Rev. H. D. Raymond, Rector of St. Paul's, preached a powerful and most inspiring sermon for the occasion on the subject, "Liberty," basing his remarks on Gal. 5:1: "Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ has made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage."

The Grand Master, Mr. Vernier Moore, was unable to be present, as he has not yet returned from the meeting of the Grand Lodge of British America at Winnipeg.

Holstein Field Day At Victoria

The third annual Holstein field day and the first field day of the year was held last week on the farm of Hon. W. M. Lea, Victoria. It was one of the most successful gatherings of the kind which has taken place and upwards of 300 people were in attendance.

Granville Buntain, President of the Prince Edward Island Holstein Breeders' Association, presided and gave a brief opening address. Hon. W. M. Lea then welcomed the visitors, and addresses were given by W. R. Shaw, Hon. Thomas MacNutt, Dr. J. A. Clark, Bert R. Brown, J. H. Myers, M. P., Hon. G. E. Sharp, Horace Wright and Alan Stewart of Strathgairney. After luncheon the large audience gathered in the orchard where a judging demonstration was given by about 50 boys and girls on two classes of cattle, the mature cows, and the two years old. Mr. W. R. Shaw, Livy Stock Superintendent, and Mr. L. W. Roper, Federal Dairy Promoter, giving the reasons and making the correct placings. Considerable discussion took place between the older breeders and the different field men.

Later all assembled in the field opposite Mr. Lea's residence, where a most enjoyable program of sports was put on for the boys and girls.

Vice-Regal Party In Halifax

(Canadian Press) HALIFAX, July 9—Canada's Vice-Regal couple worshipped today in the oldest Anglican Church in Canada—old St. Paul's Church that was once used by the English garrison holding Halifax.

Lord Bessborough, with the Countess Bessborough, occupied the traditional Governor's pew. His Excellency read the lesson, while service was conducted by Rev. Dr. T. M. Savary, rector.

The Governor-General's attendance at church followed upon the arrival of his party this morning from Lunenburg, which he had visited Saturday. On the arrival of his special train, he inspected a detachment of war veterans drawn up at the station and shook hands with several hundred persons.

Following church service, the party were guests of Lieutenant-Governor W. H. Covert at Government House. Later they visited Mt. St. Vincent Academy and attended a tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hector McPinnis.

LAI D TO REST—The funeral of the late Mr. John T. Garrett, a highly esteemed citizen of Souris and postmaster there for the past twenty years, took place on Saturday from the home of the deceased, Rev. J. G. Hookin officiated. There was a large attendance, the pall bearers being Judge Fraser, Messrs. A. F. McQuaid, K. C., J. F. Sterns, E. C. Cox, Ernest Dingwell, Max Modore. A sad coincidence in connection with the event was that the deceased's brother, Mr. Joshua Garrett, died suddenly at Strathcona while preparing to attend the funeral.

PERSONALS

The many friends of Mr. James Egan, Royalist are sorry to learn that he is in the Prince Edward Island Hospital undergoing treatment for blood poisoning.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McQuillan and daughter, Charlotte accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Driscoll left Saturday morning on return to New York after having visited Mrs. MacQuillan's mother, Mrs. Harriet Creighan, City.

Mr. James O. Brodie left Saturday morning en route to Philadelphia. While there he will attend the eighty-ninth annual session of the National Division of the Sons of Temperance of North America.

Major C. C. Thompson, M.C., V.D., of the Soldiers Pensions Tribunal, arrived from Ottawa Saturday and is now in camp with his unit, the Prince Edward Island Highlanders, at Brighton Road. After the militia training Major Thompson will spend the remainder of his holidays with his family at Keppoch.

LIBRARY LECTURE IN COLLEGE HALL

The illustrated lantern lecture on "Egypt and its Papyrus," which will be given tonight in the Auditorium of Prince of Wales College by Dr. G. R. Lower, of the Library Institute, opens the second week of free public lectures being held during the month of July.

Dr. Lomer will show a fine series of slides illustrating the tombs and temples of ancient Egypt, and will describe the old Egyptian method of making papyrus, which was used in Europe, as well, before the Arabs introduced paper-making, the secret of which they learned from the Chinese.

