BEDEQUE

The many friends of Miss Lillian Millar, teacher in the Centreville Bedeque School, will regret very much to hear that on account of ill health she is unable to continue the term of teaching. Miss Millar, returned to her home in Lot 16 last week. The school was very fortunate in securing Mr. Ross Wright to continue teaching for the remainder of the term.

The Young Peoples Society of the Centreville Bedeque Baptist Church held a very successful meeting in the vestry of the church on Wednesday evening, May 8th. The President, Miss Selma Myers, presided. Scripture Lesson was then read by Mr. Douglas Affleck and the explanation by Miss Winnifreda Wright. Roll Call was responded to by some twenty members. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The business portion of the meeting followed, and the purchasing of Young Peoples Society pins were discussed. On account of some error by the program committee no program was prepared. A very interesting contest was immensely enjoyed by the members conducted by Miss Selma Myers, followed by a sing song by all present. The National Anthem brought a very enjoyable evening to a close. Miss Jennie MacCallum, organist.

The following is the standing of the Chelton School for the month of April: Grade VI.—1, Garnet Affleck; 2, Penzie Richards; 3, Austin Bears; 4, Fred Sherry.

Grade IV.—1, Jean MacCardie; 2, Rita Gardner; 3, Whymman Rogers; 4, Myrtle Rogers.

Grade II.—1, Ralph Sherry; 2, Stanley Rogers; 3, Calvin Clark; 4, Lewis Rogers.

Perfect attendance: Garnet Affleck, Calvin Clark and Jean MacCardie.

Teacher, Gladys M. Murphy.

The Scout Troop of Central Bedeque and Freetown has had great success in its meeting since opening last fall. They have been practicing for a concert which they hope to present in the Central Bedeque Hall within a few weeks time. The scouts are rapidly progressing and they are looking forward to a good audience.

Mr. John Croken of Kinkora was a visitor to Charlottetown recently, visiting some relatives and friends.

Hon. Mr. Horace Wright, M. L. A., of Lower Bedeque, returned to his home on Thursday from attending the Legislature in Charlottetown.

Mr. Leonard Murphy, teacher in Norboro School, spent the week end at his home in Newton.

Miss Mable Millar, Principal of the Central Bedeque School, spent the week-end very pleasantly at her home in Lot 16.

Mr. T. J. Inman, Central Bedeque, suffered a very painful accident a short time ago, when a nail which he was working with entered his hand causing a very sore wound.

Miss Gertrude Howatt, of Victoria was a recent visitor to Centreville Bedeque.

The many friends of Mr. Artemas Schurman, Centreville Bedeque will regret to learn that his condition still remains about the same, but he is suffering no pain.

The Traveller's Rest Dramatic Club staged their third act comedy drama, entitled "The Hand of the Law" in the Central Bedeque Hall on Friday evening, May 8th, in the presence of a very large audience. This is one of the best love dramas ever staged in this hall and was capably and efficiently portrayed by all who took part in it. The excellent order which prevailed showed that the stage players held the attention of all from the opening lines to the final curtain. Moving between laughter and excitement, darkened by mystery and lightened by nobility and tenderness, its story of Edith strikes home to every heart. The scene is of the most thrilling within amateur production for the mystery and love that clouds the home and family of Hazelton's, is cleared away and the drama moves swiftly to a close that satisfies every heart present. Plenty of comedy enriched the play capably provided by light-hearted Sally Snodgrass, maid of all work, and Abner Judkins, a tin badge detective and employee of Hazelton's. The specialties between the acts are worthy of special mention, which consisted of piano solos, duettes, recitations solos and Master Charles MacDougall of St. Eleanors sang very sweetly "Come, Lie, I Ippi I a." He was applauded and as an encore sang "How do you do everybody! How do you do! and as the little lad left the stage, he was again applauded with more anxiety than ever for another song, when once more he appeared and sang "When the Work's All Done Next Fall." Violin music with piano accompaniment was greatly favoured by the audience, not forgetting, "The Musical Dog," step-dancing given by a talented young lady from Traveller's Rest. The cast of characters were as follows: Abner Judkins, a tin badge detective and the employee of the Hazeltons, Bert Foole, Sally Snodgrass, maid of all work, Edna Urch, Ezra Chapman, a village lad, Ronald MacDonald, Mrs. Reuban Hazelton, the lady of the home, Miss Mary E. Heffel, Edith Hazelton, her daughter, Miss Evelyn Pullman, Squire Evans, owner of the grist mill, James Marchbank, Reuban Hazelton, a victim of drink, John C. Pullman, Luke Higgins, Sheriff of Bradford County, Mr. John S. Driscoll, Act 1, showing the Hazeltons home at Bradford, Act 2, showing the Sheriff's Office, Bradford County Jail, an evening three weeks later, Act 3, Showing the Prosecuting Attorney's Office, Bradford County Court House. Daybreak the following day.

