

BOWLING
WRESTLING
BASEBALL

BOXING
BASKETBALL
OTHER SPORT

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Baer Wins, Technical Knockout In 10th

California Giant Batters Teuton Into Submission

Displays Terrific Punching Power In Defeating Former World Heavyweight Champion—65,000 See Fight.

(Associated Press) BAER STADIUM, New York, June 8.—Max Baer, young California giant, battered Max Schmeling helplessly before a crowd estimated at 65,000 tonight, winning on a technical knockout in the 10th round of a 15 round fight.

During terrific punching Baer caught the former heavyweight champion with a barrage of rights to the chin in the ninth and sent him to his corner still punching him, teetering after the bell.

Coming out savagely to finish the German in the 10th, Baer landed a volley of rights that floor-schmeling for nine.

The Teuton came up gamely but helpless and Baer smashed from one side of the ring to the other before Referee Arthur Brown stopped the bout.

ROUND ONE
Instead of crouching and rushing, Baer moved slowly into Schmeling and ripped a hard left into the head. Encouraged, Schmeling leaped on Schmeling, smashing to the ropes, banging hands to the German's body.

It is so easily the crowd leaped to its feet, roared "rush him" and tore back in again.

He hooked his left behind the German's head and mashed Schmeling across the ring, beating with a tree right hand. Again Schmeling played that trick but this time Schmeling pulled back and Baer's right to Baer's head.

The Californian grabbed the German for support and blood poured from his nose as he covered quick Schmeling drove a right to the head and Baer tossed a long right to the head.

ROUND TWO
Schmeling was smiling as he came out and met Baer in the latter corner, moving in carefully. As he came, Schmeling landed a half dozen lefts to the head but Baer ripped a terrific left to Schmeling on the ropes, flailing him with both hands.

After left and right after right to the befuddled German's head, Baer lashed at him savagely. Schmeling pulled away and Baer confidently as he stabbed Schmeling with long lefts. Schmeling tried to find a way to get past Baer's long left but Baer piled both hands to the body and grinned as he pulled away. A terrific left from Schmeling up almost helplessly the ropes as Baer's fist crashed through the German's jaw. Schmeling was propped himself, covering by himself, under Baer's furious attack until the bell sounded.

ROUND THREE
Schmeling rallied quickly and came far across the ring to meet Baer with a jabbing left hand.

Baer took his light lefts cockily, laughing at the German, but Schmeling kept plugging, lifting a hard right uppercut to the head.

Baer held the German with his left and drove three hard rights under the heart, but the Teuton's close knit defense blocked off a half dozen more swings to the body. Schmeling bored to close quarters as Baer missed two long rights, and rocked the Californian's head with both hands inside.

But Baer, still disdainful, pulled away, banged a long right to the head, then ripped both hands to Schmeling's body until the bell sounded.

ROUND FOUR
Baer's defense was far more capable than any one had expected as Schmeling moved in and found himself smothered by the Californian's arms. They swapped lefts to the face, then each drove a terrific short, but Baer railed quickest and smashed both hands in a storm of thudding punches to Schmeling's head. They locked heads and each tried to find an opening through the welter of the other's arms.

Suddenly they switched to the head with a roaring free handed exchange that brought the crowd up shouting. Despite the terrific punishment he had taken, Schmeling rallied strongly and drove Baer into a corner, cuffing the tall Californian's head with short hooks inside as the bell caught Baer hauling back his right for a long distance smash.

ROUND FIVE
Excitement was so great around the ringside that fights were breaking out in the rear pews among the customers. Apparently a bit wearied from the pace, Baer stood off and boxed as Schmeling moved constantly in on him, trying to force openings for his heavy right and short choppy left jabs. Schmeling hooked a hard left to the head and crossed his right solidly to the jaw but Baer reached the German with a right that started his left eye closing. Baer thundered in with both hands, whipping them to the head, but Schmeling merely shook his black thatch and came doggedly back for more.

He got it as Baer held him off with a left and chopped his right short to the head. Schmeling leaned back in again, thumping both hands to the body, but Baer reached the Teuton with a long right to the head and a left hook to the body as the bell sounded.

