YANKEES AGAIN BEAT GIANTS BY 8-1 SCORE

Treat Three Hurlers Roughly In Blasting Out Second Victory

Melton K. O'd In Fifth Inning By Savage Hitting Attack As "Red" Ruffing Holds National Leaguers To Seven Scattered Hits.

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

YANKEE STADIUM, New York, Oct. 7.—The world champion Yankees today exploded the last thin vestiges of the myth that they can be beaten by good left-handed pitching.

Simultaneously and by the characteristic strategy of the booming baseball they shellacked New York Giants for the second straight day by the same score, 8-1, and moved majestically in the direction of their second straight world series conquest at the expense of their neighboring rivals.

The Yankees gave towering Cliff Melton the same treatment they handed the renowned Carl Hubbell yesterday. The only difference was that they got their attack under way quicker and spread it out over three innings, instead of one.

They drove the rookie Giant southpaw from the box in the fifth inning, routed Harry Gumbert in the sixth, and coasted home comfortably behind the effective pitching of their burly right-hander, Charley (Red) Ruffing.

Ruffing's Stickwork Effective

While the Yankees were blasting an even dozen hits off the combined pitching of Melton, Gumbert and Dick Coffman, Ruffing scattered the Giants' seven hits, struck out eight batsmen, and squelched a last-inning rally in which the Giants filled the bases, with two out.

The big right-hander also drove home three of the Yankees' eight runs with a pair of rousing hits. His first blow climaxed the Yankee uprising against Melton in the fifth, drove in what proved to be the winning run, and knocked the gaudy southpaw from the box. Ruffing's second hit was a two-bagger that brought two mates across, in the sixth, and knocked Gumbert off the mound.

The Giants, as in the first game, had taken a one-run lead, produced in the opening frame by Dick Bartell's fluky two-bagger, and Mel Ott's line single to right, only to have their pitching defence crack up.

The blow-off came as the Yankees scored twice in the fifth, four times in the sixth, and twice more in the seventh.

The world series scene shifts to the Polo Grounds tomorrow, for the third game, with the Giants seemingly in a hopeless spot and the Yankees aiming at duplicating their clean sweeps of 1927, 1928 and 1932. They dropped two games to the Giants last year.

Schumacher vs. Pearson Today

While the Yankees now need only two more victories to settle the issue the Giants must stake their chances of a come-back on the strong right arm of Hal Schumacher. A year ago, Schumacher, exponent of the sinker-ball, kept the series alive with a thrilling extra-inning victory in the fifth game after being knocked out of the box in his first start.

Schumacher's pitching opponent, Manager Joe McCarthy announced will be Monte Pearson, curve ball right-hander who beat Hubbell in the fourth game of the 1936 series.

The odds tonight were at least 10 to 1 against the Giants coming back to win the series, with no takers in sight.

A slightly smaller crowd than the day before, numbering 57,675 cash customers who contributed to a "gate" of $229,552, saw the Yankees put on a slugging act that was in all essential respects similar to the one they staged the previous afternoon.

Melton, the human question mark before today's game, gave the crowd some thrills in the pitcher's box before the Yankees finally solved the towering southpaw they once discarded as a pitcher with a $1,000,000-arm and 10 cent control.

For four innings he looked great. Only nine batsmen faced him in the first three frames.

The lower side of the batting order faced Melton in the fifth but it proved, once again, that there's no "soft spot" anywhere on the list. Myril Hoag doubled. George Selkirk, Tony Lazzeri and Red Ruffing singled in rapid succession. Two runs were in and Melton was out.

Then Harry Gumbert came through with a relief job that stopped the Yankees cold. He got the side out without any further scoring, fanning DiMaggio as a climax.

The Giants were still in the ball game, but not for long. The Yankees picked right up where they left off. Singles by Gehrig and Dickey, doubles by Selkirk and Ruffing, mixed with a force-out and an intentional pass to Lazzeri, produced four runs and sent Gumbert to the showers.

Dick Coffman squelched Crosetti and Wolfe, to retire the side without further scoring, but he got his package of firecrackers in the next inning, the seventh. DiMaggio clouted a single to left, for his second hit. Gehrig walked. Dickey singled to tally DiMaggio and Gehrig trotted home on Hoag's long fly to Chiozza.

Des Smith Joins Maroons

MONTREAL, Oct. 7.—President Tommy Gorman of Montreal Maroons announced today Desmond Smith, former Saint John and Charlottetown defence star who played in the English league last season, had signed a contract with the big red team of the National Hockey League.

A top-notch overseas at the start of the 1936-37 season, Smith was forced out of action by illness but recovered in time to finish out the schedule. He formerly played with Saint John Beavers and Charlottetown Abbies in the "Big Four" League.

It was reported Toronto Maple Leafs and New York Rangers as well as Quebec Aces of the Quebec Senior Hockey League had been seeking Smith's services this season.

