Interesting Islanders Met On Recent Trip From Coast To Coast

By J. L. M.

After a delightful trip by plane, train, and boat, the writer arrived in British Columbia's capital city, Victoria, so English with its ivy and gardens, where the great joys of the favorable climate and enchanting scenery. Among the Islanders who greeted her here were Mrs. Robert Foster (Minnie Mayne, R.N.) and Miss Bessie MacKay. Mr. Ralph Matthews not only extended a cordial welcome but proved most helpful in smoothing out certain difficulties incident to the trip. Ralph was born in Charlottetown, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ewen Matthews, Brandon, Manitoba, and was too anxious to gather news of his relatives and birthplace, being at present engaged in compiling data for a family tree.

The next stop, Portland, "City of Roses", is situated on the beautiful Willamette River. The writer had the opportunity of seeing not only the city itself and its environs but also many of the lofty mountains and canyon-like valleys of Oregon. The splendidly paved roads in this State make motor travel a delight. Mr. Harry A. Bell, native of Charlottetown, lives here, also Miss Diane Downing, recently of Summerside. The writer was disappointed in not seeing Mr. Everett MacIntosh, who, with his wife, had left for England a few days previously.

In rapidly-expanding Vancouver, the writer saw many Island-born people, who now claim this western seaport as their home. Their eagerness to show the beauty spots and points of interest in their adopted city was only exceeded by their requests for "Island News". Among these were: Dr. J. W. Arbutnot, Mrs. Calvin Bowness, and Mrs. Slim Carruthers, Miss Pauline Clark, Mrs. Morris Clark (Lydia Warren), Mrs. Erle Craig (Myrtle Crawford), Mr. Jack Crawford, Mrs. (Rev.) George (Lucy Sims), Mrs. J. F. Gladwin (Nan MacLeod), Mr. Harry Harvey, Mrs. Gordon Heddle (Amy Wright), Mrs. George Hudson (Maud Wright), Mr. Robert Laird, Miss Ada MacDougall, Mrs. George MacDougall (Viola Munn), Mr. and Mrs. Dean MacEwen (Charlotte Lawther), Miss Belle MacKenzie, Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. MacLean, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver MacNeill, Miss Mary Martin, Mr. and Mrs. William M. Morrison (Nina MacKay), Mrs. Mattie Mutch, Mrs. Francis Prichard (Margaret Cairns, R.N.), Mr. and Mrs. George Runcie (Lydie Wright), Mrs. Charles Stewart (Janie Campbell), Mrs. W. Taylor (George Campbell), Dr. Leith Webster, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wood (Dolly Munn), Mr. Frank Woodside, Mrs. Herbert Wordell (Edith Lord), Miss Maude Wright.

Capes Stealing Spotlight At Wool Style Show

By Marilyn Lamborn

Canadian Press Staff Writer TORONTO, Nov. 18 (CP) — Capes are stealing the fashion spotlight at the International Wool Secretariat's style show at the Royal Winter Fair. And the fashion-wise say the cape may supply the third piece in the spring suit ensemble.

Novel cape drapings on suits, coats and dresses are featured in the show, designed to show the versatility of wool. At the opening yesterday a ballet skit introduced woolen costumes fashioned in ways appropriate to all seasons.

But the capes stole the show. Some were long, some short, others just supplying back interest. A moderated version showed a cape draped into a collar-effect.

A splash of colored lining was added to the detachable cape, but most were in shades of grey, blue, and black. The skirt with a double-breasted jacket and outside cape in another shade of the same color.

Most interesting of the cape designs was a grey worsted gabardine suit which gave the effect of a wing-cape slung over the shoulders. Closer examination showed it to be a one-piece jacket with tailored front and a broad half-circle of material falling from a yoked-back. The cape could either be buttoned at the wrist to form arms or let swing into a graceful fold over the shoulder.

Last year's balloon-skirted suit is just a memory as designers think up new ways to disguise enough flare for walking comfort. Kick pleats and fullness about the knees do the trick.

About half the coats shown still had the flared back, but in the fitted ones the princess line was a slim stem for the cape. Many coat capes extended to just below the elbow, while others flowed to the waist or beyond. A popular raspberry princess-lined coat held the skirt and cape together.

A black gabardine cocktail suit had glittering steel beads set around the neck and on a cap-collared cape which extended around the neck just to the shoulder line. Dresses achieved neck interest with moderate soft folds or swing collars held by clips.

as a dance floor truck an odd way to do it. Because it won't be his foot at all! Sounds a trifle screwy, doesn't it?

