Wolverines Too Much For Hawks

Moncton Slump Continues As Halifax Pulls Alongside Leaders Who Are Downed 3 To 1.

(Canadian Press)
HALIFAX, Jan. 30.—Halifax Wolves pulled up alongside the Moncton Hawks to share Maritime hockey leadership tonight as they turned back the Hawks 3 to 1 in the first and second periods. Owen Lennon, and another Gordon Kennedy's stick gave Nova Scotia's their margin. A Connolly's marker, the first of the night, was the only consolation the Hawks could take home with the victory left the Charlottetown Wolves, who finished second in the League's first section, four points behind the current leaders.

The Wolves lived up to his reputation to play "60 minutes of offensive hockey hereafter." The game was one of the best games of the season in Halifax. Walker, last night with the Maritime champion house crew, paired with Bill Gill in the Moncton defence and turned a fair game in his first Halifax appearance of the year. There seemed to be little affection between Walker and Frankie Graham, now playing with Halifax, who flanked the Dalhousie defence last night.

The second line to the fore tonight, for the first time, the lines put on the ice two well-matched forward lines, with the lead line of Owen Lennon, Law and Reg Shields outshining Ferguson-Mosher-Kennedy first night attackers. Lennon was particularly brilliant.

The first period witnessed a lot of hockey with equal damage to the twines, though Jimmy Foster in the Moncton cage had to kick out his stick to Sargeant's eight. In this case, the midway mark, Walker and Connolly passed to Bert Connolly, the centre man making it after 47 seconds of the session ended when the Halifax second line went down-ice, Lennon providing the final punch to a triple play.

Shields and Lawlor drew assists. The first line, however, was not to be outdone, and the second session was but three minutes gone when Captain Ernie Mosher flicked one over to Gordon Kennedy and the right winger made it good. When Lennon went down five minutes later to climax an individual rush with another goal, the game was on ice. A two goal lead is too much to overcome in Maritime "Big Three" play.

KOUGHAN-TOMI—St. Dunstan's Basilica was the scene of a very pretty wedding yesterday morning, when one of Charlottetown's well known young ladies, Miss Margaret Koughan, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony with Mr. John Tomkins of County Wexford, Ireland. The Rev. Father John Sullivan, cousin of the bride officiated at the ceremony. The bride was neatly attired in a dress of brown chiffon velvet, a cloth coat with brown squirrel trimmings, and a velvet hat complemented the order paper in the name of Deputy Speaker Armand Lavigne. The question reads: "1. Has the Government of Canada had any correspondence with the Government of Newfoundland with respect to the return of Labrador to the Province of Quebec? 2. If so is the Government in a position to reveal such correspondence and the result of such negotiations?"

The enquiry on the financial position of Newfoundland standing in the name of William Duff (Ldb. Antigonish-Guysboro) is as follows: "1. What amount, if any, was advanced by the Government of Canada to the Government of Newfoundland about January 2, 1933, to pay the interest on part of Newfoundland's bonded indebtedness? 2. What was the total amount of interest owing by Newfoundland on or about that date, and the rate of said interest? 3. What security has the Dominion of Canada for said loan? 4. What are the terms regarding payment of said amount loaned by Canada, and the interest rate? 5. What is the total amount of Newfoundland's bonded and other financial indebtedness?"

The many friends of Mrs. A. G. MacLean (nee Laura Millar) of Raymond, Saskatchewan will regret to learn of her serious illness in St. Paul's Hospital, Saskatoon.

NICKLIN GIVES ANOTHER INTERVIEW

Moncton Coach States That There Seemed To Be A Deliberate Campaign To Injure Duke MacDonal In Last Abbie Game Here.

Percy Nicklin and the Hawks returned from Charlottetown this afternoon after taking another 2-0 trimming from the Abbies last night. All of the players came through the rugged game without injury.

Discussing the game, the Hawks coach said that it was ragged all of the way through and not much good hockey was displayed. Asked regarding the fistic encounter between Bill Gill and an Abbie player, the coach said that Hymie McArthur started the fracas and not Ron Hudson, as reported from Charlottetown. He said that McArthur crashed a cross-check into Gill who did not retaliate, and that he repeated the tactics twice before Gill defended himself.

