Liberal Address By The Hon. T. W. L. Prowse

The following address was delivered last evening by Hon. T. W. L. Prowse:

Ladies and gentlemen, it is again my honour and privilege to speak to you for a few minutes on the political situation in our Province today, prior to the coming Provincial election on December 11, dealing especially with the record of the Jones Government and their magnificent contribution to the Fifth District of Queen's, in other words Charlottetown, Common, and Royalty, the banner District of P. E. Island, which I have the honour to represent.

I will confine my remarks to things that should be of interest to every intelligent elector of the Fifth District of Queen's, and why you should support the Jones Government, if you want sane, economical and business-like administration.

Before going into details, I wish to express to the people of Charlottetown, Common, and Royalty, my sincere appreciation for the confidence you placed in me four years ago; and the continued confidence by the unanimous nomination that was accorded me by the Liberal delegates a few days ago, when I was again chosen to contest the forthcoming Provincial election as Liberal candidate on December 11th, along with Dr. Charles Dougan, a newcomer to Provincial politics, but an old one in civic politics, having a long term as Councillor for Ward Two in the City of Charlottetown. His wide experience in Civic politics will be a great asset in the next Provincial Government headed by Hon. J. Walter Jones.

I ask the electors of the Fifth District, on behalf of Dr. Dougan and myself, your continued confidence in the Jones Government

Security Council. This left the field clear for the Ukraine and this Soviet Republic likely will be elected to the Council tomorrow.

3. South Africa and India clashed in the political committee over treatment of the 282,000 Indians in South Africa.

In the Spanish debate, the Canadian delegation opposed the watered-down resolution which was passed reaffirming the Assembly's 1946 stand on Spain as well as opposing earlier the stronger Polish proposal calling for economic sanctions.

A Canadian spokesman later explained that while Canada associated herself with any declaration of "abhorrence of the Franco regime," she doesn't believe it is "constitutionally proper" for the Assembly to recommend Security Council action against Spain before it is determined that the situation constitutes a "threat to the peace."

It was pointed out that the abstention "certainly doesn't mean" any Canadian approval of the present government in Spain. Canada did the same thing last year.

Britain, Russia, France and China, however, were among those voting for the resolution and six Latin American countries opposed it.

Other abstentions included South Africa, Australia, Pakistan, the Philippines and the Netherlands.

NEW TAX ON

the taxation changes would bring in an extra £208,000,000 in a full year.

The intention, he said, is to "strengthen still further . . . our budgetary defences against inflation." He added: "Too much money is running around after too few goods, which is an unavoidable sequel in every country seriously affected by a major war."

Some financial quarters quickly described the new measures as "hopelessly inadequate" and Anthony Eden, deputy Conservative leader, said in the House that the Government still had not made clear how it plans to tackle the problem of inflation.

The new levies on betting, which go into effect next Jan. 4, include a 10-per-cent tax on all money wagered on totalisators (pari-mutuels) at dog racing tracks and a similar tax on the football pools in which vast numbers of Britons try to guess the results of soccer matches. Both hitherto were tax-free, like horse race betting, which remains exempt.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer promised to leave food subsidies at their present levels, at least until the next budget in the spring of 1948.

Not Popular Budget

"I don't expect this to be a popular budget," Dalton said tonight in a radio address explaining the Government's new fiscal plans to the British people.

'So long as my colleagues in the Government and our supporters in the House of Commons are convinced it is right for the country, we shall go on doing our duty even though for the moment it may lose us votes," he added.

He charged Labor's Conservative opponents with trying to "exploit the unavoidable troubles resulting from the war.

While not increasing tobacco duties, Dalton warned that the country must face a "serious shortage" unless consumption, now back to 80 per cent of the level prior to last April's 20-per-cent tax increases, is substantially reduced. Britons still are "smoking too much," he observed.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer left automobile taxation unchanged.

He announced that after Jan. 1 interest of three per cent will be charged on arrears of personal income tax, surtax, profits tax and excess profits tax.

He proposed discontinuance of subsidies on leather, cotton and wool which amounted to £33,000,000 last year but asked for continuance of the agricultural subsidy which costs £352,000,000 yearly, because it is needed to keep food prices down.

