

Women said:

You Can't Use Fast Working Soaps for Colored Things

BUT they hadn't tried the New Oxydol then!

Every bit of Oxydol dissolves instantly into thick, long-lasting suds—50% more suds. That's why it does so much more work—soaks clothes so fresh and clean without harm to hands or dainty colors and materials. Rinses clean, softens water, won't ball up. Great for dishes, too.

50% MORE SUDS MEANS 47% LESS WORK

The Procter & Gamble Company of Canada, Ltd.

REG. TRADE MARK

MADE IN CANADA

OXYDOL THE COMPLETE HOUSEHOLD SOAP

FARM PROPERTY FOR SALE

At North Wiltshire, by Auction, Thursday, Nov. 3, (next day if rainy,) highly improved farm of 78 acres, together with stock, crop, household furniture and farm implements including gasoline engine, grain cracker, seed grain grader, and high quality cream separator.

L. L. Jenkins

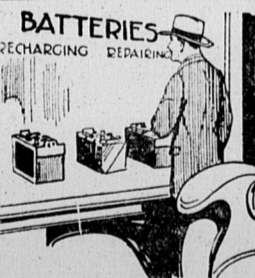

ALEX MacRAE, Auctioneer

5605-10-24-mw7-5

MORE AND MORE OF YOUR OLD GOLD

Can be used—so look up your old Jewellery and bring it in to us, and use it as cash to get anything you may need in our store.

G. H. TAYLOR Jeweller and Engraver

AUTO IGNITION

Let us check your Ignition system for Fail driving conditions. Carburetor work a specialty.

Electrically at your service.

Palmer Electric Ltd.

Automobile Starting, Lighting Ignition

NOTICE!

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND HOSPITAL 1923 CAMPAIGN FUND

All subscribers in arrears are hereby notified that the Campaign Fund of 1923 is being closed, October 31, 1932. Payments will be received at the Canadian Bank of Commerce or at the Secretary's Office at Prince Edward Island Hospital, Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island.

(Sgd.) FRANK R. HEARTZ, Chairman Campaign Fund 1923. W59-10-12-17L

Professional Cards

Stewart & Lowther J. D. STEWART, K. C. N. W. LOWTHER BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS, ETC. 84 Great George Street MONEY TO LOAN

McLEOD & BENTLEY J. A. BENTLEY W. E. BENTLEY, K. C. Barrister and Attorney-at-Law MONEY TO LOAN Office: 180 Richmond Street

Prohibition Commission

Chas. H. Black, Chairman, Charlottetown. Jas. E. McDonald, West St. Peters John Simpson, Hamilton. Send all information regarding infractions of PROHIBITION ACT to the above or to Inspector J. Fripps, E. C. M. P.

Rose Marie Hairdressing Shoppe. 168 Great George Street

SPECIAL OFFER

With each shampoo and finger wave or marcel we will give FREE hot oil treatment to introduce our new sun lamp.

A facial with milk pack 75c.

PERMANENT WAVES

$5.95, $7.50 and $10.00.

Mrs. B. Waller. Miss L. Falsborough. Phone 1243.

5677-10-7-15-8L

Periodic—Eye Examinations

Don't wear your glasses for five or ten years, as some do, without re-examination, for in that time serious changes are vitally important, whether one's eyes are good or otherwise.

may take place, which if not discovered, may work permanent injury to the most precious sense you possess.

Guard your eyes.

G. F. HUTCHESON OPTOMETRIST

ZORA The Invisible

By J. R. WILMOT

To Blayne this discovery was a remarkably surprising—surprising that he should be in love with any woman at all. How Webster would laugh if he were told, but then Blayne knew that no one would be told—not even Sonia Gaynor herself. You can't begin to love a woman for the first time and immediately proclaim it to all and sundry, as if it were an announcement of public importance. It was a strictly private matter that, so far, was known only to two persons, and Blayne knew that Hooker was the personification of discretion.