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Ray Lidstone on Wednesday, April 15th, when Mrs. Lidstone entertained the Lower Freetown Women's Institute. The president presided and called the meeting to order by singing the Institute Ode. It was moved and seconded that Miss Muriel Burns be appointed to secure a program for the district convention. Roll call next night to be answered with recipes for supper dishes. Collection amounting to 81 cents. Programme for next meeting was to be piecing of the Institute quilt. The next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Isaac Burns. The programme for the evening was as follows: Reading by Mrs. F. L. Cairns; reading by Mrs. Gordon Burns; jokes by Mrs. J. J. Stavert; reading by Miss Muriel Burns, entitled "A Perfect Husband"; reading by Miss Mildred Jardine, entitled "Tribulation of a Bachelor." Lunch was then served by the hostess and was greatly enjoyed by all.

Mr. and Mrs. George Frizzell, of Wilnot Valley, have returned from an extended honeymoon trip to Montreal and other Canadian cities, and were very cordially welcomed by a large crowd of cheveriers, who greeted Mr. and Mrs. Frizzell at her home and were nicely entertained.

The farmers are busily engaged in the spring work, plowing, harrowing, manure spreading, etc. They state that the ground is in excellent condition for seeding, and they anticipate bumper crops.

The regular Sunday morning church service in the Central Bedeque Baptist Church, May 3rd, was quite largely attended. Rev. A. G. Crowe, pastor, preached from the subject "What the Dispensation of the Fullness Times Mean," and gave an eloquent discourse. Following the service Sunday School had a fair attendance. This being the first Sunday for the children's service. The evening service was held in the Freetown Baptist Church. Special music and singing was very appropriately rendered by the choir. Rev. A. G. Crowe addressed his congregation on the subject "A Millstone or a Crown, Which?" A fair congregation attended this service.

Miss Agnes MacQuaid, of Charlottetown, spent the past week in Emerald, the guest of her sister, Mrs. F. E. Murphy.

Mr. Aden Mulligan, Kinkora, was a visitor to Central Bedeque on Friday evening.

Mrs. George E. Wood and charming little daughter Ruth, of Boston, are spending some very pleasant holidays with friends and relatives in Kinkora.

The many friends of Mrs. Charles Black, Centreville Bedeque, are pleased to learn that she is able to be out and about again. The mildness of the weather and lovely sun has greatly aided the recovery of Mrs. Black.

Mr. Arthur Lamb, of Summerside, spent a very pleasant Sunday with friends in Kinkora.

Mr. Ross Wright, student of the Dalhousie University, Halifax, has returned to Lower Bedeque to spend his summer holidays with his parents, the Hon. Mr. and Mrs. Horace Wright, Lower Bedeque.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Murphy, of Emerald, were welcome visitors to Charlottetown last Monday.

Miss Hester Inman, teacher at the Cornwall School, is at present spending a few days at home, owing to illness of pupils in her school.—B.

Dad—Whew! That spanking I gave you tired me all out.

Son—Yes, but you can sit down and rest.

MURRAY HARBOUR NORTH

Many of our people are at the shore engaged either in the fishing for lobster or in the factory, putting up the catch into cans. It is said the lobsters are larger in size than most years but the quantity smaller so no live lobsters are being sold for shipment in that condition.

The women of the Presbyterian congregation here turned out in large force on Friday, the 8th inst., and cleaned the manse for the coming of Miss Currie, daughter of the pastor, who is expected from Toronto next week. While the manse has not been occupied for seven or more years it is in splendid condition and no doubt will serve the purpose of the present generation or as long as services are maintained in this part of the Island.

At a meeting of the congregation on Wednesday evening it was decided to recognize the One Hundred and Twenty-fifth anniversary of the holding of the first Presbyterian services in this part of the Island. The date for the Sabbath service is July 5th and it is expected further recognition of the fact will be made by the Presbytery of Prince Edward Island during that or the following week. In recognition of the original church being situated at the old cemetery services will be held on the following Sabbath on the old site. The concluding chapters of history of the congregation will be published as the already written portion has been read with deep and wide-spread interest by all parties and a few salient facts have since been discovered.

Our enterprising fox farmers Messrs W. S. McClure and Harry Reid are engaged in putting a new woven wire and picket fence along the front of their properties here. In spite of the talk about general depression such things bespeak a different tone and the neater and more serviceable improvement may stir up others to do likewise.

Mrs. A. K. Millar has been on the sick list for a few days past but is now, we trust, on the way to recovery.