After that, it was interesting when Hudson and other players mixed in, as well as several hundred spectators who tore the wire netting from the end of the rink and swarmed on the ice to such an extent that police were called to quell the disturbance.

Nicklin was non-committal but there seemed to be an undercurrent which expressed displeasure at the attitude of the Charlottetown fans.

Duke MacDonald was not played after the first period, he said, due to the fact that there seemed to be a deliberate campaign to injure the little centre player—Moncton Transcript.

Isn't it a shame that "great big" Hymie McArthur should take such a mean advantage of "poor little" Bill Gill. Enough about that. Then again it's another pity that the nasty of Abbie defence stopped "Duke" from going through for at least two goals. Again, shame on you Harold and Walter, you should have been severely chastized for stopping "Duke" for the remainder of the evening, even although your checks were perfectly legal. And again, if there was any raggedness about the play, it was Hawks who were ragged against an offensive they won't long forget—43 shots against 18.

Bill Cook And Northcott Tied

Interesting Figures On National Hockey League—Toronto And Rangers Lead Respective Loops.

MONTREAL, Jan. 30.—(By The Canadian Press)—Bill Cook, right winger, secured four points during scoring spurges of the New York Rangers during the past seven days while Lawrence Northcott left winger of Montreal Maroons only scored two. Consequently the weekly scoring statistics of the National Hockey League tonight showed these two players deadlocked for the leadership, each having 29 points. Northcott's were made up of 19 goals, highest in the whole league, and 10 assists while Cook has 15 goals and 14 assists.

Paul Haynes still held third place in the league, second in the Canadian division, with 26 points, 10 goals and 16 assists, closely followed by Bun Cook of Rangers, 17-25. Frank Boucher, of Rangers, whose 20 assists top the league, is next with 24 points.

Howie Morenz and Johnny Gagnon of Canadiens continue to threaten the leaders. They follow Boucher with 22 points each. Jackson, only member of the Toronto Maple Leafs to have a prominent mention, drew up to a tie with Cooney Weiland of Ottawa and Hooley Smith of Maroons all of whom have 19 points, one less

LOOKING 'EM OVER

(By Tec.)

Right—And Wrong
W. J. Foley, Halifax Sports writer, has the following comments, criticisms, etc. and what have you, in part. Read them—some are in order and the others are all wrong—radically wrong. He says: "Joe Beaton has been playing the hockey of his young life. Always a fast skater, Beaton has developed into a marksman of no mean repute. The fact that he can take the "bumps" and come back has made him a threat to Moncton and Halifax goalers. In fact Beaton, and the other members of the Charlottetown "kid line," Ronald Hudson and Hymie McArthur, have been making all the bumps for the Abbies frontliners. Jemmett, always a "safety-first" player, although he was a little more daring here last week, has been laying back as much as possible, while Jackie Kane, my idea of a smart player, doesn't seem interested enough in the game to risk the chance of a heavy bodying. If the Abbies could induce Jackie to step out in his proper form, the former Hamilton Tiger ace would be around the top league scorers. A chap can't play his best hockey if he is not interested in his game. I may be wrong, but I think Kane is dissatisfied."

"Get Off Those Eggs"
When Foley states that the "Kid Line" of the Abbies have been taking the bumps for the rest of the team, he covers altogether too much territory. The writer has attended every senior loop fixture played in the local Forum to date and has yet to notice a single Red Shirted forward showing any signs of fear or whatever the Halifax scribe wishes to call it.

So far as Jemmett is concerned, there's nothing "safety first" about him. If Foley thinks so, he should have seen the said "Chuck" work against Wolves and Hawks on Charlottetown ice, and I don't think the calibre of hockey hereabouts is any different from that which is played in Moncton or Halifax. Further still, the writer recalls Jemmett being out of the game almost two weeks with injuries sustained when trying to hurdle the Moncton defence, and according to Jemmett himself, he was also knocked hors de combat in the last Abbie-Wolverine game on the latter's home ice. Graham was the lad who caught Jemmett on this occasion—and the bold Frankie does not play on the Wolves' forward line. Does this look as if "Chuck" is afraid to take his bumps. Of course Jemmett is careful, and would be an imbecile to skate into needless danger. In fact, if I remember right, Mr. Foley made a like statement with regard to hockeyists who take needless chances. Look out, W.J., you may lose another "crisp five dollar bill," and according to Charlie Woods of Moncton, there's another $50.00 waiting to be covered in the

The Anvil Out Again
A Moncton exchange has the following comment on the recent Abbie-Hawk game.
"Press reports said that the Hawks found themselves faced by only two players and a goalie while they had five on the ice and still they could not score. Something seems to be wrong. According to the count of shots blocked the Hawks only fired 18 that came close enough to Bubar to hit him. Apparently the players started in right where they left off in the last game with the Islanders here when shot after shot went wildly past the net, struck the posts and bounced out. Some sniping practice certainly will not hurt."

