Working Time Is Reduced In C. N. R. Shops

MONCTON, Sept. 6.—The long-looked for announcement as to the result of the negotiations between the management of the Canadian National railways and the Federated Trades employed in all shops of the C. N. R. system, with regard to a curtailment either in the number of working hours each week or in the number of workers employed, was made by W. U. Appleton, general manager of the Atlantic Region, Friday night. The negotiations have been in progress for some time, representatives from the Federated Trades having journeyed to Montreal on several occasions for a conference with the management. The statement given out last evening says that, effective from Friday, September 11, and continuing until the close of the present year, the main shops of the Canadian National railways will be closed all day on alternative Fridays. This arrangement does not apply to round-houses, however. The new schedule means a reduction in the weekly working time of the shopmen from the present forty-hour week to one of thirty-six hours.

BORDEN TRAIN DELAYED - The Borden train did not arrive until 12:05 this morning. There was an hour's delay at Tormentine and due to the stormy weather the car ferry experienced difficulty in landing at Borden, and was held up for another hour in landing.

RECKLESS DRIVER - On the corner of Kent and Prince St., a Buick collided with a New Brunswick Ford Coupe, which had the right of way. The Buick, which was proceeding east on Kent St., struck the Ford as it was moving north on Prince street, damaging the rear fender. The driver of the Buick continuing, swerving sharply to his left over the pavement at Johnstone and Johnstone's corner, scraped a tree and came to the direction in which he came. The occupants of the Ford were unable to get the number of the car.

RETURNED FROM OTTAWA - Passengers returning on the Borden train last night included Premier Stewart, Hon. Dr. MacMillan, Hon. J. A. MacDonald and Messrs. W. Chester S. McLure and J. H. Myers, M.P., who visited Ottawa last week to consult with the Federal Government in the matter of unemployment relief. Mr. Stewart was accompanied home from Montreal by his daughter, Miss Maudie Stewart. The Island delegation presented a strong case to the Minister of Labor, who will place it before the Council which meets shortly.

ANOTHER CAR STOLEN - One of Jimmy Power's taxis was stolen from in front of his place of business, Queen St., on Saturday morning. The theft was not discovered until one of the drivers reporting for early morning duty missed the car from its usual stand. After making enquiries he found that the car had been left as usual on Queen St., by one of the drivers the night before. The matter was reported to the police and about 7 o'clock the car was found wrecked on the first span of the Hillsboro bridge. The car must have been taken about 4 a. m. with the intention of taking it somewhere on the other side of the river. Tracks on the bridge showed that the car had swerved several times and must have been going very fast before the accident happened as the impact snapped one of the brace bands which are about an inch and a half thick. The bumper, fenders, lights and engine hood were all crumpled. The frame was badly twisted and a lot of the glass broken. By some chance the windshield remained intact. No blood was found in the car, nor was there any clue as to the thief or thieves. The police have since made some discoveries and are holding two suspects.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

(By "Tec") Labor Day

Today is Labor Day. Let's hope "Jupiter Pluvius" has taken a holiday and departed for foreign lands. Nothing would suit the laborers and all lovers of field and track athletics more than a bright warm sun shining from a cloudless sky. A monster parade of L. P. U. men, truckmen, firemen and railwaymen will take place this morning, the route of march being through the principal streets of the city. In the afternoon, starting at 1:30, a big field and track meet, together with two classes of horse races will be staged at the Charlottetown Driving Park, where a record breaking attendance is expected.

The "Slow" English Kaye Don, British speed demon showed a clean pair of heels to the fastest boats in the United States on Saturday when his "Miss England" crossed the finish line six boatlengths in front of the Misses America eight and nine. The contest is the best three heats out of five, and it looks as if Miss England will retain her reputation. England now holds the triple speed crown of the world—the air, land and water.

LOOKS LIKE FRANCIS OUMET

Playing the superlative golf that carried him to the American Open Championship in 1913, and the American Amateur the following year, 38-year-old Francis Oumet, one of golf's finest characters, swept over the endless fairways and wicked bunkers of the Beverly Country Club to reach the semi-finals. In his quarter-final round yesterday, Oumet virtually smothered youthful Paul Jackson after the sixth hole was reached in the morning round. The Kansas City player held Oumet for this distance and then cracked under the steady pars that the former champion shot at him.

ed that the voluntary support of Empire trade would help to improve the lot of British employees and employees throughout the world, thereby lessening unemployment.

