Fire Destroys Barn Near O'Leary

Breaking out about 10:30 yesterday morning, fire destroyed a medium sized barn and two stacks of hay and threatened to destroy a larger barn, dwelling and garage, the property of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Gay, who live about a mile from O'Leary Village.

The fire started in one of the hay stacks and quickly spread to the other one and then to the building. Shortly before, men had been working at the stack hauling a load of hay away.

The fact that the wind was blowing off the other buildings contributed to the avoidance of what might have been a much more serious loss.

The burning bits of hay swirled around in all directions and a number of times the larger barn caught and some shingles had to be ripped off the roof to save it.

The fire in the hay stacks was fought by sticking a hay fork in them and hauling parts of them out into a field with a tractor.

New Air Force Officer For S' Side

Wing Cmdr. D. A. Willis, D. F. C., of Stoney Creek, Ontario, has arrived at the R. C. A. F. station, Summerside, to take over the position of officer commanding the air navigation school, succeeding Sqdn. Ldr. W. C. Langstaff, D. F. C., who has been posted to Air Force headquarters, Ottawa.

Wing Cmdr. Willis will serve under Wing Cmdr. G. R. F. Gross, who is the commanding officer of the Summerside station.

Wing Cmdr. Willis comes to his new duties with an impressive background of service with the R. C. A. F. in the U. S. Air Force and later the R. C. A. F.

In 1937 a scheme was started whereby a group of Canadians could join the R. A. F. This was a mutual arrangement between the R. A. F. and the R. C. A. F. and Wing Cmdr. Willis was one of the first to join.

During this period he spent ten and a half months in hospital from wounds received while on operations.

In the spring of 1942 he came to Canada to an R. A. F. station where he took the special navigation course, which is similar to the one now given in Summerside. He then went back overseas to 4 group.

In 1943 he took another course, this one dealing with radar and then was posted to the U. S. 5th Air Force as liaison officer and then was sent to the American command and general staff school at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

He graduated from this school on 9 Day and was sent to the China-India-Burma theatre as advisor to an American General. In 1945 he went back to the R. A. F. in the Burma theatre and returned to England in 1946 where he was released from the R. A. F. and was appointed to a commission in the R. C. A. F. Since the war he has been stationed in Ottawa.

I wish to express my heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the many acts of kindness, gifts of flowers, candy, fruit and many other things all the cards and letters which I received from kind friends during my recent confinement to bed and house following my accident.

Big Planes Due In S' Side Today From Arctic Tour

Completing two weeks spent in the Arctic carrying out training flights over that difficult country, the two Lancasters, Zenith and Polaris, return to their home base at Summerside this morning with their crews and the nine members of the first specialist navigation course. The trip was made to give this course experience in polar navigation and with its conclusion the six months course comes to an end.

Squadron Leader W. L. Gillespie of Summerside and Toronto was in charge of the flights. The aircraft are expected to touch down at 10 o'clock standard time this morning, completing a non-stop flight from Whitehorse, Y. T. This flight will be about 3,000 miles longer than the non-stop flight from Sacramento, California, which was completed early last winter.

The next specialist course will not commence till next October as it is planned to have only one a year.

S' Side Plane Makes History

OTTAWA, May 6 — (CP) — For the first time in its history an R.C.A.F. aircraft has flown over the North Pole, Air Force headquarters announced today.

The flight, which officials described as "of no special significance, apart from the novelty of the thing," was made by one of two Lancaster planes engaged in advanced navigation exercises at Whitehorse, N.W.T.

The two aircraft, Zenith and Polaris, have been making navigational flights in the Arctic for the last two weeks, to give specialist navigation students from the air navigation school at Summerside, P.E.I., experience in flying in high altitudes.

It was not immediately known here which of the aircraft made the historic trip over the geographic top of the world. The flight took place last Monday from Kit-tygazit, near the mouth of the MacKenzie River, where the Air Force has landing facilities, but word did not reach headquarters until today.

The Zenith and Polaris are scheduled to return to Summerside tomorrow.
