LIST OF HUN WAR CRIMINALS HAS BEEN REDUCED TO 300

The Original List Contained 1,200 Names, Those Charged Only With Light Offences Have Been Eliminated.

GERMAN PRINCES ARE INCLUDED

Only Those Will be Taken to Trial Against Whom Specific Charges Have Been Lodged by the Allies.

(Special to The Guardian.) LONDON, Jan. 9.—The list of war criminals to be demanded by the Allies for trial has been considerably revised and reduced from the originally proposed 1,200 to about 300, according to the Daily Mail. It was thought better, "the newspaper adds," to demand a few against whom specific charges have been lodged than a long list including many persons charged with light offences. The German Crown Prince and Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria remain on the list.

Volcano Causes Destruction in Central Mexico

MEXICO, City, Jan. 9.—A violent volcanic eruption has been caused by the recent earthquake near Cordoba, where Cerro de San Miguel, a small and apparently extinct volcano has been bursting into flame. The new crater is throwing out smoke, ashes and stones, while lava is flooding the nearby territory in a stream more than two hundred yards wide, resulting in not less than two hundred deaths. Despatches from Vera Cruz today give some details of this catastrophe. Every nearby eminence in this district has been levelled. Scores of worshippers in the churches at Ahuixtla and Tresaguas were reported buried beneath the ruins. Great gaps in the earth appeared at San Francisco De La Penas, San Carlos and Agostaderra. Vera Cruz confirms the earlier report that the village of Ixhuatan was completely destroyed.

The Autopsy Concluded Last Evening. Case to be Further Investigated. Outline of Main Evidence at the Inquest.

Yesterday afternoon Corbett Ellis, of Harmony, Lot 13, who was placed under arrest on Thursday by Sgt. Bradley and conveyed to Summerside, was brought before Mr. Alex. Campbell, J. P., and remanded for a week pending the result of the autopsy being held on the body of Mrs. Ellis. At the inquest the evidence of four persons was taken viz. Evelyn Ellis, sister of Corbett Ellis. Thomas Corbett Ellis, William J. Ellis Corbett's father and another sister, Agnes Ellis.

Following is a summary of the evidence:— Eve'syn Ellis (sworn). I saw Mrs. Ellis about 8.30 a. m. yesterday (January 7th). She came down from her room upstairs. She did not speak. She had a hot water bottle. She filled it with hot water. She went to the porch. I went out. When I came in she was gone. This was the last time I saw her alive. I did not see the remains. About 4 p. m. I heard her getting out of bed. That was the last I heard. There were two razors in the porch in a knapsack. She did not seem right this last few days. Yesterday morning she picked up a stick to hit her husband. He took it from her. She was in Summerside on Tuesday January 6th, she came home about 9 o'clock that night. She was alone. We were friendly right along except the morning she went to Summerside. It was only a few words. She seemed to be worrying about something. She did not seem to be right in her mind at the time.

Thomas Corbett Ellis (sworn). I saw my wife last alive about 8.30 a. m. yesterday, January 7th. She was filling a hot water bottle at the stove in the kitchen. I went out. I did not speak to her then. She got cross with me on the morning of the 6th. I came in from the barn for my overcoat. She was taking her breakfast at the table. I asked why she did not give me the message that Charlie Ramsay sent me to go to Summerside. She jumped up from the table making the remark that I knew it—well that I had to go to Summerside. She grabbed me by the hair of the head and pulled my cap off. She caught her by the wrists and set her down on the lounge. I turned to get my coat she jumped to the wood box and got a stick and tried to hit me on the head. I fended off with my hands. I took the stick of wood away from her and set her down on the lounge. I turned to get my coat again. She grabbed a table knife off the table and started for me. My sister gave me warning. I turned around and took the knife from her and set her down on the lounge again. She got up off the lounge and ran for the door. I caught her and picked her up and carried her into the next room and sat her on the floor. I then locked the door so she could not get out. My horse was at the door as I was going to Summer-

ANOTHER COMBINE STEAL

Sugar Refiners Advance Price 20 per cent., Making Cost to Consumers 15 1/2c. per Pound, an Advance of 2 1/2c. No Excuse Except Combined Profiteering.

Wholesalers in the city yesterday were started on receipt of telegrams from the different refineries in Canada announcing an advance of $2.50 per hundred on sugar, that is, from $12.30 to $14.80, or two and a half cents per pound advance. An incriminating feature of this is that on the previous day, wholesalers in Charlottetown, and no doubt elsewhere, were informed by the refineries that there was no sugar available and their orders were consequently declined. Yesterday telegrams were received from these same refineries offering carloads subject to the advance of $2.50 per cwt. There is no doubt that sugar is now being held by one of the most criminal combines in the history of the country. What steps may or can be taken to break up what is unquestionably a trade iniquity, is not yet clear, but indignation is rife and there will probably be something doing within a few days. Three staple articles, flour, sugar and oil, have gone up within the past week. The advance in flour has been explained by the advanced price offered in the United States for Canadian wheat; the advance in oil may have gone into benevolent and educational channels. There is no explanation so far for the advance in the price of sugar. The largest retailers in the city, Messrs. Jenkins and Son, on being interviewed yesterday, stated that the refineries were no doubt taking advantage of the situation and forcing the retailer to advance prices. In their own case, however, being fairly well situated as to the quantity of stock on hand, they were limiting the quantity to not more than ten pounds to a single sale at the old retail price, 13 cents. This, of course, cannot continue long, and they, with others, will be forced to ask the public for the advance, unless in the meantime the Government will come to the rescue.

Pact of London Exists No More, Says Newspaper

The memorandum, the newspaper asserts, has for its object the closing of the period of negotiation and the opening of a new one and recalls to the new Italian negotiators that "the pact of London does not exist any more," having been destroyed gradually by the former Italian negotiators.
