S'side Man Is Awarded D.F.C.

Another Summerside man has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for gallantry in action. He is Flying Officer Donald McLean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. McLean, Central Street.

Flying Officer McLean has been home from overseas since February and he is now discharged from the Air Force but his award has only just come through. After joining the R.C.A.F. in November of 1941 he received his pilot's wings and sergeant's stripes at Dunnville, Ont., in October, 1943. He was then sent overseas and did a tour of operations with Bomber Command flying in an R.A.F. squadron. He was commissioned in September of 1944.

F.O. McLean took part in army cooperation during the invasion of France in June, 1944 and his squadron supported the Canadian Corps in the fighting around Caen and Falaise. He speaks very highly of the English people and he was very happy serving in the R. A.F. F.O. McLean attended Summerside High School and previous to his family moving to Summerside he attended school at Lot 16. Due to the fact that his award has only been announced he has not yet received the citation which accompanies it.—S

Many Shocked To Learn Of Death Of Miss Viola Todd

A large circle of friends in Summerside were shocked to learn of the sudden death in the Prince County Hospital yesterday of Miss Viola Todd after a brief illness. The deceased was one of Summerside's most popular ladies and was for some years an employee of Steadman's where she held a responsible position.

She was born at Elmsdale and came to Summerside with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. John Todd, as a child.

She leaves to mourn one brother, James at home, to whom deep sympathy is extended in the great loss he has suffered.

The funeral arrangements were not completed last night and will be announced later.—S.

Dr. Murchison's Address

Dr. A. J. Murchison, who delivered the address to the graduates, recalled the fine record of the alumnae of the Hospital, twenty-six of whose members have served in the theatres of war, where they have won distinction and honour.

He emphasized that though the struggle against Germany has been won and that against Japan is proceeding favorably, war, and the aftermath of war, will still tax the facilities of the nursing profession. There are also at all times the deadly forces of disease, requiring specialized battalions of fighters.

Under the impact of war and social changes, he said, a more effective organization of all medical and nursing agencies is coming. The medical and nursing professions themselves may in some degree guide such a new order.

The quality of nursing and medicine, he said, depends not on organization but on its standard, its sense of value, its spiritual outlook, its broad point of view, based on education. If these are of the best it is much less important what social form these professions will take, for they will then be assured of the abiding faith of the public.

Dr. Murchison foresaw in the social security program "new horizons opening for the nursing profession." There will, he said, be an ever-increasing demand for specialists in psychiatric nursing, orthopedics, obstetrics, industry, public health, in tuberculosis and venereal disease, also in administrative and teaching capacities.

The mental health of the nurse, Dr. Murchison pointed out, is often an important factor in the recovery of the patient. He went on to deal with some of the problems facing the nursing profession, offering helpful advice and emphasizing particularly the importance of developing self control, self decision, initiative and resourcefulness.

After vocal duets by the Misses Margaret Sterns and Pearle Burns and a solo by Harry Bugden, RC NVR, the Florence Nightingale pledge to the nurses was given by the Rev. T. E. MacLennan. A piano solo by Miss Louise Cox and another solo by Harry Bugden were well received, as were two more solos by Miss Pearle Burns. The accompanist for all musical selections was Mrs. G. Elliott Full.

The valediction was ably and impressively delivered by Miss Louise Hewitt.

The National Anthem brought the exercises to a close.

DRILLING RESUMED — Oilmen at an exploratory well in Hillsboro Bay continue "definitely hopeful" as they extend their search below the two-mile level. Yesterday the drill was 12,500 feet below the surface as operations were resumed after a brief tie-up. Recently the drill stuck when it broke through a hard layer of rock into a softer formation. The drilling was "difficult in spots" a spokesman for the company said but operations were "going according to plan."