Sipping his lime juice Blayne looked at the matter from a new angle. How was all this going to affect his inquiry? Sonia Gaynor had been markedly hostile—not a bit like a maid to her devoted slave. With a grunt, Blayne realised that being in love wasn't going to get him any further at the moment. It might in fact, rather complicate matters, and after all he really owed it to Webster to get the matter cleared up. It must be cleared up. There was no question about that.

For a moment Blayne's eyes rested upon the squat figure of the idol that was known as Zora sitting on his mantleshaft. "You dark devil," Blayne muttered. "If only you could open your lips and speak."

It was curious that, at that very moment, there flashed through Blayne's mind the name of Clive Winstanley, a young man about his own age, who had been at college with him and who, he believed, had secured a post at the British Museum. Winstanley he remembered, had long been considered something of an authority on India and its problems. It was quite possible that he might know something about this elusive Zora.

Before reaching for his hat, Blayne had an inspiration. Picking up the receiver of his telephone, he put through a call to Webster at the Yard.

"Can you spare me a man?" asked Blayne as he recognised the detective's voice. "A thoroughly reliable man who can be counted upon to do a little bit of shadow work; he'll want a car—a fast one, but what's more important I don't want the job bungled."

"If you come along you can have your pick," returned Webster. "But what's the merry game? Have you discovered something?"

"I don't know—for certain," Blayne replied. "But I shall want your man to report to me immediately. I'm just off out. Can you send him around in a car? Good then I'll give him five minutes to get along here. And Webster, don't let the big-wigs put you off, I'm perfectly aware that we've not done much as yet but try and impress upon them that criminal investigation is a whole time job and a damn hard job, too, but when you've finished it there's a tremendous amount of satisfaction attached to it."

Blayne heard Webster's hearty laugh as he rang off.

CHAPTER XIV

THE SECRET SOCIETY

Clive Winstanley sat at a little table in an upper room at the British Museum. He was a tall, loose-limbed man not much over thirty, with a keen face and very bright eyes.

The table was strewn with seared and yellow documents, many of them cracked and crumpled by the lean fingers of Time—documents that had come down out of the Past; faded, almost indecipherable, fragments of history that help us to Beyond Doubt the Quality is Supreme!

There is no Molasses as good as "BEMA" Barbados. None as healthful—none as delicious! And, because of its absolute purity, it is the most economical Molasses you can buy.

Next time you need molasses insist on the "BEMA" brand—the difference will surprise you.

YOUR GROCER SELLS IT 314

Colds Checked By modern vaporizing ointment—Just rub on VICKS VAPORUB ACTS 4 WAYS AT ONCE connect with slender yet inevitable chains the ages that lie buried with those that are more readily accessible.

He swung round in his chair as the door opened to admit the spruce figure of Peter Blayne.

"Hello, Peter, old man, what on earth brings you to these dusty archives of mediaeval learning?" he greeted with a laugh.

Blayne shook his old friend cordially by the hand and dropped into a comfortable chair that the other indicated.

"The truth is," he began, availing himself of the well-stocked tobacco pouch which Winstanley pushed across to him, "I'm up against it and I thought that perhaps you might be able to help me out."

"I'll do what I can, of course, old chap," said Winstanley, "but if it's a medical conundrum, you'll be right out of luck."

Blayne filled his pipe and replaced the pouch on the desk.

"I was wondering whether you'd ever heard of anyone named 'Zora'?" asked the medico. "If you have I'd be glad to know anything you can tell me about him. All I know at the moment is that it is the name of an Indian idol standing—or rather squatting—on my mantleshaft at home."

Clive Winstanley's eyes brightened and he turned towards Blayne with an unmistakable trace of eagerness.

"It's funny you should mention that," he began, "because it was only the other day that I had an inquiry from Peters at the Foreign Office. It seems they're interested in Zora as well."

"But what has the Foreign Office got to do with the murder of Montgomery Gaynor?" asked Blayne in surprise and bewilderment.