It wasn't major sport news that day, but Conacher quickly proved himself to be one of hockey's best all-time wingmen. Twice he has led N. H. L. scorers.

Sidelights On Nickel World Series

(By Bill Boni, Associated Press Sports Writer) NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The second game of the nickel (that's what the Giants' chances are worth) world series ended today in a triple blaze. It was a blaze of fresh glory for the Yanks, fresh disappointment for the Giants and pure flame in the left field bleachers, which caught fire just as the last customer had departed.

Like the Giant's championship hopes, the fire was put out in a hurry. The fire-fighters used hoses, the Yankees used bats. They're both effective.

The Giant infield did some snappy fielding this afternoon. But you can't field base hits.

Cliff Melton, Bill Terry's last hope, was like a man who pulls the pin out of a hand grenade and then forgets to throw it. All of a sudden it explodes in his face.

Joe DiMaggio missed so many homers by a few feet there was a suspicion he was merely practicing for the invasion of the Polo Grounds, where the fences are shorter.

Maybe the Yankees were mad. Every time they tried to punt they failed. Then they returned to their customary practice and smacked 'em where they weren't.

Sixteen runs and only one homer. That must be a shock to the Tigers, White Sox, Indians and other American League clubs that were brow-beaten by the Yanks this season.

Red Ruffing not only pitched a seven-hitter and fanned eight, but also weighed in with two hits and drove home three runs. Besides knocking both Melton and Harry Gumbert out of the box, he knocked Bill Terry's strategy hay-wire. Red smacked a six-inning two-bagger after Gumbert had obeyed orders and given Tony Lazzeri an intentional pass.

NICKELS — FOUR FOR A QUARTER

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—(AP)—Genuine money was sold at a 20 per cent profit outside Yankee Stadium gates here today.

As lines 100 feet long formed at subway change booths, after the second world series game, young opportunists yelled, "Buy your nickels—four for a quarter—and don't wait in line."

They had plenty of customers.

Yankee Owner Wants Series Four Straight

(By Paul Mickelson, Associated Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Bill Terry's demoralized Giants tried to get off the floor of their dressing room today, but as the echoes of a noisy Yankee celebration in the adjoining lockerroom dinned in their weary ears they lapsed into a coma of despair.

"What else can you expect?" demanded Manager Bill Terry as reporters barged in for the usual statement. "We played two games with those fellows and got the hell kicked out of us both times. Tomorrow we're going to try Hal Schumacher, but I guess what we need most of all is a good rain-storm round about the fifth inning."

From Terry to coach Pancho Snyder, who stuck his head in his locker for fully 10 minutes without uttering a word, the Giants' spirits seemed crushed.

"You can't take it away from them," said Gus Mancuso. "They've got the power and the pitching. Why, that Ruffing was as fast out there as any pitcher I ever saw."

"It looks like we'll have a pleasant and leisurely Sunday dinner," said Colonel Ruppert, the Yankee owner. "Get it over in four straight if you can boys, as I'm invited out for dinner Sunday."

Manager McCarthy barged right past everyone to shake Ruffing's paw.

"Nice hitting, Charlie," wisecracked Marse Joe, cracked catcher Bill Dickey. "You had that," complimented catcher Bill Dickey.

"And we panned Mickey Mouse's (Cliff Melton's) ears back," yelled Lefty Gomez.

Almost completely tuckered out, Ruffing stretched his right hand out lazily for a score of handshakes.

"I don't know which gave me my great thrill, pitching or hitting," he said finally. "You know I'm proud of both."

Although the Yankees, headed by Coach "Gladstone" Fletcher rode Melton plenty while he lasted, they had nothing but respect for his pitching.

Renew Series For Maritime Title Today

ST. STEPHEN, N. B., Oct. 7.—The St. Theresa intermediate baseball team of Sydney, N. S., arrived here tonight for their second game with St. Thomas in the Maritime finals.

Having won the opener 4-2, St. Theresa will send Danny Gallivan to the mound tomorrow hoping to take the series in two straight games. He will oppose Al Gaudet. If a third game is necessary, it will be played Saturday morning.

Maxie Berger Retains Title

(CP By Guardian's Special Wire) MONTREAL, Oct. 7.—Sleek Maxie Berger of Montreal, retained his Canadian lightweight boxing championship tonight in 10 terrific rounds with bouncing Orville Drouillard of Windsor, Ont. Most of a crowd of 3,000 boomed the verdict that went to the hometown boy.

A hard-puncher, Berger rallied after Drouillard had piled a long lead in the early rounds.

Drouillard bobbed and weaved away from Berger's straight rights and poured left hooks and jabs to the Montrealer's face for five rounds. Then Berger came back to the Drouillard against the ropes in the 7th and 8th. The last two sessions were about even.

LONDON — The Australian Cricket Board of Control has approved M. C. G.'s proposal for five test matches between England and Australia next season. Two are scheduled for London with the others at Nottingham, Manchester and Leeds.
