"Seas Beneath"
Gripping Drama
At Prince Edward

With its frequent dramatic mo-
graphy, "The Seas Beneath," a vivid romance of submarine warfare, opened at the Prince Edward Theatre yesterday to an enthusiastic audience, with George O'Brien giving one of the best performances of his career in the leading role.

This remarkable movie-tone offering does many things. For the first time in talkie history, it presents graphically the struggle of the Allied navies against the submarine menace. It takes the spectator below the surface of the seas, using a newly-invented submarine camera, and actually into the complicated interiors of underwater fighters, with some of its tensest moments filmed against the background of a submarine's control room and torpedo room. It gives a notable insight into the psychology of naval men of both countries - men fighting bravely and without bitterness against their enemies. And finally, in the person of the blue-eyed and flaxen-haired Marion Lessing, it presents the speaking screen with a new and highly promising actress of stellar rank.

As the sister of the U-boat commander, torn between a new-found love and a lifelong devotion to her country, Miss Lessing gives a notable performance in her feature debut and one that is perfectly matched with George O'Brien's excellent work as the commander of the little flotilla, out to destroy the U-boat in question. In a part requiring the greatest command of technique he triumphs. In fact, the entire cast is remarkable, with the honors, perhaps, going also to Warren Hymen, William Collier, Sr. By all means, don't miss "The Seas Beneath."

"SLEEPY CAT," The Guardian's new serial story, starts today.

SOCIAL EVENING - The Benevolent Irish Society social evening was held as usual on Wednesday evening, with one of the largest crowding of the present series, upwards of two hundred and fifty people in their large and spacious hall, Canadian Bank of Commerce Building. The auction forty five game was hotly contested with twenty six tables of cards. The winners were: First Ladies, Mrs. Simmons; second, Mrs.
Charles Bolsner; girls first, Mr. A. A.
Cosgrove, second, Mr. Anthony Gallant. Lucky Table, Mr. Michael Trainor. On completion of the card game, two hours of old time dances were indulged in, with forty couples on the floor, enjoying the real old time dances of which the B. I. S. is noted. The society orchestra, S.
Trainor, A. McKearney and S. Elliot at the piano, were all that could be asked for. It is the intention of the society to carry on these social evenings for the month of May on Wednesday nights.

FAMOUS ENGLISH
THEATRE COMPANY
TO TOUR CANADA

(Canadian Press)
TORONTO, Ont., April 30 - Sir Barry Jackson's Birmingham Repertory Company will tour Canada next season opening in Ottawa on or about Oct. 19. Cyril Phillips, Sir Barry's general manager, is now on his way to the Pacific coast, stopping off long enough in Toronto to arrange with Ernest M. Rawley, for years connected with the Trans-Canada Circuit, to take charge of the forthcoming tour, which will carry the company from coast to coast.

Among the contemplated plays are "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," originally produced by Sir Barry at the Malvern Festival, "Dear Brutus," "Yellow Sands" and "Quality Street." It is quite probable also that the bulk of the company will be made up from the personnel of this year's Malvern Festival, which is being held this August.

Sir Barry will himself most likely lecture through Canada, under the auspices of the National Council of Education, prior to the arrival of his company.

Of special interest is the fact that Sir Barry has expressed the desire to open the Canadian tour in the Capital, especially as the Earl of Besborough, the new Governor-General, is so keenly interested in the theatre.

FAMILY PRIZES
RELIGIOUS RELICS

(By Barry J. Holloway, United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW ORLEANS, April 29. (U.P.) -A fragment of wood, encased in a time-worn silver, cross-shaped, silver shield, is the greatest treasure of an old New Orleans family.

Tradition of the Dr. Joseph M.
Tolliver family has it the small, worn piece of wood in the silver cross is a fragment of the True Cross on which Jesus Christ was crucified.

With the passing of almost a century since it came in the family, however, all documents that may have come with the cross have been lost.

Tolliver now owns the cross. It was left him by his mother, a devout Catholic woman of old New Orleans, who married Angel M. Tolliver, a tobacco buyer who came to New Orleans.

Shortly after their marriage, they were in New York, according to the Tolliver family tradition, and a great affliction befell the Archbishop of New York, the Most Reverend John Hughes. His affliction probably was what is today known as granulated eye lids, or possibly trachoma. Treatment by physicians caused him to lose his eyesight.

Mrs. Tolliver invited the Archbishop to her home and offered to treat his eyes with a homemade remedy, made simply with rosemary sprigs.

Tradition continues that the Archbishop was healed, and his gratitude had no bounds.