ROUND SIX
Baer danced away, meeting Schmeling's charge with a long left that bounced from the German's eyebrows. Referee Donovan warned Baer for sneaking punches in the clinches. They swapped punches to the head along the ropes and Baer almost drove Schmeling

ROUND SEVEN
Baer stepped in with two long rights high to Schmeling's head but the German ripped back with a pair of rights that stopped the Californian short. Again Referee Donovan caught Baer backhanding and warned him as Schmeling pinned his burly foe against the ropes and smashed his body with both hands. Baer drove a long left and right to Schmeling's body but the steam seemed to be seeping from the Californian's blows. Schmeling crowded inside, drummed both hands to the body and lifted a left hook to the chin. Baer threw both hands half heartedly to the head, lifted a right uppercut to Schmeling's jaw and crossed a fine long right to Schmeling's head but the German fought back solidly as Baer missed another long right to the head. Baer smashed his right to the head as the round ended.

ROUND EIGHT
Baer had slowed down considerably, lost some of his savagery, as he tried to fend the dogged Schmeling off with a long left hand. Baer ripped a looping left to the body and dropped a short hard right on Schmeling's chin but the German slipped in close and tucked his head out of danger on Baer's chest.

Baer took a hard right to the head, drove Schmeling into the ropes swinging both fists to the chin, but took two short right smashes on the chin as they came away. No matter how hard Baer seemed to hit the German, Schmeling came boring back, his hands working busily inside. Baer flailed Schmeling's head with both hands and the crowd boomed as the Californian backhanded again, twisted Schmeling around and banged him from behind with a left as the bell rang.

ROUND NINE
Schmeling's seconds changed his trunks between rounds. The German, apparently as fresh as when he started, though there were swellings around both his eyes, shuffled forward into a right hand smash to the head. Baer drove both hands to the body, then measured the German with a volley of right hand smashes to the head. Schmeling laid back against the ropes, apparently badly hurt as Baer reached him again with another booming right to the jaw, but once more Baer hurt his own game by backhanding as the crowd boomed. Schmeling shook himself and got in close, working both hands to the body, but once more ran into a terrific fusillade of short left and right jolts to the chin. Baer was punching as short as Schmeling usually did, hitting Schmeling almost at will with either hand in a neutral corner. Baer kept slugging after the bell and Schmeling waved protest to the referee as he stumbled a bit going to his corner.

Nova Scotia Rifle Team Successfully Defends Title

HOME RUN STANDING Close Scoring Features Inter-Maritime Meet

(By The Associated Press) Home Runs Yesterday: Foxx, Athletics, 3; Ruth, Yankees, 1; Gehrig, Yankees, 1; Crouch, Browns, 1; Stone, Tigers, 1; Ott, Giants, 1; Terry, Giants, 1; Peel, Giants, 1.
The Leaders: Ruth, Yankees, 12; Foxx, Athletics, 11; Gehrig, Yankees, 11; Berger, Braves, 10; Klep, Phillies, 10; Hartnett, Cubs, 10.
League Totals: American 188; National, 151; total, 337.

ling from the ring with a right high on the temple. The German shook his head and crowded back in, stabbing his left to the head as Baer seemed to loaf along. Again Baer was warned, this time for backhand punching. They stood in a corner and shot short right smashes to the jaw, but Baer still loafed along, letting Schmeling force the fighting and set the pace as the round ended. Referee Donovan's warning automatically gave the round to Schmeling in the scoring.

ROUND SEVEN
Baer stepped in with two long rights high to Schmeling's head but the German ripped back with a pair of rights that stopped the Californian short. Again Referee Donovan caught Baer backhanding and warned him as Schmeling pinned his burly foe against the ropes and smashed his body with both hands. Baer drove a long left and right to Schmeling's body but the steam seemed to be seeping from the Californian's blows. Schmeling crowded inside, drummed both hands to the body and lifted a left hook to the chin. Baer threw both hands half heartedly to the head, lifted a right uppercut to Schmeling's jaw and crossed a fine long right to Schmeling's head but the German fought back solidly as Baer missed another long right to the head. Baer smashed his right to the head as the round ended.

ROUND EIGHT
Baer had slowed down considerably, lost some of his savagery, as he tried to fend the dogged Schmeling off with a long left hand. Baer ripped a looping left to the body and dropped a short hard right on Schmeling's chin but the German slipped in close and tucked his head out of danger on Baer's chest.

Baer took a hard right to the head, drove Schmeling into the ropes swinging both fists to the chin, but took two short right smashes on the chin as they came away. No matter how hard Baer seemed to hit the German, Schmeling came boring back, his hands working busily inside. Baer flailed Schmeling's head with both hands and the crowd boomed as the Californian backhanded again, twisted Schmeling around and banged him from behind with a left as the bell rang.

