THE ANNALU MEETING OF ST. JAMES CHURCH

In the illness of T. C. James, Clerk of the session the sessional reports were read by Rev. Mr. Fullerton. The report of the session rejoiced in the continued spirituality notwithstanding the growing materialism of the age. The devotional exercises of the church were well sustained and the different societies and the Sunday school have done excellent work. Reference was also made to the contributions and other matters in connection with the congregation.

The reports of the other organizations of the church showed they were all in a healthy state doing good work and adding liberally to the revenues of the church.

C. B. FOSTER AS A RAILROAD MAN

Speaking of C. B. Foster, so well known to this city, The Toronto World says:

The recent appointment of Charles B. Foster as successor to the late A. H. Notman in the post of C. P. R. district passenger agent at Toronto, is another of the frequent reminders of the truth of the saying that he who would succeed in a railway career must begin young, "the younger the better." Mr. Foster can look back upon a record of 13 years spent continuously in the service of the C. P. R. and he is still well under 35 years of age. When it is said that the territory over which he is now called upon to exert supervision extends over all Ontario west of and including Kingston and Shabro Lake, to Detroit, and also south of North Bay and Detroit City, it can be easily seen that a wide range of responsibility is opened up, and that the post of overseer of all the passenger arrangements for so extensively and large traveled a district is not a gilded sinecure. The post calls for a man of quick, decisive judgment, almost unlimited executive capacity, and, lastly, tact. To be at the helm in the passenger department of any road demands those qualities, and upon their possession in greater or less degree depends the measure of success.

Mr. Foster's record speaks for itself. He had always been in the atmosphere of passenger tickets and his railway lore is of the concentrated kind. His 13 years' experience has been all along one line, but, then, that one line is a life study in itself. Getting into a rut is a thing impossible or nearly so, when it comes to the matter of handling passenger transportation. The problems that rise and the contingencies that confront are divers and peculiar, and to straighten out the kinks all those gifts above spoken of are required.

Borns in Kingston, Kings Co., New Brunswick, Sept. 30, 1871, Mr. Foster entered the C. P. R. passenger department at St. John, N. B., when under 20 years of age, as stenographer. Within eighteen months he became senior clerk in that department, and in September, 1893, was promoted to the position of travelling passenger agent. During the six years which followed, Mr. Foster remained, thus accumulating in that time a thorough knowledge of transportation technique, and becoming ultimately acquainted with the ins and outs of it, as specially concerned the maritime provinces and part of New England. In July, 1899, he was appointed chief clerk in the department at St. John, and was given an opportunity to use an executive way the knowledge assimilated by him as traveling representative. That he was enabled to do this effectively is shown by the fact that in February, 1902, or two and a half years after becoming chief clerk to the district passenger agent at St. John, he was chosen to fill the latter important position. It gave him charge of territory east of Oldtown, Maine, and Lewis, Que., including New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, P. E. Island, and Newfoundland. His duties embraced the looking after of the C. P. R. Winter Atlantic steamship service, and the summer excursion traffic, neither being a small item.

The death of A. H. Notman, one of the most popular railroad men in Canada, made a gap in the ranks of the C. P. R. officials which required an able man to fill. That Mr. Foster was asked to be Mr. Notman's successor was but the forging of another link in a career of the rapid, steady and consistent progress. After thirteen years spent in the maritime provinces, he was called upon last November to enter a new field, and to deal with problems more complex. It need only be said that his work has already abundantly justified the wisdom of the appointment and that his personal popularity is no mean factor in the success he is achieving in Toronto.

GOVERNMENT ICE BREAKER FAILURE

QUEBEC, Jan. 13.—The government ice-breaker Montcalm has failed in the task of breaking the formation of the ice bridge at Cap Rouge. It is announced though that the steamer will return to the task.

Mrs. Bishop's Success

It's easy to make bad bread even though you use the very best flour.

The whole secret of good bread is not merely good flour.

The way it's made is most important. This is why some people do not get such good results as others in their bread baking.

It is to quite an extent a question of method.

Mrs. F. B. Bishop, of Lawrencetown, N. S., made a batch of bread with "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" FLOUR. She made it according to directions and the bread was good.

She made a second, a third and many other batches, and a few days ago she wrote us that she found "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" FLOUR the best flour she had ever used.

This lady got good results because:

- 1st, She had the right flour.
- 2nd, She made her bread according to "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" directions.

Had she failed in the latter her opinion of the flour might have been very different.

Both were essential to secure desirable results.

That Mrs. Bishop succeeded so well proves that others may do equally well and certainly those who have seen the best bread produced from "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" must admit that it is the finest bread in the world and worth going to some trouble to procure.

It is at least worth the trouble of getting "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" flour and making bread from it in the "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" way.

The "ROYAL HOUSEHOLD" way is described in a leaflet which will be sent you for the asking.
