Blitzie

By W. H. Goucher

Just a little brown mare with a lot of speed that could not be used to advantage in races and a pedigree that would do to get her registered but would never make a place for her in the peacock alley of the horse world was the description that went with Blitzie as she was turned into a brood mare-pasture at Walnut Hall Farm in 1922 after she was bred to Peter Scott. Walter Cox and a few others laughed when some remarked that she might produce a trotter. W. H. Cane who paid the bills said "Wait and see". They waited and saw something as at the beginning of 1930 Blitzie's book account showed that four of her foals had been sold for over $50,000 after they had won $110,449 in races.

With Blitzie goes the story that a few trainers have bred good race horses but the number that were responsible for the production of successful brood mares can be counted on the fingers of one hand. Vance Nuckols is among the latter. He was a Kentucky product. As a boy he went to the races with Currier and Ollie K. Both of them did very well. Finally the turf scribes added a few tufts of fame to Ollie K. by telling how the bob tailed mare turned loose in the infield of the race tracks to graze over night while the other racing samples were blanketed and bedded down in rye straw in big box stalls.

Ollie K. was one of the best trotters by King Wilkes. When retired she produced Earl of Chatham and the dam of Bingara. In the interval her trainer located at Cleveland. In due time Vance Nuckols and Doc Tanner became assistants of John Splan at Doan Brook Farm. Later on Vance struck out for himself. He always had a few horses to take to the races. Some of these were trained for other people while he owned a few. One of the latter was Kathleen Kenney which in 1909 made a record of 2:14 1/4 over the Rockport track near Cleveland.

Kathleen Kinney was bred by John Cullen of Elyria, Ohio. He had a mare named Mary Gregg by May Duke. She was bred to Elyria and produced Stella C. The sire of this filly was a son of Mambrino King that squeezed into the 230 list on a trot. For a time northern Ohio folk considered him a joke as a stock horse. It was not long, however, before they changed their minds as in a few years he had Lorain County full of trotters that went to the races.

In 1900 John Cullen shipped Stella C. to the Forest City Farm and bred her to Patron. From this mating he secured Kathleen Kinney. He thought well of her as Patron was one of the best trotters of his day. In his three year old form he equalled the world's record for 2:19 1/4 held by ~~Ma Rose~~.

This trip was made in 1885. The following year Patron defeated Manzanita, a four year old champion from Palo Alto, and a number of other youngsters in a split heat race at St. Louis.

This sounds like ancient history but it made Patron's sire Pancoast sell at auction for $28,000. It also prompted C. F. Emery to pay almost that much for Patron. When retired he placed him at the head of his farm.

Vance Nuckols knew this when he sent Kathleen Kinney to Walnut Hall Farm. In 1914 she was bred to Walnut Hall, a big husky brown horse that had made a reputation in races as a colt as well as a matured horse and at that time filled the public eye as the sire of The Harvester, 201.

In this venture Vance secured a brown filly, when she was old enough to appear on an entry blank he named her Blitzie. She made a two year old record of 2:21 1/4 and the following year cut it to 2:06 1/4 in a trip against time. It proved the high water mark of her career although she was raced for three seasons.

As a three year old Blitzie finished second to Peter Vonia at Cleveland in 2:08 1/4 and second to Petrex at Columbus in 2:09 1/4. In the Columbus race the dams of two winners of the Hamletian Stake met.

Petrex being now referred to as the dam of Spencer while Blitzie is credited with Walter Dear.

Early in 1919 Vance Nuckols decided to market Blitzie. He sent her to the New York March sale. She was purchased by Charles Weiland. The same day W. H. Cane, her present owner, selected Sunflash, his trotter.

In 1929 Blitzie's engagements took her through the Bay State and Orange County Circuits. In the Bay State she won at Windsor. In Orange County she finished second to Labe Riddell at Goshen and Middletown.

The following year Blitzie was booked over the same route. She won at Avon and Springfield. Brooks Worthy defeated her at Goshen and Bonnie Del at Monroe and Endicott. After these starts Blitzie appeared in the Grand Circuit. She started at all the meetings between Hartford and Lexington. A third to Red Russell at Charter Oak Park was her only trip in the money.

By that time Blitzie was owned by W. H. Cane. He decided to breed her. When retired Blitzie's card showed that she had started in thirty-three races of which she won five, was second in nine, third in nine, fourth in two, and unplaced in eight.

