Our Pulp and Paper Industry

By W. L. COTTON

The development of the pulp and paper industry of Canada was the subject of an address recently delivered at Detroit before the National Foreign Trade Convention, by Mr. Edward Beck, of Montreal. In the course of this address Mr. Beck pointed out that it was not until the year 1908 that this industry was deemed to be of sufficient importance to keep a record of its production. There are now, however, 116 pulp and paper mills in Canada, with a capitalization of $500,000,000. The paper mills have an annual output of about 2,500,000 tons of paper and 375,000 tons of other grades of paper. There are also obtained and sold 1,250,000 tons of wood pulp in addition to that which is converted into paper in Canada. An idea of the rapid growth of the industry, remarks Mr. Beck, can be gathered from the fact that in 1890, Canada's total exports of wood pulp and paper were valued at $126, while thirty years later, in 1920, their value had risen to $140,000,000 and that last year it amounted to $173,492,000. "Our exports of pulp and paper in 1926 formed 14 per cent of our total exports of all commodities," states Mr. Beck, "and during the war period and since that time they have provided a main factor in assisting to maintain the value of the Canadian dollar in the market of the United States, and have lately been almost entirely responsible for the fact that the Canadian dollar now ranks above par of the United States dollar and is the only currency in the world to have achieved that distinction since the war."

How is it that Canada's export of paper now exceeds those of any other country? First, Canada has great forests; and, secondly, Canada has for her neighbor the richest country in the world, in which are included 117,000,000 of people, most of whom read the newspapers and carry on business. These people are Canada's largest customers for the products of Canada's forests for the wood, pulp, and paper. It is well for Canada that she has the forests and the prosperous, energetic neighbor.

To retain both is evidently a duty that lies before the Canadian people and the statesmen or politicians who act on their behalf. The prevention of waste of forests products and the prevention of the export of large quantities of unmanufactured pulp wood are means toward forest conservation. As Mr. Beck remarks, "The Canadian people, through their governments, are today the trustees of the pulpwood supplies of Canada in the interests of the paper consumers of the future, of whom—so far as this continent is concerned—the American people form and will continue to form an overwhelming majority." Experience has proved that those who own the forests are the most careful in the cutting down of valuable trees and the maintenance of those still growing. Conversely as Mr. Beck remarks, "the most careless and destructive cutting will be that performed by people who have no permanent investment in the vicinity, who have no millions of dollars of capital in adjacent mills which will require to be fed with pulpwood next year, and fifty years from now—who have no interest whatever except in getting the utmost profit out of this year's cutting."

The encouragement of the establishment of paper factories in Canada, and the discouragement of the export of pulpwood to be treated in foreign factories are therefore, clearly in the interests of Canada, and should be kept in view by Canada's government and people. Evidently the imposition of an export tax on unmanufactured pulpwood ought to be favorably considered by them. Now ought the Government and people of the United States to object to the adoption of a policy tending to the preservation of Canada's forests in the nearest and largest source of production of that which will, for all time to come, be one of their chief requirements.

Infant Sherlock Holmes "Be observing, my son," counseled Willie's father. "Cultivate the habit of seeing and you will become a successful man." "Yes," added Willie's uncle. "Don't go through life like a blind man. Learn to use your eyes." "The little boys who are observing get on much faster than those who are not," Aunt Jane put in. "The youngster took their advice to heart. A day passed and once more he stood before the family council. "Well, my son," said his father, "have you been using your eyes?" Willie nodded. "Tell us what you've learned." "Uncle Jim's got a bottle of whiskey hid behind his trunk," said Willie. "Aunt Jane's got an extra set of false teeth in her dresser, and pa's got a deck of cards and a box of chips hid behind Emerson's Essays in the book case." "The little sneak!" exclaimed the family with one voice.

Happenings of The Week

Dr. Lionel M. Lindsay, who has been spending a month at Orwell, returned this week to Montreal. Mrs. Lindsay and children are remaining for a longer holiday.

Mrs. J. Watters Grant, of New Glasgow, N.S., who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ewen W. MacKinnon for the past two weeks, left yesterday on return to her home after a most delightful visit, having been widely entertained by her friends.