The answer that Lloyd, all-round athlete, with many more accomplishments and talents than his average counterpart, is a one-footed marvel! Yes, believe it or not, this Burlington, N.S., lad wears an artificial leg, and has done so since he was four years old!

All he's able to do under this handicap (?) is to play inside football. He is already in the third round of the provincial championship series (OOSSA). He is a pole vaulter, with a mark near ten feet. He's a star catcher of the Trans-Canada team in the Halifax County Softball League. He's a crack hockey player, can high jump 4 feet 11 inches or better, swim like a fish, work with a pickaxe, and in the summer months, doing the same work as any other farmer can do, is the life of the party on picnics, excursions, dances, or what have you and, in general, makes one good foot and an artificial leg do more fancy work than most centipedes can do.

The youngster got a rather tragic start. When he was two years old he wandered out into a hay field. Hidden in the tall stuff, he was caught in a mower driven by his dad, who didn't know the youngster was in the field until after the mower had knifed the little guy. The left foot had to be amputated, and through the years the stump has shrunk until now it is neck-deep for Lloyd to wear an artificial leg that comes up over the knee.

Potato Loading Started Yesterday

The French-owned freighter, S.S. Kabyle, one of Manille which arrived in Charlottetown two days ago, started to load potatoes yesterday afternoon.

With a capacity of 100 carloads, the Kabyle will be loaded jointly by the P.E.I. Potato Growers' Association and the Associated Shippers with a cargo, mainly, of Irish Cobbler seed, routed for Norfolk, Virginia, stated Mr. E. D. Reid, manager of the P.E.I. Potato Growers' Association, yesterday.

As the accommodation at the Railway dock is limited, the loading of the Kabyle will not be completed until the S.S. Eugenia is loaded and on her way.

C.C.F. Leader Gives Impressions Of Trip To Britain

OTTAWA, Nov. 18 (CP) — M. J. Coldwell said tonight Britain's workers, contrary to some stories told by opponents of her present Government, are working harder than ever.

The C.C.F. leader gave impressions of a recent trip to Britain and Europe in an address prepared for delivery on a CBC free-time political broadcast known as "The Nation's Business."

Mr. Coldwell said both Britain's production and exports were mounting. In Birmingham, he had been told quite separately by two pre-reading capitalists that "their workers have never worked better or produced more."

He quoted Paul Hoffman, head of America's E.R.P., as agreeing with this view.

Mr. Coldwell added: "Because the (British) Government has had the courage to tell the people that

Bank Statement

OTTAWA, Nov. 18 (CP) — Dominion Government deposits decreased $9,596,000 to $108,836,000 during the week ended Nov. 17, the Bank of Canada reported today in its weekly statement.

Chartered bank deposits rose $3,196,000 to $559,401,000, while notes in circulation declined $997,000 to $1,282,064,000.

domestic shortages must continue until 1952 and because a majority of the people accept this truth, Britain will, in spite of grave difficulties, win through."

He quoted Gen. Lucius Clay, American commander in Berlin, as telling his visiting group that there was little war talk in Berlin, as expressing the opinion that "there was no likelihood of war in the foreseeable future" and as predicting that the airlift could supply Berlin "indefinitely."

The hope of democracy in Germany and Western Europe lies in the Democratic Socialist Parties, Mr. Coldwell said, and maintained that this opinion was shared by "most American officials with whom I discussed the problem."

Astronomers Begin All-out Effort

NORTH BAY, Ont., Nov. 18 (CP) — Astronomers are about to begin their all-out effort to determine the size and nature of the universe, the National Academy of Sciences was told today.

If everything goes smoothly they may have "something exciting to talk about" in six months or so, Dr. Edwin Hubble, of Mt. Wilson Observatory, reported at the closing session of the Academy meeting here.

He has anything conclusive by then. They may, however, get hold of enough new information to tell them whether their past efforts have been along the right track or whether they will have to back up and do a lot of things over again.

Dr. Hubble, who for decades has been probing space with the most powerful instruments available, said the first operations would get under way shortly with the 48-inch star camera on Palomar Mountain.

This instrument has been overshadowed by its big brother, the 200-inch "big eye" telescope which stands a few hundred yards away. However, in some respects it is the most powerful telescope now in operation. It produces bigger and sharper star images than the 100-inch reflecting telescope at Mt. Wilson which, except for the big eye, is the world's largest.
