

SIFTON'S RINGING REPLY TO CARNEGIE

The Dominion is Independent of the United States—This Country is in no Danger of Absorption by Uncle Sam—Thousands of Americans Going Across the Border Yearly, Said Minister of the Interior, at London Banquet.

MONTREAL, May 23.—A special London cable to the Star says: "Hon. Clifford Sifton in addressing the London Chamber of Commerce last night, at the complimentary banquet given him, scored Andrew Carnegie for his attacks upon Canada. "Mr. Sifton said: 'History is full of people who have fought against geography. Canada has done that, but now she calls geography to her aid.' Mr. Sifton admitted that the United States had given shocks to Canada in the past, but in regarding Canada wholly independent of the United States. An increase of population amounting to 100,000 per annum might now be looked for in the Northwest. A considerable part of this increase is coming from the United States. This was Canada's reply to Mr. Carnegie. "London," said Mr. Sifton, "is more pro-American than Canada." It is an unquestionable fact," he continued, "that Canada is a part of the British empire and is not likely to be Americanized. It is her manifest destiny not to be absorbed by the United States." (Cheers.) "Sir Albert Elliot, the chairman, Lord Brassey and other influential speakers expressed the warmest appreciation of Canadian hospitality to the delegation of the chamber of commerce which recently visited Canada.

"A special toast of the dinner was to the congress of the chamber of Commerce of the Empire to be held in Montreal in August, 1903, and to the city of Montreal, which Lord Brassey proposed and Lord Stratheona responded to.

"Mr. Sifton surprised his hearers by making no reference to Mr. Chamberlain's proposals, but to the parliamentary secretary to the board of trade, Mr. Fielding's reference to the British attitude in his budget speech. After Mr. Chamberlain's speech," said Lord Brassey, "Mr. Fielding need no longer doubt that the Canadian preference is appreciated here. The speaker did not profess to reveal cabinet secrets, but he felt sure that there was no conflict between Mr. Balfour and Mr. Chamberlain. Their respective speeches must have been arranged before hand. Already forty per cent. of the total British manufactures were exported to the colonies and the best hope for British trade lay within the empire."

A special London cable says: "C. R. Devlin, M. P. for Galway, delivered his maiden speech in the house of commons yesterday. He spoke in support of the clause in the government's London education bill under which denominational schools, including at least 100 Catholic schools, are to be supported out of the rates, but will be controlled by the denomination itself. He admitted that some bitterness existed in Canada on the question of religious schools. The speech was well received.

"Lord Stratheona, who is arranging a visit to Montreal in July and August, will attend the conference of the Chamber of Commerce of the Empire.

"Dr. Robert Bell, director of the geological survey of Canada, was a guest at the annual banquet of the Royal Geographical Society. Major Darwin, who occupied the chair, complimented Dr. Bell on the good work he had done, adding that the world of science appreciated the work done by the Canadian geologists.

"The newspaper of Mr. Labouchere, has received a memorial from 100 hired-class British emigrants complaining of the treatment they received on the voyage from Liverpool to Halifax by the Carthaginian. The Allans reply that owing to the immense demand for passages the newest ships are insufficient for the traffic and the older boats are necessarily being pressed into service. They show, however, that the Carthaginian is fully up to the requirements of the board of trade. Truth says: "Seeing how strict the Board of Trade supervision is over emigrant steamships, the Allans' explanation are probably founded."

"Truth's own moral is, don't go to Canada until the rush ceases."
