Empire Day was celebrated in the public schools yesterday by the planting of trees, shrubs, etc in their gardens and by patriotic programs suitable to the different grades. Quite a number of parents and friends visited the different schools during the morning. At noon the pupils of West Kent School marched to the Gardens, to the Soldier's Monument, where the bugle sounded "first post" and a verse of the Island hymn was sung. Then followed a short, eloquent address by Rev. T. F. Fullerton and the placing of the wreath. The "last post" was then sounded and God Save the King was sung. A great many citizens were in attendance and the event will be long remembered by all.

For next week at Wonderland the management have decided to make a change in the entertainment there. They open the house Monday night at the old price, 5 cents, and will put on the best pictures obtainable, with the regular illustrated song. This decision has been arrived at owing to the request of innumerable patrons of the house, who use as an argument for it, that children cannot go to the vaudeville performances, as they occupy too much time. And that the half hour shows as originally held, are the best in their opinion. People can spare a half hour these fine evenings, where they would not take an hour out of a pleasant evening spent in the fresh spring air. Children can go to the first show and then go home in time to learn lessons, and as all these arguments bear weight the management have decided to once again have Wonderland as a picture house solely, at least, for a time. Miss McKinnon will remain still as the capable illustrated song singer, and what with the fine instrumental music the popular melodies and good motion pictures, Wonderland will bid for further patronage, and there is no doubt that it will succeed. Remember Monday night next.
