NARROW ESCAPE YESTERDAY.—A fire which started from a gasoline engine on the premises of Walter Woods, Bethel, destroyed a large stack of grain and but for the strenuous work of neighbors might have resulted in the loss of all the outbuildings and dwellings. The stack of grain, which was quite close to the barn, became ignited from the engine which was being used for threshing. Neighbors were quickly summoned by telephone and set to work. Hand extinguishers were procured from Mount Herbert Ordnance, and while the men used them to advantage, the women assembled recharged them. Fearing for the buildings, a message was sent about 11:15 to the Fire Hall in the city, and the motor hose-wagon with six men and a number of hand extinguishers started for the scene—which was a considerable distance past the Consolidated School. When they arrived they found excellent work had been done by Mr. Woods' neighbors, who were then hauling away the smouldering and burning grain to the open fields. The fire report a good run, no crops being made on the way.

A PERFECT DOLL

FLORENCE MACBETH

Reviving "The Tales of Hoffman," The Chicago Civic Opera Company reportedly discovered a perfect "Doll" in the person of Florence Macbeth, soprano whose ideal representation of this mechanical figure and the sensation of the season's opera.

The composer, Offenbach, must have forgotten that the exceptionally high music had to be sung by the character in a positive of perfect rigidity almost humanly impossible task. The opera is seldom produced on this account. Prior to this revival the Chicago Company had conducted a search, but vain search for an ideal "Doll," throughout the musical centres of the world. Finally Director Johnson thought of Miss Macbeth, with the remarkably gratifying result.

WAITING FOR SPRING

Love the Spring! I love the Spring!
In many beauties I will sing,
Till the winter days take wings,
Love the Spring! I love the Spring!

Spring!
In fancy's realm the wind is still,
And I can wander at my will,
Here autumn shared the summer's fate,
But I am hoping while I wait,
The blue-birds I will hear again,
And pick wild roses in the glen,
The winter days are taking wings,
Twill soon be spring! 'twill soon be Spring!

BEER & WEEKS VICTORIA ROW CH'TOWN P. E. I.

Mr. Neil McDonald, Pinette was in the city yesterday.

Mr. James Simpson, Bay View, delegate to the Egg and Poultry Association is visiting in the city.

Mrs. John L. McAleer, returned home yesterday after visiting relatives in Kinkora.

Mr. Wm. H. Hayter, High Bank was a passenger on the Murray Harbor train to the city yesterday and attended the meeting in the Prince of Wales College.

Friends of little Norene Jackman, Village Green, who cut her hand so painfully last week will be pleased to hear that she is doing nicely.

Messrs. Edson Easter, North Wiltshire, Jas. McLeod of Hampshire, and John Stewart, Brookfield, were in the city on Thursday attending the Farmers Meetings.

On the evening of Thursday, February 12th, a large number of friends and relatives assembled at the home of Mr. Murdoch McLean, North Wiltshire for the purpose of giving a farewell reception to his daughter, Miss Florence McLean, who was soon to leave to enter the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, to train for a nurse.

Quite early in the evening the meeting was called to order and Mr. Edson Easter was chosen as chairman.

In a few well chosen words he stated the purpose of the gathering and then called upon Miss Mae McDonald to read an address to Miss McLean.

The following is the address: Miss Florence McLean, Dear Florrie:—We your fellow citizens and loyal friends meet and greet you in your luxurious home for the purpose of tendering to you an appreciation of your real worth.

We have always looked upon you as a living example of that which pertains to the highest ideals of life. Onward and upward has been your motto through life.

The W. M. S. and Mission Band of which you have been a valued leader and helper will surely miss you. Your presence at these meetings has always been an inspiration for good.

Quite recently we learned that you were soon to leave us to enter upon duties of a broader nature, namely the training for a nurse in the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal. In this your chosen calling we wish you God's speed. May your work be crowned with success.

Please accept this token of remembrance from your loving friends in the old home village of North Wiltshire.

Just before the close of the reading of the address Miss Mildred Godfrey on behalf of the many friends of North Wiltshire and the surrounding districts presented Miss McLean with a beautiful ivory set.

Although taken by surprise Miss McLean made a fitting reply and thanked the friends for their splendid gift and for the many expressions of kindness shown to her. All then joined in singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Short addresses were then given by Rev. R. H. Slaver, Dr. George Green and Mr. Amos Monahan. All spoke in the highest terms of the true worth of Miss McLean and of how she had always been ready and willing to help in every good work in the church and community. Among the young people she was a general favorite and in the work of the Mission Band and in all of the social activities of the community it is felt that her place can never be completely filled.

Her genial manner and her kindness of heart backed by a noble womanhood such as was hers found a place for her deep in the hearts of all who knew her.

But while all shall miss her and deeply regret her leaving departure yet all rejoice in the fact that she has been accepted by the staff of the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, and in wishing her God speed in the noble self-denying work of nursing.

The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in social enjoyment and in pastimes of various kinds. As time rolled around toward the wee sma hours all wended their way homeward feeling that while others can utter the well none can make their friends feel just quite so much at home and give them such a pleasant evening as can Mr. Murdoch McLean and his daughter, Miss Florence McLean.

Foxes need a varied diet, one supplying every natural food requirement: protein, carbohydrates, fats, and vitamins. This constitutes a balanced ration and without it no animal can be healthy and vigorous. Energy is supplied by feeding cooked cereals at this season.