A feature of this week's lectures will be the exhibition of original samples of papyrus and other early writing materials especially brought from the Library Museum at McGill University. These will be shown and the material will be changed each evening.

Trials Adjourned

(Canadian Press)

KINGSTON, Ont., July 9—Long-extended trials of convicts accused of rioting and doing damage to prison property during the demonstration last October all had been adjourned today until July 18. On that date trial of several will be resumed while others already convicted on the charges will receive their sentence.

Convict William Jolliffe was acquitted Saturday by Judge G. E. Deroche of rioting and assaulting a guard, when Crown prosecutor T. J. Rigney, K.C., announced there was insufficient evidence.

WHEAT PRICES SOAR ON 'PEG EXCHANGE'

Prospects Of Damage To Wheat Crop Is Cause Of Rise.

(Canadian Press)

WINNIPEG, July 9—Borne upwards on the crest of a wave of speculative buying, based, this time, on prospects of crop-damage to Western Canada growing grain, wheat futures prices mounted as much as two cents on the short Saturday session of the Winnipeg Grain Market.

Forging ahead from the start, and seldom showing reactionary tendencies, values at the finish were at or near the session's highest levels, 1 7-8 to two cents above Friday's close, July option at 82 1-8, October 84 7-8-85, December 86 1-2-5-8 and May 90 3-4 cents.

With a weather forecast decidedly warm weather and only scattered thunderstorms over the west for the week-end, speculators were quick to enter the market. They foresaw heavy damage to the young wheat and, aided by renewed upswings in pound sterling on currency exchanges, purchased freely. The usual entrance of profit-takers went almost unnoted.

Chicago values, too, turned higher, taking their leadership from the local trend. Bullish enthusiasm in the southern market, which had cooled down slightly, broke out anew Saturday, and broad advances also were scored there. Disappointing export business failed to dampen local bullish enthusiasm.

Cash grains, affected by lack of foreign demand for Canada's wheat piled throughout the session. Little demand was shown and spreads closed unchanged. Coarse grains scored advances in sympathy with wheat futures, with rye providing the feature in that market.

BALANCED BUDGET

Meanwhile Lucien Lamoureux, Budget Minister, announced in a speech that measures would be sought to salvage France's trade from the threat of the cheapened pound and United States dollar.

M. Delandier, speaking at Apt, said the Government was convinced that stability of money is necessary to control of production as a means of economic betterment, adding that it "wishes neither a closed door policy nor one of self-sufficiency."

"Determined to defend France and let nothing harm the national money," the Premier declared, "we will recall parliament beginning in October and invite it to crown the work necessary to public safety by a final straightening out of our finances."

Reviewing the Government's accomplishments of the past five months, the Premier said the country's financial condition was improving and that the treasury would repay half the recent British loan by the end of this month.

He reiterated his position on disarmament and other international questions and said France intends to pursue cordial conversations with Italy, "from which country we have been separated by misunderstandings too long," and to "work to tighten the equally cherished bonds with the United States."

Lamoureux, who spoke at Saint-Fourcan Sur Sioule, said the deadlock in the World Economic Conference makes a drastic effort to balance the budget imperative for defense of the stability of the franc.

For that reason, he continued, the Government will introduce a special finance bill in October based partly on the effect of the United States dollar's fluctuations on French economy.

Resolutions

The report of the resolutions committee was received. A resolution was unanimously adopted regarding the manner of answering and revising questionnaires.

The meeting also passed a vote of sympathy to Primier J. D. Stewart in his illness.

Another resolution advocated the assisting of the Government in the preservation of road signs.

A resolution was adopted regarding the holding of a short course in home economics in Alberton.

Resolutions were passed advocating the setting aside in districts of inconspicuous dumping grounds for garbage and refuse, and asking the Department of Education to take steps to reduce the price of school books as low as possible.

Another resolution provided for the changing of executive members every two years with the exception of two members.

