States Policy Of Government

Province's trans-Canada highway project, and in addition $2,500 a mile had been received on five miles of experimental highway undertaken last fall.

Last year alone, the Province had received a federal appropriation of over $100,000 for highway purposes. The concrete highway at Borden was constructed entirely at federal expense.

Opening Remarks

In his opening remarks the Premier feelingly expressed his appreciation of the continued confidence shown in him since his entry into politics twelve years ago. He briefly reviewed the events in his political career, and particularly the heavy responsibilities of the past two years, on his accession to the Premiership, following the death of Premier Stewart. Reference was also made to the loss incurred earlier in the Conservative administration by the death of the Hon. Leonard MacNeill, Minister of Public Works.

He could truthfully say that during his twelve years as representative for Charlottetown he had not been out of his seat in the Legislature for one day, and that during the past four years he had not been absent for one hour while the House was in session. "I am not saying this by way of boasting," he added, "but merely to show that I have endeavored to discharge my legislative duties." (Applause).

After expressing warm appreciation of the loyalty and support received at all times by the Conservative organization in the Fifth District, the Premier continued:

Vital Issues

"The contests which are approaching will be vital contests in my opinion, so far as the welfare and future of Canada and this Province are concerned. Personally I do not think that any greater calamity could befall Canada than an adverse vote given to Canada's greatest Prime Minister, the Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, when he appeals to the electorate." (Applause). "I have learned to know that man and to love him for his sincerity, his unfailing enthusiasm, and the devoted interest he has given to Canada during the five most difficult years of our history. It is not much wonder that his health is not up to par today, because no man can do what he has done and not suffer physically. But when I had the honour and privilege of seeing him on my second last visit to Ottawa, before his physicians allowed him to go out of his room, I was quite convinced, in my own mind, as a physician, that he had no organic heart disease. And I believe that the result of the examination by the men whom he consulted in the Old Country has been to the same effect. But he is suffering from over-work, and should have a rest before the campaign begins."

Expressing the fullest confidence in the outcome of the federal election, the Premier declared, amid applause, that he stood foursquare behind every policy enunciated by the Prime Minister. He quoted the statement of the Economic Committee of the League of Nations, crediting Canada, under the Bennett policies, with making greater progress out of the depression than any other country in the world.

Challenges Opposition

Coming to provincial affairs, the Premier said he approached the conflict with every assurance that the Conservative government would be returned. "What," he challenged, "has the Liberal party in this Province to offer that the present government has not already done? The recent statements of Opposition speakers he characterized as being on a par with the statements made at Liberal political meetings last summer, which had subsequently to be repudiated or corrected in the Legislature. Mr. McIntyre however had boasted, notwithstanding the proved inaccuracy of some of these statements, that he intended "using them again."

Mr. Lea had been quoted in the Summerside Liberal press as criticising the Government for alleged squandering and bungling. "Fine words to come from the leader of the Opposition." (Laughter). "His record of the last eight months of his administration speaks for itself, when he increased the liabilities to the tune of $540,000—an all-time record in Prince Edward Island. It ill behooves him, or any of his followers, to make a statement of that kind."

A brief review of the records of both party governments was then given by the speaker, reference being made particularly to the added burden which the Conservatives had to shoulder in reconstructing Prince of Wales College and Falconwood Hospital. While there are now two splendid units at the latter institution, there is still inadequate accommodation and no provision at all for convalescent patients. "Until that is provided I will never be satisfied with the standing of Falconwood Hospital," he said. "Progress has been made but we are not near the end of the work required."

The Premier branded as a falsehood the statement, repeatedly made by the Opposition, that $36,000 had been paid in architect's fees for a $100,000 building at Falconwood. "The plans in question," he said "were for a complete hospital system, designed in the most modern scientific way and with a view to bringing costs down to a minimum.

"You don't hear any criticism about the Prince Edward Island Hospital, for paying $30,000 in architect's fees, for one building. That was what they had to do because their plans had to be changed several times. This Government was faced with the same problem. Is it unreasonable that our plans, not for one building but for a whole mental hospital system, should cost $5,000 more than the Prince Edward Island Hospital plans? That is the situation." (Applause).

The Government had taught the Opposition a striking lesson in economy in the administration of Falconwood, continued the Premier, A saving during the past four years of the cost of a whole year's administration, as compared with the cost under the Saunders-Lea Government, had been made.

