Germans Abolish Passive Resistance

LONDON, Mar. 22.—A despatch to the Daily Express from Cologne says the French are building a large barracks on the eastern boundary of the Ruhr and that it is interpreted locally as meaning that they intend to stay there permanently.

ESSEN, Mar. 22.—Indications are increasing that the German policy of passive resistance to the French invasion of the Ruhr district has been suspended at least temporarily. German officials have been ordered by the German regional government of Muenster, according to information from French sources to maintain relations with the occupational authorities provided the regional government is first consulted. This means that German city and state authorities are permitted officially to negotiate with the French for the use of telephone and telegraph lines, railroads and public buildings. It means also that the cities are permitted to accept French requisitions and that officials are permitted to obey orders for the French. The order if confirmed will permit the coal barons to negotiate with the French for deliveries and most important of all it will annul the Berlin government's order punishing Germans who collaborate with the French. It may be in effect a declaration of a state of armistice.

alone do men find the power to give such teaching effective expression in their lives. This, Sir, is my view of this question. On the mission field there are Christians in the making. Amid much weakness and backsliding there is a great love on the part of many for Christ as their Saviour. Further, while we acknowledge the beauty and idealism of the great, ancient religions, and gladly recognize the presence of Truth amidst much error, we can only regard them as a preparation for the still more wonderful revelation of "Truth as it is in Jesus." Surely there is still room for missionary sacrifice and service, on the part of our churches. Other phases of this great subject present themselves to me, but I must call a halt. But, Sir, are the "heathen" and the "hyprocrite" found only where the palm and lotus grow? Are there none in Britain, in Canada, in P. E. I.?

I am, Sir, etc.,

When West Kent School Was Built

The Guardian is indebted to Miss E. E. MacKinnon, until her retirement recently, one of Charlottetown's best known and best teachers, for the following clipping from a newspaper of the time on the laying of the corner stone of the present West Kent School. The ceremony of laying the foundation stone of the new school at the West End took place this forenoon. At half-past ten o'clock a procession of over twelve hundred school children was formed at the Prince Street School, and headed by Galbraith's Band, marched to the ground of the ceremony. On their arrival at the grounds an immense audience was present, among whom were His Honor the Lieutenant Governor and aids, Chief Justice Palmer, three members of the City School Board, Messrs. Hodgson, Handrahan, McDonald, Longworth, Dawson, Kennedy and Dr. Johnson; the Hon. C. Pope the Leader of the Government, the Provincial Secretary the Commissioner of Public Works, and a large number of prominent citizens. The proceedings were opened by Hon. J. Longworth, Chairman of the School Board who, after a few brief remarks, introduced Mr. E. J. Hodgson, who delivered an excellent oration. He commenced by giving a slight definition of his line of policy regarding the School Act, and remarked that no matter what resistance an individual might give to a measure, it was his duty—as a loyal subject—to uphold that measure as soon as it appeared on the Statute Book. He then went fully into the benefits derived from education, etc. He was followed by the Hon. L. H. Davies, Chief Justice Palmer, and latterly His Honor the Lieutenant Governor, all of whom made brief remarks on the subject. A few national airs were then sung, after which His Honor the Lieutenant Governor proceeded to lay the stone. The following inscription, together with a copy of the "Public Schools Act, 1877," and a report of the Board of Education for the year 1877 were enclosed in a bottle which was deposited beneath the foundation stone:—

Eat and Get Thin

This is turning an old phrase face about, but modern methods of reducing fat have made this revision possible.

If you are overfat and also averse to physical exertion, if you are likewise fond of the table and still want to reduce your excess flesh several pounds, do this: Go to your druggist (or write the Marmola Company, 4612 Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Mich.) and give him (or send them) one dollar. For this modest amount of money the druggist will put you in the way of satisfying your ambition for a nice, trim figure. He will hand you a case of Marmola Prescription Tablets (compounded in accordance with the famous Marmola Prescription) one of which you must take after each meal and at bedtime until you begin to lose your fat steadily and easily. Then continue the treatment until your weight is what you desire. Marmola Prescription Tablets are not only harmless but really beneficial to the general health. You don't need starvation diet or weakening exercises. Just go on eating what you like, leave exercising to the athletes, but take your little tablet faithfully, and without a doubt that lumpy flesh will quickly take unto itself wings, leaving behind your natural self, neatly clothed in firm flesh and trim muscles.

Happenings of the Week

Under the able presidency of Mrs. W. S. Stewart and her capable staff of officers, the Ladies' Aid of the G.W.V.A. held one of the nicest teas of the season in their rooms on Tuesday, and notwithstanding the intensity of the weather it was a splendid success socially and financially, and reflects great credit on the ladies interested who are so faithfully helping the returned boys.

Mr. J. J. McKinnon has returned from Montreal, where his daughter, Mrs. Borden, is being treated in the Royal Victoria Hospital. It is hoped Mrs. Borden will soon return home quite restored in health.

Mrs. W. K. Rogers, who has been on a most enjoyable trip to California with Mr. Rogers, is now visiting her sister, Mrs. McKelvie in Montreal. Mr. Rogers returned home Thursday evening.

Mrs. Theodore Lantz, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Florence Lantz, has gone up to Montreal, where Miss Lantz will undergo treatment in the Royal Victoria Hospital, where it is hoped she will soon regain her usual robust health.

Congratulations are being extended to Miss Mollie Currie and Miss Pearl E. Bell, of this city, and Miss Ethel Johnstone, of Montague, who graduated from the Royal Victoria Hospital on Wednesday of last week.

Hon. A. B. Copp, secretary of State, and Mrs. Copp, entertained on Saturday evening at a dinner party which they held at the Royal Ottawa Golf Club. Dancing was later enjoyed by the guests. The table was adorned with baskets containing pink tulips and carnations, and the candle shades were also of pink. Covers were laid for forty guests, these including Hon. J. E. Sinclair and Miss Beatrice McKinnon, of this city.
