Although the stay of the genial Captain and crew has been short, and shorter than their many friends here would have wished, yet they will gladly welcome them back again next winter. No doubt the third winter boat will be completed by that time and perhaps the Captain will then be able to stay with us all winter. They performed an excellent and very satisfactory service this season and although there is not a shadow of a doubt that the service could be maintained for a much longer period, yet as the responsibility of the route was placed solely upon the Captain he cannot be altogether blamed for adopting his present course.