GETTING RID OF CONTROLS— The lifting of restrictions on the manufacture of a wide range of household appliances and other goods has been announced by the Prices Board. Washing machines, vacuum cleaners, sewing machines, and bicycles are among the main items affected. The announcement warned, however, that consumers should not expect a supply of the items affected to be available for purchase immediately. Price control still remains in force and in general the articles to be manufactured will appear on the market at 1941 prices. Manufacturers making goods not identical with basic period manufacture must obtain price approvals before marketing their products. Orders which have been revoked restricted the manufacture of bicycles with sales limited to customers with priority permits, limited the manufacture of domestic washing machines, ironers and domestic vacuum cleaners, banned the production of sewing machines and parts, restricted the manufacture and sale of office safes and similar equipment. Restrictions on the manufacture of commercial refrigerating and air conditioning equipment and the manufacture of commercial laundry and dry cleaning equipment are also removed

In his able and scholarly address to the graduates, the Right Rev. J.A. Murphy of Kinkora began by emphasizing the nobility of the nursing profession and the devotedness and self-sacrifice which had won for it the respect and admiration of all civilized peoples.

The work of the nurse, Monsignor Murphy said, was on the border line where the material and the spiritual meet. He cautioned against the assumption by any graduating nurse that her nursing education had been completed and exhorted the class before him to keep abreast with the discoveries of medical science as they occur. Specialization in any field of science requires aptitude for the special branch chosen. Monsignor Murphy said, but if the nurse felt a desire for such specialized training, he recommended she take up the study of the special branch she felt the preference for.

Monsignor Murphy said the administering to the spiritual as well as the physical needs of the patient was the duty of a Christian nurse. It was a high ideal, but her profession was one of the highest careers open to women living in the world. He urged them to hold to their ideals and not to barter the highest for anything less excellent.

"You might be tempted," Monsignor Murphy concluded, "to drift to and fro and be satisfied with mediocrity, which so often leads to failure. With God's help, climb the high way. In other words, hold fast to your high ideals They will be your cloud by day and your pillar of fire by night. Keeping the high ideals of your profession before you, go forth with the assurance that your ministrations will bring joy and comfort to those whom you serve, an inspiration to those who follow you, and blessings to yourselves that will reach out to eternity. May God bless you."

Presentation of Bouquets

The presentation of bouquets to the graduating nurses was made by Wilhelmenia McQuaid amid much applause.

All musical selections were of a high order and the vocal solos by the Rev. Bernard Gillis and Miss Phyllis Blanchard were greeted with bursts of handclapping. Music for the ceremony was effectively rendered by a trio comprising Joyce Cantwell at the piano, Carol Marie Coles and her violin, and Lise Vezina playing the violincello.

Miss Mary Georgina Trainor was the valedictorian.

Brief addresses of felicitation to the graduating class were given by His Excellency Bishop Boyle and by the Rev. Father Crowley, C.SS R.

The exercises concluded with the singing of the National Anthem.

Honor Paid To Deceased Island Doctor In West

The following is taken from a Melville, Saskatchewan paper of recent date:

"On Friday, April 20th, the body of Dr. John Thomas Sullivan was laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery at Melville. He had been confined in St. Peter's Hospital for the past three weeks, following an operation in Winnipeg two months ago, and passed away on Wednesday morning, April 18th.

"Dr. John Thomas Sullivan was born in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, on July 18, 1876. He received his early schooling in Charlottetown, and completed his College course at St. Dunstan's College in that city. Later he entered Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, Md., from which he graduated with his medical degree in 1905.

"Dr. Sullivan began his medical career in Souris, P.E.I., where he continued to practice till 1921. In the summer of that year he moved to Calgary, Alta., where he practiced medicine for two years. In 1923 he and his family settled in Melville, where he continued his practice until the time of his death. Dr. Sullivan had won for himself the respect and admiration of his many friends. In 1929 he was appointed Coroner for the Melville district, a post he held at the time of his death. In 1927 he was named Medical Health Officer for the town, a service to which he gave himself generously.

"He leaves to mourn, his wife Mary, and a family of eight children; Mary and Jack of Melville; Melvin, with the Armed Forces overseas; Rev. Arthur, of Campus, Illinois; William at Estevan; Eileen at Dryden, Ont.; Ralph, patient at Fort San, and Doris in Winnipeg. He is also survived by his brother James, of Oakland, Calif.

A Fine Citizen

"The late Dr. J. T. Sullivan was a citizen of the highest order. In his quiet and friendly way he served the town of Melville and district most faithfully and well during his twenty-two years of residence, giving generously of himself to all that was for the betterment of the community, and in his passing our town has lost one of its ablest and best citizens.

