

IMPORTANT READING MATTER SELECTED FROM THIS WEEK'S NEWS FOR THE GUARDIAN'S SATURDAY SUBSCRIBERS

MONDAY. The many friends in this city will deeply sympathize with Charles L. and Mrs. Reardon, Albany, in the death of their three month old daughter, which occurred on March 1st, as announced elsewhere.

The death of Mrs. Philip Morrisson, Georgetown, Royalty, took place on March 2nd, 1917, aged thirty-three years. She leaves a sorrowing husband and one child aged four years. Funeral took place to Georgetown on Saturday.

A very stylish pacing parkside was purchased the other day in Blmsdale by J. W. O'Brien from his brother Anselm which is already showing indications of being speedy though not yet broken in. The animal is coming four years of age and is said to be well worth the price paid for it, which was $200. It is the general opinion among horsemen that this animal will do some good work on the race track, the coming season.—A.

The funeral of the late Mrs. McEwen took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of her daughter Mrs. R. T. Holman, Summerside, to St. John's Church, St. Eleanor's, where a very impressive burial service was conducted by the rector, Rev. F. M. Webster. The pall-bearers were—H. T. and J. LeRoy Holman, (grandsons), E. T. and B. W. Tanton, Frank McEwen and Henry Stavert, (grand nephews) of deceased.—S.

The following is from the Christmas number of the American Horse Breeder: If a man were to walk up and down the length and breadth of America, shouting through a mighty megaphone that Admiral Dewey, 2-042 that winged son of Bingen 2.064 and Nancy Hanks, 2.04 was one of the very fastest of the fast trotters which the world has seen, he need no argument. When at Lexington, Ky., a few years ago, denied the privilege of preparations, relying upon speed unsurpassed, and a will indomitable, he trotted to his record of 2.042. He proved his right to a niche in the Equine Hall of Fame. Nothing more need be said of Admiral Dewey, except that he sired Sentienta 2.112 and Capt. George 2.091. Both trotters aged 4 years. Commodore Ledyard owned by Dr. Strickland, was Admiral Dewey's first colt.

Many will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Noah Waughan, Cumberland St., City, which took place Saturday evening. The deceased who was fifty-six years old on the day of her death, took ill with pneumonia but ten days before her death and up to two or three days before the sad blow came every hope was held out for her ultimate recovery. Mrs. Waughan was a woman of high and loving disposition and was highly respected among all her acquaintances. The shock of her death is a severe one for the family with whom she was very dear. She was a loving and affectionate wife and mother. She was a member of the Baptist Church and was a life member of the Women's Missionary Society of that church. She was always closely associated with that society and was an energetic worker in her efforts to promote its objects. Besides her husband and her mother, Mrs. George Waughan, City, she leaves to mourn a family of ten, all of whom with one exception, being at her bedside during her last moments. They are: Mrs. H. M. Chandler, City, James, of Oregon, who came home on a visit a week ago; Mamie and Cora, of Roxbury, Mass., who arrived on Saturday afternoon having been summoned home by the news of their mother's illness; Preston, an Albany, a traveller, who was the only member of the family who could not be reached by a telegram owing to his calling; and Harry, Catherine, Lester, Charles and Hubert, at home. Among the floral offerings was a beautiful bouquet from the W. M. S. of the Baptist Church. The funeral will take place this afternoon and the following will be the pall-bearers: E. D. Stens, A. W. Stens, R. H. Jenkins, J. D. Jenkins, J. K. Ross and A. F. Webster. Rev. Z. L. Eash will officiate at the services. The Guardian joins with the many friend and acquaintances of the family in extending sympathy in their hour of bereavement.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the residence of Rev. Chas. C. S. Rush, B. A. minister of the Christian Church, 1006 Nelson Street, Vancouver, B. C., on January 21st. The contracting parties were Norman Colin Stewart and Miss Elsie Rusel Stewart, daughter of Jas. B. Stewart, Rosneath, F. E. I. The bride wore a very becoming costume of grey silk poplin, trimmed with cream guipure lace, and large hat to match. She was attended by Miss Edith McDonald as bridesmaid, the groomsmen being William Elliott, Mr. Stewart is a contractor in the city. After the ceremony light refreshments were partaken of and the happy couple left for Seattle for their honeymoon moon trip.—Com.

