WEDDING BELLS.—At Charlottetown, on October 15, 1924, by Rev. George E. Taylor, Miss Dorothy Pursey, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Pursey of North Rustico was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Everett Nicholson, C. N. R. youngest son of Mrs. Alexander Nicholson of Hunter River. The happy young couple were unattended. The bride was dressed in new brown satin, trimmed with ribbon and pearl buttons. After the ceremony they motored to the home of the bride, (Poplar Avenue) where supper awaited them. The table was tastefully decorated with cut flowers and gladioli. The bride travelled in a smart tailored suit of navy blue tricot with grey hat and gloves to match, and squirrel choker. About fifty gaily dressed chevrons awaited the arrival of the newly wedded couple, to congratulate them. After they were courteously served, they returned to their homes. The happy young couple left on the early express, amid showers of rice and confetti. They intend to spend their honeymoon visiting friends and relatives in the American Cities. ### Gleanings Here And There

What might have proved a fatal accident occurred on Friday evening, the 17th inst., when Captain Allan MacLean and his son, Leslie, were working in their saw mill at Rose Valley. They were hauling in some logs to the mill in preparation for sawing in the morning and were soon to close down for the day. Leslie MacLean, the eighteen-year old son, was told by his father to go to the basement of the mill and put on the belt and watch the mill. After a few moments the father heard some unusual sounds from the machinery, and a strange thumping noise. On going below he was startled and surprised to find his son almost covered with sawdust and about all his clothes torn from his body. While reaching over the pulleys his clothes had caught in the revolving shaft, and he was hurled about several times. Fortunately his feet and knees were pulled around first and by means of his hands he kept his head from being bruised against the mill floor. All the clothes left on his body were part of his shirt collar, and a small portion of the lower end of his trousers. His hands were badly burned and he had a very narrow escape from death. His youth and skill aided him when he was hurled. His clothes were wrapped around the spindle and his body in danger of being battered to pieces. His escape was miraculous.

Another resident and property owner of this Province is about moving south. Mr. Horatio Bowness, of Crapaud, has sold his comfortable home in this village to William J. Howatt, of North Tryon, for the small sum of twelve hundred dollars. Mr. Bowness had an auction sale last Wednesday, and in addition to his home, sold a valuable lot of household furniture and other effects. Mr. Bowness has bought a property near Los Angeles, California, where Mrs. Bowness is at present, and where he spent the past year. He will soon move south, when his business matters are settled up.

Mrs. Arthur Jay, of Borden, who has been ill now for some time, is not showing any signs of improvement. Her condition is very serious and her many friends regret that little hopes are being entertained for her recovery. Mrs. Howatt, mother of Mrs. Jay, and her constant attendant, has also been ill lately, but is gradually recovering.

A piano of the Mason & Risch firm, has recently been placed in the new hall at Borden. The people deserve much credit for their having done so much toward building and furnishing the hall within less than a year. The foundation was laid in November, 1923, by Maynard Schurman company, of Summerside. It is equipped with a pipeless furnace, five powerful gasoline lamps, comfortable seats costing with the land on which it is built, in the vicinity of five thousand dollars. There remains an indebtedness of only some thirteen hundred dollars. A concert is being planned to take place soon and a further reduction will be made on the debt on the new Protestant Hall, in which preaching services are now being held each week. This shows what a willing people can do when they unite and do their utmost for a worthy cause.

The town of Borden has recently installed two powerful gasoline lamps at important centres on its streets. These supply much needed light and will likely be followed ed by more in the near future. Thus our newest town is showing a progressive spirit.

Mrs. Dan, MacKinnon of Canoe Cove is very seriously ill, but hopes well for her recovery.

Miss Mary MacKinnon of same place is slowly regaining her health after being operated upon for appendicitis. Adhesions have resulted which have tended to weaken the patient.

Mr. Archibald McLellan, of the Dock Road, Hartsville had the misfortune one day last week of falling down heading into his cellar and fracturing several ribs, and gave himself a very bad shaking. Mr. McLellan is about sixty-five years of age, and such an experience is not a pleasant one.

Mrs. P. Simmonds is quite ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Percy Dawson, Crapaud.

