LONDON, May 22.—Economies in America have relieved the meat situation in the Old Country. Cheese is in demand, but imports from Canada are expected to prove sufficient.

KEMMEL HILL NO HELP TO THE ENEMY

LONDON, May 22.—Kemmel Hill is no help to the enemy, as he must come around it on both sides to trenches before Loere. His helpful positions being lost he is further cramped in this region as the British guns restrict every movement.

ENEMY LOST 1000 AIRPLANES SINCE MARCH 21

Since the beginning of the German offensive, exactly two months ago, one thousand German airplanes have been brought down or driven down out of control and more than one thousand tons of bombs have been dropped over the enemy's lines.

LONDON, May 22.—The Times gives prominence to further authenticated atrocious systematic tortures and cold blooded murders of British prisoners in Germany which the summary of evidence shows is incredibly inhuman. There is the instance of the British soldier at Minden who was deliberately shot dead because a dozen Britishers did not want to draw the ration of filthy, undrinkable wash, served as coffee. At Merseburg, a number of seriously wounded men, British soldiers, were after vain protests, forced to work twelve hours a day at Angenzola camp three hundred wounded British soldiers arrived in the night time, and were herded into a large hut without bedding or blankets. Sixty-two of the three hundred died from over-crowding, neglect and ill-treatment.

Correspondence found on Irish radicals arrested in the United States referred frequently to the promise of German aid in an uprising, which was to be called for this month or next when the Germans expected to reach the Channel ports in their big drive. The Germans were then to send arms and ammunition and possibly troops to the Irish coast to participate in the rebellion. Full details of the evidence, was not made public. A few persons are still under surveillance. The story of how intrigue in this country was discovered, it was said, if published fully, would tell of many communications brought surreptitiously into the United States in violation of regulations. Many of these were written with invisible ink, and in code, and when deciphered, furnished clues leading to the detecting of many ramifications of the plot.

WINNIPEG, May 22.—About a dozen unions will strike today, involving the three railroad shops in the city. There are 8,000 men in these shops alone. "There will be about 11,000 men on strike today," said Ernest Robinson, Secretary of the Trades and Labor Council, in an interview this morning. "The street car men this morning will give 24 hours' notice to quit work making a complete tie-up of the street transportation service. The railroad shops will walk out en masse at 9.30 this morning, and stationary engineers will follow their comrades, coming out at 6.30 this evening."

HON. GIDEON ROBINSON GOES TO WINNIPEG

OTTAWA, May 22.—Hon. Gideon Robinson, Minister without portfolio, Chairman of the National Registration Board, and representative of Labor in the Cabinet, left last night for Winnipeg, where, acting on behalf of the government, he will negotiate with the service officials and striking labor men in an effort to reach an agreement.

LONDON, May 22.—In connection with their silver wedding, the King and Queen will pay an official visit to the city of London to receive an address on Saturday, July 6th. The corporation have appointed a special committee to make the arrangements. Their Majesties will also attend a thanksgiving service at St. Paul's Cathedral.

KING'S BIRTHDAY, JUNE 3rd

His Majesty the King's birthday will this year be observed on the actual date, June 3rd. His Majesty has expressed the desire that in the matter of ceremonial observance the precedent of last year shall be followed in all respects. There will be no salutes, reviews, dinners, or other celebrations.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The German army in America is rapidly being captured. The vast structure of German property in the United States, worth two billion dollars was confiscated and planted midst the wheels of American industry.

LONDON, May 22.—"I feel confident that the time is at hand when famine, stark, medieval famine, will join the Entente as a political and military ally against Germany and Austria," the correspondent of the Daily Mail telegraphs from Annemasse, in France, near the Swiss border.

The great mass of German and Austrian peoples, this information declares, are more than sick of the war. They think and talk of nothing but bread and their morale is also so low that the government is fearful of a Bolshevik move.

Among the incidents given in support of the story of terrible want is the case of two prisoners of war employed at the gas works in Vienna who, he declares, were murdered by fellow workers who ate part of the bodies. The Arbeiter Zeitung of Vienna demanded an investigation and the entire issue was confiscated in consequence. The affair was referred to in parliament but was hushed up in the Vienna press.

LONDON, May 22.—According to Field Marshal Haig's report tonight from British headquarters in France, the French repulsed an attack north of Bailleul. The statement reads:—"A hostile counter-attack launched this morning against new positions northwest of Merrville was made in considerable strength upon a front of twelve hundred yards. A very heavy bombardment preceded the enemy's advance, but despite the intensity of his artillery preparation, his infantry only succeeded in reaching our positions at two points where they were dealt with effectively by our troops in each case. Our whole line is intact."

