—RED CROSS CONCERT.—A very successful concert was held at Mr. David Marchbanks, Montrose on Feb. 8th. A large sum of proceeds was netted.—A.

—THE ROADS.—The recent thaw played havoc with the roads. In many places the travelling was left almost impassable, both on land and ice.—A.

—SNOW PLOUGH.—Through the ingenuity of Messrs. Carstyn, Bell and Patons a new device for removing the snow; that appears to have a particular attraction to the sidewalks of Alberton, has been made. Already some very effective work has been executed.—A.

—NOMINATION FOR MAYOR.—Three Councilors and one Water-missioner for the town of Summerside, will be held on the 20th inst., and voting on the 27th, there is already much speculation as to the results. Many names are being mentioned.—H.

—HOCKEY.—Alberton has always been justly proud of its fair sex. To their various talents, the young ladies in the western metropolis have acquired the art of playing hockey. The "Regalettes" as they are termed, have attained such a degree of efficiency in the art that they have sent challenges to all similar organizations in the province, as well as to the "Old Men Regals" of their home town. Judging from the practice games, should the ladies accept the gauntlet, the name of the Ladies' team will undoubtedly be changed. The same name, but the order of syllables reversed "Eat-the-Regals".—A.

ACIDS IN STOMACH SOUR THE FOOD AND CAUSE INDIGESTION

PAPPE'S DIAPEPSIN 'FIXES SOUR GASSY, UPSET STOMACHS IN FIVE MINUTES.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food; or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, flatulency, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach, headache, you can surely get relief in five minutes. Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why it relieves sour out of order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clear and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach misery and indigestion in five minutes.

with a child who is rundown; has pale cheeks or thin blood, who will hesitate to give that child the very thing it needs to start it growing and keep it going?

For over forty years the concentrated liquid-food in Scott's Emulsion has been changing thinness to plumpness—changing poor blood to rich blood. There is nothing better for growing children—whether they are weak or well—than Scott's Emulsion, but see that you get the genuine Scott's.

—PROPOSED BRANCH OF THE AERIAL LEAGUE.—Hon. A. E. Arsenault, Vice-President of the Overseas Club, has received a communication from George R. Lightall, Secretary of the Aerial League of the British Empire for Canada, asking him to organize a branch of the Aerial League in this county. The objects of the League are, among others, to encourage the invention and manufacture of aerial crafts, to spread information showing the vital importance to the British Empire of aerial supremacy, to give information about schools for learning the art of flying, to assist those desiring appointments in the Royal Flying Service, and to afford information with respect to aviation in general. A meeting of all those interested will, therefore, be held at Mr. Arsenault's office on Thursday evening, the 15th instant, at eight o'clock.

—MARRIAGE BELLS.—On Tuesday Jan. 30th in Mont Carmel church a happy ceremony took place when Mr. Philippe Arsenault, son of Mr. Jerome M. Arsenault of Mont Carmel was united in the holy matrimonial bonds to Miss Zelle Arsenault daughter of Mrs. Andre Arsenault of St. Raphael. The groom was dressed in black while the bride was attired in blue silk with a hat to match. The bride was ably supported by Miss Rosella J. Arsenault, while the groom was attended by Mr. Donat Arsenault, brother of the bride. After the ceremony the bridal party proceeded to the home of the bride, where they partook of a delicious dinner. Towards evening the happy couple followed by many friends and relatives went to the home of the groom where a sumptuous supper awaited them. The Guardian unites with the many friends and relatives to wish the newly married couple a happy journey through life.—R.

—SCHOOL EXAMINATION.—The semi-annual examination of St. Raphael school was held on Friday afternoon, Feb. 2nd. The attendance of the ratepayers was not as large as it would have been if the roads had been good. The classes were examined by Rev. P. P. Arsenault, Mr. Joseph M. Aucoin and Denis D. Arsenault, teacher. The subjects examined in were reading, spelling, grammar, geography, history, arithmetic, etc. The reading was admirably rendered by the different classes and the spelling was exceptionally good. Prompt and decisive answers were received at each of the questions asked by the inspectors of the different classes especially in history and geography which give credit to the untiring efforts of the teachers Messrs. Vernon Smith and Mathurin Gallant. In a few brief and appropriate words Rev. P. P. Arsenault remarked on the progress made since last examination to which he had the pleasure to attend. Mr. Joseph M. Aucoin in a few choice words expressed his satisfaction at the advancement made in all the subjects taught especially since the beginning of the term. Mr. Aucoin speaks on the necessity of producing men and women capable of doing their duty honestly as the men and women of tomorrow and to replace those that have already made the supreme sacrifice of their lives in defence of their homes and country.—R.