According to the above, some dissatisfaction is beginning to crop up in Moncton, the home of the league leaders and the "world's greatest goalie." I wonder what the Hawk followers will say today after reading about the Halifax game last night. We'll wait and see.

"Not Blind—Perhaps Just Dumb"
Jimmy Smith, N. S. scribe, comes to bat with the following:
And still another. This one is in reply to the Moncton (?) fan who wanted to know "why the Hawks should be called upon to play off with teams they have been consistently beating for a period of months." The writer says "Sport Fan" is either blind or just can't put two and two together. He points out that they have played nine games (it was written before Friday night's fixture) and the Hawks have won four, the Abbies three and two were tied. He questions whether such a record means that the Hawks are consistently licking the Island crew. He goes on to point out that two of the Moncton victories were decided by fluke goals—the only score of each contest being accidentally knocked in their own net by Abbies' players. And so forth. Well, as I said a few days ago, the "Big Three" play-off is a toss up regardless of who meets in the finals. The

MERRY ANNS 39 WILDCATS 34

The second section of the men's and girls' basketball leagues got away to a flying start at the Holy Name Club gym last evening when two closely contested tilts took place. In the men's league, the Falcons won over the "Robins" and in the girls' game the Merry Anns, first section winners, took the decision from the Wildcats, after a closely contested game, the "Anns" winning out in the last five minutes by a score of 39 to 34.

The lineups:
Falcons—Guards, Doyle, Grant; Centre, Harley; Forwards, Cox and Power.
Robins—Guards, McDonald and Robin; Centre, Gaudet; Forwards, Mullins, Duffy, Hennessey.
Girls' lineup:
Wildcats—Guards, F. McIsaac, D. Hertz, V. Osborne, H. McMillan; Centre, C. Rattenbury; Forwards, A. Purcell, I. Paquet, B. Conway, S. Smith.
Merry Anns—Guards, K. Harrington, H. Praught; Centre, A. Sherry; Forwards, F. Mallett, O. Johnson, M. McLellan.

Billiards
In the opening game of the big tournament being sponsored by the Sunnyside Billiard Parlors, Johnny Garnham won from Bill Lawlor by 80 points, the score reading 300 to 220.

Another good game is promised for tonight when Harry Redmond and Percy McInnis cross cues in the second game.

"Is this train ever on time?"
"Boy," replied the guard, "we never worry about her ever being on time. We calculate we're satisfied if she's always on the track."

Abbies would rather play the Hawks than the Wolves while the Conn-coached crew would meet the Islanders twice a week rather than take on the Hawks. The latter team doesn't seem much concerned. The Hawks have no favorites.

After last night's tilt the last sentence is very true. "The Hawks are no favorites."

Millionaires Vs. Abbie Stars
The Abegweit Sisters Hockey team will meet the Millionaires Girls' Hockey team at the Forum tomorrow night along with a regular mid-level league fixture. Information regarding the lineups will be given in tomorrow's edition.

Queen Square Tonight
Tonight is the night when the Forum will be filled with a throng of joyously excited youngsters, eager and ready to show the grown-ups just how it should be done. The boys are hoping that the grown-ups will be there to see them. We hope so too. The Queen Square ice sports are always great so don't miss them.

Stevie With Leaders
In the scoring statistics released by the Southern N. B. Hockey League, the name of Stevie Estabrooks, former Abbie left winger appears in second place with ten points, next to Gulliver of Fredericton, who has eleven. Kick McCann—remember "Kick"? The former Dalhousie goalie is leading the league in stops with a total of 947.