The Crystal Hockey Club surprised J. Stanley Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry, of the Queen Hotel, the captain of the senior team for this season Saturday night by presenting him with a handsome solid leather travelling bag engraved with his name and presentation on the eve of his departure for Florenceville, N. B., where he has been promoted. Stanley or "Nix" as he is better known, has been one of Summerside's prominent hockey boys and to repeat the statement made by the Guardian of the fact "Stanley Perry was the star player." The presentation was made by the president, Leonard McNeill in a neat speech. Mr. Perry responded in a short way, being completely surprised, acknowledging the present, and thanked all those who were kind enough to acknowledge him for doing something which he did in the way of duty. He assured them that he would never forget this occasion, and more especially the gift. Urban Gilliland, the former captain, responded to Mr. Perry's remarks and endorsed the presentation, stating that Mr. Perry was the best captain that ever happened on the team. Many sports complimented Mr. Perry after the hockey's pleasant conversation were entertained by Mrs. Perry in her most hospitable manner and the party then returned to their various homes, hoping that Stanley would yet return to the old home and wishing him all kinds of success.—S.

Last evening in St. James' Church Rev. T. F. Fullerton delivered a strong address on "Amusements." The talented speaker chose as his text the words "Add to your knowledge self-control," 1 Peter, 1-6. Beginning he spoke of the old time attitude of the Church when the "Kept" cavaliers whose joyous nature and his love of the sports of the day was thought not in keeping with the demeanor of a Christian. He showed the fallacy of this, saying Jesus did not go to the smiling; he went to the joyous man and not the man of tame decorum. He explained the making of a man of ambition, and believing true religion embraces the whole of life, body, mind and soul. The cavalier of yesterday is to be found in the sport of today. Church people thought the name of sport an allurement to the broad path which leads to destruction. Folly, idleness, and waste of time, which the strenuous game was a change of labor and a relief from strain and formed a condiment in the feast of life. He instanced the case of Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer when showing that brain or muscle cannot stand an unbroken change. Youth, he said, has manhood in the making and must have exercise, there being no justification for the flabby chest and shuffling gait associated with life of today. He spoke of a youth's ideals as they resolved into a desire to win admiration for his prowess and endurance. He told of Canada's games being played by the child, the youth and the man and the women of all ages, and he drew a bright word picture of a hockey match which, he said, resembled the historical tournaments immortalized by eminent authors. He asked should the national game of Canada be condemned because there had been associated with it, boisterous conduct, drinking and profanity? No, he said, these had nothing to do with the game; there was no more connection than hypocrisy had with religion. These habits would exist in there never was a hockey match. He said he had one objection to hockey, there were too few players in the game. He spoke of professionalism as that which stamped out the moral virtue associated with sport. He dwelt at considerable length on the benefits of sport in moderation whereby strength of body and mind were developed, concluding this by saying that the man who played an honorable game in his sporting career would never degrade himself in after life. Mr. Fullerton stated that never since the days of the decline of Rome was pleasure written so largely on human life as it was today. He strongly protested against the worship of pleasure. There was too many Clare Vere de Vere's who were immersed in pleasure that they cannot afford an hour a week for the worship of God and are obscuring the vision of the Unseen and the Eternal. He said the present sport must be exciting or it did not appease or satisfy. Do the stars shining above require a pyrotechnic display to catch the imagination? There was a place for pleasure, but that for which good was sacrificed was false and when the impulse towards pleasure predominated it defeated its own end. Most exquisite pleasure comes through pain and again the most exhaustive pain has come from pleasure. If extensive time was spent in indoor games of skill by which spiritual temperance was lowered precious time which God gave for higher and nobler ends was wasted.

The pastor concluded by exhorting his hearers to exercise self-control, St. Paul's admonition in the words of his text. After a prayer and the singing of a hymn, Mr. Fullerton stated that pleasures were interfering with the attendance at prayer meetings on Wednesday evenings, and he reminded the congregation of their duty in this respect, claiming that one hour out of six days was not too much to ask.

DISFIGURED FOR LIFE!