"Private Cars"

Quoting Mr. Lea's criticism regarding private cars, the Premier said he never had had a car at the Government's expense, either as Minister of Education or as Premier. Mr. Lea when in power had been quite satisfied to use what was known as the Premier's car, to drive to his home every evening.

The Premier's Challenge

Continuing, the Premier challenged the Opposition leader to say what he or his party had obtained in the way of financial assistance from Ottawa during their four years. The only grant they had received was what they obtained in the last few months of their administration, from the Bennett Government. (Applause).

Renewing Liberal failure to obtain a subsidy settlement the Premier flatly contradicted the Opposition contention that they had failed to get support from the Conservative premiers of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. At the proper time, he added, he was prepared to submit the proof that this statement was absolutely incorrect.

"I will go further and say that whatever representations they made to the Mackenzie King Government were scoffed at, sneered at and ridiculed. That was the reason this Province obtained nothing under the Saunders-Lea administration in the way of subsidy settlement." (Applause).

A telegram was read from Miss Mary Allison Doull thanking the society for their invitation to be present at the opening and expressing regret at being unable to attend.

The exhibition will be open every afternoon for a week, except May 24. It will also be open this evening and tomorrow evening.

Mr. J. P. Gordon, chairman of the Library Committee, congratulated the society on its great achievement in a short time. He expressed the assurance that the library will at all times do all possible to assist the society.

The exhibit consisting of 39 pictures is the work of Canadian water color artists. The pictures were selected by the Canadian Society of Painters in Water Color as representative of its annual exhibition held in Toronto during April, 1934. They are the property of the National Art Gallery of Canada. The majority of the pictures are landscapes.

That Famous "Budget"

The Premier quoted a statement in the Liberal press, crediting Mr. Lea with the statement that "the Liberals had suggested as a budget $438,000, which the Conservatives had ridiculed at the time."

This famous "budget," the Premier explained, was presented by Premier Saunders before the Audit Board, which had no authority to deal with the matter of subsidy settlement. On the very same day that Premier Saunders tabled his ideal "budget" at Ottawa, Mr. Lea, as Acting Premier of this Province, submitted another set of claims in the Patriot, asking for three and a quarter million dollars. (Loud laughter and applause).

"The result," added the Premier, "was just what you would expect. They got nothing."

Reference was made to the Government's success in obtaining automobile rate reductions on the car ferry, to the reduction of one and a half cents per gallon on gasoline, as well as the bringing here of the Carnegie Corporation grants for library demonstration and for the establishment of a chair of economics and sociology at the Prince of Wales College and St. Dunstan's University.

Mr. Lea's promised "balanced budget" simply meant a return to the old Lea-McIntyre system of burying road gravelling and road machinery expenses in capital instead of current accounts, the Premier explained.

He closed, amid loud applause, with a brief reference to the Government's policy of encouraging farmers to get back into mixed farming, and of bringing as much unemployment money into the Province as possible.

13 Salient Points Of Address

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

BERLIN, May 21—(C. P.-Havas)—Following are the 13 points of Chancellor Adolf Hitler's momentous declaration of foreign policy delivered before the Reichstag today:

1. Germany rejects the League resolution condemning Reich rearmament.
2. Germany will not adhere to such sections of the peace treaty as affect her and have been broken by the other powers.
3. Germany will sign no treaties which cannot be carried out, but will respect all obligations resulting from Locarno as long as the other signatories do.
4. Germany is ready to participate in a collective security system but demands treaty revision.
5. The Reich holds that European co-operation must be achieved through unanimity and not by imposing maximum demands.
6. Germany is ready to conclude non-aggression treaties with its neighbors and to add clauses for the isolation of all belligerents.
7. Germany is ready to conclude an "air Locarno" to complement the Locarno Treaty.
8. Germany will adhere to the figures announced for its land forces but accepts air limitation. It wants a fleet 35 percent of Britain's
9. The Reich is ready to participate in all efforts limiting an arms race.
10. Germany favors suppression of ar bombardment outside the zone of battle, and suppression of heavy artillery and tank war-fare.
11. Germany is ready to limit the calibre of battleship guns. She is ready to sign a convention limiting submarines and even suppressing them entirely.
12. The Reich is convinced that all present efforts to dissipate international tension will fail unless control of public opinion through press, cinema, theatre and radio is effected.
13. Germany will sign any treaty of non-intervention into the affairs of another nation providing the term "non-intervention" is defined.