"The large attendance of citizens of all walks of life at the early morning service at St. Henry's R. C. Church last Friday, showed the high esteem in which Dr. Sullivan was held by all. He was a man among men in every sense of the word.

"In his youth the late Dr. Sullivan was quite an athlete and made his mark in such games as baseball and soccer football, as well as a speed skater of ability, and also enjoyed curling. He was always a generous supporter of local baseball and hockey teams. He loved to see the boys and girls at play in clean wholesome sports of any kind.

"Funeral services were conducted at St. Henry's Church by Rev. A. Sullivan, son of the deceased, assisted by Father Uberberg and Father Klein. Father Baderski delivered the funeral sermon."

Dr. Sullivan is well known in this Province, a son of the late Andrew Sullivan for many years a valued official of the Customs Department, Charlottetown. Dr. Sullivan will be kindly remembered here by his many friends and associates who will regret the sad news of his passing as he was very well known throught this Province. The Guardian extends to his wife and family deepest sympatny in their bereavement.

Organizer Of British Women's Institute Honored

An enjoyable dinner was given at The Charlottetown last evening by the executive of the Prince Edward Island Women's Institutes in honour of Miss Elizabeth Christmas, the general organizer of National Federation of Women's Institutes in England and Wales, who is visiting here under the auspices of the Wartime Information Bureau.

Mrs. George Martin, New Perth, provincial president, presided and called upon Hon. W.F.A. Stewart, Minister of Agriculture, who introduced the guest speaker.

Miss Christmas, who arrived by plane yesterday, started her tour of Canada in British Columbia and has now visited all the provinces with the exception of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. She spoke very warmly of the generosity shown by Canada to the people of the British Isles and voiced her profound admiration for the achievements of Canadians during the war years. She dealt in an interesting manner with her impressions of this country, referring in particular to her surprise at the vast distances involved in travelling from coast to coast.

The British rationing system for food and clothing was explained by Miss Christmas, who emphasized the value of these regulations in maintaining equality of distribution.

The Women's Institutes of Canada, she said, were regarded as the "mother" of the British Women's Institutes, because it was from Canada that the idea originated. The British organization follows much the same principles, and is proving of great value in developing latent talent and responsibility for community activities of all kinds. They had found informal group discussions to be of more practical value than larger meetings, she said in this connection.

Miss Christmas also stated that the British Institutes were hopeful of establishing a residential school or college for the promotion of their various activities.

She was tendered a warm vote of thanks on motion of Mrs. Malcolm MacLeod, of Lorne Valley.

The meeting was then thrown open to general discussion. The speakers included Messrs Lloyd Shaw, Director of Education, W. R. Shaw, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, Leo Bradley, president of the Canadian Legion, and Lt. Col. K.S. Rogers.

Miss Christmas addresses a district Women's Institute meeting today at Parkdale.

Address and Presentation

On Wednesday evening, May 9, 1945, members and friends of Clyde River Presbyterian Church assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Docherty, Kingston, P. E. I., to extend to Mr. and Mrs. Waldron MacKinnon, nee Jeanette Docherty, happiest felicitations on their recent marriage. Mr. Ira C. Auld was the capable chairman for the occasion and after a few complimentary remarks called upon Mrs. George Dixon to read an address to Mr. and Mrs. MacKinnon after which Mrs. Fulford Darrah presented them with a neat sum of money. The recipients responded thanking the donors for their kindness and good wishes and assured them of a welcome at all times to their home. After singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows", a delectable lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Donald MacDonald and a social hour spent.

Following is the address:

To Mrs. Waldron MacKinnon,
Churchill, P. E. I.

Dear Jeanette:—

We the members and adherents of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, in Clyde River, have gathered here at your parents' home this evening to wish you every happiness because of your recent marriage. On this occasion, we would like also to convey to you our appreciation of the assistance you have given in furthering the work of our Church. In its behalf your many talents have always been willingly given. At this time we feel a sense of the deep loss we sustain in your removal to another community. For, since a small girl, seldom has your place in the Church or Choir, been vacant and your sweet voice has helped in our service of praise. Your hearty hand-clasp and pleasant smile to all, has also been an inspiration and example to many. However, at such a happy time in your life, commencing so auspiciously amid the heartfelt National rejoicing at war's end in Europe, we would not be selfish, and while we shall miss you from our Church activities, our best wishes for your future happiness go out from our hearts to you.