Miss Edith Stanley, of Ottawa, is the welcome guest of her sister, Mrs. C. C. Thompson, of Montague.

Miss Lavina Margery Kennedy, youngest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Kennedy, of New York, entertained a few of her friends at a luncheon and bridge on Tuesday, in honor of her cousin, Miss Ireta Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Kennedy, of Charlottetown. The luncheon was daintily served in real Beach Grove Inn fashion, and was greatly enjoyed by the young ladies. Among those who attended were the Misses Ireta Kennedy, guest of honor, Stephenie Jenkins, Olive Johnson, Eleanor Cook, Lillian Duchemin, Hazel Edgett, Jane Heartz and the hostess, Lavina Margery Kennedy. The first prize was won by Miss Stephenie Jenkins, two lovely hand-painted handkerchiefs; while Miss Eleanor Cook won the second prize, a pretty French vanity.

Among the interesting visitors summering at York Point are Mr. and Mrs. Kuhn and children, and Mrs. Kuhn's mother, Mrs. Wood of Warwick, Bermuda. This is Mr. Kuhn's first visit to the Province, and he is very much delighted with the scenery, climate and sea bathing. The ladies of the party have been here before and are having many happy re-unions with former friends.

Deepest sympathy will go out to Dr. and Mrs. MacGuigan in the death of their son, Marcellus, who is so kindly remembered by relatives and friends.

His Worship Mayor Miller and Mrs. Miller are away on a holiday visit to Halifax and the Annapolis Valley, and will return by New Brunswick.

Mrs. T. Kenneth Raymond, and two children, Frances and Robert, of Saint John, are spending some time in Cavendish with Mrs. (Rev.) J. S. Bonnell.

Mrs. (Dr.) Charles Kennedy and charming daughter, Miss Lavina Margery, are summering at Beach Grove Inn. Miss Kennedy, who is a graduate of Hamilton Institute for Girls, is a most accomplished young lady, and a great favorite with her Charlottetown friends.

Miss Marion Moffat, of Ottawa, left on Tuesday morning for her home, after a most enjoyable visit to her college chum, Miss Katherine MacLennan, Prince St. Miss Moffat who is a graduate of Queen's University, was charmed with her first visit to the Garden Province, where she quickly made many friends.

Mrs. James Simpson and Miss Simpson have returned home from visiting friends in Dartmouth.

The official opening of the Summerside Golf Club was the occasion of a delightful gathering last Monday afternoon, when a large number of members were in attendance. Tea was served from 4.30 to 6, in the prettily appointed club house just erected. The tea cups were presided over by Mrs. Creelmann MacArthur and Mrs. H. G. Muttart, who were assisted in serving by Mrs. H. T. Holman, Mrs. T. Ennis Smith, Miss Gladys Holman and others.

Miss Gertrude Gallant, R.N., of Summerside, is leaving today on a holiday trip through Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

Miss Jean Stewart and friend, Miss Lucy Pearce, of Springfield, Mass., are visiting Miss Stewart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stewart, and thoroughly enjoying their holidays among old friends.

Mrs. Alvin Leckie, of North Bedouque, is spending a few days in Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Casey were among the visitors spending a few days in Summerside this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Calder and young son, Ralph, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Robinson in Summerside.

The tennis tea this afternoon at Victoria Park will be served by Miss

Tryon Tid Bits

(BY EISMAC)

A motor party from O'Leary consisting of Mr. Lorne Campbell, Mrs. David Campbell, Miss Reta Campbell and Mr. Leslie McCauley, passed through Tryon on Friday en route to Charlottetown. From Tryon they were accompanied by Miss Ruby Lord. Saturday afternoon they again passed through homebound bound, leaving Miss Lord at her home here. All the party reported an enjoyable trip.

The Misses Ruby and Edith Lord, of R. T. Holman Ltd., have returned to their duties in the Summerside store, after spending a very enjoyable vacation in Tryon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Robertson, Charlottetown motored to Tryon on Wednesday afternoon and visited friends there. Returning to Charlottetown they were accompanied by Mrs. Annie E. Morrison, Naramata, B. C. and Mrs. Willard, Seattle, Wash., who will visit friends in Charlottetown and Bonshaw.