Mr. Samuel Llewellyn, whose long illness was noted in these columns passed peacefully away on Sabbath afternoon last at his residence here. The funeral services are expected to take place on Wednesday the 13th of May and will be held at the house by Rev. P. Watson Currie who attended him faithfully through his illness.

Mother's Day was very fittingly observed here at the morning service on Sabbath, May 10th at 10.30 a. m. The printed Order of Service as prepared by the committee of the General Assembly on Sabbath School and Young Peoples Societies formed the basis of the service and the hymns, prayer and responsive readings were entered in to very heartily by the mothers of the congregation who occupied the centre pews in a body and formed the majority of the choir. Special musical numbers were a quartette selection by Mrs. W. G. McClure, Mrs. Laurier McClure and Messrs James P. Clow and Robertson Kennedy, entitled "Mothers Prayer." Another selection entitled "Mothers Prayers have followed me" was sung by the full choir.

The address of the day on "Noble Mothers of the Bible" was given by the pastor on John XIV 25-27 emphasizing the mutual relationships of mothers and sons. Next Sabbath the subject of Home will be dealt with and service will be held both morning and evening.

At the time of writing Mrs. Ben Rickards, whose illness has been mentioned, continues in a very low condition and her recovery is despaired of.

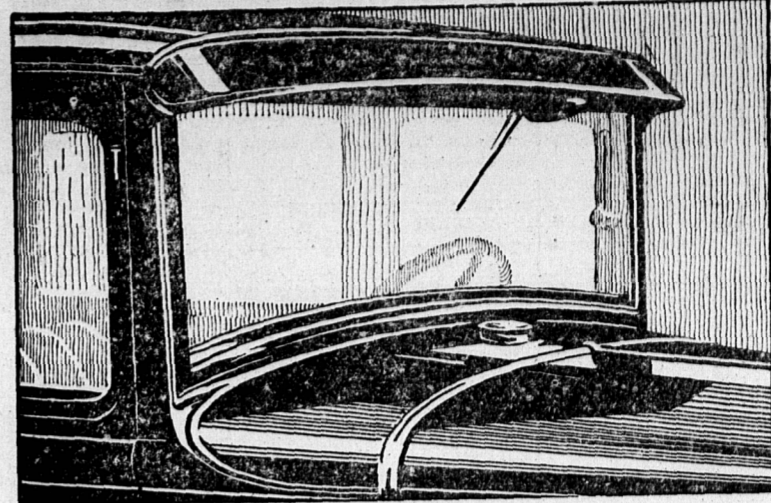

The Women's Institutes of these parts will hold their monthly meetings during the coming week. Pembroke Institute will meet on Monday evening, May 18th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. T. McClure. While this is outside of the local bounds it is a special invitation in return for many others. The Murray Harbour North Institute will meet in the Orange Hall on Tuesday evening, the 19th, as house cleaning season is on in many of the homes of the members. The Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian Church will meet on Wednesday the 6th inst. in the schoolroom of the Church. In the unavoidable absence of Mrs. David Senebaugh, the President, the chair was taken by Miss Cartney J. McClure, the 1st vice president.

The annual meeting will be held in the church in June when officers for the following year will be elected. M.

INSTITUTE MEETING

The monthly meeting of the Launching Women's Institute was held on April 30th at the home of Mrs. Charlotte Yoston, with fourteen members in attendance. The meeting opened with the singing of the Ode, followed by roll call, answered

FORD SAFETY

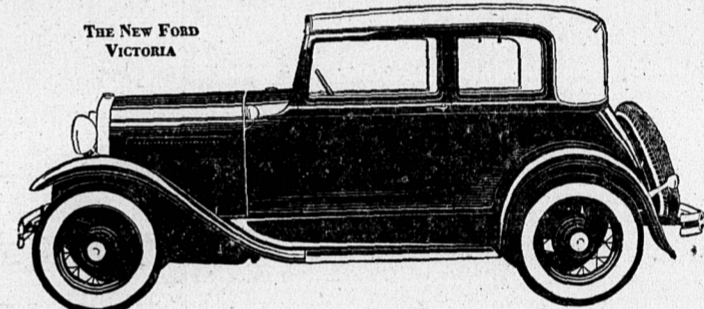

Shatterless glass windshield has saved many lives in collisions

EVERY new Ford is equipped with a shatterless glass windshield. This minimizes the dangers of flying glass. It has saved many lives and prevented countless injuries in automobile accidents.

The shatterless glass windshield is just one of many features that make the new Ford a value far above the price. Others are the silent, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, sturdy steel body construction, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, more than twenty ball and roller bearings, extensive use of fine steel forgings, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, torque-tube drive, three-quarter floating rear axle, Rustless Steel, and unusual accuracy in manufacturing.

In addition, you save many dollars because of low first cost of the new Ford, low cost of operation, up-keep and service, and low yearly depreciation.