The Archbishop presented Mrs.
Tolliver with the small silver cross, inside which was a fragment of wood, sealed with the seal of the Pope, impressed on sealing wax. The Archbishop told Mrs. Tolliver it had been given him by the hand of "His Holiness, the Pope," on a visit to Rome.

The Most Reverend John W. Shaw, Archbishop of New Orleans, has examined the little silver cross and its fragment of wood, but said it would be impossible to know if it was a true relic without proper documents.

OUR KOREAN HOSPITAL

Dr. Florence Murray

The work of the hospital goes on from day to day and year to year seemingly without any very spectacular progress, and yet, when we compare things as they are, today with what they were five years ago we thank God, take courage, and look forward to what we hope things will be five years hence.

Then, there was one full time evangelistic worker in the hospital. Now there are four, two of them are always at work in the country. Then the other members of the hospital staff took part in the work of the local churches only. Now, they regularly supply three outside places as well.

Besides two graduate nurses, there were then no others worthy the name of nurse. Nursing was considered such a low occupation that suitable women could not be persuaded to engage in it. Last spring there were seventeen applicants for four places in the training school that now exists and the nursing service has improved correspondingly.

Then, there was in addition to the foreign superintendent, one young inexperienced medical graduate. Now, Dr. Koh is head of the surgical department and Dr. Ahn of the medical.

Then, there was no dormitory for the nurses nor residence for the doctors. Now, the nurses have a comfortable dormitory and there is a good house for one of the doctors.

Then, we often longed for an X-ray apparatus. Now, we are daily thankful for it. Then the laboratory was in an embryonic stage. Today it has developed until many more tests can be made, proving of great value to the patient and doctor.

Then, a gap in an unsightly barbed wire fence served as an entrance to the hospital. Now, there is a neat brick fence and a proper gateway.

Then, hours were sometimes spent in a rickshaw getting to an emergency case in the country, or coming back from it again jolting about in an ox-cart. Now, it is possible also to give some time to outside work and illustrated lectures on public health subjects have been given ten times in surrounding villages in the past few weeks.

What has God wrought. And what may not be expected in the next five years? Surely we may look forward to a kitchen for the hospital, a drying room in connection with the laundry, an addition to the nurses dormitory, a house for the second doctor, and a ward for tuberculosis patients over the isolation building.

"Ask and it shall be given you - good measure, pressed down, running over." The hospital tries to give of its best in loving and skillful service to all in need, and shall go on thus seeking to serve the Master in serving these children, counting for his needs on Him who said, "Freely ye have received, freely give." - Korean

Secretary's Report
The following report was presented by Miss Amy Earle, Secretary: LADIES AND GENTLEMEN - For twenty-one years the Free Dispensary has stood, Summer and Winter, an outpost of help.

The reports we read contain rows of figures and entries. A background these statistics of cases have - a background of sickness and discouragement
- of unemployment - of stricken bread-winners - of aged and invalids - and in every case the twin sceptre in the horns is poverty, an ill thing with sickness. A story of every City this, but a story softened as often as here, by the presence of such as the Free Dispensary - to whose personnel the number of cases apply. Need brings them to the door and their claim is never disregarded.

Unusually large numbers of unemployed have swelled the list of those sharing our fund this Winter. When Mr. S. - arrived in Charlottetown, he at once started to look for work.
He had heard from so many sources
- there was no unemployment on Prince Edward Island. At first he was able to obtain an odd job or two, but nothing permanent and then he lost the army of the workless. Did Mr. S. - make a mistake in coming here? Yes! but then, he had no money to return and must try and make the best of things. A case of this kind the Dispensary has helped over and over again.

The total receipts for the year amounted to $1931.57 and while we appreciate the generous contributions of the public towards this work, nevertheless the Dispensary could make good use of much more money each year.

We gave 570 orders for nourishment and food supplies, 341 orders for drugs and filled numerous Doctors' prescriptions. The coal fund was the smallest in years - only $194.00, or about half the usual al-
- amount - so it did not last long, and consequently many were disappointed. We co-operated with the Churches and other Societies and managed to supply most of the deserving.

657 visits were made.

Sometimes in case of illness I have gone as many as three times to a home in one morning. I found the patient needed a Doctor, medicine and nourishment and this had to be attended to at once.

A tuberculous patient who was very ill, just didn't know what she needed and a little this and that at short intervals to try and tempt her appetite, made it necessary to see her quite often.

To one in very poor circumstances (sometimes four bare walls) there is little apparent in life, and all we can do is to visit and help pass the weary days a little more comfortably by giving assistance of some kind.