Presented by Brig. Gen. A. M. Ross of Yorkton, Sask., a resolution asking the British Government to consider the grievances of British army and navy pensioners domiciled in Canada, was passed, with the approval of the delegates from Great Britain. Brig. Gen. Ross stated that under present conditions he did not think the Canadian Government would come to the aid of the men in question. After careful consideration the conference passed a resolution reaffirming the principle established by the late Earl Haig, that there should be only one constituent member organization of the League in any one area of the Empire. The Dominion organizations were urged, however, to give all possible help to the Imperial ex-service men domiciled in their area. The question arose out of complaints that Imperial ex-service men had been discriminated against in Australia, where they are not entitled to be members of the returned soldiers and sailors imperial league. Led by A. H. Frank, the British delegation argued this was unfair, since a veteran from any part of the Empire would be admitted by the British Legion. L. A. Robb and Col. L. M. Mullen, the Australian delegates, agreed to give Imperial ex-service men in the Commonwealth all possible help.

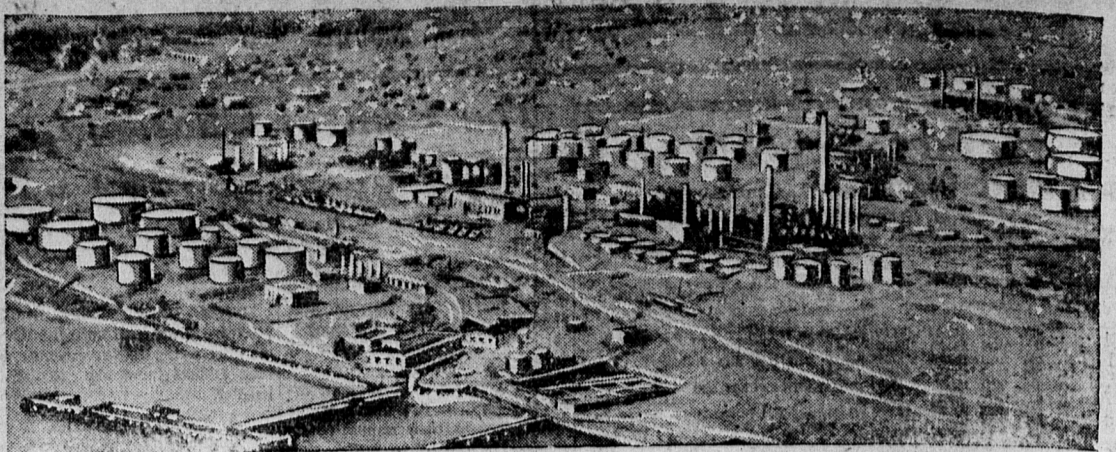

While a definite decision was postponed until next year, the conference decided, Lord Jellicoe expressing his emphatic approval, to hold the sixth biennial meeting in Australia in 1933. It was pointed out, however, that unforeseen development might make it impossible to go as far as Australia, as was the case this year.

On behalf of Australian ex-service men, L. A. Robb presented Lord Jellicoe with a gavel made from timber in the quarter deck of H. M. A. S. Sydney, which has been scrapped. The Admiral of the Fleet proudly recalled that it was the Sydney which ended the career of the German cruiser, Emden.

Last night Lord Jellicoe left Toronto for Montreal, where his daughter, Lady Gwendoline, still lies seriously ill. Other delegates plan to attend the American Legion Convention in Detroit on September 21.

Need of Maintaining Religious And Civil Freedom Emphasized By Presbyterian Moderator.

Strongly appealing to the principle of religious and civil freedom and expressing his belief in the catholicity of the Christian faith, Moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, preached an eloquent sermon in Zion Church yesterday morning. The speaker's text was from 1 Timothy, 3:15 "The Church of the living God, the pillar and ground of the truth."

No church, the visiting Moderator declared, had made such tremendous contributions to spiritual freedom as the Presbyterian Church. We cannot, however, live in the past; we must press continually forward. In this connection Rev. Mr. Brown dealt with the serious situation in Southern Saskatchewan, where, owing to drought and crop failure, there is practically no money available and where the work of the Presbyterian Church will suffer seriously in consequence if funds are not forthcoming.

"I have devoted the best of my life to home mission work," the preacher said feelingly, "and if I had another life I would give it to foreign missions."

In introducing Rev. Mr. Brown, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Webster, paid a very high tribute to the Moderator's qualifications for the responsible position to which he was elected in the General Assembly of the Church.

Rev. Mr. Brown preached last evening in Summerside.

Also present at yesterday morning's service was Rev. George C. Taylor, Montreal, former pastor of the church, who recently underwent a serious illness and is now convalescent. Rev. Mr. Webster voiced the sentiments of the congregation when he spoke with deep thankfulness of Rev. Mr. Taylor's recovery.