Entertainment At Local Legion Branch

Members of the Charlottetown Branch of the Canadian Legion opened their Winter entertainment programme last night at the Legion Home under the chairmanship of Major A.W. Rogers who was acting in the absence of Mr. Roy MacGillivray.

A large number of veterans were in attendance and spent the early part of the evening playing cards, cribbage and renewing old acquaintances. Later on in the evening everybody participated in a good old fashioned sing-song led by Paul Sharp accompanied by Ding Connolly at the piano, during which Leo Doiron rendered a couple of vocal solos. Another added feature to the evening's entertainment was a quiz contest which added much to the success of the party. The evening was concluded with the singing of The King.

Sorority Dinner Held Last Night

The Alpha Chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority held a dinner at the Charlottetown Hotel last night in honour of its four new members: Mrs. Ralph Jenkins, Miss Bessie Conrad, Miss Eva McLeod, and Miss Beth McLaine. The new members were formally welcomed by Miss Irene McLeod and the address was responded to by Miss McLaine.

Mrs. William Johnstone presided.

Black candles and yellow roses, symbols of the sorority, tastefully decorated the tables. After the dinner, a social hour was enjoyed by the members.

Quebec Fossil Is "Most Interesting"

QUEBEC, Nov. 12 — (CP) — Provincial zoologist Noel Comeau said today discovery of fossilized whale bones at Daveluyville in Arthabaska County was the "most interesting" in his 15 years with the Provincial Museum here.

Mr. Comeau, just returned from a visit to the farm of Marcel Soucy at Daveluyville, said he believed the bones were those of a physeter catodon or a megaptera nodosa, types of whale that still exist and have undergone little physical change in the last 20,000 or 30,000 years.

He estimated the age of the bones at 20,000 years approximately.

The zoologist said the difference between a physeter catodon and a megaptera nodosa is that the second has teeth. Some 25 years ago a "living fossil" of the megaptera nodosa with teeth in its inferior maxilliary was found at Mont Joli on the south shore of the Lower St. Lawrence. It was bigger than the Soucy whale.

Discovery of the whale bones was made by Soucy as he dug a ditch on his farm.

Mr. Comeau estimated that the Soucy whale belonged to the quarternary or present period and thus is recent in terms of zoological and geological history.

He said about four-fifths of the fossil had been found and it would be possible to make the classification as physeter or megaptera once it was established that the Soucy whale had or had not teeth.

BLAME SCHOOLBOY FOR FIRE

HALIFAX, Nov. 12 —(CP) —A surreptitious schoolboy smoker who flipped his butt into a pile of inflammable basement rubbish caused a fire under Oxford Street School here last Friday, police said tonight.

Dr. M. M. Coady Is Guest Speaker

Dr. M.M. Coady, Extension Department, St. Francis Xavier University, told a large meeting at the Holy Name Hall last night that a knowledge of the theories and principles of co-operative organization was a prime requisite if credit unions and other co-operative societies in the Maritimes were to prosper.

The meeting, sponsored by the Newman Club, was presided over by Mr. Farrell Gaudet.

Dr. Coady advocated the encouragement of study groups as an effective method of developing a consciousness among the people which would cause them to realize that only by co-operative endeavour can they improve their economic condition.

Mr. Alex Laidlaw, also a member of the Extension Department of St. Francis Xavier, followed Dr. Coady and gave an interesting and instructive address on organization methods as they pertain to the development of credit unions.

Claim Spy Set Fire To Liner Normandie

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 —(AP)— France Amerique, New York French-language newspaper, said today a German spy was responsible for the blaze aboard the $60,000,000 French liner Normandie which converted the ship into a flame-charred hulk at its pier here Feb. 9, 1942.

The paper said the spy now is held in Germany on a murder charge.

It quoted him as saying several former members of the German-American Bund were working on the Normandie, being converted to a troop transport, and that these men were among those acting under his orders who set fire to life belts with their solder lamps.

G. F. Estrangin, the paper's news editors who wrote the story, said it is based on material obtained in New York and Europe.

The day after the Normandie fire, District Attorney Frank Hogan attributed the disaster to sparks from a welder's torch and said "there is no evidence of sabotage."

Humphrey of Kensington, P.E.I. placing a close second. George Kitson of North River, P.E.I., was third, Willard Kelly of Charlottetown, fourth, and Raymond Harper of Saint John was fifth.

