THE very sudden and sad death of Jennie, beloved daughter of J. L. and Mrs. Dyer, occurred at Alberton on Thursday at the youthful age of 23 years, of appendicitis. Just a few weeks ago she was spending a vacation at Killdare Cape with her parents and was brought home ill and her death in so brief a time is indeed a blow to the family. Jennie was a loving child and her kindly disposition won her many companions. The sympathy of all goes out to the bereaved on this sorrowful occasion.

THE funeral of the late Peter Stavert of Wilmot, took place on Friday, and was largely attended, there being about 75 carriages in the procession. The services were conducted by the Rev. R. G. Strathie assisted by Rev. M. J. McPherson, and F. J. McArthur. The pallbearers were five brothers, Walter of Kelvin Grove; James of North Bedouque; Robert of Summerside; Thomas of Wilmot; George of Summerside; and John Walker of Freeport. Owing to the illness of deceased's brother William the latter was prevented from acting as a pallbearer.

THE Presbyterian Guild is to be congratulated for the excellent scotch entertainment given under its auspices in the Market Hall, Friday evening, by the Misses Crawford and Hyde. The hall was well filled by a thoroughly appreciative and sympathetic audience who listened with the closest attention and interest through the varied and well rendered program. Much had been expected of these noted entertainers and the generous applause and the frequent recalls showed that no one was disappointed. Miss Crawford possesses a clear, rich, musical contralto voice and in her rendition of "Lochnagar, Wi a hundred Pipers, Lockdown, Rule Britannia and other Scotch gems proved her mastery of the Scottish dialect, as well as her clear appreciation of the spirit of her songs. Miss Crawford is without exception the strongest impersonator that has visited Summerside for many years. The audience saw the ghosts and heard the eddich sereoches in the Aud haunted Kirk, as she recited Burns' inimitable "Tam-O'-Shanter" and the eclipse concert company the various characters of which she imitated with wonderful skill and realism and also in the ghost story she proved that was, thorough mistress of all the acts of the well trained elocutionist. Professor Whitney accompanied Miss Crawford on the piano and also rendered a number of excellent selections during the evening. Altogether the entertainment was a grand success and those present enjoyed one of the rare treats of a life time.