The following resolution was also passed:

Whereas we as delegates desire to express our sincere appreciation to the following: His Honour Lieut.-Gov. and Mrs. Dalton, Hon. W. J. P. MacMillan, Lt. Col. Bovey, Hon. Thos. MacNutt, Minister of Agriculture, Judge Stewart, Mayor of Charlottetown, Miss Etta Ross, Miss Nora Bateson, Mrs. Lea Calbeck and the retiring officers for their entertainment and instruction. Therefore be it resolved that the members in convention extend our sincere thanks to all who have made this convention such a success.

Be it further resolved that the thanks of this convention be extended to Mr. A. E. Toombs for the use of the piano so kindly loaned for this occasion.

Hon. Thomas MacNutt, Minister of Agriculture, was followed by the delegates with close attention in his brief and practical address. He made complimentary reference to the remarkable work done by the women of the Province through their Institutes, and spoke of the value of these organizations to the communities in an agricultural province.

Public Health

The report on Public Health was submitted by Mrs. Jerome Macdonald, who stated that greater interest is being taken in the promotion and support of the work of disease prevention. Almost without exception the Institutes report continued effort to supply the needs of the school children and to keep their buildings well equipped and as sanitary as possible. The Department of Health states that in the country schools over one-half of the children had not been vaccinated and that a great number of the children had received only two inoculations against diphtheria instead of the required three. This means that those children are still unprotected from diphtheria. Contributions from Institutes towards the Sanatorium have shown a considerable falling off, the total amount being only $465.52. More interest had been shown in providing recreations for the young people.

League of Nations

Mrs. John D. Crockett, in submitting the report on the League of Nations stated that much has been accomplished during the year to create an interest in the League of Nations' attempt to restore and secure world peace. Answers to questionnaires have come in, books and papers have been read and discussed, and prizes have been awarded to the schools for the best essay on world peace. Fifty branches have retained the list of papers found on the questionnaire. The report said the time is ideal for the carrying on of quiet programs, of intensive study and unobtrusive though effective efforts of service.

Canadianization and National Service

Mrs. Harrison D. MacFarlane in the course of her report on Canadianization and National Service stated that many Institutes have had papers on Canadian subjects both by members and others at their meetings. These included "My Country", "My District Homes", "Wheat Growing in Peace River", "Let Us Be Thankful", "The League of Nations", "What Do Canadian Women Lack?" Some of the Institutes have studied the early history of their districts. Some use anecdotes of pioneer life, etc., for answers to roll call, and many have written stories of their districts and are preserving old landmarks. Nearly all the Institutes have donated Canadian books to the schools. Practically all the schools have flags and flag poles. While many of the schools have libraries, some of them donated by the Women's Institute, very few of the Institutes have libraries of their own.

Canadian Industries

The following report was presented by Mrs. George MacKay on Canadian Industries.

Madam, President, Institute Members and Friends,

Again I present my report on Canadian Industries for your consideration, at present this is, or should be, a very vital subject to all loyal Canadians, when we consider the important conferences and trade meetings that have been held during the past year, and are in session now, in relation to this topic.

The old law "No man liveth unto himself" may well be applied to nations also, for the greatest statesmen and financiers today are exploring the high trade barriers which are one of the chief causes of the stagnation of industry and of our present economic depression.

But are we as members of our P. E. I. W. I. and patriotic citizens trying to do our part to build up our country's trade and industries? I'm afraid not. Out of about 250 questionnaires sent out, only 85 were returned. But I am encouraged as that is 20 more than last year or an increase of 8 pc.

I find in looking over and studying the replies that the majority favor Island and Canadian products, such as, canned goods, flours, fish and meats, butter and cheese, biscuits, candies, fruits and oranges and lemons, pickles, jams, baking powders, soaps, brooms, matches, cooking utensils, boots and shoes, machinery, liniments, etc. Only a few encourage our Canadian Industries through the schools, school fairs, conventions and exhibitions. At least one District Convention put on a Maritime Tea, which was very highly patronized. A few answered the roll call at one or more of their regular meetings by naming a place on the Island and something manufactured there, or by Island manufacturers that have been patronized. On 40 pc of the questionnaires returned in the members of Institutes expressed a willingness to buy Empire goods. A number buy what the merchants offer regardless of place of manufacture. Would it not be admirable for the Institutes to devote one meeting a year to this subject? program would be furnished by your Convenor, or plan your own program. Time might be devoted to consideration of industries in your own district, and how as an Institute you may assist them. Keep asking your merchants for P. E. I. Canada or Empire products, encourage patriotism among the younger generation by giving prizes at school fairs, contests and essay work on P. E. I. or Canadian industries. Talk Canadian products and boost your Empire.

