SAGE TEA WILL DARKEN THE HAIR

Restore Faded and Gray Hair To Natural Color - Dandruff Quickly Removed

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great grandmothers used to wash their hair with a decoction of sage leaves and apply it to their hair, with wonderfully beneficial effect.

Nowadays we don't have to resort to old-time, tiresome methods of gathering the herbs and making the tea. This is done by skillful chemists better than we can do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready-made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy.

The manufacturers of this remedy authorize druggists to sell it under guarantee that the money will be refunded if it fails to do exactly as represented.

This preparation is offered to the public in a bottle and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

The valuable Lady Parkland mare, owned by Wilfred Hogan, Morell East, dropped a beautiful foal recently by Commodore Ledyard. Also his valuable draft mare dropped a beautiful filly by the imported Clydesdale horse Royal Huntley.

A fine brood mare owned by James Irving, Hills River, which weighed 1345 and which he refused $200 for some time ago died last week after a colt was taken from her. The loss of the animal as well as that of the colt is difficult to estimate.

Among the visitors to the city yesterday was David Reid, Victoria Cross, the well and favorable known horseman of King's County. Mr. Reid is the proud owner of three of the finest stallions in the Maritime Provinces, viz, The Percheon stallion, George's the French Coach stallion, Salmon, and the last, but not least Caesar. Again, this horse has proven George to be a wonderful stock getter. His colts have always carried off the laurels wherever shown. Full particulars of the above stallions will appear in a few days.

THURSDAY.

Commodore Ledyard came in from Bonshaw yesterday and horsemen that have seen him pronounce him in fifty per cent better condition than he ever was. Mr. Brien (Bonshaw) who wintered him is a practical horseman, who knows his business, he will handle the Commodore the coming season. He is at Frank Hughes' Stables, Grafton Street.

The death occurred in this city early this morning of Mrs. James Hennessey, Sydney St., after an illness of seven months of paralysis. She leaves to mourn, besides her husband, three sons and one daughter, who are: Michael, Lawrence and Edward, at home, and Miss Fannie, of Boston, who is expected to arrive here today. A grandson is also expected from Boston and funeral arrangements are delayed pending their arrival. The Guardian extends sympathy to the family in their bereavement.

A gloom was cast over Abney and surrounding districts at the news of the sudden and unexpected death of Effie McLean, wife of William Gordon, at the early age of thirty-three years. Deceased had been in her usual health up till late Saturday night last but early Sunday morning the Messenger of death came and called her to her eternal rest. The remains, together with that of her infant child, were laid to rest in Murray River Cemetery. Her pastor, Rev. A. A. Gaetz, ably and solemnly conducted the funeral service. She leaves to mourn besides a sorrowing husband and five small children a father and mother, one brother and several sisters, also a large circle of friends and relatives. The deceased was a kind and loving wife and mother, a good neighbor and the sympathy of the whole community goes out to the sorrowing friends and relatives, especially to the husband and little family.

The Guardian extends sympathy to the bereaved.

I consider MINARD'S LINIMENT the BEST Liniment in use. I got my foot badly jammed lately. I bathed it well with MINARD'S LINIMENT, and it was as well as ever next day. Yours very truly, T. G. McMULLEN.

Yesterday afternoon the dwelling owned by the P. E. I. R. and occupied by George McCormack, Station agent at Royalty, was totally destroyed by fire along with a barn adjoining. The contents of the house were all saved, but some hay in the barn and three sheep owned by John McQuade, Royalty, were destroyed. The fire started, presumably, from a spark from a passing engine which fell on the dry grass near the barn. The latter building caught from the grass and was not noticed by Mr. McCormack until about a quarter after four when the barn was a mass of flames.

He immediately telegraphed to the Despatcher's office in this city and a train with a bucket brigade on board was sent out to render assistance. Mr. McCormack then began to get the things out of the house as it too had caught and, being alone he was powerless to save it. The bucket brigade arrived about five o'clock but at that time the fire had made such headway that there was no hope of saving the house. Their services were timely, however, for had it not been for them the station too would have fallen a prey to the flames. It caught once or twice but on no occasion was the fire allowed to get under way. The train returned to this city about seven o'clock.

The building burned was a one and a half storey, six roomed dwelling, built about six years ago by the railway for the use of the agent stationed at Royalty. It had been occupied by W. H. Slackford, Amos Monaghan and Mr. McCormack in turn since its erection and at the present time the spot where it once stood is marked by two gaunt looking chimneys and charred embers which indicate its fate.

It is not known whether or not the building was insured. Mr. McCormack is to be congratulated on saving his household property.

Is Distinguished for its Unequaled, Radical and Permanent Cures. Its Record is Positively Unparalleled.

Impure Blood is common in the spring, because of the unhealthful modes of living during the winter, and it is the cause of the loss of appetite and that tired feeling as well as the sores and eruptions that occur at this time. Be sure to take Hood's this spring.

Found it Excellent! I have used Hood's Sarsaparilla and found it an excellent blood purifier, healing ulcers in the head, causing deafness. I cannot recommend it too highly and intend using it again this spring. Mrs. John F. Moll, Niagara Falls, Ont.

Your Sink Pipes Get Clogged

with dirt and grease. Only way to get at the dirt, dissolve it, and get rid of it, is to sprinkle a little Comfort Lye over the holes. Wash it down with very little water. Give it a chance to "work" a few minutes, then turn on the tap. Dirt is washed away. Pipes are clean as new.

MANY OTHER IMPORTANT USES

A Bigger, Better and Earlier Crop by Using Unmixed Fertilizers

Use unmixed fertilizers this season Mr. Farmer, and watch results. Your wheat, oats, hay and potato crops—in fact every plant grown on land prepared with this kind of plant foods, will ripen earlier, and be much better and greater than you ever before experienced.

There is no such thing as "worn out" land to the man who uses these unmixed fertilizers. He can make any ground suit any crop and know that he is getting full benefit from every square inch of land under cultivation.

"If farmers would only manure their land with brains, as the painter mixed his paints, there would be much less heard about agricultural depression"—Marquis of Salisbury.

You can't afford to rob yourself by ignoring these modern money makers—English unmixed fertilizers.

We have a number of beautifully printed illustrated booklets on farming. We'll send them free—Write for them.

A Pointer for Enterprising Farmers

At one time it was thought that a chemical analysis of the soil ought to indicate exactly the manurial requirements of that particular soil, but this theory was very soon upset, when it was observed that certain rich clay soils, which on analysis showed a very high total potash contents, were still benefited by an artificial application of potash, as proved by the increase in crop production.

Some soils, also, which analyzed high in phosphoric acid, were found to respond readily to an artificial application of an available phosphatic fertilizer.

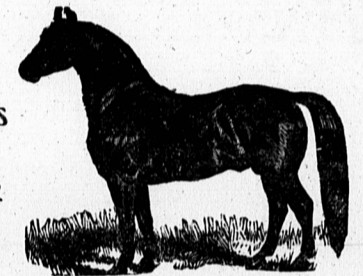

Now, while a general chemical analysis will show the total amounts of plant food in the soil, it does not indicate what proportions are available to the plant, so that the quickest way to find out the manurial requirements of a soil is to conduct fertilizer tests on the farm.
