British Steamer Reaches Port After Month's Struggle

NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—Her superstructure crazily awry, the starboard side of her officers' quarters gone, her galley wrecked, lifeboats missing and smashed, skylights and rails swiveling listlessly in the wind, and half of her crew of 36 injured, the British steamer Falls City limped to her dock in Brook Bay City, Michigan, with a crew of nine men. Up till now she has had a very rough passage, but has weathered the storms without damage.

When but a few hours out, she ran into dirty weather which continued during her entire trip. On November 5, 6 and 7, her daily cruising speed of 300 miles was cut to 10 miles a day by terrific gales. A giant sea caught John A. Gurce, seaman, while he was reinforcing the lashings on a lifeboat. It sent the lifeboat spinning off to leeward, and only a line which Gurce had tied about his waist, saved him. He dangled over the side for ten minutes before being rescued.

Arthur Bottinger, another seaman, was flung by a sea, which raked the ship from bow to stern, and only a timely grab by a fellow seaman, saved him as he was going over the taffrail.

Walter Knowles, cook, and Wm. Freese, steward, were washed out of their gallery by a counter sea which sent pots and pans flying, and Donald Swain, seaman, was seriously hurt by a sea which raked the ship from bow to stern, and only a timely grab by a fellow seaman, saved him as he was going over the taffrail.

MAN-POWER IS NEED OF CANADA TODAY

Batty Declares That Political Manipulation Cannot Solve National Unity Question.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 28.—"One of the most significant facts in this conference," said Mr. E. W. Batty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, addressing the Associated Board of Trade banquet here last night, "is the desire of men from all parts of Canada to discuss the country's problem from an economic and National point of view, free from the bewildering influence of political partisanship. And this leads me to the inevitable conclusion that the question of Confederation and the principles of National unity which guided the Fathers of Confederation in establishing it cannot be solved by political manipulation but only by that mental attitude which comes from understanding and is the result of honest education."

In opening his address Mr. Batty referred to the 40th anniversary of the driving of the last spike in the construction of the Canadian Pacific which had been observed last week and gave a short review of the company's history and that of the Canadian railway situation generally with particular reference to other transcontinental lines. He spoke of confidence and faith in the country as the greatest of all the contributions made by the Canadian Pacific to the wealth of the Dominion. Nothing was wrong with Canada, he said, and he deprecated that kind of sectionalism which cried loudly for recognition though it were detrimental to the unity and solidarity of the country and took no account of the just claims of other portions.

"There is one thing," said Mr. Batty, "which all Canadians can unite upon no matter what their political complexion may be and no matter what their avocation in life or their commercial ambitions may be and that is the need of strengthening this country in manpower as quickly and as surely as possible. The need is imperative both East and West and in all the provinces."

Industries Starved.

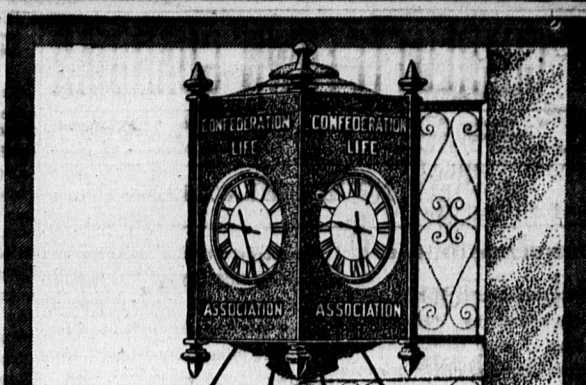

"A distinguished journalist has stated that Canada is the largest undeveloped country in the world. Her industries are being starved because she has not enough population to consume what is produced. She wants many miles of new roads had not enough people to pay for them. She has boundless stores of minerals and other wealth which remain untouched because she has neither the capital nor the people to exploit them. She has heavy and continual National obligations in respect of railway because there are not enough people to pay for or enough freight to carry over the districts served by them."

"There is nothing that will hold our people and invite others so much and so effectively as National prosperity, particularly prosperity among the producers," said Mr. Batty. "If production is made profitable and distribution effective, we have solved our principal National problem. The present population is at present divided practically equally between urban and rural and while it is recognized that our present greatest need is for agriculturalists and agricultural labor, it will be realized that as rural population increases there will be opportunity for increase in the urban population and employment provided for industrial workers and skilled mechanics."

