a new market in Central Europe—and there we found, too, the competition of American furs. We should build our tariff wall, brick to brick against them.

The fox industry had yielded $100,000.00 in revenue to the Government, which should spend some part of this in improving the industry, and helping to find and create markets.

—IMMIGRATION Mr. McLure joined with the progressive business men in urging on the Government the creation of an immigration and colonization department.

(At 10 p. m. Mr. McLure moved the adjournment of the debate, and the house was adjourned until 10 o'clock yesterday morning).

—LETTER OF SYMPATHY To Mrs. John B. MacDowell, Pleasant Valley.

We on behalf of the Pleasant Valley Women's Missionary Society feel we must express in some way our sincere and heartfelt sympathy to you in the loss of your dear mother. It is only natural that you should grieve we read in God's word that Jesus wept when a dear one was taken away and he has promised to bind up the broken hearted and give joy to those who sorrow. Heaven is near and dear to each of us because we have precious ones there. To that home we shall all go sooner or later and there we shall meet our loved ones. We trust that while your heart is now saddened you may look to Him who is too good to err, and too wise to be unkind. To you and the other members of your family we extend our sincere sympathy. Come unto me, ye weary, And I will give you rest. O blessed voice of Jesus. Which comes to hearts oppressed Signed—Mrs. James McSwain Mrs. Percy Howatt, Mrs. Harry Weeks.

When your Children Cry for It

Castoria is a comfort when Baby is fretful. No sooner taken than the little one is at ease. If restless, a few drops soon bring contentment. No harm done, for Castoria is a baby remedy, meant for babies. Perfectly safe to give the youngest infant; you have the doctor's word for that! It is a vegetable product and you could use it every day. But it's in an emergency that Castoria means most. Some night when constipation must be relieved—or colic pains—or other suffering. Never be without it; some mothers keep an extra bottle, unopened, to make sure there will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for older children, too; read the book that comes with it.