BRITAIN TO DOUBLE AIR STRENGTH

Recruiting in All Parts of Colonial Empire To Be Encouraged.

(By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

(C. P. Cable By Guardian's Special Wire)

LONDON, May 21—Announcement that Great Britain's first-line fighting strength in the air will have to be doubled is expected to be made in Parliament tomorrow when Britain replies to Adolf Hitler.

Stanley Baldwin in the House of Commons and Lord Londonderry in the House of Lords will make the simultaneous declarations of British defence policy.

Besides doubling of the strength of the R.A.F., the declaration, it is expected, will call for completion within two years of the former-five year program of air force expansion.

This will represent in the air the largest single expansion of any section of the British fighting forces ever made in peace time.

At the same time the British ministers would be only too glad to welcome some indication from Hitler of German willingness to join in effective limitation of armaments. They will emphasize that their airplanes are no panic measures; that they are in no sense a form of challenge to Germany.

Two facts dominate the situation; Germany's claim to first line parity with France, and Baldwin's pledge to the House of Commons that the British air strength will equal that of any country within striking distance of her shores.

It is this latter pledge which tomorrow's announcement will seek to implement, in the light of revelations in regard to German air strength.

There will be close cooperation between the British government and the aircraft industry, it is indicated. But anything in the nature of bringing it within the scope of government organization is unlikely.

Recruiting from all parts of the colonial Empire will also be encouraged, it is forecast.

Two Million For Tourist Promotion

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

MONTREAL, May 21.—In a coordinated effort to attract tourists to Canada this year tourist promotion agencies will spend $2,200,000, Theodore G. Morgan, chairman of the executive of the Canadian Association of Tourist and Convention Bureaux, declared here today. The sum, he said, was the largest to be spent in promoting the tourist industry in the Dominion as revealed by a nationwide survey.

The transportation companies, Mr. Morgan said, would spend about $1,500,000 of the total amount. The balance is apportioned between other agencies with the Province of Quebec Tourist Council figuring for an expenditure of $250,000.

Every effort was being made to promote inter-provincial and intra-imperial touring, Mr. Morgan emphasized.

Rejects League Resolution Re Rearmament

completed and improved and thereby raised their armament extraordinarily.

"....What was done not only ran counter to the intentions of President Wilson but also, according to the opinion of the most prominent representatives of the other side, violated the obligations of the Versailles Treaty to which they had affixed their signatures. For this there was no excuse."

Germany will not put forward any plan for peace, Der Fuehrer declared, because "it is almost purposeless to advance constructive plans if their rejection may be regarded as certain."

"Had my constructive plan of 300,000-man armies been accepted," he said, "many worries today would be less formidable and many burdens lighter."

Refers to Armaments

He was bitterly sarcastic in his comment on those who would see in Germany's armaments cause to fear war and in other nations' armaments reason to hope for peace.

"If armaments threaten peace," he declared, "then they do this in the case of all states.....

"It will not do for one group of states to represent their armaments as ollve branches of peace but the armaments of others as a scourge of the devil.

"A tank is a tank; a bomb is a bomb."

He summarized Germany's attitude on several problems of the moment thus:

"First, the German government rejects the Geneva resolution of March 17 (the League of Nations Council's indictment of Germany for rearming in violation of the Versailles Treaty).

"Second, it declares solemnly that the articles of the Versailles Treaty that are not concerned with armament obligations cannot be renounced unilaterally by any power. This applies also to territorial clauses.

"Third, the German Government would scrupulously stand by all treaties that were voluntarily signed; especially would it fulfill all obligations arising from the Locarno Pact.....

"Fourth, the German Government is ready, for the completion of the Locarno pact, to agree to an air convention.

"Fifth, Germany is ready always so to limit her armaments as others are ready to limit theirs; in limiting German air armament to a parity with other individual great European nations, it makes it possible at any time to fix an upper limit to which Germany will agree.

"Sixth, the German Government is ready actively to participate in all endeavors to limit armament .....

"Seventh, Germany is ready to accept every limitation which means the elimination of the heaviest type of weapon especially adapted to attack; Germany is ready to agree to every limitation on the calibre and strength of artillery, battleships, cruisers and torpedo boats.

"Germany has no intention of arming to the skies. We believe that if the people of the world would unite jointly in destroying all their fire, gas and explosive bombs, this would be a cheaper affair than destroying each other."

CLARIFIES SITUATION

GENEVA, May 21.—(A.P.)—Swift reaction in some international circles here tonight to Adolf Hitler's speech was that it clarifies the European situation and outlines the conditions under which useful conversations could be held.