"In a general way results have been so far unsatisfactory because of resulting from restrictions imposed in the West, and there has been considerable adverse publicity in Great Britain and on the continent, decrying Canada as a country suited for immigrants. There has also been a deterring cause in the fact that from certain of the Northern European countries there has been a marked falling off in immigration in Great Britain the wide extension of the dote system and the limitations under which grants are made under the provisions of the Empire Settlement Act have materially reduced the movement of British colonists, and there has been also a little too much centralization at Ottawa which prevented the applications and movements of intending immigrants being expedited.

Apt to Forget. "If I had any suggestion to make in respect to this question, I would suggest that we take it out of the field of statistics and place it in the field of human relations. Who are apt to forget that the people who come to our shores are not so many hundreds of thousands of British or Continentals with or without settlers' effects. They are human beings, members of families who have torn themselves up from old homes, homes in some cases centuries old, to come and live in Canada. To be neighborly if we are willing to be neighborly and to be good good citizens if we only hold out a welcoming hand."

"We realize how great the wrench must be when we learn that some of them are a handful of earth's soil that when the time comes for them to die in Canada it may

Bible Society Executive Holds Meeting

Rev. H. D. Raymond has returned home from Toronto, where he represented the Prince Edward Island branch of the Canadian Bible Society, at a meeting of the Executive held at Bible House on Wednesday. This meeting was of more than ordinary significance in that it was attended by representatives from all parts of Canada, including many distinguished clergymen and Bible Society workers. Among those were, Principal Smith, Vancouver; Rev. Archibald Ward, Saskatoon; Rev. W. J. Southen, Winnipeg; Prof. Anderson of Western University, T. C. Margratt, London, Ontario; Principal O'Meara of Wycliffe College, Toronto; Dr. McLaughlin and Mr. Thos. Mortimer, also of Toronto. From Ottawa there was Dr. Gisborne, who has just retired from the Parliamentary Council, and from Montreal Prof. Armstrong of McGill University and Rev. Dr. Rannels. The Maritime province was represented by Rev. Dr. Thomas, Editor of the United Church organ at Sackville, Rev. W. B. Cooper, General Secretary, and Rev. H. D. Raymond.

It was announced that during the year four hundred thousand copies of the Bible were distributed by the Society in Canada, while throughout the world one million copies were distributed by the American, Scottish and British and Foreign Bible Societies, approximately half of these being distributed by the British and Foreign, the parent society.

Reports were received from the various parts of Canada concerning the celebration of the Tyndale anniversary. In Western Canada the celebration has been already completed. At Toronto in September, an address delivered by Dr. Robert E. Speer was heard by an immense audience, and was broadcast as well. The colportage of the Society's tracts reports full of interest, especially that of Rev. Narcisse McLaron, who travels along the Northern shore of the St. Lawrence, and along part of the Labrador coast, often undergoing severe hardships and facing great danger in the course of his duty. He brought back accounts of extreme want among the Indians of that district, with little being done to relieve them by the government. The religious services he was able to hold in the North were invariably well attended.

Another matter of great importance projected was the development of the experiment made in the Maritime provinces in propagating the course of memorization of the Scriptures. This movement, which originated in P. E. I., was begun at the instigation of the late Mr. W. S. Louison and has since spread also into New Brunswick. Warm approval of this work was expressed by the meeting, and the result is that the Society is now undertaking a fresh study of the method, in an effort to extend its usefulness in their department to all the Provinces.

A resolution of sympathy to the relatives of the late A. M. Featherstone, a member of the Executive, and President of the Upper Canada Bible Society was passed at the meeting.

While Mr. Raymond was in Toronto he also had the pleasure of hearing an address by Rev. I. S. Prokhanoff, principal of the Bible College at Leningrad, Russia. Mr. Prokhanoff is in Canada in connection with an appeal for assistance in the re-organization and development of his country's religious institutions. He stated that there had recently been a remarkable religious revival in spite of the fact that the Soviet was seeking to destroy religion. An attempt was being made now to re-establish some of the impoverished churches and congregations. In the case of his own college, said Mr. Prokhanoff, it had accommodation for fifty students, while the applications for entrance had been more than four hundred in number. This was only one instance of the great need in Russia for more religious institutions.

The Bible Society is practically debared from work in Russia through the prohibition by the government of the importation of Bibles, on the other hand, the printing of the Scriptures inside Russia, has not been made illegal. At the present time there is a great dearth of Bibles and in many cases an entire congregation, and often two congregations in different villages, are wholly dependent on a single volume.