IN PORT — The fertilizer boat "Bayleaf" arrived here yesterday morning from Baltimore, U.S.A. with a cargo of 2,400 tons of fertilizer, for the Island Fertilizer Company. She is being unloaded at the Railway wharf. An Imperial tanker, which arrived here over the weekend is also being unloaded at the Railway wharf. The C.G.S. Saurel is at present docked at the Marine wharf. She returned over the weekend, from one of her regular lighthouse supply runs to the Straits of Belle Isle. The freighter Altalena which has been docked at the Railway wharf for the past few days, left port yesterday for Norfolk, Virginia with a cargo of 40,000 bags of potatoes supplied by local shippers.

CLOTHING PARCELS FOR BRITAIN — Many citizens have expressed their desire to help the British people by sending articles of good used clothing, "but," they say, "we are so busy, we never seem to get round to sending the parcel." Again the local I.O.D.E. is offering to pack and pay transportation on donations of clothing for the United Kingdom. Parcels will be received at City Hall, Tuesday, Nov. 18th—one day only; parcels received later than Tuesday can not be included in the November shipment. Clothing must be practical, clean, warm and mended; odds and ends of yarn and pieces for patching may be included. The clothing is distributed in Britain through the Men's Voluntary Services, an organization which is not denominational and not political, set up by the British Government in wartime to coordinate all Service Groups, thus preventing duplication and overlapping.

NURSES HONORED — A social hour followed by a banquet at the Charlottetown Hotel on Remembrance Day marked the initial gathering of nursing sisters of P.E.I. Nearly twenty-five sisters of both great wars participated. It was an honor to have present Miss Elsie Nicholson, Miss Mary Hazard, Mrs. Wes Bell, Mrs. Peter Holland, Mrs. C.H. Beer, Miss Nellie Seaman, all veterans of the First Great War; also Miss Mona Wilson who served as a nursing sister with the American forces in the First Great War and the Canadian Red Cross in the last war and who is well known to Islanders for her direction in the field of public health. The grace was asked by Miss Miriam Nicholson. Following the toast to the King, the chairman, Miss Margaret Campbell called upon Miss Elsie Nicholson as senior sister to speak to the assembly. Miss Nicholson expressed her appreciation and that of her fellow sisters of the pleasure and enjoyment the evening afforded them. She spoke of the formation of a Sisters Club now in embryo and trusted that all veteran nurses would take advantage of membership. A vote of thanks was moved by Miss Nicholson endorsed by Mrs. C.H. Beer and presented to Misses Gertrude McCarron, Jean MacLean and all others through whose initiative and foresight this function was fostered. A brief interlude of music and singing followed by the National Anthem terminated a very pleasant evening.

Conservative Address By Hon. Dr. MacMillan

The following address was given last night by Hon. Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, leader of the Opposition:

The announcement of the date of the next Provincial Election, December 11th, gave the public a better demonstration of the unity of the Jones Government than some of the statements made by the Members of the Government at their nominating conventions. The "Guardian" announced the date on Friday, October 24th. On October 26th, Premier Jones in Toronto, commenting on the "Guardian" report, said there was nothing official regarding a Provincial election in Prince Edward Island. He said "the Government has taken no steps —openly at least—concerning the next election." He declined to amplify his remark at the time but suggested he would not be in Toronto on a visit if an election campaign were impending. On October 27th, Acting Premier Barbour confirmed the "Guardian" announcement that the date was December 11th, 1947.

This is just another proof of Jones Government unity because it is now well known of the Government division on the point with the result that Premier Jones and a couple of his Executive were overruled by the Barbour element. The date selected, on account of the mess of the roads and with ordinary winter conditions, will be just about as inconvenient as it is possible to be, interjected into the Christmas season, and it will likely prevent many voters, especially old people, from getting to the polls.

Premier Jones, at the Souris Convention on November 7th, characterized the Opposition as "a quarrelsome bunch who never seemed to have any ideas of their own." He did not see how the Opposition leader could make a Government out of the candidates even though they were elected. He added "there are only two or three of them I would have around." I am sure he could not get one of them with him.

My answer to him is—The Opposition candidates are just ordinary good citizens and we don't claim to have any "supermen" as the Premier does. I won't admit we are devoid of ideas, and some good practical ideas too. It does not bother me in the least that the Premier does not like our candidates. I do, and I am reasonably sure that the people will like them too, and we have a good array of farmers, professional and business men, and seven or eight veterans of both wars.