So this evening we present this purse of money to you as only a slight token of our esteem, and with it be assured of a hearty welcome, when you and your husband return as we hope you often will, to visit the old Church. And for you and Waldron, we pray that God's richest blessings be yours in the years to come.

Signed on behalf of the Clyde River Presbyterian Church,
IRA C. AULD,
HUGH J. McLEAN.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

Canada's future as a free nation is best assured as a member of the British Commonwealth. We believe that the Commonwealth will continue to be a great bulwark for permanent peace and should be kept strong and united, with Canada, as the senior Dominion, playing an increasingly important part in it.

British and American peoples must work together in close harmony.

In any international organization for maintaining world security Canada must be prepared to make firm commitments and to provide the means and accept the responsibility to discharge these commitments to the full.

This Party believes that Canada's international and commonwealth relations are and have been for some years of such importance that the appointment of a full time Minister responsible for the Department of External Affairs is long overdue. It will be our policy to make this change.

JAPANESE WAR

Our objective is the earliest possible defeat of Japan. To accomplish this we will:

Take such steps as are necessary to carry out Canada's fair share of responsibility for the victorious ending of the war in the Pacific.

See to it that none of the Canadian armed forces who have already served in an active theatre of war need fight Japan, except as they choose to volunteer without coercion of any kind whatsoever.

Insofar as Canadian armed forces have been promised or are required, send to the Pacific theatre of war physically fit N. R. M. A. troops, thereby giving practical application to our policy of equality of service and sacrifice.

DOMINION-PROVINCIAL RELATIONS

A conference is long overdue. We undertake to call one immediately on coming into power. We propose Dominion-Provincial Conferences at frequent intervals, regardless of the political stripe of the various provincial governments.

The nation has outlived its constitution of seventy-eight years ago. That is a fact which must be faced. Amendments to the British North America Act are needed, particularly in the fields of labour, social security, taxation and financial relationship.

This Party is opposed to the principle of concentration of power in Ottawa. It supports the guaranteed rights of racial and religious minorities. Nevertheless, it believes that men of goodwill with the nation's interest at heart can be brought into agreement on constitutional amendments as may be necessary. It proposes moving in this direction and promptly.

RADIO LICENSES

We will at the first session of Parliament after the election abolish the fee payable for the radio licenses which we regard as an unnecessary and unwarranted nuisance tax.

HOUSING

Our objective is that all Canadians shall have decent, healthful housing conditions.

This Party will see that the financial resources of the Dominion will be used in the clearing of slums and to provide subsidized housing for those in the lowest income groups.

We will initiate a large-scale housing programme to supply the new homes so urgently needed throughout Canada. For that purpose we will enlist the cooperation of the Provinces, the municipalities, the building trades, the construction industry and private investors.

TOURIST TRADE

Properly promoted and advertised Tourist Trade can be one of the most important means of maintaining the good neighbour policy — comparable to a huge industry in bringing into Canada United States dollars.

We shall cooperate with the Provinces to the fullest extent and encourage the improvement of attractive facilities for the benefit of tourists in Canada.

IMMIGRATION

Canada is destined to be one of the world's great nations provided we vigorously develop our vast natural resources.

In considering any immigration policy we will first make sure that our own people, including primarily those in our Armed Forces and war industries have jobs.

We favour a long term policy of immigation to:—

Assure development of our vast natural resources and create employment.

Increase home consumption of our own products and thus make us more self-supporting and less dependent on the hazards of foreign markets.

Immigration must be selective. Preference must be given to those whose background, training, and love of freedom best fit them for citizenship in Canada.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our Dad and Mother, Mr and Mrs. Malcolm MacDonald, Nine Mile Creek, who passed away June 10th, 1934 and May 15th, 1943.

Many years have passed since that sad day
When those we loved were called away.
God called them home it was His will Forget them no, we never will.

Happy and smiling, always content
Loved and respected wherever they went,
Always thoughtful, willing and kind,
What a beautiful memory they left behind.

Lovingly Remembered by Their Daughters, Bertha and Charlotte, Arlington, Mass.