"Nothing at all, as far as I know," said Winstanley, "but it seems that the venerable Sons of Zora are up to their tricks again and that they've transferred their headquarters from Paris to London."

"Hadn't you better begin at the beginning, old chap?" smiled Blayne. "If you'll tell me all you know about this Zora business I feel sure you will be able to help me considerably."

Winstanley opened a drawer in his desk and pulled out a portfolio from which he extracted a sheaf of foolscap sheets filled with microscopic writing.

"I'm afraid that's a tall order, Peter," he smiled, "you'll have to be content with a précis. As you are probably aware, Zora is an ancient Indian god, who is popularly supposed to possess rather unusual powers. The original Zora was a Hindu fanatic who became sort of canonised after establishing a sect whose ramifications soon became a serious menace to some of the more orthodox creeds. At first it was almost entirely religious, but later, after a succession of feuds between other religious bodies in Northern India, it became more in the nature of a vast secret society whose sole aim was the destruction of British rule and power in India."

"In some of the more Northern provinces its activities have occasionally troubled the Indian Government and if it had not had a somewhat fanatical religious savor about it, there is no doubt that steps would have been taken to suppress it, but as you know Blayne, the India Office never believes in stirring up unnecessary trouble by interfering with any of the manifold religions of India, and as yet, so I am told it is only suspected that the Sons of Zora are more political than religious. Of course, as soon as it can be definitely established that they are making trouble there will be a regular comb-out."

"However I hear that the Foreign Office believes that a branch of the sect has been established in England, for a number of prominent Hindus have been traced over here. Six months ago their headquarters were in the neighborhood of Fontainebleau, but things have been abnormally quiet there for some time and it is suspected that they have transferred their affections to London, a fact which the Foreign Office and the India Office don't like."

"But why don't they take some steps to clear them out?" asked Blayne, secretly pleased at his discovery.

"I suppose they have nothing definite against them," smiled Winstanley. "Your up to date anarchist doesn't walk down Whitehall with his pockets bulging with bombs. The modern rebel is an expert at cloaking his intentions. He is artful—too artful sometimes, and arresting people on suspicion, as you know, is not always a paying proposition. It takes time to fix sufficient guilt to warrant interference with the normal mode of life."

"I see your point," said Blayne.

POULTRY

I am now buying dressed Fowl and Chickens. Please note the following conditions:

Fowl can be dressed by Scalding. Heads off. Undrawn. Packed in barrels or boxes. Ship by freight.

J. D. JENKINS

5697-10-27-3L

MAN STEPSON AND SON-IN-LAW

A stepfather and father-in-law sued his stepson and son-in-law in Bromley, England, recently. B. Gillis, representing the defendant explained to Judge James that the plaintiff, a widower, married the defendant's mother, she then being a widow. The widow's son and the widower's daughter then married.

"Of course it wouldn't do. When I've cleared up this little job I've got on hand I shall trot along to the Foreign Office and tell them a few things about Mr. Zora. Thanks, old fellow, I'm beginning to see a little more light. It's only a glimmer—but even a glimmer has to begin in a small way."

(To Be Continued)

PILES

Ended Without Cutting or Salves

If you think a surgical operation is the only way to get rid of itching, bleeding or protruding Piles, it's because you haven't heard of the harmless internal medicine discovered by a prominent western physician.

After years of study, Dr. J. S. Leonhardt found the cause of Piles to be internal congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the hemorrhoidal veins flabby; the bowel walls weak; the parts almost dead. Right away the doctor set to work to find a real internal remedy. He succeeded, and with success in over 1000 patients, with success in over 900 cases, he named his prescription HEM-ROID.

The doctor wants every Pile sufferer to benefit by his discovery, and so there will be no doubting or delay Hughes Drug Co., Ltd., and druggists everywhere are authorized to sell HEM-ROID with guarantee of money-back if it does not end Piles in any form.

