*BIG MACKEREL.—Mackerel is very plentiful off the North Side. A number of fishermen, while overhauling their herring nets, threw a few handfuls of bait and cast their lines in the hope of jigging a few mackerel. Their lines were tant almost immediately, and, for over an hour they enjoyed the good old sport of hooking the "Blue-backs."

*ACCIDENT.—Milton Dingwell's auxiliary boat, in charge of Captain Haphey, met with a mishap while returning from Souris to Bay Fortune on Thursday evening. In some undecipherable way the propeller was damaged and on examination was found to be so badly bent that Mr. Haphey was obliged to return to Souris to have it repaired. Arriving in Souris he beached her, intending to repair her at low tide but, as the tide did not fall low enough, he was unable to do this and had to remain over night.

The deceased was born in Uigg 78 years ago, the son of the late Deacon Roderick McLeod, and was a brother of the late Mr. Malcolm McLeod. In the early years of his life he was a familiar figure at all public gatherings. Possessing a fine and noble appearance and being gifted with ready wit he was desirable company everywhere. He was a fine Gaelic scholar and never tired of telling stories in that language or singing Gaelic songs. For the last few years he had been in failing health and was not so often seen except as he went for his mail. His familiar form will be much missed in the community. Dearest sympathy is extended to his sisters, the only two of the family left, Misses Mary and Catherine. The funeral took place on Saturday at one p. m. the following ministers taking part: Rev. Mr. Macdonald of the family left, Misses Mary and Montague, and Rev. W. D. Wilson, Charlottetown. Here the cortege was met by some of the Uigg friends and Rev. C. Peterson, who performed the last rites.

LETTER OF THANKS

The following letter received by Mrs. Rogers at Government House, speaks for itself:

Pictou, Sept. 13, 1913 To the President of Zion Church and St. James Church Auxiliaries: Dear Friends:—In the name of the Board of the W. F. and H. M. Society (E. D.) I write to thank you, the ladies and everyone of Charlottetown who contributed to the success of the Society's Annual meeting held in your midst this week. We feel that your labours were arduous because of the care and attention shown for the pleasure and comfort of your visitors. The plan of the mid-day meal being in the building which is so finely fitted for such work, gave much opportunity for fellowship socially, and afforded ample time for business consultations so often needed, this contributing in no small degree to make the meetings a success. Accept therefore our very sincere thanks for yourselves and all associates with you who helped to make the annual meeting the very successful and helpful one that the delegates unanimously declare it to have been. On behalf of the Board, very sincerely Yours,

AGNES M. THOMSON, President.