Message of Encouragement

Rev. Mr. Taylor led in the offertory prayer, at the conclusion of which he said: "It was not my intention to have spoken to you this morning. In fact I did not expect that I would be preaching in Zion Church at all this year and for that reason I left all my notes and pulpit paraphernalia in Montreal. But the circumstance today was such that I felt it would do myself good—if not you—to be present at this service. Zion Church has had many wonderful services. I remember a service in this Church in which every one participating was dressed in khaki—choir, organist and minister. There have been times when we had great preachers—men of eloquence and power in the church. Today we have with us one who would not like me to tell the many things I know about him; although they are all good; one who has proven himself a real Minister of the Presbyterian Church. There is nothing to apologize for in the life and work of our Moderator; he has been "true blue" right through from the beginning of his ministry; so I thought it would be a good thing for myself at least to be present to hear his message today.

"I wanted to say a word, not so much by way of intercession for my successor in office, your new minister, but rather to give you a word

LIBERALS IN SASKATCHEWAN STATE POLICY

REGINA, Sask., Aug. 5.—(By The Canadian Press)—Substantial assistance for debt-ridden and weather-harassed farmers is a prominent plank in the platform on which Saskatchewan's dethroned Liberals plan to seek a return to power. Resolutions passed at the summer convention and just issued in official form, include resolutions on land tenure and weather-crop insurance which are far-reaching in scope.

If and when the Liberals who ruled Saskatchewan until their overthrow at the polls in 1929, are sent back into control of the province's government, they promise to "make a complete survey of the relations prevailing between the creditor and debtor with a view to readjusting indebtedness both with regard to principal and interest in such a manner as to assure the debtor farmers the opportunity to meet their indebtedness."

In view of the serious crop situation in Saskatchewan and the low price for grain, particular interest centres of the stand taken by the Liberal party which commands the largest group in the legislature. Attitudes of the various political groups in the province are the focus of pronounced attention, although Premier J. T. M. Anderson, Conservative head of the Co-operative government, has stated that no election will be held until 1933 at least.

Three steps must be taken while the proposed creditor-debtor survey is pending, according to the approved Liberal resolution, these are:

(1) To keep municipal and provincial taxes down to the minimum essential to provide those services which lessen the cost of producing and marketing the products of the farm;

(2) To secure for the farmers of Saskatchewan interest rates as low as those which can be obtained in eastern Canada;

(3) To set up and perpetuate an organization which understands agricultural needs and possibilities and has the confidence of the creditors as well as the debtors and which shall be given the power to arrange final equitable adjustments under which their financial difficulties can be met without dispossessing the present owner.

Powers accorded the debt commissioner under the Debt Adjustment Act in Saskatchewan are not wide enough, according to opinion expressed at the convention of Liberals. The approved resolution would extend his influence as far as to give the commissioner or commissioners "power to arrange final equitable adjustments as between debtor and creditor."

INDUCTION OF REV. E. C. ROBERTSON—The Presbytery of P. E. I. met in Tyne Valley Church on Friday, Sept. 4, at 7:30 p.m. Present were the Moderator, Rev. C. J. St. C. Jeans, Rev. Dr. J. K. Fraser of Alberton, Rev. G. Carlyle Webster of Zion, and Rev. Dr. Ashdown. Elders present were Messrs. McLean, Docherty, McKendrick and Montgomery. Presbytery was constituted with prayer by the Moderator. The Rev. Mr. Webster was appointed clerk pro tem. The edict of induction was returned as read and the Presbytery proceeded into the pulpit for the service of installation. The Rev. G. Carlyle Webster conducted the opening exercises and preached the sermon. The steps leading up to the call were narrated by the Interim Moderator, Rev. G. J. Jeans. The constitutional questions were asked by Mr. Jeans as Moderator of Presbytery and after prayer: Mr. Robertson was inducted into the charge. Rev. Dr. Fraser thereupon proceeded to deliver the charge to the minister and that was followed by a charge to the people by the Rev. C. J. Jeans. The benediction was pronounced by the newly installed minister. Mr. Robertson begins his work in the Richmond Bay Presbyterian congregation under most favorable auspices. A large congregation was present and the praise was led by an augmented choir.

Actuaries and statisticians of a number of insurance companies are understood to be giving serious consideration to another resolution regarding crop insurance, passed by the convention. The Liberal party, which confirmed James G. Gardiner as leader at its summer meet, is believed to be prepared to make a crop-insurance plan a government affair, if returned to power.

The official resolution on the matter stated: "The Liberal party pledges itself as soon as it is returned to power to appoint a special committee to fully investigate the feasibility of a system of crop or weather insurance applicable to the needs of the farming industry of this province, which will look toward reimbursing our farmers for the cost of producing their yearly output."