ROUND NINE
Schmeling's seconds changed his trunks between rounds. The German, apparently as fresh as when he started, though there were swellings around both his eyes, shuffled forward into a right hand smash to the head. Baer drove both hands to the body, then measured the German with a volley of right hand smashes to the head. Schmeling laid back against the ropes, apparently badly hurt as Baer reached him again with another booming right to the jaw, but once more Baer hurt his own game by backhanding as the crowd boomed. Schmeling shook himself and got in close, working both hands to the body, but once more ran into a terrific fusillade of short left and right jolts to the chin. Baer was punching as short as Schmeling usually did, hitting Schmeling almost at will with either hand in a neutral corner. Baer kept slugging after the bell and Schmeling waved protest to the referee as he stumbled a bit going to his corner.

ROUND TEN
Baer tore out savagely in an effort to finish the German, smashing his right three times on Schmeling's head. But the Teuton bobbed low, came up inside and nailed Baer right to the chin that set the Californian's nose bleeding. A volley of right and left smashes stood Schmeling helpless, a right floored Schmeling after a volley had punished him terrifically. Schmeling stumbled to his feet at the count of nine but he was helpless and Baer smashed him with both hands. Referee Donovan stepped in and stopped the fight after one minute and 51 seconds of the 10th round with Schmeling leaning helplessly in a neutral corner.

Jack Dempsey, making his first start as a promoter here, estimated receipts above $250,000.

Close Scoring Features Inter-Maritime Meet

Three Teams Surpass Former Record Score. Sgt. Allan McCabe Makes High Individual Score.

Each aggregating higher totals than any Maritime team had previously scored in competition, teams from Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick met yesterday at the Kensington Range in the annual Inter-Maritime Rifle Shoot. Nova Scotia, winning with a total of 786 points, retained possession of the trophy for the third consecutive year. The Prince Edward Island team, however, came a close second with 784 points and the New Brunswick team third with 783 points in a spectacular and dramatic finish to a brilliant match. The former record was 781 points.

The match was fired under fairly difficult conditions, due to the cold and to the changes of light and wind.

On the completion of the 200 yard range, Prince Edward Island had scored 263 out of a possible 280, New Brunswick 257, and Nova Scotia 256. The score of Prince Edward Island is said to be a new record in Inter-Maritime shooting for the 200 yds.

Starting the 500 yards, with a lead of six points on New Brunswick and seven points on Nova Scotia, the first pair for Prince Edward Island finished six points behind Nova Scotia and five points behind New Brunswick, still leaving the Island team one point to the good. New Brunswick continued to gain with the result that when shooting at 600 yards was completed New Brunswick had a lead of five points and Nova Scotia of one point over the Island team.

The first three pairs for Prince Edward Island shooting at 600 yards overcame this lead, and when the final pair went on the range, Nova Scotia had 718 points, Prince Edward Island 718, and New Brunswick 716. The finish was dramatic. The pair from Nova Scotia did remarkable shooting, and finished with 68 out of a possible 70 to give the Blues a new Inter-Maritime record of 786 points, bettering the former record of 781 points set at Sussex last year by the same team. P. E. I. finished with 784 points, three points above last year's record, while New Brunswick was close behind with 783.

To the home team goes the honour of having the highest individual score, 103 points out of a possible 105, scored by Sgt. Allan McCabe. This score equals the Inter-Maritime record made by Sgt. Eisner of N. S. a few years ago.

Considering the weather conditions, the team aggregates, and many of the individual scores were really remarkable. The competition all through was featured by dramatic situations, and the result was uncertain until the last shot was fired; had the Nova Scotia marksman, Captain Foster, made a magpie instead of a bull's eye when he fired his final shot the trophy would have gone to Prince Edward Island.

Following is a classified summary of the scores of each team:
Nova Scotia
200 500 600 ttl. yards
S.M. N. Crawford . 33 34 33 100

ROUND TEN
Baer tore out savagely in an effort to finish the German, smashing his right three times on Schmeling's head. But the Teuton bobbed low, came up inside and nailed Baer right to the chin that set the Californian's nose bleeding. A volley of right and left smashes stood Schmeling helpless, a right floored Schmeling after a volley had punished him terrifically. Schmeling stumbled to his feet at the count of nine but he was helpless and Baer smashed him with both hands. Referee Donovan stepped in and stopped the fight after one minute and 51 seconds of the 10th round with Schmeling leaning helplessly in a neutral corner.