We look forward every Christmas to the co-operation of our friends in our work, as it undoubtedly helps to make the Christmas season a very much brighter event for many people than it could possibly be for them otherwise.

There was a splendid response to the Christmas appeal which enabled us to give the children their usual treat and to send out dinners to deserving families and some emergency cases coming in on Christmas Eve, it was possible to attend to, and make delivery.

We appreciate very much a contribution of milk brought in every few days throughout the winter from a generous friend in the country. As you know it is a great help, as we are constantly in contact with invalids and undernourished children who find it almost impossible to get the necessary amount of milk.

One gets very close to the essential kindness and helpfulness of the poor in work of this kind. Although

SECRETARY TO OIL
OPERATOR WILLED MILLION

EUTLER, Pa., April 30. (U.P.) - Because of her many years of service as secretary to George E. McGill, wealthy oil operator, Miss Phoebe Perkins has been bequeathed the greater part of his estate valued at $1,000,000.

McGill was a pioneer operator in the oil fields of Pennsylvania. He was noted chiefly for his development of the Speecheley sand, which enhanced the petroleum industry in the state.

Miss Perkins was McGill's secretary for years. In addition to a large share of the stocks he held, Miss Perkins will receive the McGill homestead in Karris City near here.

there are names of families that come up each year, there are always changes. Many have succeeded in re-establishing themselves to different extents. Some have actually brought in small donations towards obtaining for others the help they so greatly appreciated themselves in the past.

We are often asked the question "Are there not many worthless people applying for help from the Dispensary?" Sometimes it is well to answer a question by telling incidents that really happen, so I will give two that come to my mind.

It happened that a little girl of needy parents, had the good fortune to find a twenty dollar bill on the street. In great joy she took it home to her mother. On my rounds next morning, the mother reported the case, but admitted she was then in great straits herself - not only had she a family of eight young children, but her husband was ill as well.

She wanted to get information about the loss of the money, as she wished to do what was right and return it.

We decided to watch the papers for any notice concerning it, and this appeared speedily. The money was then taken to be returned to the rightful owner, who, upon hearing the facts, was only too willing to offer a reward of $5.00. This sum was gratefully received by the one who had acted so honourably.

Another woman was given a half ton of coal - the first time she had ever applied - and a few days later, brought in a large bottle of preserve, as sort of a thankoffering. The assistance given just then, meant so much to her, as she had been out of work for sometime.

There is another phase of the work. During the past year, I, on behalf of a woman in this City, not in touch with her son in the United States, through the Chief of Police and informed him of the state of affairs in which his mother was living, with the result that the son had his mother placed in a comfortable home and assumed the cost, which is about $5.00 per week.

Funds were getting so low towards the end of the year that we had to give out very small orders to enable us to carry on until the envelope collection on Saturday, May 2nd, when we trust we will collect a substantial amount.

I wish to thank one and all for co-operating with me during the months that are passed.

Respectfully submitted,
AMY C. EARLE
President's Report

The following report was presented by Mr. W. F. Tidmarsh, the president:

I am pleased to be able to report that during the year past, the Free Dispensary has been able to continue to perform its useful philanthropic work in this community. The contributions from our citizens is ample evidence that its usefulness is appreciated. The contributions for its maintenance has been maintained with surprising regularity.

The coal fund, instituted by the late Dr. J. T. Jenkins, and continued to generously by his descendants, has shown a marked decrease this year. The history of this fund shows that in mild winters the contributions are much less than in severe winters, which may in part, at least, account for the falling off this year, but there are other contribution cases as well, that mitigate against this fund. It is not receiving the full and undivided support of all the entities in our community, the Coal Fund is a very useful and highly necessary adjunct to the Free Dispensary and should commend itself to the generosity of the community as a whole.

The co-operation of the Free Dispensary and the Childrens Aid Society, in matters of administration, each retaining its own identity, but employing one district nurse to co-ordinate the activities of both institutions may result to mutual advantage. I recommend this for your consideration at this meeting.

The Tuberculosis Sanitarium, when in operation, and the Red Cross will not relieve the Free Dispensary of any of its financial obligations. It is the function of the highly trained and efficient nurses provided by the Red Cross to give those cases of tuberculosis and other diseases, and advise the patients how each individual case should be treated but the Red Cross makes no provisions to supply food, nourishment, or medicine to the indigent, and the Free Dispensary will need all the funds available to provide these necessities.

The annual envelope collection will be preceded with as follows: The envelopes will be distributed on Saturday, May 2nd, and will be collected on Monday, May 4th. As this is the Dispensary's principal source of revenue, it is confidently believed that our citizens will respond with their usual generosity.
