SEES BENEFIT TO PROVINCE

General Hornby Believes British Immigration Scheme Would Be of Advantage Here.

Brigadier General M. L. Hornby, Leithbridge, Alberta, who is here in connection with an immigration scheme, was driven over a considerable portion of the province on Saturday by Mr. W. R. Shaw of the Department of Agriculture. General Hornby who viewed a number of farms on Saturday expressed the opinion that this province would be materially benefited by immigration of the right type.

The scheme proposed by General Hornby involves the establishing of two hundred and fifty settlements of one hundred farms each. These settlers are to be of British descent. General Hornby affirms that this will tend to develop and British closer together, which will in turn doubtless increase Canada's trade with Britain. General Hornby is going from here to Amherst, N. S., on Tuesday to look over a proposed settlement there. From Amherst he goes to St. John, N. B., to confer with the Hon. J. Murray, Director of Colonization for the Government of N. B. On Thursday he is to be present at and address a meeting of the Eastern Township Society at Sherbrooke, Que. From there he will return to the West.

Labor Seeks Further Change In The NRA

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The American Federation of Labor, through its executive committee, called today for a "major adjustment" in the economic organization of the United States and an increased tempo by business that would "use the capacity of our industries."

In its report on the year's activities to the annual convention of the federation, the council also stated that NRA codes be further amended to increase employment and boost wages.

A broad legislative programme was proposed, including a 30-hour week, minimum wage laws, old-age security and ratification of the constitutional amendment to outlaw child labor.

Rev. A. G. Robertson and Rev. J. W. Smith joined Rev. N. D. Patterson and Rev. John Stead in addressing the men from automobiles and late Saturday night they dispersed to their homes. All was quiet today, and with telegrams being exchanged between town authorities and the provincial government it was expected that difficulties would be ironed out by Monday.

The unemployed had been threatening violence all day Saturday. Mayor F. L. Kelly and Tom Smith, chairman of unemployed workers, nearly came to blows at one time and a set-to was avoided by Police of Police Lewis Clarke.

SEEK SCHEME FOR MARKETING OF BUTTER

Dominion Marketing Board Scheme For Exportation of Apples And Pears Working Well.

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
OTTAWA, Sept. 30.—Although the Dominion Marketing Board has been in existence little more than a month it has had a number of varied problems to deal with and definite steps are now under way looking to the regulation of the marketing of a number of agricultural products.

New Brunswick's potato growers, and livestock and poultry men from the West met the board during the past week seeking assistance in preparing schemes to regulate their commodities. The latest word is a proposed scheme to regulate the marketing of butter. No petition has yet been received but it was learned the field is being surveyed by representatives of a group of producers with a view to making a formal approach to the board.

Two schemes have been approved so far and both seem to be working with little difficulty. They are for the regulation of the exportation of apples and pears generally and for the marketing of British Columbia tree fruits.

The board has met with some impatience at delay in getting schemes dealt with but constantly emphasizes the necessity of careful consideration and a review of all interests affected. The interests of both producers and consumers have to be considered and if the scheme relates to export trade it must be reviewed in the light of the reaction of the importing countries, of international relations and of trade agreements.

SEES UPTREND IN CANADA

(C.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
QUEBEC, Sept. 30.—Convinced Canada was "definitely on the highroad back to prosperity," Viscount Eilbank, chairman of the Federation of Chambers of Commerce of the Empire, was on his way home to England aboard the Empress of Britain today after a short visit to the Dominion.

Before his departure yesterday Viscount Eilbank said the iron and steel industry in Canada had shown a marked improvement. "Industry in Canada," he said, "appears to have made notable progress, and while there are still some problems to be solved, there is no doubt they will be solved."

"The courage and fortitude displayed by Canada during the depression will have its result in the future and the country will add to her strength and prestige with the continued development of her vast natural resources."

Viscount Eilbank who was an unofficial observer at the Ottawa Imperial Conference added that public opinion in the Old Country was behind the Ottawa trade pact. Although Great Britain had not yet received its full benefits from them, he was confident their advantages would increase with time.

Will Sell Seized Cargo Of Liquor

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
BOSTON, Sept. 30.—U. S. Attorney Francis J. W. Ford Saturday said liquor valued at $100,000 seized from the British motor ship Anacatia in Buzzards Bay, Nov. 1, 1932, would soon be disposed of by sale. The defendants, he said, had abandoned a plan to appeal a ruling of Judge Elsha H. Brewster, forfeiting the liquor to the United States Government.

The boat was on its way from St. Pierre, Miquelon, to Nassau when it was forced into Buzzards Bay by a storm. Capt. William Tenthoff, had contended. When seized the hatches were battened down and defense counsel had contended there was no evidence that it was the intent of the captain to dispose of the liquor in this territory. Judge Brewster, however, ruled that the liquor should be forfeited.

Of the original 5546 cases of assorted liquor aboard when the craft was seized, Federal officials said, $3800 worth was now missing. They had been unable, they said, to determine what had become of it.

HAUPTMANN DIARY IS STUDIED

Contents of Six Notebooks Containing Expenditures of Suspect Are Carefully Guarded.

By Francis A. Jamieson, Associated Press Staff Writer
(By Guardian's Special Wire)
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—A detailed study of six notebooks in which Bruno Hauptmann methodically jotted down his household and financial records is being undertaken, it was disclosed today, in a search for new evidence on the passing of Lindbergh ransom money.

District Attorney Samuel J. Foley of the Bronx has guarded carefully the contents of the memoranda found in the apartment of Hauptmann, already indicted for extorting the $50,000 ransom. The records are understood, however, to have furnished clues as to shops in which Hauptmann passed some of the gold notes which have not yet come to light. Proprietors of these stores will be questioned tomorrow, it was reported.

Renew Investigation

A renewal of the District Attorney's drive to complete his case also will bring during the week a new examination of Hauptmann by three assistants and an application by Foley for selection of a special jury panel of 800 men.

Hauptmann underwent physical examinations yesterday, but his mentality has not yet been studied by psychiatrists. The board will include one selected by Foley, one by New Jersey Authorities, and one by Hauptmann's counsel.

Mrs. Anna Hauptmann, the prisoner's wife, has been subpoenaed to appear tomorrow before representative Samuel Dickstein, representing the house committee investigating Nazi activities in the United States.

Maine Mill Closes Down

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
WESTBROCK, Me., Sept. 30.—Discontinuance of operations here by the Westbrook Weaving Company silk mill, whose 104 employees forced its closing during the recent textile strike was announced Saturday by Sidney R. Schulhofer, general manager.

Schulhofer said the company had relinquished its leases and was moving its property to other mills. The company came here a year ago.

Mayor Rufus K. Jordan said after a conference at city hall the unemployed operatives would not get city aid unless they earned it. When the mills opened last Wednesday, only 26 of the employees were given work and the union opposed the return of any unless all were employed.