So why waste time on external treatments or think of an operation when HEM-ROID tablets are guaranteed.

DOMINION OF CANADA PROVINCE OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND. In the Probate Court, 23rd George Street, A. D. 1932

In Re Estate of Annie Louise Reid late of Charlottetown in Queen's County in the said Province deceased testate.

By the Honourable Harold Leonard Palmer, Surrogate Judge of Probate, etc., etc.

To the Sheriff of the County of Queen's County or any Constable or literate person within said County. Greeting:

WHEREAS upon reading the petition on file of J. Rowland Paton of Charlottetown aforesaid, Broker, the Administrator C. T. A. of the above named estate praying that a citation may be issued for the purpose hereinafter set forth: You are therefore hereby required to cite all persons interested in the said Estate to be and appear before me at a Probate Court to be held in the Court House in Charlottetown, in Queen's County in the said Province, on Monday the twenty-eighth day of November next, coming, at the hour of eleven o'clock forenoon of same day to show cause if any they can why the Accounts of the said Estate should not be passed and the Estate closed as prayed for in said petition and on motion of H. Francis MacPhee, Esq., Proctor for said Petitioner, and I do hereby order that a true copy hereof be forthwith published in some newspaper published in Charlottetown aforesaid once in each week for at least four consecutive weeks from the date hereof and that a true copy hereof be forthwith posted in the following public places respectively, namely, in the hall of the Court House in Charlottetown aforesaid, at or near the Bank of Nova Scotia and at or near the Royal Bank of Canada both in Charlottetown aforesaid, and I do hereby further order that a true copy hereof be forthwith served on the Attorney-General of this Province so that all persons interested in the said Estate as aforesaid may have due notice thereof.

Given under my hand and Seal of the said Court this 27th day of October, A. D. 1932 and in the 23rd year of His Majesty's reign.

(Sgd.) H. L. PALMER Judge of Probate.

(L. S.) 5710-10-28-Fri.-4.

(L. S.) 5710-10-28-Fri.-4.

BULBS BULBS

Just received and opened our Annual Fall shipment of DUTCH BULBS

DUTCH BULBS

direct from the growers LISSE, HOLLAND.

TULIPS (Single and Double) DARWIN Tulips (long stem).

HYACINTHS (Double and Single).

DAFFODILS CROCUS, FREESIAS, NARCISSUS, &c., &c., all large size BULBS. Prices much lower. Come in and make your selection early.

Carter & Co. LIMITED

Majestic SCORES AGAIN

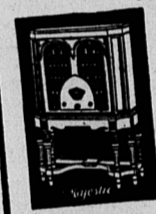

- 1928 . . . First with Mass Production
1929 . . . First with Humless Radio
1930 . . . First with Superheterodynes at Popular Prices
1931 . . . First with Multi-Mu Tubes
1932 . . . First with Spray-Shielding

this time with Synchro-Silent Tuning

Station after station sliding in and out at almost equal volume as one tunes across the dial... no "blasting"... no roars... no crackles... silences all inter-station noises—thereby establishing the closest approach to complete static elimination yet achieved, an outstanding feature with Majestic. Hear the New Majestic at our store—and know for the first time how truly wonderful a radio can be.

Five beautiful new models, priced from $79.50 to $149.50, complete with the new-type fully-guaranteed Rogers tubes. Small down payment and terms as low as $8.00 a month.

THE NEW Majestic RADIO

R. T. HOLMAN Ltd Charlottetown and Summerside

TOMATOES FROM THE WEST INDIES. Tomatoes from Bermuda and the British West Indies appear to be growing in popularity, the importation in the first five months of the present fiscal year being 1,785,357 pounds valued at $47,698, as compared with 441,540 pounds at $20,573 in the previous twelve months.

Advertisement for Canadian National Railways featuring the Atlantic Provinces, Nova Scotia, and Canadian National Hotels. Includes images of hotels and a map of the region.