League of Nations quarters were interested in the remark that Germany would not return to the League until she gets equality in practice and wondered whether the armaments race could be halted by a limitations conference.

LONDON, May 21—(A.P.)—Adolf Hitler's promise before the Reichstag today that Germany, far from tearing up the rest of the Versailles Treaty would respect its territorial clauses, was described in authoritative British quarters tonight as his most important contribution to the peace of Europe.

Almost equally important in the official British view was his declaration of loyalty to the Locarno Treaty, which binds Germany, France, Italy, Belgium and Great Britain to preserve boundaries in western Europe.

Plans for Anglo-German naval talks in London, postponed until Hitler had an opportunity to express his views, are now expected to be arranged at the earliest possible date.

2nd Reading Given Minimum Wage Bill

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, May 21—Reconvening today after the Easter Parliamentary recess, the Senate gave second reading to the minimum wage bill passed by the House of Commons. The measure was sent to the banking and commerce committee for further consideration.

The proposed legislation was for practical effect and application more of a provincial than a federal nature, Liberal Senate Leader Raoul Dandurand stated briefly. He believed this would be apparent when provisions of the bill were studied. Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Senate leader, answered he would discuss the matter further in committee state.

First official act of the elder statesmen was to pay tribute to three of their numbers who died in the five weeks' vacation—Hon. H. S. Beland (Lib. Lauzon), Senator Peter Martin (Cons. Halifax) and Hon. John Lewis (Lib. Toronto).

Federal Govt. Ready To Aid Re B.C. Strike

OTTAWA, May 21—The Dominion Government is ready and willing to discuss the Vancouver relief strike situation with the British Columbia government and to provide whatever assistance is needed, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett told the House of Commons today. If a condition of chaos arises it will be due to failure of the British Columbia authorities to ask for assistance, he said.

Until requested by the British Columbia government the Dominion has no right to enforce the criminal law or preserve order in British Columbia, said Mr. Bennett. The provincial government is alone competent to act. Neither can the Dominion deal with the city of Vancouver respecting law and order.

Mr. Bennett was answering a question from Angus MacInnis (Labor Vancouver Centre) who asked his view on a statement attributed to Mayor G. G. McGeer of Vancouver that the Dominion Government should intervene to avert a clash between the police and the strikers.

NEW YORK, May 21—Bill Dickey New York Yankees' first-string catcher, today was suspended for three days and fined $50 as the result of his argument with Umpire Bill McGowan in yesterday's game with the White Sox, when a balk was called on Johnny Broaca.

Dickey was ejected from the game along with pitcher Johnny Allen, who joined the dispute by pounding a bat on the Yankee bench. In his report to President Will H. [illegible] of the American League, McGowan said Dickey used "profane and abusive language."

Govt. To Deal With Japanese Protest

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, May 21. — Legislation designed to adjust inequalities arising from application of the currency dump against imports from countries which have a high cost of living because of depreciated currency, such as had recently been the subject of protests from Japan, was promised by Prime Minister R. B. Bennett in the House of Commons today. Other measures which he said would be laid before the House shortly included seven or eight bills arising from the reoprt of the Mass Buying Commission, and a housing bill.

With respect to the resolution standing in the name of the Prime Minister, advocating the establishment of a Canadian grain board, Mr. Bennett said, "when other more pressing business is disposed of that will be dealt with in due course."

Of particular interest was Mr. Bennett's reference to the exchange measure dealing with complaints raised by Japan that the currency dump in Canada constituted a barrier to trade already much overbalanced in favor of Canada, and with similar conditions that might affect other countries.

The bill, the Prime Minister said, "will confer upon the government power to deal with the problem of what are called clearing house agreements and the purchase of commodities through the use of exchange arising from the sale in our markets of commodities of other countries."

Mrs. Moody To Again Seek Tennis Title

(A.P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

NEW YORK, May 21 — Helen Wills Moody, heading for Britain in the hope of regaining the tennis heights after a two-year lapse, lost herself completely today in the feminine delights of shopping for a European trip and visiting old friends.

In New York again for the first time since 1933, when the back injury that has kept her out of competitive tennis since caused her to default to Helen Jacobs in the finals of the United States Women's Championships, Mrs. Moody wasted little time on interviews.

She sails tomorrow. She expects to practice five weeks in Britain, engaging in minor tournaments, before seeking at Wimbledon again the singles crown she already has captured six times.