A few extracts from a paper prepared by Miss M. V. Powell, Convenor of Canadian Industries for the Federal Women's Institutes may be of interest to you. She says: Many things because of convenience because of cheapness or amplitude of supply will always find their way back and forward among nations, though we may have an extremely natural tendency to keep as much as possible within the Empire. Certainly no attempt is being made to upset economic laws. One of the best contributions to the system of wealth and education development in Canada has been made by Rev. C. E. Saunders, who pushed the wheat growing boundaries one hundred miles north and reduced the danger of frost to the wheat crop by a period of at least two weeks through his development of Marquis wheat. Out of wheat is made flour, the production of flour of course gives additional employment to capital, machinery and other manufacturers' commodities and men, and finds the recompense in its selling price for thus advancing wheat to the stage where it provides human food in many forms.

Wherever flour is produced, there is also produced bran, middlings and lower grade flours that are of great value as supplementary and winter feeding of beef and milch cattle and live stock of many sorts. When these by products are present in abundance and farmers utilize them for stock feeding, it provides additional revenue to the farmer, provides work for abattoirs, greater supplies of finished food stuff for the human race at home and abroad, hides, tallow and many other useful substances for other trades and incidentally provides a farmer with the fertilizing elements so necessary to maintain the fertility of the land for the growing of wheat again. In shipping wheat in excess of flour Canada is simply earning the benefit that flows from the setting up of a whole new never ending circle of production and this is only an example of what can be done with other raw materials produced in Canada too numerous to be mentioned here.

As to the quality of Canadian goods there can be no doubt. One commercial organization employing 40,000 people, with ramifications throughout the country, states that 80 pc. of their annual turnover is of Canadian goods, not purchased from necessity but from choice. A great shipping organization recognized as one of the most efficient and most economically managed in the world, has very definite policy, arrived at after mature deliberation of purchasing only Canadian goods, when and where it is possible to obtain them, and millions of good staunch Canadians are readily following that lead.

If the goods we grow, mine, or make in Canada cannot be sold to the people of Canada principally and other countries as well, we shall not be able to make a living here. If we do not buy the things that are made in our Empire, it will reduce their production at home. If we went to P. E. Island to prosper, we should buy all we can from her producers. If we buy from them, they will buy from us and thus create business and prosperity. In conclusion I would urge one and all of you to go back to your respective Institutes resolved to boost P. E. I. Canadian or British Empire Industries and thus improve the welfare of our people.

confined to religious activities. The initialing took place Saturday at the Vatican State Department in the presence of prelates and members of the German delegation. Immediately thereafter Herr Von Papen telephoned Chancellor Hitler, who expressed his satisfaction with the agreement. Von Papen then told newspapermen: "It is the first time that the Reich has concluded a treaty with the Holy See. Up to now the German states have concluded concordats singly.

IN MEMORIAM

LATE MRS. (SENATOR) MACLEAN

It is with deep regret we record the death on Friday at her residence in Souris of Mrs. John MacLean, wife of Senator MacLean. For sometime recently Mrs. MacLean had been in feeble health, but otherwise she had been unusually strong and vigorous for her eighty-eight years. Mrs. MacLean was formerly Matilda Jury, daughter of Mr. John Jury, Jeweller, Charlottetown, and in early life married Mr. MacLean, Charlottetown, who later settled in Souris where he established his extensive business.

