CANADA SHOULD SECURE SHARE OF IMMIGRANTS

OTTAWA, July 27.—That Canada should make an effort to secure a large share of the immigration that will flow from the British Isles following the war, is the opinion of Messrs. W. E. Scott and Russell Wilson, who returned from the Old Land a few days ago.

They have been overseas since February acting as Selection Committee of the Soldier Settlement Board of Canada, their duty being to examine qualifications, agricultural and otherwise, of ex-service men of the British army who desire to take up farms in Canada.

Their work has been suspended for this year, as it is not desirable that there should be an influx of immigrants at the beginning of the Canadian winter when it would be difficult to place them on farms for preliminary training.

Speaking for the Committee, Mr. Scott said to the press: "The system of selection adopted by the Soldier Settlement Board is, in my opinion, the soundest policy, because by it you were taking some of the best bone and sinew of the country away from Britain when her strongest efforts were needed to effect a complete recovery. The answer was that it mattered not whether these men resided in London, Aberdeen, Dublin or Canada, or for that matter, any part of the British Empire. They were not lost to the Empire, but on the other hand they were placed in a position to better their own condition which, undoubtedly, would be a benefit to the Empire as a whole. I found that this view was appreciated by men of weight in London and especially by those who have had to do with the overseas questions, such as Col. Amery and many others who have the interests of the Dominions at heart. While they are sorry to lose citizens of the Empire, I have indicated, it is recognized that the development of the outlying portions of the Empire, especially the unbroken lands of Western Canada, cannot fail to be of the greatest service to Britain."

Messrs. Scott and Wilson especially mentioned the interest in their work and support of Col. Amery, Under Secretary of State for the Colonies, whose wife is a Canadian.

Great praise also was due to the managers of the National Relief Fund—a fund raised for the purpose of assisting in the re-establishment of ex-service men in civil life. The managers of this fund grant sums of money to men who suffered by reason of their patriotism in joining the forces and who were unable to find the total amount required by the Board. Among the hundreds who appeared before the Selection Committee were some 57 men who lacked a few necessary dollars to deposit before being accepted as prospective soldier settlers. These 57 cases were recommended to the National Relief Fund for assistance and only in one case was that assistance denied.

Mr. Scott added that of the men selected for Canada one half had previous experience as farmers. All of them however demonstrated their sincerity and it was the opinion of the committee that the prescribed training for the Imperial soldier on Canadian farms would fit them to take up land under the aegis of the Board.

Asked why men possessing as much as $7,000 or $8,000 would not come to Canada independently of any government effort, Mr. Scott stated that they wished to take advantage of the protection afforded by the government in the matter of training and supervision of soldier settlers. These men realized that there were many advantages accruing to soldier settlers in the way of assisting them to procure desirable land, and to guide and instruct them until they get well on their feet.

The Imperial aspect of the soldier settlement scheme appealed to Mr. Scott as one of its strongest features. "We have got to use every effort to get men of British blood in this country," he said. "A member of the British House of Commons expressed regret that rule out the undesirable, and get the best class. Of course, the financial restriction (the requirement that each elected settler shall deposit 200 pounds with the Board as a guarantee of good faith) will undoubtedly prevent a great many good men taking advantage of the benefits of the Act, but on the other hand, it is undoubtedly a protection against loss to the country. The men passed by us deposited 127,700 pounds or $600,000, with the Board. This, however, does not represent their whole financial possessions. One man who came before us, had 3,000 pounds; another 2500 pounds; another 1500 pounds and a considerable number had as much as a thousand pounds with which to start life in Canada. They represent over a million dollars. These men will be a great asset to this country. It has been said that every man who comes to Canada, whether to go on a farm or to engage in business, is worth as a capital investment, conservatively, $5,000. I think, with present prices, the figure would be more like $10,000, so that it would be difficult to estimate the aggregate of gain that would come to Canada through the immigration of thousands of the best of the Imperial Army."

