The Telephone Company's ad in this issue appeals directly to the small stores. It plainly shows the importance of the phone as an assistance to the smallest store to grow larger. The telephone is consulted on every important proposition—the more important the business the more useful is the phone—it helps the smallest business grow larger. The very people who use the phone are the class of people the business man wants in his store and there is no surer way to get their trade than to allow them the convenience of the telephone.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized on June 30th at the residence of Charles M. Bent, uncle of the bride, when Miss Edith S. Strang, Amherst, was united in marriage to Robert R. Moffatt, of Sydney, N. S. Immediately after the ceremony of wedding the happy couple left for the "Ocean Limit" for a honeymoon trip to the Garden of the Gulf, before leaving for their future home in Sydney, N. S. Mrs. Moffatt will be much missed in Amherst. She was a faithful worker in church and Sunday school work, also a prominent worker in the Rebekah Lodge, Oddfellows. Mr. Moffatt is also well known in this town, having for some years been employed in the Bobb Engineering Co.—Amherst News. Mr. Moffatt is a son of Wm. and Mrs. Moffatt of Sydney, N. S. The Guardian joins with the many friends in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Moffatt many years of happy married life.

The Agricultural meeting at Preetown on Saturday July 2nd, was not very well attended. It was addressed by Prof. C. A. Zavitz who spoke for about one hour and answered questions for almost two hours. Those who were present received very valuable information in regard to the building up of runout farm land. C. M. Melroe of the Live Stock Branch, Ottawa then took up the question of improving the Live Stock and showed that the correct way in which improvement can be made is by feeding them plenty of succulent foods. It is generally difficult to get a good meeting on Saturday, but those who were present felt that they were well repaid for their attendance. Prof. Zavitz speaks at Tyne Valley on Wednesday, July 6th, Tracadie Cross, July 7th and St. Peter's, July 8th and as it is very difficult to get the services of Prof. Zavitz in this province, everyone who is anxious to hear the greatest authority on farm crops in America should make an effort to be present. All meetings begin at 7:00 p. m.