Mothers Should Realize What Neglect of Skin-Troubles May Mean to Children.

A lifetime of disfigurement and suffering often result from the neglect, in infancy or childhood, of minor affections of the skin and scalp. A mother overlooks a little rash or attempts some simple treatment and in a few days the child is suffering from a severe eczema or a similar distressing eruption. Then the struggle for a cure begins. A multitude of remedies are tried, doctor after doctor consulted and the mother's heart is broken by the suffering, extends, without substantial relief, from days to weeks, weeks to months and months to years. Added to this is the constant itching, burning and disfigurement will become chronic, marred for life and making life miserable. In the prevention of the simple skin troubles from which all this suffering results, it is essential in establishing condition of skin health that makes eruptions impossible, mothers are assured that nothing is purer, sweeter or more effective than Cuticura Soap for Children Ointment. And greater still, if possible, is the success of these simple household remedies in the treatment of the severer skin affections that afflict children. With the itching, burning and eczema cease, the child falls into a refreshing sleep, the mother rests and for the first time, possibly, in many weeks peace falls on a distracted household. Frequently a single box of Cuticura Soap and box of Cuticura Ointment are sufficient.

Positive as is this statement, it is justified by more than three years of pronounced success. To quote but a single instance, Robert Mann, of Proctor, Minnesota, says: "Our boy was born in Toronto on Oct. 13, 1908, and when three months old a slight rash appeared on his cheek. What appeared to be a simple case of itching, burning and broke matter would run out, starting new blisters until his entire face, head and shoulders were covered with the same. We did not see a particle of clear skin. We tried about every advertised remedy without avail, including some of them only added to his suffering and one in particular, the ———— Remedy, almost put the infant into convulsions. The family doctor prescribed for him covered his face to bathe the baby in butter-milk. This did not do any good, and we took him to a hospital. He was treated as an out-patient, but he did not get so well as we just kept his arms bandaged to his side to prevent his tearing his flesh. In 1909, and soon the cure was effected. You would not think he was the same child for Cuticura made his skin perfectly clear and he is entirely free from the skin disease. There has been no return. We still use only Cuticura Soap or baby's bath."

FOR 25 YEARS HE SUFFERED

Well Known Merchant Of Sarnia Cured by "Fruit-a-tives"

SARNIA, ONT., Feb. 5th, 1910. "I have been a sufferer for the past 25 years with Constipation and Indigestion and Catarrh of the Stomach. I tried many remedies and many doctors but derived no benefit whatever. Finally I read an advertisement of "Fruit-a-tives". I decided to give "Fruit-a-tives" a trial and found they did exactly what was claimed for them. I have now taken "Fruit-a-tives" for some months and find that they are the only remedy that does me good. I have recommended "Fruit-a-tives" to a great many of my friends and I cannot praise these fruit-lets too highly!" PAUL J. JONES

Thousands now use "Fruit-a-tives". Thousands more will try "Fruit-a-tives" after reading the above letter. It proves beyond the shadow of a doubt, that at last there is a cure for Constipation and Stomach Troubles. "Fruit-a-tives" is Nature's cure for these diseases, being made of fruit juices and valuable tonics. A box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At dealers, or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

OWES HER HEALTH

To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Scottville, Mich.—"I want to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash have done me. I live on a farm and have worked very hard. I am forty-five years old, and am the mother of thirteen children. Many people think it strange that I am not broken down with hard work and the care of my family, but I tell them of my good friend, your Vegetable Compound, and that I have no backache and bearing down pains for them if they will take it as I have. I am scarcely ever without it in the house. I will say also that I think there is no better medicine to be found for young girls to build them up and make them strong and well. My eldest daughter has taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for painful periods and irregularity, and it has always helped her. I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for the Lydia E. Pinkham's Remedies. I tell every one I meet that I owe my health and happiness to these wonderful medicines."—Mrs. J. G. JOHNSON, Scottville, Mich., R.F.D. 5.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children. The Kind You Have Always Bought. Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Pritchard.