Mr. Thomas Cameron, of Hampton, sold a very valuable black Brazilian horse to Mr. Percy Dawson, Crapaud. He will be used by Mr. Dawson, who is an underwriter as a team horse on his hearse.

Potato picking is not yet completed, though many will gather all their spuds this week. The crop is an excellent one. Some who have a large acreage under seed potatoes are finding it a problem to know where to house them to escape frost. It is reported that our grower, having all other places filled, is placing them on his barn lofts, which will entail a great amount of work. Some are much disappointed that their potatoes have not passed inspection. Ten per cent defects, such as stem rot, scab, black spot, ill shaped seed, etc., will condemn them as unfit for seed.

Many school children for the past month have been earning one dollar and a half per day. It is hoped the growers may be reimbursed for their financial outlay and labor. Present indications are not very encouraging for those who have up mixed farming to make their potatoes, certified seed potatoes. Prices may be higher in the Spring. In the meantime where can these potatoes be stored to be secure from frost?

Arthur Dawson, of North Tryon, returned a short time ago from Ottawa, where he was present with others to receive instructions in regard to government inspection of foxes. Arthur has been a successful breeder of high class foxes and his appointment as an inspector by the Federal Government is well merited.

A special Rally Day service was held in the Methodist church, Crapaud, on the evening of the 19th, when a good program consisting of recitations, missionary exercises and special singing by children in the Sunday School was well rendered. Rev. Mr. Somers presided and gave an appropriate address. There was a large attendance and much interest was manifested throughout the service.

Reg. Younker, young son of Mr. William Younker, of Kingston, who has been quite ill with influenza TAKE TWO — GLEANINGS ... paralysis, has greatly improved under the skillful treatment of Dr. Murchison, and is now about as well as ever.

Everett Holmes, of Kingston, spent Sunday, the 19th, visiting friends in Wheatley River.

A splendid concert was given last Saturday evening in Bonshaw Hall, to arouse public interest in the Orphanage Campaign to raise $50,000. Mr. J. J. McLeod presided. The following numbers were well given, each artist being heartily encouraged: Reading, Miss Margaret McInnis; violin selection, Miss Bernice Stultz; reading, D. Edgar Shaw; duet, Mrs. J. J. Stewart and W. Bentley; violin selection, Miss Hornby; speech, Mr.

Barber, of New York; bagpipe selections, Messrs. J. McKenzie and McDougall; duet, Mrs. E. W. McKinnon and Mrs. Fletcher; solo, Miss Mary MacKinnon of same place is slowly regaining her health after being operated upon for appendicitis. Adhesions have resulted which have tended to weaken the patient.

The annual banquet of King William Orange Lodge was duly celebrated in Kingston Hall on Monday evening, the 20th inst., when an excellent repast was provided by the ladies, to which more than one hundred Orangemen, their wives and invited guests did ample justice. Following the supper there was given an entertainment of a high order, consisting of speeches, vocal and instrumental music and interesting readings. Mr. Dan Fraser, master of ceremonies, called upon Rev. Mr. Millet to act as chairman, which duty he performed in a highly creditable manner by presenting the following program: Remarks by the chairman; instrumental music, Messrs. McDonald and Campbell; speech, Rev. M. J. Macpherson; solo, Mrs. McEachern; speech, Rev. C. U. McNevis; instrumental music, Messrs. McDonald and Campbell; solo, John Hearty; reading, Gordon McMillan; speech, G. D. Wright; solo, Mrs. E. W. McKinnon; speech, S. A. McDonald; solo, Mrs. Fletcher; speech, Rev. B. H. Barrett; duet, Mrs. Fletcher and Mrs. E. W. McKinnon. Time forbade the giving of an encore which were well deserved. A vote of thanks was tendered those assisting in the program in a neat speech by Reuben Barrett, seconded by Fred Younker. The meeting closed by singing the National Anthem. This is the twelfth annual banquet. The hope was expressed that our public halls might often be used most profitably by having provided in them entertainments with addresses such as were given this evening. Well filled baskets from the abundance remaining were sent to needy and well-deserving families. Much credit is due the Orangemen of Kingston Lodge for the success of the banquet held in their beautiful and spacious hall, so well adapted for such a gathering.

It is reported that some bold youths from Tryon or vicinity have been fishing salmon in the DeSable River, which at this season of the year is forbidden by law. Better beware!