Jack Dempsey, making his first start as a promoter here, estimated receipts above $250,000.

RIFLEMEN ENTERTAINED AT ARMORIES

The visiting rifle teams from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick were entertained by the P. R. A. at the armories last evening after the Inter-Maritime Shoot. Col. H. M. Davison, President of the P. R. A. was in the chair. Speeches were made by Hon. Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, Acting Premier; Col. W. Chester S. McLure, M.P.; His Worship Mayor Stewart, visiting riflemen and others. Musical numbers rendered by the Orpheus Eight were greatly appreciated. Refreshments were served and the evening was heartily enjoyed by all present.

Col. H. M. Davison remarked that the Inter-Maritime shoot came to Charlottetown every three years. Rifle shooting was the greatest sport in the world, as it taught men to be good losers, he said. The former record was beaten this year by all three teams, an indication that rifle shooting was improving, and should be encouraged. The teams had been selected as a result of previous matches, in which aggregate scores counted. It was a credit to the Maritime Provinces that they had sent three such teams into competition.

Hon. Dr. W. J. P. MacMillan, Acting Premier, remarked that the function was the first he had attended in the Drill Hall and stated that he appreciated the compliment of being invited to be present. He extended the welcome of the Province to the visitors, and expressed the belief that the inter-provincial shoots were valuable, as they promoted the mutual good feeling among the people of the three provinces. It was co-operation alone which would enable the people of the Maritimes to attain their rights. It was pleasing to note that the teams had broken all previous records, and the speaker hoped that the visitors would have a good time as they were being provided for by a capable committee under the direction of Colonel Davison, who was an expert in hospitality.

His Worship Mayor Stewart expressed his delight on being present among men, many of whom had been defenders of the country. Maritimers always felt at home in each other's provinces, and there was some mysterious influence which made them keep close together. Maritimers were an emigrating people who always made their mark wherever they went.

Seventy-two years ago when Maritime teams competed in a shoot at Sussex, competing at that time were Major Pollock, Major Morris, Lt. John McPhail, Pte. Sir Louis Davis, Senator Donald Ferguson, Adjutant General P. D. Stewart. The Island team won the urn. The victor at Sussex was Patrick Hickey, of Ireland. Next year a cup was won at Truro, also by the Island team. It would be interesting to trace out the history of these trophies, the speaker suggested.

Col. W. Chester S. McLure, M.P., stated that any meeting presided over by Col. Davison would be a meeting of welcome. As a private citizen, he added a word of welcome. The Island riflemen had made every preparation for the visitors. The cold had prevented many of the citizens from watching the match. Congratulations were extended to the teams on the fine scores which had been made. The Maritimes had always been noted in the realm of sports in every branch.

Major Gilford, Captain of the Nova Scotia team stated that never before had such a rifle match been seen in the Maritime Provinces. His team had not expected to win, he stated.

Col. Davison remarked that as the Nova Scotia team had won the cup on three successive occasions it was theirs permanently.

Col. MacKinnon, Captain of the Prince Edward Island team, stated that the Inter-Maritime Shoot was familiar to him as he had first shot on a Maritime team in 1908. Major McGowan and the speaker had been on the 1907 All-Canada team. In the present shoot all three teams had shared the honours. Prince Edward Island had led in the 200 yds., New Brunswick in the 500 yds., and Nova Scotia had won the match.

Major J. T. MacGowan, Captain

Y. BOWLING
CHURCH LEAGUE UNITED
F. B. Conrad 254 244 161
L. Howatt 94 187 170
P. W. Turner 204 209 256
J. L. Douglas 125 159 139
Dr. D. T. Wayne 175 184 180
Total 852 983 826

BOXING
22 rounds of boxing at BORDEN RINK
Friday night, June 16th.
Main Bout
Gus Longaphie of Charlottetown vs. Jack Johnson, Morell
10 rounds
Wednesday, June 14
RACING
Willowdale Track
CAPE TRVERSE
Three Classes
A, B, and C
And Farmers slow race also bicycle race and 1-4 mile running race.
Admission 25 cents
(Entries to be handed to Dr. E. Bell on or before June 14)

Stewarts 18 Holy Name 8

In the opening of the Softball League for the Pickard Trophy, Stewart's Bakery defeated the Holy Name Club by a 18 to 8 score.

In the first innings the Holy Name team found Carmichael for several safe hits sending around five men, but the bakery boys steadied down and headed the way the remainder of the game. Carmichael made the only home run of the game.

