FRENCH THRIFT.

The People, as a Rule, Save One-fifth of Their Incomes. Since the days when the people of France went down into their stockings for the five milliards of ransom exacted by Bismarck, the world has pondered as over a mystery the besettable durability of French thrift. Not only has their rate of progress been kept in full commission, along with a vast standing army and an enlarging naval force, but at the same time they have poured millions of treasure into the coffers of allies and friends. Of French thrift apparently there is no end. It is founded on racial habits rooted in industry and intelligence and on a sense of proportion as universal to the Gallic race as its feeling for beauty. After forty years the republic stands firm in the strength of two generations of sons and daughters born under the banner of self government. That fact has excited as much wonder among her neighbors as the impenetrable thrift. Probably the one is a complement of the other, political as well as industrial, France being ruled by intelligence and moderation. The formula of French thrift is as simple as sunlight: Be industrious, be frugal, give and enjoy in proportion to your means, and always lay by a fifth of your income for capital. Result: A whole nation prosperous, contented and happy.—Century Magazine.

About Introducing People. So unfamiliar are many Americans with the English rule that the "roof is an introduction" that when one woman speaks to another at some social function there will be no reply, because "she has not been introduced." Every woman should remember that, no matter who she is or where she is from, no such casual conversation can hurt her, and she should not lay herself open to the very natural criticism that she doesn't know enough to speak when she is spoken to. A meeting of this kind does not necessitate a further acquaintance, as it may cease when they leave the house of the hostess.

Advertisement for 100 PERSONS CURED OF ECZEMA. Within the past few months over 100 persons have written to the Zam-Buk Co. reporting their cure of eczema, rashes and skin diseases by Zam-Buk. Does this not prove that Zam-Buk is something different? Don't you need it in your household? Miss Mary McCuaig, 913 St. Catherine Street, W., Montreal, says: "I do not know words powerful enough to express my gratitude to Zam-Buk. Eczema broke out on my scalp and hands. The irritation of the scalp was so bad that I could not sleep or rest, and I feared I should have to have my hair cut off. On my hands the disease appeared in sore patches, the burning and itching of which drove me many times to spells of weeping. I went to the dispensary, but they referred me to a skin specialist, who said that mine was as bad a case of eczema as he had seen. He gave me some ointment, and then a second lot, but neither gave me any relief. "I was in a very bad condition when Zam-Buk was introduced, but I soon found out that it was different from all the other remedies. I persevered with the Zam-Buk treatment, and each box did me more and more good. The irritation and smarting soon disappeared, then the sores began to heal, fresh healthy skin grew over the parts which had been sore, and I am now quite free from all traces of eczema, both on head and hands. My hair has also been saved." Zam-Buk is also a sure cure for piles, eruptions, blood poisoning, cuts, burns and all skin irritations, etc. All drug stores and grocers, or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse imitations.

Some people like to follow this foreign custom of not introducing their guests to one another, feeling that the mere fact of their all being friends and guests of the host and hostess is a sufficient introduction. There is a difference of opinion, however, on this subject, and most persons think that a hostess should put her guests at their ease and introduce them when occasion requires it.

There is a difference between a formal and a casual introduction. The formal introduction is made with a deliberate purpose. The casual introduction is made to save awkwardness and need not entail further acquaintance. When a formal introduction is made the hostess should always first ask the privilege of making the introduction. This can be done in a very unobtrusive way, so that the one who wishes to be introduced knows nothing of the request. In making an introduction the man is presented to the woman in this way: "Miss Johnston, may I present Mr. Sears?" or "Miss Johnston, allow me to present Mr. Sears," or still another expression is, "Mrs. Thompson, Mr. Browning desires the honor of knowing you."

Men rarely ask to be introduced to each other, but if a woman wishes to present two men to one another they should never refuse the introduction. For a very formal introduction a bow, a pleasant smile and the words "How do you do, Mr. So-and-so," or "How do you do, Miss (or Mrs.) So-and-so," is sufficient, or one may merely repeat the name of the person presented in an undertone. If one is desirous of being less formal it is correct to shake hands even at a first introduction. It is also correct to say, "I am so glad to meet you, Mr. So-and-so," or "It is a great pleasure for me to meet you, Miss So-and-so," but the expression, "Pleased to meet you," is not at all correct. Men always shake hands when they are introduced to each other.

A Real Water-Melon. Moncton, N.H., has been making money out of water. Some time ago the city expropriated the waterworks and decided to run it. Recently, Mayor Reilly, of Moncton, made the announcement that $21,300.92 stood to the profit of the city in its water account for the past year. The civic officials in Moncton are trying to devise some plan for diverting the surplus to a good cause. Some have suggested that the extra water money be applied to reducing the civic taxes.

Natural Turkish Baths. At the town of Preston, Ontario, about seventy-one miles west of Toronto, natural Turkish baths are in operation. Near the town is a lake the waters of which are impregnated with sulphur and other chemical properties, so that the water, besides being available for the bath as such, has also medicinal qualities. The lake is Government property, and so far the cost to those availing themselves being sufficient to remunerate the services of the half-breed preparing the bath. This is taken in what is locally called "a sweat lodge." The lodge is made by digging a hole four feet deep, lining it with small boulders and covering it with a tarpaulin. A fire is then built in the hole and kept burning until the stones are thoroughly heated. Water from the lake is sprinkled on the hot stones and a steam arises, the steam being laden with medicinal properties.