Nothing more was heard from Blitzie until the fall of 1923 when a bunch of yearlings were shipped from Lexington to Goshen. By that time the Good Time Stable was an active factor in racing with Walter Cox at the head of the training department.

As the colts were sampled a rugged youngster by Peter Scott out of Blitzie began to make trouble. He became so unruly that Cox had to come to the rescue. Finally after considerable heroic treatment this colt came to hand and showed that he could trot. In the interval many of the references made to Blitzie would not look proper in print but Mr. Cane only smiled. He still had faith in the little mare.

The following year at Lexington this rowdy colt won the two year old division of the Kentucky Futurity in 2:07 1/4 under the name of Sam Williams. The public is familiar with the balance of his career as in 1927 he won nine out of ten starts in the Grand Circuit and made a record of 2:02 1/4. At present he is in Europe where he has been winning since he became familiar with the racing system on the other side of the Atlantic.

Blitzie's next two foals were by Brusloff, a son of Peter the Great that was purchased for Mr. Cane after Periscope had taken his measure in the Kentucky Futurity. They did not add much to her reputation although Tom Bradley made a record of 2:07 1/4 and his sister Nez Mower trotted in 2:20 1/4.

In the fall of 1927 another Blitzie foal appeared at Goshen. In was an undersized brown colt by The Laurel Hall. For a time he was overshadowed by the showing of Fireglow but he made the grade on race day. He was named Walter Dear. In 1928 he won all of his engagements until the stables stopped at Lexington. At that point after winning a heat in the two year old division and finishing second to his stable mate Volomite, Walter Dear closed his two year old trip with a record of 2:05.

By that time Blitzie's reputation as a brood mare was at par. In 1929 Walter Dear came over with a bang. He won all of his races including the Hamletian Stake and pulled up with a record of 2:02 1/4. At present he is winning in Europe. His sister Maud Dear is being prepared for her two year old engagements. Blitzie is at Harry Burgoyne's farm near Doneraile, Ky., with another prospect at foot.

west coast are soon to become engaged in a concerted campaign which will be planned to reach all Canadian voters.

"The failure of citizens to vote has long been a problem", Mr. Whyte declares. Every Kiwanis Club is to have a special franchise committee whose duty will be to arouse the voting public to the election issues and to secure for the voters adequate information on all sides of the vital public questions. Some of the tactics suggested by Mr. Whyte for the Canadian Kiwanis Club are as follows:

- (1) The Committee to address one or more letters to the membership requesting co-operation with respect to securing as large a registration and vote as possible.
- (2) Secure co-operation from all factory owners, and provide speakers for short talks to employees on importance of exercising the franchise, with suggestions that the pupils remind the adults at home of their duty.
- (3) Refer to Kiwanis International "Official Supplies" price list. "Get-out to Vote" buttons, gummed stickers and tags. These can be secured at small expense.
- (4) Distribute to stores, hotels, theatres, etc. window placards carrying appropriate messages urging registration and voting.
- (5) Refer to Kiwanis International "Official Supplies" price list. "Get-out to Vote" buttons, gummed stickers and tags. These can be secured at small expense.
- (6) Provide slides to theatres reading: "Vote as you please, BUT VOTE."
- (7) Interview editors of local newspapers and provide news items regarding the club's activity on "getting-out-to-vote."
- (8) Arrange with local broadcasting station to permit short snappy requests to register and to vote.
- (9) Suggest to ministers the idea of co-operating with the club's activity in connection with "voting."
- (10) Influence departmental stores and large industrial concerns to enclose slips in pay envelopes, on the importance of voting.
- (11) Follow the example of one of the Kiwanis clubs, and put on one or two essay contests: one with high school students, and one with grade school pupils. Have the club give prizes and invite the winners to club luncheon. Subjects used were "Why my parents should vote" and "What I lose if my parents do not vote."

At the Atlantic city convention of Kiwanis, June 29 to July 3, the Public Affairs committee for Canada will make a Dominion Report of the citizenship, educational, and immigration work done by the clubs during the past 12 months. Members of this committee are: James P. Whyte, John N.B. W. S. McLennan, Mon-Swift Current, Sask., C. D. Bruse, (treas.) and J. T. Truman, Hamilton, Vancouver, C. G. Lawrence, Saint Ontario.
