Once Lead Boers Now Delegation For Coronation

TERMED HALF REBEL IN OLD DAYS OF SOUTH AFRICAN UNION, GENERAL J. B. M. HERTZOG WILL SEE KING CROWNED.

(By THOMAS T. CHAMPION) (Canadian Press Staff Writer) LONDON, April 26—(CP)—Once called an "anti-English reactionary" and now hailed as one of the most interesting of present-day Imperial leaders, General James Barry Hertzog leads the delegation from South Africa to the Coronation May 12, and the subsequent Imperial Conference.

"In the early days of the Union of South Africa," the Manchester Guardian's correspondent recently said of Hertzog, "he was thought of as a bitter, narrow-minded anti-English reactionary, more than half a rebel. He is being attacked today on scores or country platforms as the friend of England and of the monarchy, a milk and water moderate, who has sold the national aspirations of his people to the English."

"But in his case, as in others, there is a fundamental consistency behind these apparent contradictions. In the strict sense of the word he has never been anti-English. He has been an inflexible upholder of the rights of his own language and of his own race, but his political career reveals at no point any fanatical hatred of the English people or any desire to do them harm."

For many years General Hertzog held a position not unlike that of Arthur Griffith in Ireland. He has held the doctrine which at the time of George V's accession seemed an impossible paradox, and at the time of his death had become an accepted commonplace of politics—that it is possible to uphold the ideals of national independence yet organize co-operation under the crown.

Aged 70 now, General Hertzog followed the law for many years and at one time was chief justice of the former Orange Free State. In the South African War he earned his rank as a general of the Boer forces. Following formation of the Union he joined the cabinet of the late General Botha, but later left the South African party to become leader of the Nationalists.

General Hertzog has twice previously attended Imperial Conferences. His present government was formed three years ago.

Of the cabinet ministers accompanying Prime Minister Hertzog, Hon. N. C. Havenga, minister of finance, has been considered as a likely successor to the state of his health permits it, Mr. Havenga was prominent at the Imperial Conference in Ottawa in 1932. A lawyer by profession, his political career has been associated almost entirely with Fauresmith, Orange Free State. For this constituency he was member of the Executive Committee from 1910 to 1915, and since then he has been a member of the Union Parliament. He has been finance minister since 1924. Hon. C. F. Carkson, minister of works and postmaster in the Hertzog administration and Hon. A. P. J. Fourie, formerly a member of the Cape provincial council, are also in the delegation.

In Memoriam

ROBERT BRUCE PATTERSON

The funeral of the late Robert Bruce Patterson was held from the McLean Funeral Home yesterday at 2 o'clock. Rev. G. Carlyle Webster conducted the funeral service.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Fred J. Chappell, Herbert Holl, J. M. Roop, Russel Hyde, Harry Hyde and Wm. T. Sellar.

Mr. Patterson was the son of the late Duncan Patterson of Meadowbank, West River, and is survived by his aged mother and one brother, C. W. Patterson, Jeweller, of this City. One sister, Annie predeceased him some years ago.

LONG RIVER WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The Long River Women's Institute meeting was held on Tuesday evening, April 20th, at the home of Mrs. Murdoch MacLeod with an attendance of fourteen members and three visitors. The meeting opened in the usual way by singing Institute Ode and repeating Creed in unison.

Minutes of previous meeting read and approved, and roll call was responded to by passing around a grab-bag to which the members had contributed all sorts of parcels, and paying 10c for a "grab". This amounted to $1.30.

The sick committee reported making a number of calls and sending fruit to five "shut-ins".

A letter from the Red Cross asking for help was then read, and after some discussion it was decided to send $2.00 and write an explanation that the district had recently subscribed $29,000 to the Red Cross and it wasn't thought advisable to canvass again so soon.

A number of bills were presented and it was moved and seconded that they be paid at once.

It was also suggested that a lookout committee be appointed to see about getting a Play for the Long River Hall, and Mrs. Andrew C. Johnstone, Mrs. Ernest Dunning and Miss Jean Sharpe were asked to choose one and make all necessary arrangements.

The following program was then carried out: a reading by Mrs. Constable entitled, "The Story of My Garden"; reading by Mrs. Allan A. Campbell, "Laws and How to Make Them"; and a very enjoyable contest conducted by Mrs. Heath Campbell. A debate was to have taken place, but on account of the bad roads the members from a distance could not attend, but those present were pressed to give their speeches and a great deal of merriment was caused by Mrs. Allan A. Campbell and Mrs. Heath Campbell speaking on the subject, "Resolved that an ill-natured, thrifty husband is preferable to a good natured, lazy one". The Society hopes to hear the full debate at some future time.

The next place of meeting was not decided upon but roll call is to be answered by quotations on

CULINARY WISDOM

Soda added to vegetables when cooking heightens the colour but destroys valuable vitamins. Vitamins B, C and E are water soluble and therefore the water in which vegetables are cooked should never be thrown away. If old carrots are soaked in cold water for an hour they may be scraped instead of peeled and more food value is thus retained. Farnips are better if peeled after cooking. Cabbage should be soaked in cold salted water for about 20 minutes before cooking and 8 minutes is sufficient time for cooking if it is chopped and 15 minutes in quarters. Salt added to coloured vegetables when partially cooked prevents loss of colour. If onions are peeled under water they do not cause tears. Dried beans, peas and lentils should be soaked in soft water. Minard's Liniment removes stains.

THAT WAS A BAD BLOW-OUT, JIM. I TOLD YOU WE WERE FOOLISH TO GAMBLE ON TIRES WHEN GOLDEN PLY SILVERTOWNS COST NO MORE

Goodrich SAFETY Silvertown

WITH LIFE-SAVER GOLDEN PLY BLOW-OUT PROTECTION

BLOW-OUTS STRIKE FAST GET PROTECTION NOW!

Yesterday's tires can't stand the terrific heat generated inside the tire at today's high speeds. Rubber and fabric begin to separate, a tiny blister grows—until some day—BANG! It's a BLOW-OUT!

Goodrich engineers invented the Life-Saver Golden Ply and built it into every Goodrich Silvertown tire. This layer of special rubber and full-floating cords is scientifically treated to resist internal tire heat. It keeps rubber and fabric from separating. Prevents blisters that cause high-speed blow-outs.

Why not get Goodrich Golden Ply Silvertowns on your car now. They cost not a cent more than other standard tires.

Evening Prayer And Off To Bed, So Ends Sisters' Busy Day

(Copyright, 1937, NEA Service, Inc.)

And now, to mark the close of day, comes the evening prayer. All kneeling, the five little Dionnes fix their eyes on the wa-l-picture of the Child Jesus and repeat their little prayers. Note the rapt expressions of Yvonne, Cecile and Annette at left. But Marie has turned to exchange some silent secret look with Nurse Noel. Em-le beside Marie maintains the correct attitude. On this note of innocent devotion, each day closes.

And now the five little girls troop off to bed. Mostly they crawl into the side-barred cots by themselves as Yvonne is doing at left, but a boost comes in handy now and then, as Annette is finding out. A bed for each child, and then one of the nurses will also take her place in the bedroom for the night. It is nearly 6.30 and the children are tired and usually quite ready to crawl beneath the warm blankets.

All tucked in now, snug and warm. It will be only a matter of minutes before those bright eyes with which Yvonne and Annette peer from the blankets will be closed in sleep. Then quiet enfolds the nursery, and the Dionne quintuplets have completed another day.
