VICTORIA GIRL BEST AUSSIE HORSEWOMAN
MELBOURNE, Australia, Feb. 16 — (CP) — A Victoria girl, Miss Kathleen Lucas, recently won the most coveted award for women riders in Australia. This was the Garryowen perpetual trophy for competition at the Melbourne Royal Agricultural show. It was first given in 1934 to commemorate the death of a noted Australian

DOROTHY DIX SAYS...

bobby-soxers rushed into marriage and forever sacrificed their status as single women.
But whatever caused the slump in the number of old maids, it is a sad blow at domestic felicity. For no home is a real proper home that hasn't an old maid auntie in it to rock the baby to sleep, and hear the kids' prayers, and kiss a hurt and make it well, and do all the other chores that Mother is too busy to do.
When God especially blessed a family He put an old maid in it whose whole life is a sacrifice for others. It is the old maid daughter who nurses querulous old parents through years and years of invalidism. It is the old maid sister who gives up her own youth and love and chances of happiness to toil to educate her brothers and sisters and give them advantages she never had.
It is the old maid cousin, who never had a romance of their own, who listen with sympathy to the confidences of the little teen-ager about her Boy Friend and give the bewildered child the wise counsel that keeps her on the right road. What a sorry plight a family is in without an old maid!
And where would the world be if there never had been any old maids? Suppose there never had been a Florence Nightingale to pioneer modern nursing, or a Clara Barton never had founded the Red Cross, or a Jane Addams the Hull House, or a Frances Willard the Women's Christian Temperance Union, or a Susan B. Anthony to make the fight that gave women suffrage. Wouldn't it set civilization back to the Dark Ages?
No, we can't do without our old maids, either in the home or out of it. They are one of our greatest assets. Let's hope and pray that not all the girls will get married.