Mrs. Harold Knight, Cambridge, Mass., arrived in Tryon on Monday, where she is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos McWilliam.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrett Dawson, Miss Elva and Master Lester, Summerside, were visitors to North Tryon, Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Novella Delaney, Summerside, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Parker Delaney, North Tryon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramsay, Honolulu, (formerly of Summerside) who are spending the summer on P. E. I., were guests of Mrs. Elizabeth Lang on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Waite, Summerside, were visitors to Tryon on Tuesday.

Miss Rhoda Mulrhead, North Tryon, is visiting in Summerside, the guest of Mrs. John Cobb.

Thanks dear friends, for reading thus far in Tid Bits. I hope you enjoy "What's Who" and you "Who's Who" but I have had my little holiday you are up against my nonsense for another season. Just at present Tryon is a busy place, for the farmers here grow lots of potatoes, so cultivating, spraying, etc., which together with having, makes work, and believe me lots of it, and when night comes—well, after a farmer's "hit" the hay, straw, or as I do believe, most all have a really, truly bed they enjoy sleep, gentle sleep, and their Rolls Royce, Ford of Packard stands idly in the garage. Oh believe me Bill, there is no better "Ole" than Tryon and Blumme sure I'm right! "Z"

Touchy Corns Relieved By Marvel Liquid

Instantly the ache stops—the pain goes away—that is the immediate effect of Putnam's Corn Extractor. Paint the corn or callous with "Putnam's" and the corn will shrivel. After a new application of "Putnam's" the corn will drop out. No pain, or disappointment. Putnam's does the work—a sure pop corn remover. Get a bottle from any druggist. Refuse a substitute.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Duchemin was the scene of a gay gathering of young people last evening, when Miss Lillian Duchemin and Miss Annie Dammerell were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Martha Wright, whose marriage to Rev. Mr. Ryan takes place shortly. The bride-to-be was greatly surprised when the lovely gifts of silver, cut glass, linen, etc., were showered on her, the jolly verses attached causing lots of merriment. The evening passed all too quickly with music and social intercourse, dainty refreshments being served at a late hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Miller have had as their guests this week, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Lighthouse and their two interesting children, Norma and Lloyd of Vancouver. Mr. and Mrs. Lighthouse are being warmly welcomed by their many friends here. Other guests at Oakwood over the week end are Mr. Albert Trueman and Mr. Raymond

Mr. and Mrs. J. LeRoy Holman accompanied by their family, Robert T. and Miss Helen, returned recently to their home in Summerside, following a week's delightful motor trip through Cape Breton. They motored from Summerside to Charlottetown, crossed on the S. S. Hochelaga to Pictou and then motored to Sydney by way of St. Peter's and the beautiful Bras d'Or Lakes, visited the old Acadia fortifications at Louisburg, stopped at Baddeck and Margaree and returned by way of Inverness, Mabou, Mulgrave, Truro, Sackville and Tormentine, travelling over eight hundred miles. One of the most delightful parts of the journey was a stop for a couple of days at the C. N. R. Lodge at Pictou. Here the C. N. R. authorities have a wonderful tourist resort with a central lodge surrounded by separate log cabins, each cabin equipped with all modern conveniences—hot and cold water, stone fire places, electrical lighting, etc. Work is also Bracelets for immediate wear with dainty chiffon frocks or even for later on with velvet dresses are made after a novel pattern. When opened they look like fine strips of shimmering gold, tempered like steel. They snap out flat like a strip of paper. An outside layer of the metal is made to cover the inner layer and forms rolled edges on both sides. A concealed clasp gives the impression of a complete or continuous banding when it is fastened. A fine design worked out in imitation engraving is the only embellishment.

Ladies hereabouts receive a coat of tan in swimming or engaging in outdoor sports, but there will not now be the necessity for such unless they so desire, as it is now announced that a new fabric has been discovered—a new sports dress material—which permits the ultra-violet rays of the sun to penetrate to a woman's skin and give it a good sun-burn. That is unless the wearer of the new sports dress has on certain violet-ray proof undies, but one who insisted upon getting sun-burned all over through one's clothes wouldn't wear anything else but the new scientific fabric, which is called "solar-ray." It is a chemical material. It resembles silk in texture and feel-like silk.