FOX NOTES

The stock of The Silver Fox Fur Selling Association is now on sale. Already a large block has been subscribed. Within two weeks the organization meeting will be held. Only those who have then subscribed will be entitled to take part in the meeting, in the election of by-laws and election of officers. There is no time to lose; subscribe now so as to have a vote at this meeting.

Write now for a prospectus and an application form and help to place the association in position to help you.

FOXMEN: A proposition that can stand the test of the public meeting and receive the approval of four hundred ranchers and not develop any weak points should be sufficient guarantee to you that the project is sound one. Are you one of those however who have taken no interest in the Silver Fox Fur Selling Association and have therefore neglected to inform yourself in the matter? If you are, then you are willfully blind to your own interests. If you were in danger of drowning, would you refuse a helping hand simply because you were not acquainted with the person proffering help?

A helping hand is now being extended to those engaged in fox ranching. The assistance will be in the form of the industry profitable, it will insure its future by creating additional demand and opening up markets for silver fox fur, thus assuring a steady demand with consequent good prices. Those who stay out of the Association cannot expect to benefit by the reason that they will not be able to take advantage of the advertised trade mark. If you wish to participate in the benefits you must come in with the others, otherwise you will be on the outside.

RANCHERS! The Silver Fox Fur Selling Association is not seeking charity. If you are asked to subscribe to this stock it is for the purpose of financing an institution that will stabilize the fox industry, that will create a demand for fox fur, open up markets and so insure good prices. It will buy your fox foods co-operatively so ensuring a good quality and at a better price than you can obtain them. It will show this food in cold storage and give it to you as you need it. Does this appeal to you or are you one of those who is going to continue fox ranching in the old haphazard way, having no thought of the future and expect that the industry will take care of itself. We want your financial assistance now in order that we may be able to financially assist you. We want you to invest your money now in order that it may come back to you one hundred fold.

The Silver Fox Fur Selling Association has been launched with a practically unanimous approval. Already sufficient stock has been subscribed by leading foxmen to ensure operations. Within ten days the organization meeting will be held, the by-laws will be enacted, the directors appointed and the policy of the association will be formulated.

Ranchers and directors of companies must realize how very important it is to themselves that they subscribe before the organization meeting in order that they may have a voice at this meeting. Delay in this matter will only prejudice themselves, and they cannot afford to let their own and their company's interest to hang back. They must therefore act and act quickly if they wish to participate in this meeting.

THE CHURCH MILITANT

Fair as the moon, Clear as the sun.

O, who is this that looks so fair? That none on earth with her compare!

Who's fair and lovely as the moon, And clearer than the sun at noon.

Her light is as the morning bright, After the shadows of the night. Looking upon a slight world, With glorious banners all unfurled.

The Church looks forth to victory, O'er darkness, sin, and misery; The realm of darkness turns to light, The aliens armies puts to flight.

In her Saviour's light is she dressed, And with His Heavenly grace is blessed; She is armed with the Word of God, And strength from Jesus Christ her Lord.

She's terrible to Satan's power; Before her all his armies cower, Her presence strikes them sore With fright; They shake and tremble at her light.

She now goes forth as an army, That is destined for victory, O'er ev'ry foe victorious, In ev'ry battle glorious.

Her victory is o'er land and sea; Believing souls her glory save, She enlightens ev'ry nation, Telling them of Christ's salvation.

Her doctrines all are clear and true, Distilling like the Heavenly dew, Converting souls in sin that lie, Preparing them for heaven high.

LAUGH WITH US

ENJOYING LIFE

It is good to save some plunder; save a part of all we earn, so that when we're old as thunder we may have some coin to burn. Oh, it makes a man disgusted when his age is eighty-nine, and he finds himself so busted that he cannot buy a shine. But to save like some blamed miser, I consider vain and wrong; blowing in some coin is wiser, for a man is dead so long. This old world
