

Good Blood Good blood, good health; bad blood, bad health; there you have it. Why not help nature just a little and change the bad to the good? Bad blood to good blood; poor blood to rich blood! Ask your doctor how this applies to Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and how it applies to you! Could anything be more fair?

As The Guardian Employment and Information Bureau, established some months ago, has been so greatly appreciated, and has been the means of securing employment for so many people and help for so many business houses and householders, it has been decided to establish in connection with this paper, an Advertising Agency. Thus any persons or firms desiring advertising in any newspaper outside of this city, can have same placed by The Guardian. They can thus secure the same rates as if they placed their order direct, and have each advertisement checked to see that it sets the proper number of insertions and appears as desired.

SEPTEMBER MAGAZINES

The Awakening of Wall Street is dealt with cleverly in the American Magazine, and other articles are equally entitled to attention. The fiction and poetry of the number is as usual, good, and an account of the World's Lost Treasures sets the reader wishing his luck would lead him to the discovery of one of the numerous hidden in different corners of the earth. The present instalment of that mysterious serial, The Mystery, is as intense as anything that has ever appeared in any magazine.

Attractive in appearance and splendidly illustrated in The Metropolitan which is entitled to more than ordinary notice because it contains some of the best poetry that has appeared for some time. All the other varied contents are as usual first-class.

Canadians will feel proud of Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada, which has now assumed the appearance and dignity of a leading authority in all matters covered by its title. Its publisher is to be congratulated on its success which is confined to Canada alone. The reading of this magazine is a pleasure to all lovers of sport and nature. W. J. Taylor, Publisher, Woodstock, Ont.

The Strand has a clever method of illustrating statistics and the September number instance this is an article on Living figures, which is worth studying. All the other contributions and stories are of that readable sort, for which the Strand has become noted and popular.

The September Illustrated Outlook has two contributions, chiefly meriting attention, Preparing the Desert for the Farmer, and Making a Farm that Pays. Subjects of current comment are treated of in an informing way, and, added to the comment on current books make the Outlook indispensable.

One does not need to go further than the frontispiece of The Mother's Magazine to discover the cleverness that marks its editing. The picture represents a woman stylishly attired, leading with one hand a pet terrier and carrying in a basket by the other hand a baby. The woman appears meant to convey a lesson, and a little study of the picture will do it.