25th Anniversary Of Ordination Observed Yesterday

Yesterday Rev. Bernard Gillis, D.D., the beloved Chaplain of the Sacred Heart Home and City Hospital observed his silver jubilee — twenty five years in the Holy Priesthood.

At 6.30 yesterday morning he celebrated High Mass in the Chapel of the City Hospital, the Altar being becomingly arranged with colored lights in addition to the liturgical candles.

The male choir of St. Dunstan's Basilica of which there was a full attendance rendered St. Cecelia's Mass. At the Offertory "Ecce Sacerdos Magnus" was rendered and during the distribution of Holy Communion, "Cor Jesu." At the conclusion of Mass the choir sang "Ave Maria."

Seated in the Sanctuary was Rev. Theodore Gallant, of Fifteen Point, a college friend of Rev. Dr. Gillis.

At noon yesterday a banquet was held at the Canadian National at which were present His Excellency Bishop O'Sullivan and a number of priests of the diocese.

The observance concluded last evening at 7:15 when the Jubilarian gave Benediction of The Most Blessed Sacrament in the Chapel of the City Hospital, the Corpus Christi Choir of the Basilica rendering the music.

Rev. Dr. Gillis, who enjoys a large circle of friends in the city and province, was ordained on May 21st, 1910 in the Basilica at Quebec by the late Cardinal Begin.

He commenced his studies for the Priesthood in St. Dunstan's University and after graduation entered the Grand Seminary, Quebec, where after his ordination he received the degree of Doctor of Divinity.

Rev. Dr. Gillis celebrated his first High Mass in Sydney, where his father, mother and other members of his family at that time resided.

When St. Dunstan's University reopened for the fall term Dr. Gillis was appointed to the teaching staff, where he remained until appointed assistant to Rev. James Aeneas McDonald, East Point, who was in failing health.

After two years as assistant Rev. Dr. Gillis was appointed pastor of East Point Parish on the death of Father McDonald, where he labored until 1917 when he was transferred to All Saints Parish, Cardigan, where he remained for nine years, until coming to this city, where he now cares for the spiritual welfare of the occupants of the Sacred Heart Home and City Hospital.

Rev. Dr. Gillis is an accomplished musician, possessing a pleasing tenor voice. He gives freely of his talent to aid worthy objects. In addition he is an accomplished pianist, this talent being confined for the enjoyment of personal friends.

The Guardian joins with a host of friends in the wish that he may live to celebrate his Golden Anniversary.

VOTE FOR TUNNEL PROJECT

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)

OTTAWA, May 21—A vote of $1,000,000 for a tunnel under Toronto Harbor to Hanlan's Island passed through committee stage in the House of Commons today. It ended a long blockade by the Liberals which started before the Easter recess.

Renewed objections to the tunnel were voiced by Hon. J. S. Elliott (Lib. Middlesex West) as the House continued discussion of the public works bill. Mr. Elliott said there were ways in which the money could be spent to better advantage and to give work to unemployed. He said the Dominion Government had already spent more money on Toronto Harbor developments than it was bound to spend under the agreement of 1913.

Junior Red Crosses Rally At St. Eleanor's

The first of a series of twenty Junior Red Cross Rallies to be held in different centres in the Province was conducted last night at St. Eleanors. The groups who attended and took part in the program were: "The King George" and "Beavers" Branches of St. Eleanor's School, the "Prince of Wales" Branch of St. Eleanor's North, the "Sherbrooke Toilers" of Sherbrooke, and the "Up and Doing" Juniors of Linkletter School. Following an attractive program presented by these schools, the moving picture of Crippled Children's Work in Prince Edward Island was shown by Miss Catherine MacLean, Provincial Director of Junior Red Cross. Miss MacLean told how the Junior Red Cross, with the assistance of the Charlottetown Rotary and Gyro Clubs and with the co-operation of the hospitals, the optometrists, and the medical profession, had financed treatment for more than twelve hundred crippled or otherwise handicapped Island children. The audience was greatly interested in seeing the excellent results obtained with so many of the children who are patients at the Red Cross Clinics conducted in this province by Dr. T. B. Acker.

Mr. Earle Jelley, principal of St. Eleanors School, who presided expressed thanks to the Dramatic Club of St. John's Church who donated the candy sold, and to those who had given the hall free of charge. The roceeds of these Rallies are being donated to the Crippled Children's Fund.
