BANK ROBBERY WELL PLANNED

(Canadian Press) WINNIPEG, Dec. 5.—An interesting phase of the Plum Coulee murder and robbery, showing that the crime had been carefully planned, has come to light. It will be remembered that H. M. Arnold, a native of Sussex, N. B., was shot to death while defending the funds of the Bank of Montreal against an armed bandit. A man named Krafogenko is now wanted by the police for the crime. A few days ago a man resembling him ordered from the Hennessy Smith Arm Company here, guns and ammunition to the value of $100 for the Plum Coulee Hardware Company. There being no company of that name, the goods were delivered to Mrs. Stewart, who keeps the only hardware store in town. The next night Mrs. Stewart's store was burglarized and nothing stolen but the guns and ammunition which, apparently, were used in the attack on the bank.

THE WILD MAN OF THE WOODS

A remarkable story of courage and admirable determination, of vitality and extraordinary self denial, was told last evening at the People's Theatre by Mr. Joseph Knowles, "the man of the woods," who gave a highly interesting account of his voluntary existence, in an absolutely primitive state, in the wilds of Maine for a period of two months. Recently Mr. Knowles undertook simply by way of experiment and perhaps in gratification of a peculiar whim, to enter the woods of the State of Maine and to live therein for two months without any of the conveniences of civilization, procuring and taking his food just as the savage in his natural, untutored condition might do. On the 4th of August, Mr. Knowles said in a lecture which he delivered preparatory to the presentation of moving picture films illustrating life in the woods, he entered the forest at King and Bartlett Camp, fording the St. Lawrence stream. After having bade his friends goodbye he relieved himself of everything he had and, with nothing whatever but his empty hands, forged ahead into the thick growth of giant pines, determined to vindicate his claim that man could exist without sustenance from the outside world. He explained his method of catching trout, which formed the principal part of his meals; how he obtained fire by friction; how he accidentally, but very opportunely, killed a young deer by mistake; and how he caught a bear by making a trap similar to those used by the Indians. He described the rude implements which he improvised to go about his "domestic" work and the manner in which he prepared his meat. On three occasions he was tempted sorely to quit the forest, but each time his stronger will prevailed and he remained; and at the end of six weeks he had ascertained to his entire satisfaction that a "primitive man" was not an impossibility. He wrote weekly reports of his experience, using as his pen his paper strips of bark from the birch, which reports he left at various points in his peregrinations for those who were interested in him and his eccentric expedition—in fact for the newspaper men—to pick up. In these reports he stated that he had infringed the game laws of the State in spite of the fact that he had been refused a permit, and he expected to find parties hunting him. One party did actually go after him but he evaded it. On the 4th of October, in accordance with a notification which he had given before, he emerged at Negantig, Quebec, where he was enthusiastically received and welcomed.

After the lecture, which was warmly applauded, two films were shown depicting the several incidents about which Mr. Knowles had spoken. Special mention might be made of the fact that Mr. W. G. Hogg seems always to keep an uncommonly keen eye open for specialities of absorbing interest which serve as eminently welcome features at the picture shows, and this latest lecture—to be repeated tonight—is another example of his admirable foresight.

QUESTIONS AS TO MEXICAN PROBLEM

(Canadian Press) WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—Guarded enquiries are made at the State Department by foreign governments requesting information as to the prospect of a speedy settlement of affairs in Mexico where the troubles are doing serious harm to their interests. There is no evidence that these enquiries will have any effect but there is much unofficial talk about the probable early recognition of the fact that the Constitutionalists will command the Northern section of Mexico.

MORE KARAKULE SHEEP ARRIVE

Another consignment of Karakule sheep, the latest recruit for the Island's fur farming activities, arrived in Charlottetown by the steamer Northumberland on Thursday night. It was a small consignment, consisting of only two animals. They had rather an unusual experience before reaching their destination on the Island. They were shipped from the United States, where their purchase was effected, on the 30th of October, and the arrangement was that the boat from Boston, in which they were shipped would bring them on to the Island. But the steamer did not come further than Halifax, and the sheep were landed there, and have been there in quarantine until this week. There were three of them when they arrived at Halifax, but one died at that place. The sheep came to Mr. Alexander MacKenzie, of Long Creek. They are claimed to be pure-blooded, and Mr. MacKenzie, yesterday, in conversation with a representative of The Guardian, said that the animals had been on exhibition at a number of the State agricultural fairs, throughout New England this Autumn and had attracted a great deal of attention from expert stock breeders. The last place they were exhibited at was the famous Brockton Fair, where they were awarded first-prize blue ribbons. In fact, all of the six fairs where they were exhibited the sheep received high commendation and took first-prize ribbons.

This will doubtless make another valuable addition to the fur farming industry of the Island. The Compton Brothers, of Boston, and Mr. McKenzie purpose experimenting with this breed of sheep, in producing a cross and testing the value of the fur in the leading fur markets this coming spring.