Three Straight For Hawks
Two shut-outs at the hands of Abbies and a 3-1 trouncing by Wolves last night makes it three straight losses for the Nicklin clan, and at the same time makes Jimmy Foster look like "just a real good goal tend," the same as "Daddy" and "Leo The Great" Sargeant. However, if Hawks showed the same hockey against Wolves as they did here, Foster must have had a tough evening.

Moncton—Then Charlottetown Next
Wolverines march onto Hub ice tomorrow night, and the following morning will entrain for the Island Capital where "Chuck" O'Connor is nursing his Red Shirts in preparation for a game of games.

Can Abbies stop the rush of Jack Conn's tribe? That's a question that will be answered on Friday night, and judging by the interest manifested in the clash, it looks to me as if all attendance records will be broken by the number of fans who are anxious to witness the result.

Slander Case In Supreme Court

The case of Leo Savidant vs. Roland L. Day, an action for slander came before His Lordship Chief Justice Matheson and a jury in the Supreme Court yesterday. The case arose from a charge alleged to have been made by Councillor Day at the meeting of the City Council in June, 1932.

The jurors are: John M. Roof foreman; John McFarlane, Alber Hyde, Mark Inman, Wm. A. McDonald, Leo Reid and Russell McDougall.

The Counsel in this case are as follows:
J. A. MacDonald, J. J. Johnson, K. C., for the plaintiff, W. E. Bentley, K. C., J. A. Bentley for the defendant.

A number of witnesses for the prosecution testified that Councillor Day had stated that the plaintiff had stolen a bag of flour from the store of the defendant, and that the former had received an injury at Rosebank Farm by shooting himself.

Mr. J. A. MacDonald outlined the case for the plaintiff and called the latter as first witness.

Leo Savidant, the plaintiff, testified that he attended the Council meeting of June, 1932, and that he had had an application before the Council for permission to run an ice cream stand in the Park. When a motion had been made that witness' application be accepted, Councillor Day jumped up and stated that the witness had received an injury at Rosebank Farm by shooting himself, and that the witness had stolen a bag of flour from Mr. Day's store. The witness testified that he had received the injury while in Dr. Frank's residence in Brighton from a fountain pen revolver which was in the hands of a man named Weeks, a painter. As a result witness lost the sight of one eye, and had been forced to remain in the hospital for two months. The witness denied that he had stolen a bag of flour from Mr. Day's store.

Mrs. Savidant, Frank Savidant, Charles J. Mitchell, Councillors M. W. Reardon and B. R. Holman, Henry James Walsh, Peter Connolly also gave evidence.

Frank Savidant testified that he had received Councillor Day's store and had taken a bag of flour and had walked out with it. Mr. Day's son had followed the witness, and had taken the flour from him.

Councillor Reardon had made the motion that Mr. Savidant's application be accepted.

Councillor Holman could not recollect exactly what statement Councillor Day had made. Witness had no special objection to Mr. Savidant. He was not in favour of making any appointment. Henry James Walsh had attended the Council meeting and had heard Mr. Day's objection to Mr. Savidant's appointment. Councillor Day had stated that Savidant had taken a bag of flour out of the store, and that Savidant by interfering with something which did not belong to him had got blinded.

Peter Connolly, truckman, had been present at the Council meeting and had heard Councillor Day make some statement about Savidant shooting himself at Rosebank Farm, and stealing a bag of flour from the store. Savidant had jumped up and called Councillor Day a liar, and stated that the Councillor would eat his words or swallow them. The Mayor told Savidant to sit down.

week-end, leaving five deaths in its wake, had blown itself out today. Apart from one death at sea and four in railway accidents attributable to the storm, material damage, particularly along the sea-coast, runs to many thousands of dollars. The loss was particularly heavy along Nova Scotia's southwestern shore, where fishermen were counting on the lobster catch to pull them through the winter. Dozens of lobster-jaden crates or floating "cars"—anchored boxes in which the crustaceans are kept alive for shipment—were torn from their moorings and slashed against the rocks. Traps piled on the beach, storehouses perched there, boats hauled up out of the reach of ordinary tides, were washed away.

From Parrsboro today came word that the town was isolated as far as inland travel was concerned, by snow-blocked roads. The storm was not an unmitigated evil there, however, for the snow enabled lumber operators to get into the woods and haul their cut to the mills.
