The world called them man and wife, but he, engrossed in affairs, wanted a wife to run his home.

She, neglected wanted a husband to love her. The greatest problem of modern family life, thrillingly screened from the world-famous play by Sir Arthur Pinero.

Judge Forbes of New Brunswick having also attended the meeting. The conference, which assembles strong men of the Presbyterian Church from every part of the world, meets once every four years.

The Prince of Wales has lately hunted with the Cottswater Hounds. As a peer of the realm, His Royal Highness had to leave a horse shoe hanging in the Castle at Oakham, as from time to time memorial every peer who passes through the little country town for the first time must give a horse shoe to the Lord of the Manor. The collection of horse shoes is unique. Of special interest are those of Queen Elizabeth, which is of iron, wrought in a curious chain pattern, and of the Prince Regent (George IV) which is of solid bronze. It stands seven feet high, and cost 60 pounds. Queen Victoria, King Edward, Queen Alexandra, and the Duke of Connaught all contributed horse shoes when first visiting the town. The Castle is now the Assize Court—the oldest in England.

Dr. Miller who has been here on a visit to his home returned Thursday to Kentville, N. S.

Lady Tupper, who was quite ill in Florence, recently returned to England, about February 1, to meet Sir Charles, who sailed from Canada on January 28. Before his arrival, however, Lady Tupper was again taken ill and was obliged to enter a nursing home, where a successful operation for appendicitis was performed. A cable received by her mother, Mrs. Morse, says "convalescent", and if all goes well they expect to leave for home about March 10. Sir Charles' mother and sisters, Mrs. Stewart Tupper, are in London as well, but will not return to Canada until later.

Lady Maud Montgomery (Mrs. McDonald), who wrote the delightful Anne of Green Gables, who was herself a graduate of the Ladies' College, has gratified the "Ottawa Herald" editors with a exquisite little contribution for their magazine.

Washington's Birthday was celebrated by Americans in this city on Tuesday, the students of St. Dunstan's University holding a Banquet at the Victoria, presided over by Professor Godkin, B. A. which was greatly enjoyed by all.

In the afternoon the American Consul, Mr. Livingstone and Mrs. Livingstone were at home and a large number of prominent citizens called to pay their respects. Mr. and Mrs. Livingstone with their daughter and sons have readily made many friends during their short residence here and are cordially welcomed to the social life of the city.

The sixteenth anniversary of Rotary was celebrated here on Thursday, with the usual luncheon, the address of the occasion being ably given by Major T. F. Best, who took for his subject "Peptinism."

Mr. Norman McKay has returned to Halifax from Baltimore whether he accompanied his father, Dr. N. E. McKay. Friends will be glad to know that the latter who is a patient at Dr. Kelly's hospital in the Maryland metropolis, is doing well. Mrs. McKay is with him.

Tuesday was the 64th birthday of Lieut. General Sir Robert Baden Powell, organizer and founder of the boy scout movement for the British Empire and of the international meet in London last summer was proclaimed chief scout of the world.

The social life of the city is punctuated with the usual circle of bridges and parties just now, but everybody is avoiding conspicuous functions owing no doubt to the London season which is being observed very generally.

Spring wardrobes too are demanding attention just now, for notwithstanding the snow-laden streets spring is rapidly advancing with Easter just one month away.

Mrs. B. Roy Holman and Miss Ross have gone on a holiday trip to Montreal and Boston.

The Girls' Teen Age supper in St. James Hall last evening was greatly enjoyed by those in attendance, and a much keener interest in the work will no doubt result from the conference held with Miss which was so often drafted into service by our Liberal contemporaries to draw attention away from the hangings of the blind, even in now being supplanted by a counter attraction, and the future, that great unknown quantity and quality, is substituted to deceive the public mind from the evils of today. But this is nothing new. From the first day of the Bell leadership the future was always their one substance for reference, excepting in the matter of Taxation when things revolved into a crunching, grinding, pinching present, and still they are pointing to the dim, vague and undefinable future. But what does a Bell Government "future" contain, outside of empty promises? Long before they attained power they pointed to the future of economy AND REDUCED TAXATION under their beneficent rule. Their future was to bring to us a great catalogue of unheard-of blessings, in public works, agriculture, industrial development, branch railways, reduced freights, increased municipal supplies, improved education and no empty schools, and over and above all these things, that the "future" of those earlier days has come and gone, and instead of these things we have had disorder, chaos and ruin, and now in the midst of the present darkness the Patriot is still pointing to that unrelieved but unpromising "future."

And by the way what about those Claims from Ottawa, another of those "futures" of the Bell Government, which was to contribute so much to the taxation reductions that were promised to the people, and which have been pooled with the Nova Scotia and New Brunswick interests for collection.