NO FIREARMS FOR IRELAND

(Canadian Press) LONDON, Dec. 5.—An official proclamation prohibiting the importation of arms and ammunition into Ireland was issued here to-day. This course is taken to counteract the activities of the Ulster volunteers who for some time have been drilling with a view to opposing the Irish Government, should Home Rule become law. The proclamation, which was signed by King George is based on provisions of the Customs Consolidation Act of 1876, and those of the Irish Crimes Act. As expected the only reason given in the proclamation for taking this step is the statement that it is expedient that the importation into Ireland of arms and ammunition and other goods hereinafter named be prohibited. Then follows a list of arms, ammunitions explosives, etc.

PHILANTHROPIST TO TEACH MOROS

(Canadian Press) NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Mrs. Lorillard Spencer, a philanthropist and church worker in New York and Newport, left the steamer Oceanic to-day for the final stage of her journey to the Island of Jolo, Philippines, where she will devote care to the educating of Moros. She was accompanied by Miss Virginia Young, Deaconess of St. George's Protestant Episcopal Church. It is not her purpose to convert the Moros who are Mohammedans but to assist them and elevate their mode of living.

INHERITANCE TAX IS NOT DIRECT TAXATION

MONTREAL, Dec. 5.—Fuller reports of the "Cotton decision in the Privy Council, which were not available last week, make it appear that the Lords did pronounce not only on the meaning of the Quebec legislation, but also on its constitutional validity, and laid down a very broad ruling that a succession duty on property situate outside of the Province was ultra vires.

LIQUOR TO BE BARRED IN PARCELS POST SYSTEM

OTTAWA, December 4.—Although no official decision will be made until the full text of regulations governing the parcels post has been published, it has practically been decided by the Post Office Department not to allow liquor to be carried by means of this new facility for transportation. Resolutions opposing the use of the parcels post for the carriage of liquor in any form have been passed by a number of prominent temperance organizations and women's societies and some of those have been forwarded to the government. It was learned today that among the regulations governing the inauguration of the parcels post would be one prohibiting the sending of spirituous liquors in this manner which will ensure the result the widespread temperance agitation has been working for.

INSTRUCTOR SECURED FOR LOCAL AUTO SCHOOL

The Committee in charge of the plans for the automobile school to be opened in Charlottetown the first of the New Year have been fortunate in securing an instructor for this school Mr. Geo. Miller, of Buffalo, N. Y. Mr. Miller has had a large experience in the automobile business, having served as mechanic in the factory, then as a tester of finished cars, and then as the demonstrator and salesman. He was the mechanic on the car which won the New York to Paris race a few years ago, and in such perfect condition did he keep the car on that trip around the world that, without any further repairs, when the car reached New York city it was placed under sealed bonnet, and driven 450 miles across New York State. For the past two years he has been in charge of the Service Department of the Alco Company, Providence, R. I. His experience and all-round training make him one of the best experts that can be found in the country. The committee having the school in charge were determined that they would have none but the best as an instructor, and in their diligent search have been most fortunate in getting a man like Mr. Miller. He is expected to arrive in the city during the latter part of this month.

WHITE SLAVES IN MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, Dec. 5.—A regular systematized trade in young girls exists in Montreal, conducted by men who appear to succeed without difficulty in evading the police. Girls, many of them under sixteen years of age, are bartered for and sold daily in the red light district and the law appears helpless to put a stop to the traffic.

This was revealed by investigation carried on by a number of citizens who are interested in the crusade to drive from the city the men who prey upon the young and innocent girls. The system has agents who regularly visit the keepers of resorts and offer to procure girls for them for a price. Thousands of girls are sold in this way in Montreal every year; thousands of others—chiefly French-Canadian girls—are sent from this city to various places in the United States under conditions which practically amount to slavery.

New developments in the campaign yesterday included the issuing of several more warrants for men as a result of information received by Judge Choquet in the Juvenile Court, and a proposal for the holding of a mass meeting of citizens to discuss this plan for the movement.

John A. Tarvesty, 572 Sherbrooke street east, a commercial traveller, was arrested in Brockville, Ontario, on a charge arising out of a story told by a young girl to Judge Choquet. William Leduc, another resident of Sherbrooke street east, is already under arrest on a similar charge. Both men pleaded not guilty and are held without bail, awaiting trial.

UNEMPLOYMENT NOT INSUREABLE

(Canadian Press) BERLIN, Dec. 5.—It is impossible at present to provide against unemployment in the German system of national insurance against old age, sickness and infirmity, according to Clement Delbreuck, Minister of the Interior. Replying to an interpellation by Socialists in the Imperial Parliament to-day, the minister admitted it would be most desirable to extend the scheme so as to include insurance against unemployment but the difficulties would be almost insuperable and the financial burden would be very heavy.

MONTREAL STRIKE CAUSES FIGHTING

Since the commencement of the strike over a score of arrests were made. Although ten policemen had been dispatched daily to that point nothing in the nature of a scuffle had occurred before.