PETS AT SALONICA ARE VERY ANNOYING

A supernumerary writes: Most of them, of course, are not animals at all in the exact or dictionary sense of the word. Some of them are insects, some of them are reptiles, and I suppose a scientist would find fifty other classifications for them. There is no need to say much about the flies. Those faithful little friends of the army accompany us all over the world, and they are much like everywhere. Yet it may be noted that the fly of Salonica is more affectionate than the fly of England or even of Egypt. It settles on your face and holds tight, and occasionally it eats pieces of you, in a kind of passion for indissoluble union. But it has little originality, and its methods are monotonous. It is not like the praying mantis, for instance. One of those devout insects came to dinner with us on my first evening in the land, and went round the table for all the world like a tract distributor. Finally it climbed a beer bottle and stood there with arms upraised and addressed the multitude till the owner of the beer took charge of the situation.

Rather Large Spiders

The beetles are not so objectionable, but, having impetuous natures they are apt to butt violently into our faces as they soar through the air on their twilight errands—and a collision with a halfounce beetle travelling at full speed is no joke. It is however, preferable to the sensation which is produced when a spider measuring an inch and a half across crawls thoughtfully over your face.

But these are small fry. The real pet of the army in Salonica is the tortoise. If you have only known the tortoise as the lazy hermit of an English garden you cannot begin to imagine his alert gaiety here in his home. It takes a little while to get used to the sight of a tortoise galloping round the camp with leathery neck outstretched. It seems almost indecent that such a creature should move at such a pace. Also it is perplexing when what you had taken for a cloud of earth begins to walk away from you in a hurry, and there is a tendency to heave lumps of marble after it.

Greedy For Souvenirs

As a matter of fact, the tortoise did not have a very happy time in the early days of the occupation. It was not only that the average human being usually tries to kill things that he does not understand; there was another trouble which was entirely due to the enterprise of those manufacturers who fashion things out of celluloid and label them "real tortoise shell." The army has a lust for souvenirs, and it is always trying to find things to send home. A considerable proportion of it made spirited attempts to carve the shells into combs for the lady's hair while the tortoise was still in possession.

That industry, of course, was speedily discovered and stopped, and to day the tortoise has nothing to fear.

WITH THE 105TH IN ENGLAND

Mr. Angus A. McMillan, received the following letter from his son, Charles, of the 105th, in England:—

Witley Camp, Jan. 19, 1917

Dear Father,—I received your letter yesterday and the tobacco you sent me and you bet it went high. Well, I am still in England. I don't think that they are going to send the rest of the 105th to France for some time. I had a letter from brother Johnnie the other day. He is fine. I also had a letter from Donald D., quite a while ago and I wrote to him. I was glad to get that tobacco from home. We can't use the tobacco we get here.

A person pays eight pence (16 cts.) for a piece of tobacco here and it is about two inches square and rotten at that. What do you think of that? Well, you would not believe the difference in the weather here and home. It is the middle of January now and there was only a little frost here, just what a person would notice and no snow at all. I guess the war will be over before six months time, at least I hope so. Give my regards to all the people around, not forgetting Roscoe and yourself. I will close hoping to hear from you soon again. So, good-bye.

From your loving son,
CHARLES.

"Do you suffer from snobbery among the boys here?" was asked the principal of a well-known boys' preparatory school.

"No," he answered thoughtfully. "I think we can honestly say that we are clear of that at last. Did you see that large, strong boy who sat one next to the last row of seats in the chapel? He is a house boy at one of the finest homes in the village—a mighty good student, and, besides that, one of our best athletes. He loves athletics, but he is such a conscientious fellow that he wouldn't slight his studies or his housework in order to practise on the field.

"Two lads here with us who came out of very rich families, and who, I suppose, never did a stroke of work at home in their lives, were very much interested in the athletic reputation of the school. They were worried because their big friend could not get out to practise more. They could not manage his lessons for him, but they put their heads together and figured out another way that they could get him more time for athletics.

"So there were a lot of afternoons in the fall when you could have found those rich lads up at a fine house scrubbing floors like good fellows, while the boy who had to work a cony way through school was down on the field practising. You wouldn't call that snobbery, would you?" — The Interior.
