takingly taught during the last two years. Public School Certificates were presented to Lona Carver, Isabel Bruce and Harold Wood, also prizes to several pupils and the superintendents Confederation Medals presented to all the pupils.

Lona Carver then presented the teacher with a French Ivory brush and comb, also a vanity set, and Miss Pansy Wood read the following address: Miss Ethel Hynes: Dear Teacher:—On this the eve of your departure from our midst we feel that we must say a few words of thanks for your kindness and thoughtfulness to us during the past two years.

We ask you to accept this small gift not for its value, but as a token of the esteem in which you are held. And dear teacher, wherever the path of Life may lead you the love and good wishes of the pupils of Vernon River School will always accompany you.

Signed on behalf of the pupils of Vernon River School. Candy was then served by the teacher and the singing of the National Anthem brought a very successful examination to a close. (Patriot please copy)

HEAVY TOURIST TRAFFIC—Tourist travel from the United States to Saint John continued brisk Monday. The noon, Boston train brought seven coaches filled with holiday visitors. The Governor Dingley arrived in port in the morning with a passenger quota of 240. The majority of these left on No. 14 yesterday afternoon for Nova Scotia in the Saint John Telegraph-Journal. Motor parties are arriving in considerable numbers daily and the local hotels reported a good business in this line. Train and boat officials said that this year's tourist travel compared very favorably with that of this period of 1926. Many automobiles bearing license tags from almost every province in the Dominion and state in the United States have been seen on the city streets. Cars have been noticed from as far south as Florida and Texas and as far west as Vancouver and California.

Mr. MacVittie, who has been a successful farmer in the past few years, but who has since changed his vocation to building and contracting, holds a permanent position with the National Company, Boston. Mr. Martin, who is connected with the Commercial Printing Business, Cambridge, yet who owns property on P. E. I., found during his visit that it may be called "Garden of the Gulf", due to the "facts of places visited such as Ch'ville, Rustico, Royalty, York, S'ide, Belmont, Freetown, Tryon, Hampton, Victoria and other districts. He intends in the near future to reside on his farm and bring his wife, who was one of P. E. I.'s most successful school teachers. It was rather a coincidence that these gentlemen should arrive the day previous to Election, as both gentlemen were great advocates of Government Control as Prohibition has been such a failure in U. S. Mr. Guy Henderson who was formerly Miss Crockett, York and Miss Estelle Henderson a Graduate Nurse of P. E. I. Hospital, Charlottetown, had a delightful time visiting relatives and friends in Ch'town and vicinity. On the return trip they were accompanied by Miss Jeannette MacVittie, Westmoreland, who is spending an enjoyable vacation in Cambridge and other cities. They report the roads in fair condition and also report that numerous motorists were on their way to "Spud" Island, and no doubt if they meet with the same hospitality they will enjoy a splendid time on their vacation.

Temper Tests For Railway Men

(By British United Press)

VIENNA, July 13.—A Railway car which is never attached to any train, and never moves, stands in a railway station at Vienna. It contains electrical machinery, levers, mechanical puzzles, and complete paraphernalia for psychotechnical tests. Candidates for responsible posts in the Austrian State Railway service enter that carriage with fear and trembling.

The tests show, for example, the intelligence, attentiveness, power of concentration, speed of reactions, and physical endurance of the candidates for positions in the railway. Figures will record the degree of his response to each test. The expert in charge, Professor Dr. Bloss, aims to make the tests as close as possible to the exigencies of the candidate's future work.

There is a new test to try a man's temper. This consists of a chest of twenty-five small drawers, each of which contains a key. The candidate is given a key to one drawer, he finds which one it unlocks and, withdraws the second key, for which he has to find another drawer, and so on.

The man who unlocks all the drawers without becoming flustered or losing his patience can be trusted to do the right thing after a railway collision. This test was designed particularly for signal men.

"The value of psycho-technic" says Professor Bloss, "is that it enables the railway company to eliminate at once the employee who will not be reliable. We intend also to test the men already employed, for there is no doubt that a number of them are either because of health or through natural incapacity, or possibly age, unfit for responsibilities that affect the safety of thousands of their fellow men."

Foosly Golfer—"This can't be our ball—it's a very old one." Caddie—"Still, it's a long time since we started out, sir!"