Mrs. MacLean was of a retiring disposition but enjoyed a large and influential circle of friends both here and in Ottawa where she resided during the sessions of Parliament. Left to mourn their loss is the Senator and two sons, Hon. Harry D. MacLean, M. L. A., and Mr. Roy C. MacLean and a number of grandchildren. She was predeceased by her two daughters, Winnifred, drowned at Mt. Stewart as a child of ten, and Rena Maude, Nursing Sister, who was drowned in the S. S. Landover Castle, sunk by a German torpedo.

The funeral, which took place yesterday afternoon from the home to the Souris West Cemetery, was very largely attended. Rev. J. S. Hockin officiated.

The pallbearers were: Messrs. Francis Conroy, Edison L. Stewart, Roy W. Crockett, Greeley Lewis, John P. McDonald, John Jennings, all employees of the firm of Matthew and MacLean.

The mourners were Senator MacLean and sons, Harry D. and Roy C., two grandsons, John and Gordon; two nephews J. F. Sterns, and Neil D. MacLean; also Hon. J. A. MacDonald, M. P., Mr. W. Chester S. McLure, M. P., Hon. W. J. P. MacMillan, Hon. G. Shelton Sharp, Mr. Justice Arsenault, Hon. H. F. McPhee, Hon. F. R. Hertz, Mr. D. F. Bethune, M. L. A., Dr. Houston, Mr. Brenton Matthews, Mr. George Gardiner.

A very large number of floral tributes were received, also messages of condolence from all parts of Canada.

-PAIR OF LOVE BIRDS AT BEDEQUE—Recently a lady in Charlottetown claimed to have the only pair of love birds on the Island. Mrs. W. T. Bowness of Bedeque informs the Guardian that the craft had come down near Rockland, Me., because of the fog. The office of the station said the communication was had but that they were certain they were "talking to" the Lindbergh plane. Apprised of the fact that the plane was not reported at Rockland, the station said it was possible the craft came down on the water inasmuch as it was equipped with pontoons and had reported landing "near" Rockland.

The station said the plane reported that all was well and that a landing was made merely on account of the fog. The station here was in no further contact with the plane.

The station said the message requested that the Pan-American Airways be notified of the location of the plane. The operator said that the message was hazy in one spot where, apparently, the sender was attempting to more specifically identify the place of landing. Failing to do this the words "near Rockland" were sent.

Earlier reports that the plane had been seen flying over Lowell were verified in the message which said the plane passed west of Lowell at 4:17 (E.S.T.).

(Canadian Press)

NEW YORK, July 9—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh set out today in their trim red monoplane on a flight along the northern rim of the Atlantic Ocean to determine the feasibility of a regular air route to Europe.

They took off at 2:45 p. m. (E. S. T.) for Halifax, N. S., the first scheduled stop on a trip which will take the famous flying couple across Newfoundland, Greenland, and possibly Iceland.

Only a handful of mechanics was at the aircraft plant at College Point, Queens, to see the Lindberghs load baggage and equipment in the low winged plane which two years ago carried them on a prolonged journey to the Orient.

But at the North Beach Airport, to which the craft was taxied, a crowd estimated at 5,000 had gathered to cheer the Colonel and his wife, the former Anne Morrow, who will be the radio operator, photographer, and relief pilot.

Mrs. Lindbergh wore khaki riding breeches, a khaki shirt open at the throat, and a leather helmet, while her bareheaded husband was attired in a gray suit. As he climbed into the plane he removed his coat, pausing only long enough to tell newspapermen he did not plan to extend the flight to Denmark.

In 20 seconds after the propellers whirled, the craft was in the air. It circled the field once and then headed northeast along the Long Island coast.

Colonel Lindbergh announced no definite itinerary for the journey, preferring to fit his schedule to any circumstances that might arise after reaching the north. The Danish steamer Jellinge, which left Philadelphia June 28, will be the base of the Pan American Airways expedition. Lindbergh is technical adviser for this air line.

LINDBERGH'S

They apparently made fast their pontoon-equipped ship in a cove near Rockland for the night. As on their flight over northwestern Canada to the Orient in 1931, they carried sleeping bags for use in such contingencies.

This was considered probable because late in the evening they had not been reported at the summer home of Mrs. Dwight Morrow, Mrs. Lindbergh's mother, which is at North Haven, across in Penobscot
