Miss Anna MacLaren is at present employed at Clark Bros., Montague.

The work of remodelling the community rink is rapidly drawing to a close since the major part of the work has been completed. It has been built along the north wall are large and roomy ranging from twenty-five to thirty-three feet in length. At the west end are located the two hockey rooms, in the centre are two public dressing rooms, and at the east end is the canteen, which is quite large so that the public may enter the room. Each room has been insulated and sheathed, and will be heated by an oil stove. The office is in the room, the ring club room, and has been constructed to provide an ante-room, and hallway leading to the rink. The office will also house the new pump which has been installed in a cement foundation. The promenade has been moved so as to lengthen the ice sheet, and instead of the former circular ends, there is only a seven foot turn, thereby providing a larger and better ice space. Three gates have been placed in the promenade for the skaters and hockey players. It is possible that work will soon begin on the erection of bleachers at the east end which will seat about 200 spectators, and thus provide more comfort for those who watch the game. On Tuesday the ground was levelled off by Mr. John Shaw and Mr. Charles Aitken is waiting only for frost before beginning to flood. Mr. Hayden VanDerstine, the contractor, expects to have the work completed in the near future so that this community rink will be one of the best for its size in the province. With the erection of a new modern rink in Georgetown, and the one already built in Murray Harbour, hockey spectators should this year see some splendid hockey in the Southern King's League.

Dorothy Dix Says —

wife happy, never cease courting her. Give her plenty of hot air and she will not ask for anything else.

Second. Never forget that women put more stress on words than on deeds. A man may work himself to death to lap his wife in luxury, but she will doubt his love and consider herself a poor abused creature if he never mentions the state of his affections to her. But if he will tell her every day how he loves her, she will take in his arms to support him and thank God on her knees for having given her a peer among husbands.

Third. Remember that women put an inordinate value on little things. You may beat a woman. You may starve her. You may neglect her. And she will still be happy if you will only take her out on an occasional party and remember anniversaries and send her now and then a bunch of flowers.

BE DIPLOMATIC

Use diplomacy in handling your wife. Don't batter yourself to pieces against the stone wall of her peculiarities. Step around them. Don't antagonize her. Placate her. Sugar catches more feminine flies than vinegar does.

If you want your wife to be economical, don't knock her extravagance. Praise her thrift. If you want her to be a good housekeeper, don't criticize her bad cooking. Laud her pies and she will break her neck to come up to your good opinion of her.

Don't get married under the hallucination that two can live as cheaply as one, to say nothing of a possible three or four or five or six. Don't expect your wife to be a miracle-worker and run a house on air. Realize that matrimony is an expensive luxury and the upkeep of a baby costs as much as to run an automobile. Then when the bills come in you won't have heart failure or row with your wife over them.

Finally, keep on selling yourself to your wife. You study ways of pleasing your employers or your customers and making yourself solid with them. Use the same tactics in dealing with your wife. Just remember that getting married is the biggest business deal you will ever go into, and put as much intelligence and energy and patience into making a go of it as you would in any enterprise out of which you expected to make a million.

And, if you do, you will make a success of it.

For Bad Cough, Mix This Splendid Recipe, at Home

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this easily prepared mixture and try it for a distressing cough. It is no trouble to mix, and costs but a trifle, yet it can be depended upon to give quick relief.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water for a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey instead of sugar syrup.) Get a 2½ ounce bottle of Finex from any druggist, put it into a 16 ounce bottle and fill it up with your syrup. The 16 ounces thus made gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money, and is a very effective relief for coughs. Keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

This splendid mixture soothes the irritated membranes, loosens the phlegm and helps to clear the air passages. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep.

Finex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known as a soothing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if not pleased in every way.