TWO ENEMY RAIDS REPULSED

Two raids which the enemy attempted last night in the sector north of Bailleul were repulsed by the French troops. We secured a few prisoners and a machine gun this morning in a patrol encounter in the neighborhood of Boffes.

COMPLETE CONFIDENCE AMONG ALL ALLIED ARMIES WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE

OTTAWA, May 22.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Germans apparently are awaiting the return of the offensive spirit among some of their best divisions, severely tried during the first stages of the offensive, before reopening operations. Large numbers of their units lost a considerable portion of their effectiveness in the heavy fighting in Picardy and Flanders, and despite the fact that the ranks have been filled immediately from depots in the rear, strong impressions of the terrific ordeal through which they passed are still retained by them. The German command knows this perfectly well and is therefore holding back as long as possible before attacking, so as to have more recuperated units available to add to those which have not participated in the fighting up to this time. It seems to be indicated clearly that the objective of the Germans when they do commence heavy fighting again, will be a desperate effort to divide the Allied armies by assaulting their lines of communication. It seems probable, too, that they may even extend the battlefield further south and east toward the district lines between Laonne and Rheims, where the front is well served by railroads, which would enable them to attempt a surprise on the Allies by making a big demonstration there with the intention of attracting General Foch's reserves while they carry out their main effort further north.

OTTAWA, Ont., May 22.—The extraordinary change in the sentiment in the province of Quebec is illustrated by the manner in which the youth of the province are answering the call to arms. For instance, in Quebec City, the centre of all the disturbance, there were 60 men called out on Friday; the whole sixty responded before noon and were in khaki before night.

OTTAWA, May 22.—With public galleries packed, and amid scenes of excitement, the House concluded the debate on titles a few minutes before midnight. The end came at an announcement by the Prime Minister, which no doubt had its effect on the division. There had been a question whether an adverse vote on a sub-amendment submitted by the Prime Minister would be regarded as a vote of no-confidence.

(From our own Correspondent)

OTTAWA, May 22.—The amendment of the Prime Minister was to abolish hereditary titles, but to retain titles granted at the discretion of the government. On this point, Sir Robert Borden made his position clear. "If," he declared, "the House does not propose to accept the choice which I have asked them frankly and with much respect to make, I should consider that I had been relieved from my duty of carrying on longer the government of this country, and I should ask His Excellency, the Governor-General, to seek other advisors. It seems to me that a somewhat peculiar course has been pursued by some honorable gentlemen on this side of the House, enquiring of the Leader of the Opposition as to whether or not his motion was to be treated as a motion of want of confidence. In my understanding of the course which is pursued on such occasions I have always understood that the leader of the government should be asked with regard to that and I cannot quite understand the reason why there should have been resort to my honorable friend on the other side of the House (Sir Wilfrid Laurier) to learn how I should regard a motion of this kind. However, the course has been taken and it is entirely in the judgment of the House to determine what course they intend to pursue in the matter, so far as I am concerned my choice is absolutely clear and open."

OTTAWA, May 22.—There was tabled in parliament today a return, consisting of 200 typewritten pages of correspondence between Sir Robert Borden, Hon. J. A. Calder, Minister of Immigration, and Hon. T. Crear, Minister of Agriculture, and various people relating to the movement of bringing Chinese coolie labor into Canada to relieve the labor shortage and to increase production. Generally speaking, the proposal received a considerable amount of support from a limited section of the agricultural interests of the Province of Saskatchewan, the fruit growing industry of British Columbia, and other bodies. The strongest opposition came from organized labor throughout the Dominion.

RUSHING BUSINESS THROUGH COMMONS

OTTAWA, May 22.—The House got busy yesterday cleaning up the estimates of the different departments. Amongst the ones passed were those of Sir George Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, Hon. James A. Calder, Hon. Allison and Hon. Wesley Rowell, Privy Council, while Hon. T. A. Crear, Minister of Agriculture, got some of his through. In the morning the Inspection and Sale Act, and the Act to amend the Companies Act, got their third readings. In the afternoon the House decided to go into committee of supply and what looked like an interesting afternoon started. However, owing to the request of the Prime Minister, the fireworks were called off for a time, the said fireworks being a debate on the soldiers' votes in the recent election.

LONDON, May 22.—The Russian Commissioner for Foreign Affairs, it was made known today, sent the following wireless message on April 12th to the German Foreign Office:—"In the Turkish advance on the Caucasus, the peaceful population, including men women and children, is being cut down by the thousands. The treaty we were forced to sign at Brest-Litovsk provided that the population at Ardahan, Kars and Batum should have full freedom and the right to control their destiny in their own way. The events in these regions show that the policy of extermination which has been followed for the past ten years is still being pursued. Responsibility for atrocities among the Armenian people in the region at present occupied by Turkey devolves upon the German Government, whose direct assistance make it possible for Turkey to exercise its will in these regions."