Veterans are a good yardstick of citizenship. Those are the men who helped save the Empire. They are the men who were denied the privilege of voting in the last Provincial election, but the Premier's attitude towards veterans is as

Consider France Can Whip Her Economic Troubles

By J.M. ROBERTS, Jr.
(Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst)

United States business and financial experts who have been touring Europe following the World Bank meeting in London have returned with the idea that France, with help, can whip the economic troubles which have so much to do with her political instability.

They are particularly impressed with the Monnet industrial recovery plan, under which France is trying to do for herself the very things stressed as essential to the whole European recovery program.

France's basic trouble is that there is not enough steel, enough labor or enough of anything.

During the Nazi occupation French resistance forces destroyed or paralyzed a large part of the country's productive capacity so as to deny its benefits to the Germans. During the first half of 1945 production was only 40 per cent of 1938. Now, according to French figures, it is above pre-war.

The Monnet plan calls for an increase, in the next three years, to 10 per cent more than pre-war in agriculture, 40 to 50 per cent in industry. To date the rates of increase fixed in the plan have been achieved 100 per cent in electricity, 91 per cent in coal, 94 per cent in steel, 90 per cent in transport and 85 per cent in textiles.

The opening next month of Europe's largest hydro-electric plant at the headwaters of the Rhone is expected to give the whole program a great boost.

French labor unions, in spite of Communist efforts, have agreed to increase their work week from 38 or 40 hours to 48 hours, and to a policy of large-scale immigration of foreign workers.

The Communists have been more successful in tying up the Government's efforts to stabilize the currency. They are reported to be following the line that, to destroy a country's social structure and ripen it for installation of a Soviet system, they must first destroy its credit and currency. There have been strong indications that this is one reason they have not tried to stage a general strike. They don't want to force the Government into strong measures which might put it in position to stabilize the franc.

When the world bank delegation headed by John McCloy started abroad it was in a tough frame of mind. Some were doubtful that Europe had sufficient spirit left to attain its "self-help" share of the Marshall plan. They helped other American representatives fight down the European idea that the United States was preparing for another handout and convinced at least some of the Europeans that they could do a great deal more than they were doing.

MRS. THOMAS MacPHERSON

The sudden death occurred in the Prince Edward Island Hospital on August 2nd of Mrs. Thomas MacPherson.

She had been in poor health for several months, previous to going to the P. E. I. Hospital where she was to undergo a goitre operation which proved to be unsuccessful; she passed away four hours later. Her untimely death came as a great shock to her family and friends. During her entire illness she bore with Christian endurance the pain and suffering without a murmur or complaint which was characteristic of her daily life.

Mrs. MacPherson, nee Mary Catherine MacLean was a daughter of Mrs. and the late Angus MacLean. She was born at Culloden fifty-five years ago. Following her marriage to Thomas MacPherson she moved to her late residence where she wrought to make for her family a happy home, the memory of which will always be cherished by those who enjoyed it.

She leaves to mourn the loss of a devoted mother besides her husband, four daughters: Irene, Mrs. Ira Saunders, Brackley, Marion, Mrs. Theodore Newson, Union Road; Catherine in Ottawa, and Alma at home, and two sons: Lloyd of Grand View and Angus at home, and seven grandchildren, also her mother, Mrs. Angus MacLean; one sister, Mrs. Alex Beaton, and three brothers: Johnny, Alex and John Malcolm.

Her devotion to family life, her charity and generosity to those in need, her unfailing hospitality and her truly Christian outlook will not be forgotten by those who knew her.

The funeral was held from her late home in Culloden on Wednesday, August 6th at 2 p.m. The service was conducted by Rev. T.A.A. Duke, who brought a message of comfort to the bereaved family. Favorite hymns sung by the choir were "The Lord Is My Shepherd," "Safe In The Arms Of Jesus" and "I Want To Go There" was very fittingly rendered by Mr. Chester Martin.

The pall bearers were six nephews: Stewart MacPherson, Milton MacPherson, John A. MacPherson, Robert MacLean, Emmerson MacLeod and Weldon MacLeod. Interment was in Wood Islands cemetery.

The following are the floral tributes received:

Pillow—Husband and family.