TUESDAY. The remains of the late Chester H. McKay which were forwarded on Tuesday, Feb. 28th, to his old home in French River, were interred on the following day. The services were performed by the Rev. Messrs Murray and Rattee and a large number of friends assembled to do honor to their late beloved neighbor and to offer sympathy to his bereaved parents. The pall bearers were—Blom McLeod, Cuthbert Montgomery, John Gillespie, Oliver Orr, Chester Buntain and Wilfrid McRae. The remains were followed by a large concourse of friends to the Goldie Memorial Cemetery where they were laid to rest.

The death occurred on Tuesday, the 7th of Feb. inst., at Grand Tracadie, of Miss Helena McDonald, in the fortieth year of her age. The funeral took place from her brother-in-law's residence N. J. McDonald's at Tracadie, to St. Michael's church at Corran Ban where requiem High Mass was sung by Rev. Father McLaughlin—thence to St. Joachim's Church, Vernon River, where Rev. Father Morrison officiated at the grave. Previous to her residence in Grand Tracadie, deceased lived in Vernon River, her home parish, where a wide circle of sorrowing friends mourn her untimely death. A silent mark of respect was evident in the large concourse of people that followed the remains to their last resting place. She leaves to mourn her widowed mother and one sister, Mrs. N. J. McDonald, in Tracadie, and three brothers and one sister in Western Canada. To the bereaved family is extended sincere sympathy for the departed. Requiescat in pace. Com.

At a recent session of the P. E. I. Dairy Association a considerable amount of dissatisfaction was voiced over the prevailing system of taxation whereby, it was claimed a man would save money by allowing his money to remain in the bank instead of investing it in improving his property. Wonders have been worked in Alberta under the assessment and taxation system in force there. Under the old system Edmonton suffered all the customary evils of arrested and unequal development such as are found wherever a premium is placed on buildings and speculation. The new order of things is encouraged to hold on to their unimproved lands until the highest possible value has been reached through the improvement of the adjoining property. All this new order of things in Edmonton, for the owner of unimproved land must pay a tax equal to his neighbor, who may have on his lot a building worth a large sum of money. Under this new order of things the proceeding race. Under single tax and municipal ownership, Edmonton has advanced in 8 years from a population of 2,500 to 35,000, and when the suburb of Strathcona is added the population will be in the neighborhood of 60,000. The city has now the most up-to-date telephone system in the world, a street railway system second to none, and magnificent water works and electric lighting system, all municipally owned. There are of course individuals and corporations that will neither improve their property or sell, and it is upon these that the system falls most heavily; and sooner or later they will be compelled either to sell their property or build in order to prevent its being swallowed up in taxation. The Hudson Bay Company is the greatest offender in this particular, occupying a large block of land, centrally located, yet being willing neither to sell nor build, although assessed for water and sewerage and concrete walks, all of which are now on the property. This corporation appealed against the assessment in 1910. When the case reached the Supreme Court the property was assessed more than had originally been levied by the city.

Richard Campbell, son of Alex. Campbell, of Alliston and S. B. Nicholson, son of Malcolm Nicholson, of Victoria Cross, were in Montague yesterday returning to their ranches in western Saskatchewan, after spending two months at their old home. There are four brothers in the Nicholson family on homesteads within a radius of three miles, while one is in the railway employ. These young men are of splendid physique and show by their appearance that they have successfully overcome the great difficulties they encountered.—M.

The marriage of Parmenus J. McArthur of Elmsdale and Mrs. Alice Rex of Roseville was solemnized on Tuesday, Feb. 28th, at the home of the bride. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. H. McHattie in the presence of a number of friends of the bride and groom. The bride, who was very becomingly attired, was attended by Miss Annie Brennan of Elmsdale as bridesmaid. The groom was ably supported by Joseph D. Bearsto of Elmsdale. After the ceremony and congratulations the guests partook of a bountiful wedding supper. Mr. and Mrs. McArthur will reside in Elmsdale. Their many friends wish them every happiness and prosperity.