Lineups:—
STEWART'S HOLY NAME
Catcher Lawlor
Currie Pitcher
Carmichael McCallister
1st Base Mullins
G. Whitlock
2nd Base Harley
Murley
3rd Base P. McQuaid
Whalen S. Stop
Cairns J. McQuaid
G. Stewart S. Stop
F. Lappin
MacLellan Paquet
T. Whitlock McCloskey
Umpire, McIsaac.

TEN YEAR RAILWAY PROGRAM
BUENOS AIRES, June 8.—(C.P.) Plans to construct a network of some 31,000 miles of trunk and branch highways throughout Argentina have been agreed to by the National Roads Board and the Department of Public Works. The program will take 10 years to complete. Preliminary expenditures total $5,500,000.

of the New Brunswick team, expressed the pleasure of the team on being present, and thanked the hosts for their hospitality. Some years ago he had been associated with Col. MacKinnon under Col. Leigh on the artillery team, which had defeated the English team, he stated, and expressed the hope that the historic military trophies might be traced. The match was a great incentive to the riflemen to get out early in the season and to practice for the competition.

Colonel Leigh, Secretary of the P. R. A. expressed regret that the medallions had not as yet been received, and hence could not be presented to the winners until later.

Councillor Holman expressed his pleasure on being present, and congratulated the winners and also the losing teams. He also expressed appreciation of the music rendered by the Orpheus Eight. He hoped that His Worship's suggestion as regards the trophies would be acted upon.

Councillor Reardon also offered his congratulations to the teams. Councillor Day added his word of welcome to the visitors and congratulations to the teams.

Col. Colwell, Chairman of the Nova Scotia Rifle Association, thought that the donors of the Inter-Maritime trophy must have been great sportsmen.

His Worship Mayor Stewart led the company in three cheers for the visiting teams.

BASEBALL RESULTS

NATIONAL LEAGUE
R. H. E
Cincinnati 8 10 2
Pittsburgh 2 8 5
Rixey and Lombardi; French, McIne, Hoyt and Padden, Grace.

Chicago 1 3 0
St. Louis 2 6 0
Warneke and Hartnett; Dean and Wilson.
Philadelphia 6 9 0
New York 7 8 3
Hansen, Collins and Liska; Parmelee, Bell, Hubbell and Mancuso.

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE
R. H. E
Montreal 4 7 1
Jersey City 6 7 1
Dietrich, Fisher, Smith and Tate; Casarella and Rensa.
Toronto 6 5 0
Albany 3 8 1
Birkoff and Heving; Coleman, Porter and Leggett.

Buffalo 6 10 3
Newark 0 8 0
Fussell and Danning; Chandler, Duke and Kies.
Rochester 7 14 4
Baltimore 5 9 1
Ostermuller and Hinkle, Florence; Cunningham, Cantrell and Sprinz.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
R. H. E
New York 10 13 1
Philadelphia 14 19 0
Gomez, Moore and Dickey; Frietas, Mahaffey, Coombs and Cochran.

First game:
Washington 3 9 1
Boston 4 8 1
Thomas and Sewell; Brown, Kline and Ferrell.
Second game:
Washington 12 17 6
Boston 3 11 6
Russell and Berg; Sewell, Welch, Kline, Andrews and Ferrell.

St. Louis 5 10 1
Cleveland 3 8 1
Wells and Crouch; Brown, Connelly and Pytlak.
Detroit 3 10 2
Chicago 2 8 1
(11 innings).

Heving, Fischer, Hogsett and DeSautels; Jones and Grube.
AMERICAN ASSOCIATION
Milwaukee 3; at Louisville 4.
First game: St. Paul 2; at Columbus 3.
Second game: St. Paul 5; at Columbus 3.
First game: Minneapolis 13; at Toledo 6.
Second game: Minneapolis 7; at Toledo 10.

"What are the silent watches of the night?" asked the teacher. "Please, miss," said the bright boy of the class, "that their owners forget to wind up!"

PENMANS

HALF-HOSE for MEN

Tennis Players Attention!

LOW RATES ON RACKET STRINGING

Superior Quality Oriental Gut $2.25
Lamb Gut 3.50
Medium Grade English Gut 4.50
Better Grade English Gut 6.00

Your Rackets returned POSTPAID, the following day. Rackets can be left at our Charlottetown Store, or mailed direct to Holman's Sport Goods Dept., Summerside. Good Work — Prompt Service.

HOLMAN'S