Elias Basha, city, father of the late Joseph Basha, accompanied by Joseph and William Summer, left yesterday afternoon on the eastern train en route to New Glasgow, N. S., where he goes to enquire into the death of his son. The Eastern Chronicle of that town refers to the accident as follows: "In the short space of two miles on the Intercolony, near here, two men were killed this week by being struck by locomotives. On Monday night, as Assyrion, Joseph Basha, was going to his work at the Allan Shafts along with a companion when the Picton night express struck him and killed him instantly. They heard the train approach and both seemingly jumped from the track. While his companion got clear poor Basha failed and met an untimely end. He was particularly well liked chap, and during the summer carried on trading operations, generally with the Magdalen Islands. Being industrious, in the winter he sought any work offering, and during this season had been employed on the Allan Shafts where he had many friends among his superior officers and fellow workers." The Guardian learns from James Williams of this city, who is now home from New Glasgow on a visit with his parents, that he was among those who helped to carry young Basha's remains off the track. He states that the unfortunate chap was fearfully mangled.

Cardigan Auxiliary of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society made their last meeting at the Manse an occasion of farewell to Mrs. Adam Gunn, who expects soon to make her home in the West. The ladies of the congregation presented Mrs. Gunn with a life membership certificate in the W. F. M. S., which she has accepted with interest by the following address: "Dear Mrs. Gunn—We, the members and scattered helpers of the W. F. M. S., learning with deep regret of your departure from among us after a sojourn of twenty years in this congregation, and wishing to express our appreciation of your lively interest in our little society, beg leave to present you with a life membership in the W. F. M. S., and as a token of loving remembrance, this watch, to remind you of those who always sympathized with you in your joys and sorrows, hoping that as you enter a new life in a distant land, the sorrows of the past will fade from your remembrance, leaving only the scars of a wound healed by the Divine Healer, and may "God be with you till we meet again," is the prayer of these your friends." Mrs. Fraser, Mrs. R. McLaren, Mrs. Vickerson, Mrs. Knight and others. Mrs. D. C. Morson, secretary.

After the presentation dainty refreshments were served by the genial mistress of the Manse, Mrs. Fraser. In reply, Mrs. Gunn expressed heartfelt gratitude to all the kind friends for this and many other expressions of good will during all the happy years spent in Cardigan. Death at any time and under any circumstances is hard, but especially so when a person is cut off in the prime of life. Such was the experience felt by the people of St. Catherine's and vicinity on Saturday, Feb. 25th, when it was learned that death had claimed for his victim the soul of a highly esteemed body in the person of Mrs. Malcolm McEachern, at the early age of thirty-seven years. The deceased had been in ill-health for quite a period, although she never gave up hope of recovery until within a few days of her death. She was kind hearted and generous and possessed of a truly Christian character. She bore her illness without a murmur, and with perfect resignation to the Divine Will of the Master, dying in the firm hope of a grand re-union in Heaven. Those who had the pleasure of her acquaintance write in deserved praise of her Christian courage and patience during her illness, and her many virtues in daily life, as a woman of striking personality combined with a gentle, loving disposition her friends will ever cherish her memory. A silent mark of respect was evidenced by the large concourse of teams that followed the remains to Canoe Cove Cemetery, where all that was mortal of a good and pious Christian was laid to rest to await the final resurrection. She leaves to mourn a sorrowing mother, a husband and six children, the eldest of whom, Samuel, is in British Columbia; also one sister, Annie, at home, besides a wide circle of friends, who sincerely sympathize with the bereaved in their loss. The services at the house were performed by Rev. D. McLean, who paid a glowing tribute to the life of the deceased. A good woman and a kind mother and friend, she will be greatly missed from the community where she has spent her short life. (Patriot and Examiner please copy.)

St. Rose du Lac, Man., March 10 (Special)—The story of Mrs. Louis Delorme, a well known and highly respected resident of this place, is identical with that of thousands of other women in Canada. It is all the more interesting on that account. She was tired, nervous and worn out. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her. "I suffered for five years from backache and too frequent urination, which destroyed my sleep," Mrs. Delorme states. "My head would ache, and I was always tired and nervous. My limbs were heavy, and the dragging sensation across the loins. Dodd's Kidney Pills made me well. I used in all ten boxes, but they fixed me up." Thousands of other Canadian women who have not used Dodd's Kidney Pills are in just the condition Mrs. Delorme was in before she used them. Thousands of others who used Dodd's Kidney Pills, are now well and strong. We learn from the experiences of others, and those experiences teach us that the weary and worn women of Canada can find relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.
